A woman never really knows the meaning of happiness and content until she is the mother of a healthy, happy child. She never reaches the full degree of womanly development until she has felt the pleasing responsibilities of maternity. All this happiness may be marred or may be turned into misery if the child is not a healthy child. The health of the child depends on the health of the mother, both before and after birth. Heredity is strong, and it is every woman's duty to give her children the best possible chance in life. Nothing that she could possibly give them can be as valuable as health. Wealth cannot be enjoyed without health. Nothing can be enjoyed without health. Health is life. People who are not healthy are only half alive. The child who starts out with a robust body and vigorous, virile health, has everything to be thankful for and nothing to be afraid of. You cannot expect such a child to spring from a weak and sickly mother. Most all of woman's weakness and particularly the weakness that most strongly influences the health of children, comes from some derangement or disease of the distinctly feminine organs. All such trouble is as unnecessary as it is terribly distressing. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all troubles of this nature. There is no guess-work about this statement, and there is no qualification. The "Favorite Prescription" should be used promptly and persistently until the symptoms entirely disappear. In every case, it restores perfect health and strength and assists in the healthful and regular performances of all the natural functions. The "Favorite Prescription" should be taken regularly by every woman during the entire period of gestation. It gives strength to all the organs involved, lessens the pains and danger of childbirth and insures the health of both mother and child.

If you care to know all about the "Favorite Prescription," and to read the testimony of hundreds of grateful women, send 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and receive free a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, profusely illustrated. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

The New Papal Delegate to the U.S.

Washington, July 6.—No importance is attached at the Papal Legation to the report from Rome that Bishop Falconio will replace Cardinal Satolli as the Papal Delegate at Washington. No information, official or otherwise, has been received to that effect, and the report is thought to have no better foundation than is to be found in the circumstance that Bishop Falconio has lived in the United States and speaks the English language. Cardinal Satolli will not return to Rome until his successor has been appointed and confirmed in his new dignity. It is regarded as unlikely that the Pope will make the appointment before September next.

Earthquakes in Cyprus.

Constantinople, July 6.—Advices received here from the island of Cyprus say that severe shocks of earthquake have occurred throughout the island, and that the inhabitants of the town of Limosal and Larnaca have deserted their houses and taken refuge in the open fields, where they are living in tents.

Capt. Wiborg Goes to Prison.

Philadelphia, July 6.—J. H. S. Wiborg, the late captain of the steamer Horsa, whose conviction for engaging in an alleged Cuban filibustering expedition was affirmed by the United States Supreme Court, surrendered himself in the United States District Court here to-day for the purpose of completing his sentence of one year and four months. This afternoon he was taken to the Eastern Penitentiary.

Death of a Woman Philanthropist.

Mount Vernon, N.Y., July 6.—Mrs. Nancy Howe Lockwood, aged 70 years, one of the best-known members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in New York State, died at her residence in this city last night. Mrs. Lockwood was born in Albany and was one of the founders of the Five Points Mission in New York.

STRAWBERRY CULTURE.

A Note of Warning from the Dominion Experimental Farm.

The following remarks on strawberry growing are taken from the recently-issued report of the horticulturist, Mr. John Craig of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa: Among the many errors which beginners in strawberry growing may fall into, none is attended with more serious consequences than that of limiting the plantation to a single variety, and that one not bisexual. At the beginning of the picking season this year I was requested by a young strawberry grower in this vicinity to visit and examine his grounds for the purpose of investigating the cause of the unproductiveness of his thrifty plants. As the plants were in flower it required only a glance to arrive at a solution of the problem. The plants were nearly, if not quite all of a pronounced pistillate type. Therefore the unfruitfulness was due to the inability of the blossom to fertilize itself. He was advised to at once replace every third or fourth row with a strong growing free producer of pollen like Capt. Jack, New Dominion, Beder Wood or Williams. It is well known that the pistillate varieties under favorable circumstances are the most productive, and the mistake came about in this instance by the grower making up his new plantation entirely of the variety which had been most productive in the old. Another point which it is well to remember in commercial berry growing is that the early berries are by far the most profitable. It is not here meant to convey the idea that the earliest varieties bring the most money, because these are often comparatively unproductive, but rather that the plantation furnishing the bulk of its berries in the fore part of the season is far more profitable than another field which may perhaps produce a greater quantity but which covers a longer and later fruiting period. In choosing a location for strawberries it is therefore extremely desirable that a piece of land be chosen which is warm and early, though well-drained, yet not dry in nature, because this plant needs a good deal of moisture at fruiting time. Some growers continue the plantation for three years in the same place on account of the habit of the old plants ripening their fruit earlier than young plants. A difference of two or three days in time of ripening affects the financial result appreciably.

Keep the Ground Stirred.

One object of cultivation is to kill the weeds. They draw nourishment from the soil, absorb the moisture, and thus rob the growing crop of both food and drink. It isn't best to let them get a start; cultivate early; don't let them get strong and defiant. They may be unrooted and killed by the thousand when they first show above ground, with the same labor that will be required to kill them by the dozen later on.

But destroying weeds is not the only object of cultivation, although some farmers seem to think so. The spring rains have filled the ground with water but the hot sun and wind are rapidly drawing it up, and it is passing off into the atmosphere again. The growing plants need the moisture; don't let it escape. Shallow and frequent cultivation with a fine tooth cultivator will keep the soil fine and loose on top, and will prevent the evaporation of moisture. The past two summers have been exceedingly dry. Springs and wells which had never been known to fail have dried up. Where not cultivated, the earth has been as dry as it possibly could be, apparently, for many feet below the surface; but in my garden and strawberry patch, which I kept well cultivated with a fourteen tooth cultivator, the ground was moist and in good tilth at any time during the season, and the crops did not suffer from the drought. The top soil stirred by the cultivator was about as dry and loose as ashes, but when one brushed off that two inches of dry soil or dust he found the soil moist and friable. We may almost defy drought if proper attention be given to cultivation.—Chicago Inter Ocean Experimental Farm correspondence.

Have You Thought of it?

For four thousand years or more the world groaned, suffered and fumed about its corns, for there was no positive relief—no certain and painless corn cure until Dr. Scott Putnam gave to the world his great Corn Extractor. If there is suffering now it is the result of carelessness, for the remedy is at hand. Try Putnam's Corn Extractor. It is sure, painless and prompt. Beware of substitutes. N. C. Fatherhood for Bond.

St. John's, Nfld., July 2.—The Government press state that Colonial Secretary Bond is likely to be knighted. The Opposition papers ridicule the statement, in view of Mr. Bond's recent conviction of gross bribery and corruption, which resulted in his being unseated and disqualified for the Assembly.

Insurance Companies Making Money.

New York, July 6.—The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin to-morrow will say: The fire loss of the United States and Canada for the month of June amounts to $5,721,250, a remarkably light sum even for a summer month. This makes the total for the half year $62,960,550, which exhibits a gratifying decrease, in comparison with the record of $66,497,600 for the same period of 1895.

An Explosion of Chemicals.

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—An explosion of chemicals took place this evening in the laboratory of the Central Experimental Farm. Fire resulted, which destroyed the laboratory building, involving a loss of $4000. Foreman Taylor of the Horticultural Department had his right hand badly burned.

Few medicines have held their ground so successfully as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During the past fifty years, it has been the most popular of all cough cures and the demand for it to-day is greater than ever before. Prompt to act and sure to cure.

B.B.B.

TO THE MARK.

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, it may be the stomach; perhaps it is the bowels or the kidneys; most likely it is the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters goes straight to that spot, strengthens the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the disease, and restores health, because it acts with cleansing force and curative power upon the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

With good red blood health is assured, without it disease is certain to come and Burdock is the only remedy that will positively remove all blood poisons. In ulcers, abscesses, scrofula, scrofulous swellings, skin diseases, blotches, old sores, etc., B.B.B. should be applied externally, as well as taken internally according to directions.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow. Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HUNSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

SKIDMORE'S RUSE.

He Will Not Have to Build the Fire Any More.

"Philander," said Mrs. Skidmore, "it's a cool evening and I want you to make a fire in the grate."

"I thought that grate was closed for the season, Luella?"

"Not if we have winter weather again. That's the beauty of having a grate."

"I'm not cold."

"Neither am I, for that matter, but you know how cheerful a grate fire looks on a cool evening; it lights up the whole street."

"Then it is for the benefit of our neighbors? I wish one of them would kindle it! If there is one thing I hate more than another it's going into the basement to hunt kindling and getting my hair full of cobwebs."

"Well, Philander, its Sunday night and the girl is out and either you or I will have to kindle that fire."

Mr. Skidmore went off grumbling and cut the kindling. He also bruised his nose badly by a back-handed kick of the ax, and brushed down half a hundred cobwebs looking for the excelsior lighting pads. But he made the fire, while Mrs. Skidmore sat in a rocker and bossed the job. And when it had burnt down to a clear coal blaze that shone out on the street like a beacon light, he felt the satisfaction of a heroic deed accomplished, and looked at his wife for approval. Coincident with that look his wife gave a wild scream.

"My diamonds! My diamonds!"

"Stolen?" asked her husband in alarm.

"No! no! Worse! Burned up in the fire. I hid them in the grate!"

"It's too late to save them now," he said as his wife tore the coals apart.

"Never mind, Luella, I will buy you new ones."

"I don't want new ones!" she cried. "I want my rings and pins and ornaments that are dear from association! Oh, how stupid of me not to remember they were there!"

"I think it was more stupid to ever put them there. However, I will forgive you on one condition, and what is more to the purpose, replace them. Promise that you will never again ask me to make a grate fire!"

"I never want you to make one for me after this exploit, Mr. Skidmore."

"Then here are your diamonds. I fished them out just as the fire started, but you can thank your lucky stars they were not reduced to their original carbon. Put them in the ash barrel the next time."

But Mrs. Skidmore declared there would be no next time, for she would hereafter wear her diamonds even if she resembled a mountain of light.—Detroit Free Press.

Must Be No Printing There.

"Ah!" he whispered, "I will print a kiss upon your lips."

She started affrightedly.

"Heavens!" she said, with a gesture of deprecation; "somebody would be sure to read my face!"—Detroit Tribune.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many year's study and practice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

KEEPING FRUIT FRESH.

The Recent Scientific Solution of This Interesting Problem.

The great difficulty experienced in preserving fruits in their natural state is such that dealers who attempt to furnish them out of season are compelled, on account of the heavy losses they sustain, to sell their goods at very high prices, thus making them a luxury, and rendering it impossible for the great majority of families to place fresh fruit on their tables during the winter months. The solution of this question is, therefore, of great interest and the experiments of A. Petit, chief of the National Horticultural School of Versailles, in this direction tend to solve the problem.

Impressed with the powerful action of alcoholic vapors on the mould which generally appears on the surface of fruits in a damp atmosphere, Mr. Petit noticed that pears and apples kept for several months in a surrounding saturated with vapors of water and alcohol, even were they at the beginning in a state of decay, showed no signs of mould, while fruits stored under similar conditions, but not exposed to the action of alcoholic vapors, were entirely covered with it. Taking advantage of this observation, Mr. Petit applied the principle to the preservation of fruits in general, especially to grapes, which mould very readily. He placed a variety of fresh fruits and a bottle filled with 61 cubic inches of alcohol at 96 degrees in a brick recipient in the form of a parallelopiped, cemented inside and closed as hermetically as possible by a common wooden door. In two similar recipients contiguous to the first, one of which was kept open and the other closed, but without alcohol, were stored similar fruits from the same trees and vines. The fruits were laid on wooden shavings. The recipients were built in a very damp cellar, the temperature of which varied from 46 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit during the time the experiment lasted, nearly two months, from November to January. After 20 days the grapes in the open and closed recipients, without alcohol, were mostly rotten and covered with mould, and were immediately removed. In the alcohol recipient the grapes were beautiful, being firm, free from mould, and not sour to the taste. At the end of two months each bunch of grapes had lost but from two to four grapes, and all were in a perfect state preservation, having all the qualities of fresh cut grapes. Seventeen cubic inches of alcohol remained in the bottle.

The Sun's Distance.

"The sun is about ninety-three millions of miles distant from the earth," writes Alden W. Quimby in Ladies' Home Journal. "It varies through the year because the earth's orbit is elliptical, and the sun is at one focus of the eclipse. The earth is more than three millions of miles nearer the sun in December than in June, at which time the latitudes south of the equator receive his direct rays and experience the great heat of their summer.

"Let us try to comprehend the figures stated. The other day two racers of the sea proudly lowered the record of trans-Atlantic passage. Could they turn their prows to the sun, and drive their great engines day and night in the crossing of the ether main, it would be five hundred years before they could reach harbor.

"Most persons have noticed the appreciable interval of time between the stroke of an axe at a distance and the resultant sound; could we hear the sound of a solar explosion we would know that the explosion had occurred fourteen years before. Perhaps the most striking illustration is that which imagines a little child to have an arm long enough to reach the sun. The child might thrust its fingers into the seething fires but it would grow up to maturity, and calmly descend into the valley of extreme old age, blissfully unconscious of any pain from the burning; in fact, it would require another such a lifetime to bring the news to the brain."

Curious Frogs.

One of the most interesting species that have been described is the one discovered by Mr. Wallace in Borneo, a number of years ago. It has been popularly called the "flying frog," from the fact that it has toes of great length, and these are fully webbed to the tips. If the animal wishes to descend from the top of a high tree, it has only to make the leap, and by spreading out its toes it converts its feet into four veritable parachutes, and the most curious types are in tree frogs; and Gibson says these "are readily distinguished from all others by having the ends of their toes dilated into knobs or disks, generally provided with a sticky secretion, by means of which they can cling to the leaves and branches of trees. They are small, elegant and exceedingly active creatures, the males possessing loud voices, of which they make copious use during the breeding season and on the approach of rain."

Anatomical structures of a variety of kinds are characteristic of different species of frogs, having to do with the voice organs. So it is that many croak, some chirp, and some almost bellow. Many emit noises most disagreeable to all ears, while others give vent to sounds that, under some circumstances, are quite enjoyable.—Popular Science Monthly.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Stuart Heath, of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. R. C. Strickland last week.

Mrs. John Dinwoodie returned home from the hospital, at Toronto, on Friday. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is considerably improved.

Miss McEwan has returned from Toronto, where she spent a two week's holiday.

Mrs. B. A. Hockell and daughter left here on Friday for Reaburn, Manitoba.

Mr. Charles Heath, of Toronto, is the guest of Capt. Halifax.

Mr. John Clarin and Master Fred Whaley left here on Monday for their home at Toronto.

Mr. James Coyle Brown, Public School Inspector, spent three days in the village last week, taking charge of the Entrance Examinations. There were fifty one candidates for Entrance and nine for Public School Leaving.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox, of Toronto, passed through here, on Saturday, to spend Sunday at the cottage of Mr. A. L. Davis, at Stony Lake.

Miss Maud Carveth and Miss Eva Gordon took a spin on their wheels down to Peterborough on Monday.

Mr. A. M. Dymond, wife and family, are are at "Viamede Cottage," Stony Lake.

Mrs. Sheldrake, of Peterborough, was in the village on Monday.

R. Graham & Son have on hand a full supply of canned meats, fish, fruits and vegetables; also, all kinds of groceries, fancy biscuits, etc., etc., for campers. They will fill promptly all orders set to them.

Mr. W. A. Evans, wife and son have gone to Shelbourne and Collingwood to spend their holidays.

Rev. J. F. Somerville, of Norwood, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church last Sabbath.

Rev. A. C. Reeves was in Norwood on Sunday, and preached two sermons in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Toole, of Omemee, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Webster.

Messrs. George Hendren, Zach McIlmoyle and Edward Blomfield, who have been in attendance at the Toronto Military School, returned home on Friday. While there they each received the stripe of corporal.

Mrs. John Cowmeadow, Master Frank and Miss Ethel, who have been visiting Mr. Thos. Cox for the past month, returned home on Wednesday.

"Viamede" Cottage is very pleasantly situated at the base of Mount Julian, Stony Lake, and is located in the park, formerly the property of the Mount Julian Summer Hotel Company, and is the prettiest spot on Stony Lake for summer boarders. There are nice shady groves, sandy beach for bathing, good boating and fishing, with all the comforts of a home. A piano has been placed in the parlour for the use of guests. The house has been greatly enlarged this season, and will accommodate comfortably twenty-five guests. Rates are very low, and will be made known by writing Wm. M. Graham, Lakefield.

The annual excursion of the Presbyterian Sabbath School was held on Tuesday per steamer Golden City to Stony lake.

Beresford L.O.L. No. 122, will meet in their hall on Sunday at 10 a.m.

Young Canadian, L.O.L. No. 1365, will meet in their hall at 6.30 p.m. on Sunday and proceed to the Methodist church, where a special sermon will be preached by Rev. T. J. Edmison.

The different lodges of the place will go to Peterborough on Monday. The procession to the train will be headed by the North Smith brass band.

The steamer Golden City is meeting the train which arrives here in the morning from Peterborough, and will make a Saturday night trip. Next week she will connect with the afternoon train.

The Mary Ellen is taking the afternoon train this week, and morning train next week. This arrangement of the steamers is very popular with the people, filling a long felt want. Parties now leaving Toronto in the morning can reach their destination at Stony Lake the same evening. This should make Stony Lake as popular with the Toronto people as Muskoka. The Golden City will not carry any large excursions during July and August, except those that can go on her regular trips.

Messrs. Strickland & Co., are building a handsome steam pleasure yacht of 6 tons. The boat is 35 feet long and 7 foot beam, and is beautifully finished in ash and walnut. It will have a 6 horse power boiler and engine, and is expected to make 12 miles an hour. It was placed in the water on Monday. They expect to have in running this week.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Crops are looking excellent, frequent showers has now placed beyond any of prevailing drawbacks.

Everything quiet after the election. The wouldbe protest of South Victoria, has all fizzled out, failing to find any justifiable grounds.

The Orangemen are now making active preparations for a grand demonstration at Peterborough, and are bound not to be excelled by any Laurier or Tupper political demonstration. About 200 Orangemen will attend from Emily district alone.

A new staff of teachers are engaged for our high and public schools. Miss Best, of Peterborough, who resigned her position as one of the recent teachers, made herself quite a favourite here, and left with best wishes, as also did Miss Spark, of Mount Forest.

The ice cream social and concert held at Middle line road, between Peterborough and Omemee, proved a grand success, under the management of Mr. Garbutt, pastor, and Mrs. Garbutt.

Rev. J. N. Tanner will preach to the Emily Orangemen in the Presbyterian church, Sunday, July 12th.

The steam shovel is still engaged in filling up Doube's bridge, employing a number of hands.

The Peter Hamilton machinery is taking well here, and compares favourably with any machinery made. It is preferred by many.

There is now a "move on" by some of our most energetic farmers to secure an agricultural park.

Mr. Cumming, proprietor of the Windsor House, Omemee, has many of his Peterborough friends to meet him.

The lecture by Rev. J. McMillan of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, proved a very interesting one and full of knowledge, proving of great benefit to any person contemplating a trip there. A collection was taken up in aid of missions.

"Satisfactory Results."

So says Dr. Curlett, an old and honoured practitioner, in Belleville, Ontario, who writes : "For wasting diseases and scrofula I have used Scott's Emulsion with the most satisfactory results."

Woodstock, July 2.—Seventeen factories offered, 3,461 boxes cheese. Sales—1,723 at 6⅞c, 1,110 at 6 13-16c; market fairly active, but prices low. Seven buyers present.

Kingston, July 2.—At the Frontenac Cheese Board to-day F. Vanluven opened the bids at 6¾c. The top bid was 6¾c, offered by C. E. Bartlett, who secured the make of Sunbury, Wolfe Island, Oregon, Granite Hill. John Nicolle secured the make of Ontario at Bartlett's figure and that of Pine Hill at 6 11-16c. A. Alexander bid 6 9-16c for selections of the remainder of the board, and secured Long Lake. The offer of L. W. Murphy of 6 9-16c for the remainder of the board was not accepted. The sellers were holding out for 7c.

Picton, July 2.—At our cheese board to-day 14 factories offered 1,052 boxes of coloured and 60 white. Sales were: 30 white at 6¾c.

London, July 4—At the market to-day 31 factories boarded 6,134 boxes, June; 185 boxes sold at 6¾c, 136 at 6¾c, 1,159 at 6 11-16c, and 857 at 6¾c. Attendance large.

Belleville, July 7.—The cheese board to-day was well attended by both buyers and sellers. Thirty-two factories boarded 3,170 boxes of white and 575 boxes coloured cheese. The sales were: Ayer & Co., 150 boxes at 6¾c, T. Watkins, 690 boxes at 6 15-16c; M. Bird, 175 boxes at 7c; McCargar & Brenton, 75 boxes at 6¾c, and 215 boxes at 7c; J. R. Brower, 85 boxes at 7c and 60 boxes at 6¾c. It is said the balance was sold on the street.

SIR CHARLES IS OUT

And Mr. Laurier Has Been Sent for by His Excellency.

RESIGNATIONS OFFERED TUESDAY

Messrs. Angers and Desjardins Will Not Return to the Senate Owing to the Ruling of the Governor-General in Regard to Appointments —Ottawa News.

Ottawa, July 8.—Sir Charles Tupper has at last given up the reins and a messenger from the Governor-General is to-night on his way to Arthabaskaville to summon Hon. Mr. Laurier to the Capital.

Sir Charles Tupper spent the morning in conference with Lord Aberdeen at Government House and there was no meeting of council.

The Premier left Rideau Hall shortly after 1 o'clock, and after lunching at his son's house came up to his office in the State Department. Notices for a Cabinet meeting for 3 o'clock were immediately sent out, and at the hour appointed the Miniters met in the Council Chamber for the last time.

The resignation of the Cabinet was first tendered to the Governor-General yesterday, but action upon it was not taken by His Excelency until to-day, owing to certain points which had arisen between the Ministers and the Governor requiring adjustment.

To-day's meeting of the Ministers was not prolonged. The communications which the Premier had to make evidently did not require extended discussion.

By 4 o'clock the Ministers had dispersed, Sir Charles Tupper returning to the State Department. He remained there until 5.15, and then proceeded to Government House for the purpose of pressing the resignations of himself and his colleagues.

By 7 o'clock it was known officially that the resignations had been accepted and that Lord Aberdeen had sent for Mr. Laurier. The Liberal leader will likely arrive here at noon to-morrow, and as his slate is practically completed the personnel of the new Ministry will be known in a day or two.

Sir Charles Tupper to-night confirmed the news of the acceptance of his resignation, but on the matter of appointments said he had not Lord Aberdeen's permission to say anything, consequently his lips were sealed. What action His Excellency proposes to take, therefore, regarding the appointments made by his late advisers is not definitely known to-night. There is, however, a well defined rumor that a compromise was reached, the minor offices being approved by Lord Aberdeen, but the Senatorships and judgeships being left for Mr. Laurier to fill. As a consequence, Angers and Desjardins lose their seats in the Upper House, and including the late Mr. Read's seat and one in Nova Scotia, there will be four places in the Red Chamber falling immediately to the Liberals.

The question which has been at issue between the Gov.-General and his late advisers since Monday is an interesting one. All constitutional authorities point to the right of a retiring Government to fill vacancies, and, indeed, this was conceded in the matter of the Mackenzie Government. Only one appointment by that Government was interfered with, and that of Mr. Buckingham, and in this case it was simply a propored transfer of him to another office. Whether His Excellency is justified in taking the stand with which he is credited time alone will tell.

Todd, in his Parliamentary Government in England, page 513, says: "Outgoing Ministers are bound to conduct the ordinary business of Parliament and of the country so long as they retain the seals of office. They continue, moreover, in full possession of their official authority and functions and must meet and incur the full responsibility of all public transactions until their successors have kissed hands upon their acceptance of office. Upon this point it has been declared by Sir Robert Peel that, though the members of an administration may have tendered their resignations, they were still entitled to make any appointments which the exigencies of the public service might require, and those appointments they were undoubtedly entitled to go on making until they were actually superseded by the entrance into office of their successors. It was always the practice to fill up vacancies. Peerages promised by Ministers' predecessors in office had been granted though no instructions had been signed or sealed on the subject."

In his work Parliamentary Government in the Colonies, page 42, the same learned authority says: "While the Governor (of a colony) is free to suggest or remonstrate with his Ministers when requested to give the sanction of the Crown in cases of appointment or removals from office, it is only under very exceptional circumstances that he would be justified in disregarding the recommendation of his responsible advisers on such subjects."

The chamber of the House of Commons is in readiness for the meeting of Parliament, although all the seats have not yet been allotted in it. Mr. Charlton still sticks to his old seat on the Opposition side, next to Mr. Foster's new seat, but he will have to cross the floor to the Liberal side of the House. Mr. Scriver has occupied a seat to the left of the Speaker since Confederation. Although permanent chairman of the Liberals' caucus, he never changed his seat during the time the Mackenzie Government was in power, and Conservatives like him, Major J. Sutherland, however, says that no Liberals have the right to appropriate the best seats on the Opposition side and their leader will insist upon both Charlton and Scriver crossing to the Speaker's right. Room 16, where the Liberals will have their headquarters, is ready to receive them. This was the old press room prior to room 8 being provided for the newspaper men. The Conservatives will have to take room 6, the old quarters of the Grits.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier's new sessional quarters will be off the library. This was Sir John Macdonald's old room and was afterwards Sir John Thompson's. Until Sr Charles Tupper became Premier, Mr. Foster occupied it. Major Sutherland, the Liberal whip, has not yet selected his room, which will be one of those near the reading room of the House of Commons.

If Sir Charles Tupper retains the leadership, as he is likely to do for the present, he will have Mr. Laurier's old room, close to No. 6, while the Conservative whip, will take Mr. Sutherland's old quarters, which were alongside Mr. Laurier's room.

Ex-Speaker White has for the last time taken his parliamentary chair. From time immemorial it has been tom for the Speaker of the Commons to take with him to his home the chair which he occupied officially in the House. Accordingly the Honorable Peter's six-term seat has been shipped to Pembroke.

Three years ago hardly a pound of butter was made in Moosejaw District in the Territories. Last month in the Government Creamery there 14,000 pounds was made.

Officers of the Fisheries Department have been successful in securing a splendid lot of parent fish for St. John hatchery, far in excess of the previous year.

It is rumored here that Overseer Chadwick of the Lake of the Woods fishery district has been suspended from duty owing to the great dissatisfaction in connection with the administration of the duties of his office.

Hugh John Macdonald goes to Montreal to morro , thence to Winnipeg.

Mr. Dickey bids good bye to Ottawa to-morrow leaving for Amherst in the morning.

THE RE-COUNTS.

Mr. Macpherson Holds His Seat for Hamilton by a Majority of 24—Halton Re-count.

Hamilton, July 8.—(Special.)—The long and tedious task of re-counting the ballots was completed to-night at 11 o'clock. Judge Snider declared that Messrs. Wood and Macpherson, Liberals, were elected. T. H. Macpherson's majority over R. G. Boville was reduced from 88 to 24.

The returning officer's figures were: Barker 3505, Boville 3719, Macpherson 3397, Wood 3860; and the figures given to-night were: Barker 3546, Boville 3773, Wood, 3837; Macpherson 3797.

Lambton Re-count.

Watford, Ont., July 8.—The re-count for East Lambton was conducted here to-day before Judge McKenzie of Sarnia, and many of the Reformers were in doubt how the matter would terminate, owing to the number of rejected ballots and how the judge would act in the matter. The judge stated at the commencement that he would count all the ballots, whether marked in the disc or in the name, so long as it showed the intention of the voter. J. F. Lister, M.P., of Sarnia, and Mr. Shaunnessy, barrister of Petrolea, appeared on Mr. Fraser's account, and I. F. Hellmuth, barrister of London, and Mr. Wilson, barrister of Petrolea, on Mr. Moncrieff's account. Total votes allowed for Fraser 2144, for Moncrieff 2104, increasing Fraser's majority from 14 to 40.

The Re-count in Halton.

Milton, Ont., July 8.—The re-court in Halton was concluded before His Honor Judge Hamilton here to-day. The result was a decrease in Mr. Henderson's majority from 109 to 34. In some polling sub-divisions the deputy returning officers had counted ballots not marked in the discs and in others they counted only those that were marked in the discs. In the re-count to-day Judge Hamilton ruled that all ballots marked with an x, whether in the disc or in the name space, should be counted. At one polling sub-division the deputy returning officer had omitted initialing all but one ballot. However, his ballots were all counted. A. B. Aylesworth of Toronto and W. I. Dick of Milton were present on behalf of Mr. Waldie, and Mr. E. W. Boyd of Milton for Mr. Henderson.

The Tangle in North Leeds.

Brockville, July 8.—This afternoon in Judge McDonald's chambers the matter of the re-count of ballots cast in the late elections in North Leeds and Grenville came up. J. R. Lavell was present, with James Hutcheson as counsel, and F. T. Frost, who has been officially declared elected by the returning officer, was represented by E. J. Reynolds. John Ferguson, returning officer for the riding, and the election clerk, John K. Weir, were also present. The peculiarity in this case is that immediately after making the official declaration of Mr. Frost's election by a majority of nine, the returning officer sent the ballots and writ to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery at Ottawa, and Mr. Frost was duly gazetted as M.P. for the riding on Saturday last. The Clerk of the Crown in Chancery refuses to give up the ballots, and therefore no re-count can be had. Mr. Hutcheson, on behalf of Mr. Lavell, asked for an adjournment of the matter until Aug. 1. To this Mr. Reynolds objected, on the ground that Judge McDonald has no jurisdiction. The Judge took the question into his serious consideration and to-morrow at 11 o'clock will give a written decision on the point at issue.

SIR DONALD'S PRIZE.

The Canadian Team at Bisley Will Have Another Object in Doing Well This Year.

London, July 8.—Sir Donald Smith, Canadian High Commissioner in London, will give a prize to be competed for by the Canadian riflemen who take part in the rifle matches at Bisley this season.

CROPS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

A Distinct Improvement Over the Conditions in July of Last Year.

London, July 8.—The Times to-morrow will publish its initial report of the season of the crops in Great Britain, showing their condition to have been somewhat below the normal at the beginning of July, but well above that at the corresponding time last year. Taking 100 per cent. as representing the average, the wheat crop works out 104 per cent., barley 89 and oats 85, as against 79.83 and 76 per cent. respectively in 1895.

DROWNED IN THE OLD CANAL.

Fifteen-Year-Old William McCann Fell Into Lock 18.

Merritton, July 8.—About 9 o'clock to-night William McCann, aged about 15, while returning from taking his step-father's luncheon across the old canal, fell from the head gate of lock 18 into the waters of the canal, and, being unable to swim, drowned. The body was recovered some time afterwards.

HAMMOND MURDER TRIAL

Postponed for One Year Because Witnesses in the United States Have Not Been Got—McKenzie Stabbing Case.

Bracebridge, July 8.—The second day of the Assize Court opened at 9.30 a.m., and the forenoon was taken up with a civil case.

At noon Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., of Toronto, addressed the court concerning an adjournment of the case of Queen v. Hammond. Mr. Johnston appears for the prisoner, and opposed the adjournment, stating that the prisoner had now been kept in jail for several months, and that if the trial were postponed, he would have to remain in jail here until next July, as the Assizes are held here but once each year.

Mr. Heyd, who represents the Crown, said an adjournment was necessary on account of the Crown's inability to get two witnesses from the United States. The arguments occupied a considerable time, and the case was adjourned. However, the grand jury had not made any presentment, and although they have spent the day in considering the case, they adjourned until to-morrow.

At 1.30 p.m. a jury was empanelled in the case of the Queen v. McKenzie. There were numerous challenges of jurors on both sides. Mr. Heyd addressed the jury and proceeded with the case. The first witness was Archy Sloan, district constable, who was an eyewitness of the row between prisoner and deceased Scott, and who arrested the prisoner.

The afternoon was taken up in the examination of Crown witnesses. The evidence so far is contradictory in one particular, viz. Sloan and others state that deceased struck McKenzie while he was seated in the chair and before he was stabbed. Others say McKenzie was standing. The Crown did not call Boyd, who knows more about the affair than any other person. He and perhaps a dozen other witnesses will be called by the defence in the morning. McKenzie has been out on bail until this evening, when Mr. Heyd refused to allow bail. As doubtless the matter will be settled to-morrow, an application was not made to the judge for bail and he was locked up.

SMITH'S FALLS MURDER.

"Tom" and "The Kid" Have Not Yet Been Caught—Detective Rogers' Experiences on the Trail.

It was reported in several Montreal and Toronto papers that they had been captured at Ogdensburg, but the report is entirely without foundation. The men in custody at that place were seen by the detective, and are the wrong parties.

The movements of the two men the detectives are after, as far as they can be traced, are as follows: On the night of the shooting they left the tramp rendezvous near Smith's Falls and came into the town about 10 p.m. Meeting a couple of young fellows, they said that a man had been shot and that full particulars would be learned in the morning. One of them inquired for a doctor, and was directed to one, but did not go to him. Next morning, Morgan, one of the gang of tramps, went down to the place where the murder was committed, and met the pair in question. The latter jumped on a coal car about 11 a.m. and went as far as Irish Creek, where the trainmen put them off. They got on to the trucks again, however, and rode to Brockville. Morgan was arrested, but, having been drunk the night of the murder, could give no information.

Detective Rogers arrived in Brockville on Saturday, and found out that Tommy and the Kid had left for Montreal. He immediately followed, and counted upwards of 72 hoboes on the track between Brockville and Lachine, besides 8 others passing on freights bound west. He did not recognize his men, however, nor did he find them in Montreal, where he met with some 300 seedy characters in the different institutions in the city. Thence the trail was lost, and the men, who are an absolute necessity to the Crown, are still at large.

Detective Rogers wishes to have the rumor contradicted that the two tramp witnesses, Tom and the Kid, who would be of the greatest service to the Crown in the Smith's Falls murder case, have been caught.

MANITOBA'S OUTLOOK.

At this season of the year considerable interest always attaches to the crop outlook in Manitoba and the Northwest. As a consequence the series of crop reports we publish this morning, says the Montreal Herald, through the courtesy of the Molsons' Bank, will be of unusual value to the mercantile community. It is gratifying to note the hopeful spirit which runs through all these reports. There are very few cases in which the crop outlook is not regarded as equal to that of last year, which, as everybody knows, was a record season in our Western country. This is most satisfactory. But, perhaps, the most favourable feature of these reports is that as to the farmers' condition. In nearly every instance, the responsible person to whom the Molsons' Bank applied for information, says that the tiller of the ground is in a stronger financial position than ever before. The magnificent crop reaped last season was the means of extricating many agriculturists from monetary difficulties. Prices, it is true, were low, but the quantity secured enabled the farmer to clear off many outstanding debts and to materially improve his financial position.

The prospect now is that Manitoba will this year gather in the largest harvest ever known in her history. This should be good news for eastern Canada, and for Montreal in particular. Day by day the interests which unite the commercial centre of the Dominion with its agricultural backbone, strengthen. Business with the west is being developed every week, and nothing can be of more value to our commercial men than such reports as these which the Molsons' Bank furnishes the people of Canada to-day. The management of that institution deserves the thanks of the whole business community for their enterprise, which has resulted in the giving to commercial Canada such a complete and up-to-date presentation of the condition of affairs in Manitoba.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Millie Richardson, of Toronto, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Laura Vance, Lindsay, spent Sunday under the parental roof.

Mrs. Rae, of London, is visiting her brother, Mr. D. Hamilton.

Miss Ethel Richardson has returned home after visiting friends in Toronto for the past two weeks.

Miss Edwina Hakins returned home on Monday from Midland, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Turner. Mrs. Turner accompanied her home.

Messrs. Charlie Leach and Ernest Clarry spent a few days at the river last week.

Dr. Tilley, Bowmanville, spent Sunday in town, the guest of Mr. D. Hampton.

Miss Maud Nugent is home again after visiting friends at Hampton.

Mr. Davidson, Bowmanville, is presiding over the third-class examinations here this week.

Miss Edna Winterbottom, Toronto, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R. E. Stanton.

Miss F. Armstrong is spending her vacation in town the guest of the Misses Kells.

Miss Kate Carveth leaves this week for a three weeks outing at Sturgeon Point.

Miss Evelyn Martin is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. Allen.

Rev. J. Berry will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church during the absence the pastor, Rev. L. Phelps, who is at Clifton Springs for his health.

The Presbyterians held a meeting in the council chamber for the purpose of selecting a building lot for their new church, but nothing definite was decided upon. The lots mentioned are the one east of Dr. Turner's residence, the McIvor lot and one of Mr. A. Ferguson's, all on King street.

Mr. Robert Bickle's veneering factory will soon be in operation.

Mr. S. Dixon Craig's election in East Durham will be protested, sufficient evidence having, it is alleged, been procured to unseat him.

Mr. T. B. Collins is giving his buildings on the south side of King street a new coat of paint, which adds very much to their appearance.

HERE COMES ENGLISH MONEY.

Col. Engledue, Mining Expert, Has Recommended Investment of Considerable Capital in Rainy River District.

Toronto, July 7.

Col. Engledue, the English mining expert who has been in town for several days, left for New York last night, whence he will sail for England to-morrow to complete the purchase of large mining properties in Northern Ontario.

Col. Engledue is chairman of the South African General Development Company of England which was organized in 1894 with a capital of $300,000, with the exploration and working of mining properties in South Africa as its primary object.

Owing, however, to the recent disturbances in the Transvaal and neighboring States the syndicate has decided to look elsewhere for investments, for its charter is broad enough to allow it to open up and work mines in any part of the world.

Shortly after the company first came to this decision Col. Engledue was induced by Mr. A. M. Hay of Port Arthur, Ont., to come to Canada and visit the Lake of the Woods region. The colonel made a careful examination of the Mikado mines on Shoal Lake, and was much pleased by what he found, for assays of ore collected by himself gave excellent results.

He then secured an option on the property, but before closing the deal had "check" assays made in Toronto. These were completed on Saturday by Prof. Thomas Hays, who showed that the average yield of fine samples of gold quarts was over $90 to the ton.

Upon receipt of this verdict Col. Engledue cabled his company to secure the Mikado mines at once, and then prepared to go to the Old Country himself.

The colonel says he expects men will be at work on his syndicate's new claims shortly, and that other properties in the Rainy River district will probably be bought up at once. He appears to think that Canada is the place for gold mining, and asserts that English capital will avoid the United States as long as the uncertainty regarding the coinage of silver continues.

Col. Engledue was aided in his researches by the Ontario Bureau of Mines, and called to bid Director Archibald Blue good-bye before he left for home.

ONE HONEST MAN

DEAR EDITOR :—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply : P.O. BOSTON ARTILLERY

Received by the Queen at Windsor Yesterday.

HER MAJESTY'S CORDIAL GREETING

Expressed Pleasure at Seeing Her Cousins From the United States - Profuse Decorations in Honor of the Visitors—Stars and Stripes Hoisted on the Town Hall.

London, July 8.—The visiting members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston left the Hotel Cecil this morning for Windsor, marching with band and colors to the Waterloo Station. They were escorted by the band of the Honorable Artillery Company of London and accompanied by the Earl of Denbigh, Lieut.-Colonel of the Honorable Artillery Company. The Boston Company were cheered along the route.

Upon the arrival of the Company at Windsor they were received at the station by the Mayor, the members of the Windsor corporation and a guard of honor. After being welcomed they marched to Windsor Castle, where they were inspected by the Queen. The visitors were then entertained at luncheon in the Orangery and afterwards were conducted through the State apartments of the castle. They returned to the railway station at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The entire route from the castle to the station was profusely decorated with flags, and the Stars and Stripes were hoisted upon the Town Hall.

United States Ambassador Bayard and Mrs. Bayard were present at the inspection of the artillery company by the Queen. Mr. and Mrs. Bayard will remain at the castle as the guests of the Queen until to-morrow.

The Queen received the members of the Artillery Company on the East Terrace, and had introduced to her the colonel and adjutant of the Boston Company. Her Majesty expressed satisfaction at seeing the corps, saying she hoped that they had a pleasant passage from America and that they would enjoy their visit. The Queen also conversed with Mr. Bayard.

The arrangements for the reception of the Ancient and Honorables were in charge of Major General Sir John Carstairs McNeil, Equerry-in-Ordinary to the Queen. During the march of the company past the Queen her Majesty remained seated in the carriage in which she had been driven to the place appointed for the review. She did not at any time alight. The Princess Frederica of Hanover and several of the ladies of the court were present in livee dress. The Guards turned out as a mark of honor to the Artillery Company. A number of court officials joined the Ancient and Honorable Artillerymen at luncheon.

The Queen looked well and said to Mr. Bayard that she was greatly pleased to see her cousins from the United States.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease For Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Neepawa, (Special) June 29.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly, of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says :—"From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart-felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

CATHOLIC PRIEST SHOT.

The Rev T. W. Reilly Likely to Die From His Wound.

Utica, July 8.—The Rev. Thomas W. Reilly, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church in Whitesboro, accidentally shot himself this morning. He was returning in company with his coachman from Hinckley, where he had been on a sick call.

When alighting from his carriage at his home a revolver in his coat pocket was discharged. The ball entered his left side and went through the abdomen. The doctors who operated upon him say that he cannot live.

The Venezuelan Dispute.

Berlin, July 8.—The Herald news agency gives currency to a report that there has arrived in Berlin from Caracas a special envoy entrusted by the Venezuelan Government with authority to negotiate with the British Government a settlement of the boundary dispute between the two nations. The report, however, lacks confirmation.

Can Heart Failure be Prevented?

Startling and brief the announcement, "Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries and reporters arousing the forebodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart ; symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable and speedily fatal malady. Maltine with Cocoa Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarmingly disturbing symptoms.

Maltine with Cocoa Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. All druggists sell it.

PEOPLE WENT WILD

At the Democratic Convention in Chicago.

THE PATFORM OF THE PARTY

Free Silver and a Tariff for Revenue Purposes Only—Straight Opposition to Monometallism—No Attempt to Adopt the Platform Last Night—Scenes and Incidents.

Chicago, July 8.—After passing through a listless morning session the Democratic National Convention witnessed two scenes to-night which compensate those whose pent-up feeling had been given no vent in the earlier part of the day. Men and women joined in the demonstration for each of the contending factions of the Democracy. They shouted and cheered, sang and stamped, and fairly turned the great Convention Hall into a pandemonium. It was during the roll-call of States on a motion to adopt the minority report of the Committee on Credentials that both demonstrations occurred. The majority of the committee had submitted a report unseating members of the Michigan gold delegation and providing that silver contestants should take their places.

Chairman Daniel had put the question on the adoption of the minority report and the voting by States was proceeding with comparative quiet and some prosiness. When New York was reached Chairman Hinkley's large frame loomed up under the little banner that indicated the locality of the Empire State Democrats. There was a silence for a brief second, then Mr. Hinkley's voice rang out: "New York casts her 72 votes aye."

A great cheer went up from all parts of the hall. The delegates on the floor led the applause, some of them rising to their feet. A man among the spectators rose and waved his hat, and in an instant the audience was up seemingly en masse, and people were cheering like madmen. The demonstration lasted over fifteen minutes.

The second demonstration was a repetition of the first, and was intended as a counter-charge of the silver men. They found their cue in the announcement of the vote which showed that the minority or gold report of the Credentials Committee had been rejected and again pandemonium reigned.

Beyond these scenes there was little of interest that occurred in the Convention Hall.

The morning session passed in a weary wait for the Committee on Credentials to report and an adjournment was taken until 5 o'clock.

At the evening session nothing was accomplished except the adoption of the report of that committee seating silver delegates from Nebraska and Michigan and giving the silver men greater control.

At 9.36 it was decided not to attempt the adoption of the platform to-night, and an adjournment was taken until to-mororw morning at 10 o'clock.

The Resolution Committee has been called to meet again to-morrow morning, when further changes in the platform are expected to be made.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Full Text of the Report of the Sub-Committee on Resolutions.

Chicago, July 8.—The following is the platform, as reported by the sub-committee to the full committee on resolutions at its meeting this morning:

We, the Democrats of the United States in National Convention assembled, do reaffirm our allegiance to those great essential principles of justice and liberty upon which our institutions are founded, and which the Democratic party has advocated from Jefferson's time to our own, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of conscience, the preservation of personal rights, the equality of all citizens before the law, and the faithful observance of constitutional limitations.

Recognising that the money question is paramount to all others at this time, we invite attention to the fact that the Federal Constitution names silver and gold together as the money metals of the United States, and that the first coinage law passed by Congress under the constitution made the silver dollar the unit of value, and admitted gold to free coinage at a ratio measured by the silver dollar unit.

We declare that the act of 1873 demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people has resulted in the appreciation of gold and a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people; a heavy increase in the burden of taxation, and of all debts, public and private; the enrichment of the money-lending class at home and abroad; prostration of industry and impoverishment of the people.

We are unalterably opposed to monometallism, which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrial people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometallism is a British policy, and its adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only un-American, but anti-American, and it can be fastened on the United States only by the stifling of that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776, and won in the war of the revolution.

We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public and private and we favor such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract.

We are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the United States the option reserved by law to the Government of redeeming such obligations in either silver coin or gold coin.

We are opposed to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds of the United States, in time of peace, and condemn the trafficking with banking syndicates, which, in exchange for bonds and at an enormous profit to themselves, supply the Federal Treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometallism.

Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and President Jackson declared that this power could not be delegated to corporations or individuals. We, therefore, demand that the power to issue notes to circulate as money be taken from the national banks, and that all paper money shall be issued directly by the Treasury Department, be redeemable in coin, and receivable for all debts, public and private.

We hold the tariff duties should be levied for the purposes of revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country, and not discriminate between class or section, that taxation should be limited by the needs of the Government, honestly and economically administered. We denounce as disturbing to business the Republican threat to restore the McKinley law, which has been twice condemned by the people in national elections, and which, enacted under the false plea of protection to home industry, proved a prolific breeder of trusts and monopolies, enriched the few at the expense of the many, restricted trade and deprived the producers of the great American staples of access to their natural markets.

Until the money question is settled we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws, except such as are necessary to make up the deficit in revenue caused by the adverse decision of the Supreme Court on the income tax. There would be no deficit in the revenue, under the the annulment by the Supreme Court law passed by a Democratic Congress in strict pursuance of the uniform decisions of that court for nearly one hundred years, that court having sustained constitutional objections to its enactment which have been overruled by the ablest judges who ever sat on that bench. We declare that it is the duty of Congress to use all the constitutional power which remains after that decision, or which may come from its reversal by the court, as it may hereafter be constituted, so that the burdens of taxation may be equally and impartially laid, to the end that wealth may bear its due proportion of the expenses of the Government.

We hold that the most efficient way of protecting American labor is to prevent the importation of foreign pauper labor to compete with it in the home market, and that the value of the home market to our American farmers and artisans is greatly reduced by a vicious monetary system, which depresses the prices of their products below the cost of production and thus deprives them of the means of purchasing the products of our home manufacturers.

We denounce the arbitrary interference by Federal authorities in local affairs as a violation of the constitution of the United States and a crime against free institutions, and we especially object to government by injunction as a new and highly dangerous form of oppression by which Federal judges in contempt of the laws of the states, and rights of citizens, become at once legislators, judges and executioners, and we approve the bill passed at the last session of the United States Senate and now pending in the House relative to contempts in Federal Courts and providing for trials by jury in certain cases of contempts.

No discrimination should be indulged in by the Government of the United States in favor of any of its neighbors.

We approve of the refusal of the fifty-third Congress to pass the Pacific Railroad Funding Bill, and denounce the effort of the present Republican Congress to enact a similar measure.

Recognising the just claims of deserving Union soldiers, we heartily endorse the rule of Commissioner Murphy, that no names shall be arbitrarily dropped from the pension roll, and the fact of enlistment in service should be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment.

We favor the admission of the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona into the Union as States, and we favor the early admission of all the Territories having the necessary population and resources to entitle them to Statehood, and while they remain territories, we hold that the officials appointed to administer the government of any Territory, together with the District of Columbia and Alaska, should be bona fide residents of the territory or district in which the duties are to be performed.

The Democratic party believes in home rule and that all public lands of the United States be appropriated to the establishment of free homes for American citizens.

We recommend that the Territory of Alaska be granted a delegate in Congress and that the general land and timber laws of the United States be extended to said Territories.

We extend our sympathy to the people of Cuba in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence.

We are opposed to life tenure in the public service. We favor appointments based upon merit, fixed terms of office, and such administration of the civil service laws as will afford equal opportunities to all citizens of ascertained fitness.

We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by customs and usages of one hundred years, and sanctioned by the examples of the greatest and wisest of those who founded and have maintained our Government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the presidential office.

The Federal Government should care for and improve the Mississippi River and other great waterways of the Republic so as to secure for the interior States easy and cheap transportation to tide water. When any waterway of the Republic is of sufficient importance to demand aid of the Government such aid should be extended upon a definite plan of continuous work until permanent improvement is secured.

Confiding in the justice of our cause and the necessity of its success at the polls we submit the foregoing declaration of principles and purposes to the considerate judgment of American people. We invite the support of all citizens who approve them, and who desire to have them made effective through legislation for the relief of the people; and for the restoration of the country's prosperity.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Ball, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Manufactured by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure the worst chronic cold 25 cents.

St. Andrew's Sunday School Picnic.
Yesterday the scholars of St. Andrew's Sunday school enjoyed their annual picnic, this year at Jubilee Point. About 200, including parents and friends of the school, left on the City of Peterborough and arrived at their destination at 11 o'clock. The usual interesting proceedings of unloading the baskets were rapidly gone through, after which the afternoon was spent in boating and games, which were heartily enjoyed by all. The steamer left for home in good time and arrived here at 8.30.

Nearly all the cottages in Chemong Park are now occupied, and the visitors are settling down to their customary housekeeping, social as well as domestic. The park is looking well and wears an air of restfulness and recuperative quiet. The hotel is preparing for arrival of new guests which, Mr. Fobert states, are billed for this month. Stage connection is kept up with the town and the park twice a day. Mr. Scott, who still runs the stage, also makes connection with the steamboat for Bobcaygeon, which leaves the park on arrival of his stage. A pleasant day can be enjoyed by leaving town on the morning stage at 8 o'clock, taking the boat at the park for Bobcaygeon and after an enjoyable sail in the back lakes and spending four hours in the village, excursionists can be back in town again between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening.

MAGISTRATE DUMBLE RETIRES FROM THE CASE.

McWILLIAMS-REVIEW LIBEL CASE.

Evidence of Mr. McKay and Mr. McWilliams Taken—The Magistrate Declines For Cause to Proceed—The Case Turned Over to Mr. Edmison.

Another step was taken in the much enlarged action for criminal libel preferred by Mr. J. B. McWilliams against Mr. F. H. Dobbin, managing director of the Review Printing and Publishing Company. It will be remembered that on the 6th of June there appeared in the Review an article which Mr. McWilliams claims contained libellous innuendo. The accusation is based on the following extract from the article, though Mr. McWilliams in his evidence given at the present hearing claims that the whole article should be taken together:

We think that a prominent Mowat official from Peterborough, who has suddenly renewed his interest in the Orange Order, and who gave Mr. Wallace strong support at the time of his recent election to Grand Lodge, could give a great deal of information about Mr. Wallace's visit. However, it was worthy of note that this Mowat official, while his name appeared on the address presented to Mr. Wallace, was absent from town on the night of the rally, and did not appear with his candidate in the opera house.

The case came up again yesterday afternoon at the Police Court, Police Magistrate Dumble occupying the bench.

Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., appeared for the informant, and Mr. W. H. Moore, in the absence from the country of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, appeared for the accused.

Before the taking of evidence was proceeded with, Mr. Moore asked the Magistrate for a decision in respect of the demurrer put in at a previous hearing as to whether on the face of it the article complained of was libellous, the publication being for the purpose admitted. He insisted on the Magistrate's deciding on the point of demur and on the point of law.

Mr. Dumble said that the question had been gone over. Under the new law there was greater opportunity for variation. There not was so much chance of amendment under the old law as to libel, and the matter might have been ruled out. He declined to give a decision upon the points urged. As the parties seemed inclined to have law they should have the chance and the matter should go to a judge. He was willing to take the evidence.

Mr. Moore submitted that the magistrate was sitting as a judge and should be called upon to decide. He further pointed out that though the old law was codified it did not change it.

Mr. Dumble—the manner of pleading has been changed and ——

Mr. Moore insisted upon the magistrates power to give a decision as to whether publication complained of contained any thing to justify the taking of evidence. The matter was a grave one for defendant. If the magistrate could say there was libel the defence was content; if not the charge should be dismissed. Mr. Moore quoted from Sir John Thomson to the effect that the decision was not to protect the people against the press, but against other persons. The spirit of the section was not applicable to the position of the defence. He again asked the Magistrate to decide if there was a libel.

Mr. Poussette remarked that the innuendo constituted the libel.

Mr. Moore asked if there was any statement to show that Mr. McWilliams was not a Liberal, or that Mr. Newman was not a Liberal.

Mr. Poussette said he had to prove the innuendo which might not appear on the face of the article in question. It was not a question for the court to decide.

Mr. Dumble—Should there not be some innuendo on the face of it?

Mr. Poussette—We shall show the innuendo.

The Magistrate declined to rule, and said he would leave the question open, and that he was present simply to take evidence and reserve judgment upon all objections, and upon the evidence.

THE EVIDENCE TAKEN.

F. D. McKay, sworn: Am editor of the Review, published by the Review Printing and Publishing Company, Mr. Dobbin managing director. Remember seeing the article in question, headed, "The McCarthyite candidate."

Mr. Poussette put in Review of June 6th, also Review of June 8th.

The witness, continuing, said, I remember the article, "Be on Your Guard."

To Mr. Moore—I do not know of my own knowledge that these two particular papers were issued from the Review office, the articles might have been printed in some other place by offices that might have similar type.

J. B. McWilliams, sworn, said: I am the complainant. First saw the article complained of in the Review of the sixth of June, on Sunday noon—at least was told of it, but did not think I saw the paper till Monday. I took the article to mean that I was playing a double game by professing to be a Liberal, and while supporting Mr. Hall was actually supporting Mr. Newman. I am the "prominent Mowat official" in the article referred to here, because I am "a Mowat official," "a prominent member of the Orange Order," and did attend a meeting of the Grand Lodge in Collingwood as a supporter of Mr. Clarke Wallace. Another reason was that my name was on the address presented to Mr. Clarke Wallace on his visit here, and I was absent in the township of Cardiff when Mr. Wallace was in Peterborough. There is no one else that the article can possibly refer to. I am a Liberal in politics and supported Mr. Hall. The other candidates were Mr. James Kendry, Conservative, and Mr. Newman, Independent, and I might say Independent Conservative candidate. The article caused me to be twitted about it, particularly by the counsel for the defendant here to-day. My own party also made remarks about it. As a matter of fact I did not support Mr. Newman. I never had anything to do with bringing Mr. Newman here, directly or indirectly, and had never known him before. I didn't know that he was a candidate till I saw the fact stated in the papers.

To Mr. Moore—I did not accompany Mr. Newman from Toronto to Peterborough. I only heard that he was on the same train, through yourself (Mr. Moore) and others. I don't recollect seeing Mr. Newman on that train. Mr. Newman is an Orangeman and True Blue. Among those who twitted me about this article were Mr. Adam Hall and Mr. W. H. Moore—in front of the store occupied formerly by Miss Delaney. I don't remember whether it was after the charge was laid. I wont swear that it was after the charge was laid that I was twitted but it was, I think, on the Monday evening after the article that I was thus twitted. It was not after the hearing in the Police Court. Another who twitted me was a young man named Brown who lives on Water street. We were in the Liberal committee rooms at the time. I can not fix the date of when the twitting was done. The publication of the case in the Police Court was not what made people talk. Mr. Stratton mentioned that the matter was spoken of throughout the country. Could not say that this was before the charge was made. I am almost positive that it was on the Monday night after the article was published that the twitting was done. I have been an Orangeman for thirty years; I am now County Master and was at one time Deputy Junior Grand Master of Ontario East and lecturer for Ontario East. For upwards of thirty years I have been an active member of the Orange order and have taken an active interest for the past year. For a few years I did not take as active a part as your (Mr. Moore's) brother-in-law became a member of the society and did his best to try to control and I decided to give him all the rope he wants and let him hang himself which he did in a very short time. David H. Moore is a Mowat official in Peterborough and a prominent man in town; don't know how long he has been an Orangeman, perhaps twelve or fifteen years. He has not till lately taken much interest in Orangeism; he is Master of L. O. L. No. 49; he became that last October or November. He was secretary of the lodge several years ago; he has not had any prominent position till last October. Mr. Moore signed the address to Mr. Wallace and attended the meeting in the opera house, at least he told me he was there. He described the meeting and spoke of Mr. Wallace's speech. I took part in the late elections for the House of Commons. I took a prominent part and had full control of the campaign in East Peterborough. The election was a matter of public interest and the Review's article had a reference to the elections. The election was a fit subject for public discussion. I did not make a subscription to Mr. Newman's election nor any other election. I made a subscription to pay a band to meet Hon. Mr. Wallace. I subscribed $2. That was the full extent of my subscription. I also stated that when Mr. Wallace crossed the door of the opera house he was Mr. Newman's man. I don't know by whose invitation Mr. Wallace came here. I understood that he came here to support Mr. Newman and stated that I subscribed to welcome Mr. Wallace as an Orangeman and stated that when he entered the opera he was a friend of Mr. Newman's. I spoke with Mr. Hall (E. H. D.) about the case. He said the magistrate would not convict and I replied that I would appeal the case, and that I had letters of Mr. Dumble's that I could publish that also would show the reason why he would not convict. I told Mr. Hall that if the magistrate did not convict a grand jury would decide.

At this point the magistrate intervened and remarked in reference to the letters, and pointing to the press representatives, that they could publish any letter that he had written and that he had nothing to fear.

Mr. Moore read the first sentence of the article and asked what Mr. McWilliams thought was contempt—from "we think" to "visit."

Mr. McWilliams—I decline to give an opinion on that. I will take the article as a whole and draw my conclusions from that.

Mr. Moore read another sentence—commencing with "However" and ending with "House" and asked where Mr. McWilliams found fault with that.

Mr. McWilliams—I express no opinion whatever on any sentence taken separately. I want the whole article as charged in the information (referring to the quotation from the Review as mentioned in the information). It would be bringing me into contempt to say that I took an active part in bringing Mr. Wallace here as a supporter of Mr. Newman when I was a supporter of Mr. Hall. I claim that the article speaks for itself. The whole article in the information tends to bring me into contempt. It would not bring me into contempt to call me a "Mowat official," nor to say that I had renewed my interest in the Orange Order; nor to say that I "gave Mr. Wallace strong support in his election as Grand Master"; nor to say that "my name appeared on the address presented to Mr. Wallace." In what is quoted in the information the name of Mr. Newman does not appear, but it is referred to in the article itself. If the Review had published only what is quoted in the information, I would not have had nothing to complain of, because separated from the article the public would not know what was meant.

At the conclusion of Mr. McWilliams' testimony the magistrate said referring to the words Mr. McWilliams had used towards himself, if they contained a threat—he felt that he could not be in an impartial frame of mind necessary to deal with the case.

Mr. McWilliams said that in answer to the remark of Mr. Hall to the effect that if a conviction could not be got on the evidence, he said that he would appeal to the grand jury which would give him justice and he had added that he could publish certain letters which would show why he could not get justice.

Mr. Dumble—Under such circumstances I decline to go on with the case. I shall hand it over to Mr. Edmison and let him go on with it.

In answer to a question as to when the witnesses summoned might be told to attend, the magistrate said that Mr. Edmison could fix the date.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

The vacancy in the Ontario Cabinet, caused by the promotion of Hon. Mr. Hardy to the post of Premier, has not at writing been filled. The following press comments on the subject are presented:

Toronto World, July 9th.

Hon. Mr. Hardy could not state last night who was likely to gain the race for the portfolio to be vacated, but the Minister went so far as to admit that Mr. Stratton's location in eastern Ontario would prove a strong point in his favour against Messrs. Balfour and Davis.

Brockville Recorder.

The resignation of Sir Oliver Mowat will render necessary the selection of a new minister for the Ontario cabinet. The new premier, Hon. A. S. Hardy, will not be troubled with a lack of material, but his difficulty will rather be in selecting from the many good men who are eligible. Among those whose names are prominently mentioned is J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., editor PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER. If selected he would undoubtedly be a strong addition to the government, and the Recorder would be pleased to see one of the craft try his hand on the affairs of state.

PERSONAL.

Miss E. Maynard, of Woodstock, is visiting at Commodore Calcutt's, Ashburnham.

Master Gordon Logan, son of Mr. C. Logan, Galt, is staying with his grandfather, Mr. H. Calcutt, Ashburnham.

Mrs. Harry Neil and family arrived home to-day, after spending a several weeks' sojourn with friends and relatives in Galt.

Mrs. W. Eyers, of Cobourg, passed through town yesterday on her return to Cobourg after a visit to friends in Campbellford.

Miss Dora Smith of Rosedale, Ont., and her little neice, Edith Brooks, are spending their vacation in town, the guests of Mrs. Sheills, Aylmer street.

Mr. R. T. Hartley arrived home from the Ancient Capital, Quebec, last evening, after spending a fortnight's visit to friends; he was the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. R. Russell.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, County Engineer, is in Bridgenorth to-day looking over the Mud Lake floating bridge to see the progress in the work of reconstructing 500 feet of new bridge to replace the waterlogged portion. The soaked logs will be placed on skidways, and left to dry for future use.

"Satisfactory Results."
So says Dr. Curlett, an old and honoured practitioner, in Belleville, Ontario, who writes: "For wasting diseases and scrofula I have used Scott's Emulsion with the most satisfactory results."

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Thomas Doris, of Otonabee, Killed by a Fall From His Waggon.

Last night, in Ashburnham, Thomas Doris, of Otonabee, who was employed on the farm of Mr. Timothy Walsh, near Keene, was instantly killed while returning home by way of Stewart street, Ashburnham. While in the village, on his way home from the market, he met an old friend, Daniel McCarthy, who was also going to Keene, and the two set out for home together. When near St. Luke's church the horses of Doris' were put at a good pace and in descending the slope of the street he fell upon the whiffletrees and thence to the ground. The front wheel struck his head and the hind wheel following also passed over his head and body, causing instant death. The scalp was terribly wounded by the blows of the wheels. The body of the unfortunate man was put in charge of Mr. A. Clegg, undertaker, and Mr. McCarthy carried the sad news to Keene, where deceased has a brother, Mr. John Doris, besides another at Rice Lake.

Physicians were quickly on hand, but their services were of no avail. Dr. Fife, Coroner, was present, but did not consider an inquest necessary.

MARK STREET METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.

An Enjoyable Day Spent at Beautiful Sandy Point.

The Mark street Methodist Sunday School held its annual picnic yesterday at Sandy Point, a beautiful grove, four miles above Young's Point. Old "Probs" was very gracious and furnished delightful weather. The excursion was pronounced by all to be one of the most successful that the school has ever held.

The day was spent in boating, wandering about in the beautiful grove, watching the sports and in a variety of other ways. Perhaps the most interesting event of the day was a baseball match between Class No. 5 boys and a picked team from the rest of the school. After a hotly contested fight class No. 5 won by a score of 16 to 8. A beautiful jewel case was given to the winners. The teams were composed as follows :—

Class No. 5.	Picket team.
W Revoy ..... pitcher	M Carton
F Cox ..... catcher	J Reid
F Watley ..... 1st base	A Fowler
H Cox ..... 2nd base	W Patterson
A Renton ..... 3rd base	R Ritchie
F Weir ..... left field	H Fife
V Hamilton ..... right field	M W Matchett
Fred Hamilton ..... centre field	A Crowe
F Hamilton ..... shortstop	T Glover

Umpire—J H Beer.

A handsome list of prizes had been secured for the winners of the different races, the result of which was as follows :

Girls, 7 and under—1 L Telford, 2 M Edwards, 3 W Weir.

Boys, 7 and under—1 M Hartley, 2 L Edwards, 3 R Patterson.

Girls, 10 and under—1 E Heathorne, 2 A Revoy, 3 B Telford.

Boys, 10 and under—1 W Kindred, 2 B Peters.

Girls, 13 and under—1 F Dormer, 2 M Revoy, 3 M Kindred.

Boys, 13 and under—1 B Hamilton, 2 E Dormer, 3 I Law.

Girls, 15 and under—1 E Revoy, 2 M Smith, 3 L Dawson.

THE TOWN AND THE STREET RAILWAY.

The Matter Discussed at a Special Meeting Last Night — The Street Railway Asked to Show Cause.

At a special meeting of the Town Council last night there were present—the Mayor in the chair and Messrs. Best, Moore, Hughes, Denne, Weir White, Lansford, White, J. W., and Phelan.

After routine, the matter of

was brought up by Mr. Best, who called attention to a clause in the contract with the Street Railway Company, which called upon the company to construct one mile of additional road last year and an additional half-mile this year, and it became the duty of the Council to call the company's attention to their default.

Mr. Moore pointed out that the town was not obliged to notify the company, but if an extension was required and the company notified by the Council and failed to comply, the company thereby was liable to forfeit its franchise. Mr. Moore quoted clauses of agreement between the town and the Street Railway Company bearing on his contention.

Councilor Langford pointed out that if the people desired extension of the street railway line and the company did not supply such extension, it would forfeit its franchise, but no action should be taken unless it was urged by the public.

Mr. Phelan expressed the opinion that the present line was not paying, and that the company was doing all in its power.

Considerable further discussion followed and finally Mr. Hughes suggested that the company be written, calling attention to the fact that they were in default in respect of extension.

Mr. Moore moved, seconded by Mr. Hughes, that the clerk write to the president of the Peterborough Ashburnham Railway Company notifying the company that it is in default in the construction of its lines of railway as provided by its contract with the town, and to request said president to inform the council what it intends doing to remove the default on its part.—Carried.

RAILWAY TRACK AND SEWERAGE CONSTRUCTION.

The matter arising out of sewerage construction, and the proposal to temporarily lay the track on the side of the street in sections so as to permit work on the sewer and the running of the line at the same time, was brought up. After some talk over the matter it was considered that it should receive further attention from the council if the relations of the sewer contractor and the railway company required it.

POLICE UNIFORMS.

Mr. Phelan brought up the matter of the shabby condition of the police uniforms, and advocated the purchase of new suits. Accordingly it was moved by Mr. White that the chairman of the Property Committee make arrangements for the necessary repairs in the police station and cells, and that the clerk call for tenders for uniforms for the members of the police force, and the Supervision Committee be authorized to purchase them.—Carried.

The matter of the suit arising out of the outfall sewer was informally talked over, but no action was taken.

Mr. W. H. White introduced the question of a grant for the decoration of the town on July 13th, but Mr. Moore raised a point of order, and consequently no action was taken.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Regular Meeting—Record of the Business Transacted.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last night.

There were present Messrs. Quinlan (chairman), Lynch, Gosselin, Sheehy, McGrath, Doris, Hickey and LeHane, the Rev. Archdeacon Casey, Local Superintendent.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

On motion of Mr. Sheehy, seconded by Mr. LeHane, the report was adopted.

The principal of the Central school asked for certain supplies. The request was referred to the Property Committee with power to act.

Moved by Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Hickey, that the Property Committee be instructed to prepare a report of the repairs required to be done during the holidays, and to ask for tenders for same and report to the Board at a special meeting to be called.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. McGrath, the several municipalities were required to collect and pay to the Board, viz.:

Town of Peterborough	$3,500
Ashburnham	367
Smith	10

Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

DECORATION DAY.

FLORAL TRIBUTES TO THE MEMORY OF THE DEAD.

Citizens Unite With the Oddfellows in Decorating the Graves — Beautiful Ceremony at the Graves of Deceased Oddfellows—List of Graves Decorated.

In accordance with the annual custom, now firmly established by general consent of the whole community, the ceremony of decorating the graves of the departed dead was largely participated in this afternoon. All business places in town were closed at noon in recognition of the solemnity of the occasion.

All morning relatives and friends of those interred at the Little Lake Cemetery were busily engaged in placing flowers upon the graves of the deceased.

The members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges of Oddfellows had made especial preparations for imposing ceremonies in decorating the graves of departed brethren. The members of the two Lodges and a number of visiting Oddfellows gathered at the Central Park at 3 30 o'clock, and headed by the Fire Brigade Band, marched down George street to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the recent rain has freshened up the grass to an extent as to make this beautiful spot even more attractive than usual. Many citizens had arrived in advance of the Oddfellows, and all over the cemetery seemed

CARPETED WITH FLOWERS.

The Oddfellows laid their floral tributes with silence reverence and loving remembrance upon the graves of their departed brethren, profusely beautifying the green mounds with ornate tokens of fraternal fellowship.

Subjoined is a list of the deceased Oddfellows' graves decorated this afternoon. The last two names have been added since last Decoration Day :

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Fishing poles of all kinds, fishing tackle, tennis balls and tennis racquets, lacrosse and baseball goods, cheapest place in town, at Salisbury's Bookstore. d

—The results of promotion examinations for the first form of the Collegiate Institute will not be published till after the results of the Entrance Examinations are known.

—The annual picnic of the George street and Grace church Sunday school is being held at Idyl Wild to-day. The steamers North Star and City of Peterborough went out freighted heavily with happy pleasure seekers. In consequence the weekly service in Grace church is withdrawn for this evening.

—A swarm of vagrant bees made their appearance on London street yesterday, and soon a living cluster as large as patent pail hung suspended from a branch of an evergreen tree. Several efforts were made to hive them, which were only partially successful, but it remained for a north end apiarist to secure the wanderers eventually.

—The Chief of Police requests the EXAMINER to state that to his knowledge no information respecting the searching of Mrs. Hamilton's trunk as intimated in yesterday's issue of this journal was furnished at police headquarters. In the absence of our reporter no more specific statement respecting an affair which has so happily prove to be without foundation can be made.

To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and out-door exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

TUPPER LEAVES, LAURIER ARRIVES.

Sir Charles Gives up the Great Seal—Mr. Laurier Arrives in Ottawa To-night to Form His Cabinet.

(Special to the Examiner.

OTTAWA, July 9.

Sir Charles Tupper gave up the great seal which he kept as Secretary of State to Lord Aberdeen to-day. He leaves along with Mr. Tallion for Montreal this afternoon. Mr. Laurier will arrive to-night and will at once proceed to form his Cabinet after he has seen His Excellency.

UNDER LIBERAL RULE.

The resignation of Sir Charles Tupper and his Cabinet places Hon. Wilfred Laurier in power in Canada. This event marks the introduction of a new era of administration which will permit the energies of the country to express themselves unhampered by unhappy dissensions and untrammelled by vexatious trade restrictions and tariff anomolies. With three distinguished, pure and patriotic Canadians like Hon. Wilfred Laurier, Sir Oliver Mowat and Sir Henri Joly de Lobiniere as the types of a new administration, the people can hope for good and honest government.

Fragrant as the Flowers

Is the new and delightful tooth preparation "Ivorine." Foaming Ivorine is charmingly pleasant to use—a perfect delight to the senses and possesses in a marvellous way the property of rendering the teeth white and brilliant. Ivorine hardens the gums, prevents decay and imparts to the breath a delightful fragrance.

Baptist Young People.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable trips imaginable is advertised by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway from any point in Ontario or Quebec to Milwaukee and return for one single fare. This is in connection with the Baptist Young People's Union, who hold their annual international convention in Milwaukee July 16th to 19th, 1896. Tickets are good until August 5th and give those going the opportunity of seeing both Chicago and Detroit on the return journey. Fred L. Ratcliff, Toronto, has been appointed by the Baptists of these provinces as transportation leader, and any who intend to avail themselves of this trip should write him at once for full particulars. Special arrangements have been made by the transportation leader for good board in Milwaukee at very low rates, and a special train will be run from Toronto right through, so that any single person going will have lots of good company by arranging to join the special train at Toronto, or such point west as this train stops at.

NEAT JOB PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING DONE CHEAP AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

THE pain that sometimes strikes a man at the most inopportune moment is due to indigestion. It may come in the midst of a dinner and make the feast a mockery. It is a reminder that he may not eat what he chooses, nor when he chooses. He is a slave to the weakness of his stomach. Frequently he doesn't even know whether the thing he eats is going to agree with him or not. The things that please his palate most are often the worst for him to eat. Even the simplest food is likely to cause him misery and sleeplessness. His first trouble was very slight—very simple—very easy to cure. He ate something indigestible and it stuck some place in his digestive system. He ate more things and they stuck. Part of his digestion stopped altogether—that is constipation.

Constipation is so common that more than half the people in America are troubled with it. It is so serious that nine tenths of the sickness of the world is traceable directly to this common cause. A man's health and strength depend upon what he gets out of his food. This depends on his digestion. Constipation stops digestion. Anybody can see that. The commonest kind of common sense will tell you that. When digestion stops, nutrition stops, and the whole body is thrown out of order.

The way to start digestion is to remove the obstruction. The way to do that is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a positive cure for constipation and its attendant ills—headaches, sour stomach, flatulence, dizziness, billiousness and "heartburn." They are very gentle in their action. They simply assist nature. They give no violent wrench to the system. They cause no pain, nor griping, nor discomfort of any kind.

You can get a free sample of from 4 to 7 doses, by addressing World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

If a druggist tries to sell you something "just as good," transfer your trade to another store. He is sacrificing your interests to his own pecuniary advantage.

HOW THE CROPS LOOK.

Reports on the Whole are Encouraging, Both for the Great Northwest and the Province of Ontario.

Toronto, July 7.

The Meteorological Department has issued the following seasonal notes:

In the Dominion generally, as regards temperature, the month of June was nearly an average, with slight excess in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Calgary—Crops favorably reported, wild fruits very plentiful. Experimental Farm, Brandon, Man. Abundant rain in June, grain of all kinds very rank, but a week later than last year, pasture extra good, hay will be plentiful, roots making good progress, wild fruits promise to be abundant. Experimental Farm, Indian Head—Crops making excellent growth, and reports from all parts of this district are most favorable. Wheat coming into head, and all other cereals well advanced. Regina, Assa.—Grass on prairie most luxuriant, great improvement in state of crops due to recent hot weather. Morden, Man.—Crops on the higher land looking very good, but somewhat behind the average stage of growth at this time of year. Rosebank, Man.—Crops considering the late season are looking fine.

Ontario.

Excepting, perhaps, the unusually large amount of sunshine which has forced vegetation considerably, the weather has been about normal. In some portions of the province, more especially from the western shore of Lake Ontario west-northwest to Lake Huron, crops have been much affected by drought, and although in other districts heavy thunderstorms have been experienced the land has not benefited much, owing to a large portion of the water flowing off quickly. In many districts the hay crop is reported as being very light, but this is doubtless owing principally to the deficiency of rain in April and May. In counties bordering on the Georgian Bay, more especially in the Indian Peninsula, much damage has been done to crops by swarms of grasshoppers.

Following is a summary of reports received: Grey and Bruce—Spring crops generally look very well in these counties, excepting where damaged by grasshoppers. Hay and fall wheat are for the most part light. Huron and directly eastward to Durham and including Wentworth and Lincoln—With the exception of a few places in this district the drought has been almost continuous, and while most spring crops are looking fair, hay is generally light, so also is fall wheat in many localities. Excepting peaches, fruit looks well, and the crop picked so far has been abundant. Lambton, Middlesex Oxford, Bruce and counties bordering on Lake Erie—Although more rain has fallen on the greater portion of this district the condition of crops is much the same as in the district last mentioned, hay and fall wheat being slightly better. In Essex the harvesting of fall wheat and rye has commenced. Muskoka, Simcoe, Victoria, Northumberland and counties eastward—All farm crops in these counties now promise well excepting hay, which though probably not so light as in other portions of the province, will doubtless turn out a short crop. Reports of damage by grasshoppers come from North Simcoe, Peterborough and Renfrew.

The Re-count in North Grey.

Owen Sound, July 7.—The re count in the North Grey election case was concluded this evening. One hundred and fifty-five new ballots were added, 81 for Clark and 74 for McLauchlan. This makes Clark's (Lib.) majority 32. Judge Creasor's decision regarding ballots marked in the division alongside of the candidate's name is similar to Judge McDougall's.

Who Gets Lisgar?

Winnipeg, Man., July 7.—(Special.)—The returning officer for Lisgar to-day declared Richardson (Lib.) elected by 43 majority. There are 198 spoiled and rejected ballots, and Conservative Candidate Rogers will apply for a re-count. On a re-count it is anybody's election.

In the re-count in Marquette yesterday the judge confirmed the election of Dr. Roche (Con.), his majority being 67.

The Figures in Bothwell.

Chatham, July 7.—The re-count before Judge Bell of ballots cast in the Bothwell election reduces Mr. Clancy's majority from 87 to 59. Total vote polled—Mr. Clancy, 2387; Mr. Mills, 2528. Majority for Mr. Clancy 59.

Uitlanders Will Rule.

Cape Town, South Africa, July 7.—"Mark Twain," in an interview after his tour in the Transvaal, says the Uitlanders eventually will become masters there, and that without war.

He thinks Jameson was partly justified by the oppression of the Uitlanders in his attempt to assist them.

The Newcastle Shooting.

Newcastle, N.B., July 7.—McKenzie, the victim of yesterday morning's shooting, is doing well, but his condition is critical. Inspector Razey of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax is on the scene to-day. The examination takes place to-morrow before Police Magistrate Nevins.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and and lung troubles.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.

Queensland and New South Wales Will Join Canada in Granting a Steamship Subsidy for Three Years.

Vancouver, B.C., July 7.—From advices received by the Australian steamer Miowera, it now seems probable that the Queensland Government will join New South Wales and Canada in granting a subsidy to the Canadian-Australian steamship line. Captain Bird, managing owner of the line, recently interviewed the members of the Queensland Government, and it is said that the Government will recommend Parliament to grant a subsidy of £6000 a year for three years. The company is at present negotiating in England for the construction of a large steamer for the line.

Few medicines have held their ground so successfully as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During the past fifty years, it has been the most popular of all cough cures and the demand for it to-day is greater than ever before. Prompt to act and sure to cure.

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,371 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1906 and a curing you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

The finer these tubes are the higher the water will rise, while the opposite will be the result in the case of the mercury. That which causes the water to rise is called capillary attraction. That which prevents the mercury from rising is called capillary repulsion.

Before going any further it might be interesting to some to explain the meaning of capillary. Capillus means hair. Capillary means resembling a hair; fine, minute, small in diameter, though long. Thus a capillary tube means a tube that is hair-like.

A glass tube has been taken for purposes of illustration, but you must not think that such a tube is necessary before water will rise. A sponge soaks up water; that is, water rises through and fills the minute spaces which exist in the structure of the sponge. Those large spaces which we so plainly see in it are not filled with water. The oil rises in the lamp-wick by capillary attraction. The minute spaces between the fibres of the wick serve the same purpose as the small hole in a glass tube. The finer the material in the wick, the smaller and more numerous the holes will be and the higher the oil will rise through it. When house plants are watered, very often the water is put into the saucer of the flower pot. We say the oil soaks the water up; in fact, the water rises through the spaces between the particles of soil (see Fig. III.).

The finer the soil the smaller these spaces will be and the higher the water will rise, as it did in the glass tubes.

It is well known that plants on a sandy soil suffer during a dry season much more than those on a clay or loamy soil. This is due to the spaces in the latter being much finer than those in the sand, as the particles are not nearly so large. This being the case, they hold water much better when they have it, and then the water will rise much more readily from the water level. In this way, during a dry time, the plants on clay may be getting wter from below, while those on sandy land may die for want of it.

Now, if we understand some of the forces which influence the rise of water in a substance, we need to know two more things, and then this knowledge may be useful on the farm. First: What can we do to put the soil into a condition that is favorable to the rise of water from the water level; then what can we do to prevent it from evaporating at the top, so that the crops may get the moisture?

The spaces need to be small. Thus, to roll land that is too loose, as sand or other land that has been plowed in the spring, is a benefit. Again, many will have noticed that land that is drained never suffers as much during a dry season as does undrained land. I have seen places where a person could distinctly notice that the crop beside a drain was better during a drought than the crop farther off. What is the reason of this? An underdrain never takes water away that rises by capillary attraction, but that which lies in the larger spaces, and which, if allowed to remain, is injurious to plant growth. Land that is not drained will often be water-soaked during part of the season; and when it does dry out, will leave the land full of cracks, which tend to prevent the water from coming up, and allow it to evaporate more quickly. On the other hand, land that is well drained is left in a condition much more favorable to the rise of water by capillary attraction from the water level.

After doing as much as we can to put the soil into a condition favorable to the rise of this moisture, we need to do as much as we can to hinder its evaporation at the surface. Most farmers have seen a mulch of rubbish, chips, straw, or some other loose material put around fruit trees to keep the ground moist in dry weather. The water does not rise through this loose stuff, and is largely protected from the wind and sun's rays and does not evaporate; as a consequence the soil keeps moist. A well-worked summer fallow, on clay or loamy soil, will be moist even if rain has not fallen for some weeks.

Now, some may say that land that is worked up dries out. That is true in regard to the portion of the soil that is worked; but this need be only one, two or three inches, and these few inches of loose soil at the top serve the same purpose as the chips and the like around the fruit trees. It prevents the moisture from coming right to the top and protects it from being evaporated by the wind and sun. In this way we keep it in the proper place for the plant to make use of it. This explains the reason that there is such an advantage in surface cultivation during dry weather. The drier the weather, the oftener will it pay us to cultivate such crops as permit of it.

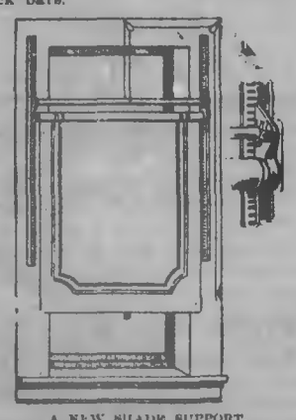
People often think of the moisture in the soil as altogether due to the rainfall; and as they cannot control this, they have thought that they could not guard against loss by drought; but by understanding capillary attraction and how to avail ourselves of its aid, we will be able, in many cases, to greatly lessen the evils which result from a lack of rain.—E. F. White, B. S.A., Algoma, in London Farmer's Advocate.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

A New Shade Support.

The shade-supporting device shown in the illustration is adapted to sustain a shade roller adjustably in position at any desired point on the window frame, thus making it convenient to admit light from the top of a window only when such arrangement of the shade is preferred. Rack bars, on which are vertical guideways, are secured to the side rails of the window frame, and in these guideways slide bearing blocks in which are journaled the ends of a transverse shaft, gears at the ends of the shaft engaging the rack bars.



A NEW SHADE SUPPORT.

One of the bearing blocks is shown in the small view, and these blocks, form a supporting frame in which is journaled the shade roller. The shade supporter is drawn up or lowered by means of a cord passed over pulleys at the top and one side, the end of the cord being secured to a retaining device at one side.

As the supporting frame and shade are raised or lowered they are guided by the engagement of the slide blocks and the teeth of the gears with the rack, the shade being unwound or wound to properly shade the window after the frame has been adjusted to the desired position. A slot in one of the slide blocks at one side permits the ready removal of the shade from its support. The shade cannot fail under any circumstances, the device is inexpensive and may be readily put up by anyone, and the shade is at all times held perfectly level.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

Twelve-Year-Old Willie Flynn Killed at Hamilton While Trying to Board a Moving Freight Train.

Hamilton, July 7.—(Special.)—Willie Flynn, 12 years old, son of William Flynn, the registration clerk at the postoffice, 65 Liberty-street, was killed this morning on a T., H. and B. train near the corner of Aurora and Young-streets. He was walking towards the mountain, and as a freight train was passing, he tried to get on, catching hold of one of the steps. The train was running fast, and the boy swung around, his head striking against the side of the car, which crushed the back of the skull in. He died in half an hour. Coroner Philp held an inquest, which was adjourned.

RESOLUTION REGARDING WHEY.

The sale was prefaced by the submission of the following resolution by Mr. Cluxton:

That the objectionable practice adopted by some of the patrons of carrying home whey in the milk cans from the factories is detrimental to the quality, and generally lowers the standard and character of the cheese in the county: that this Board strongly disapproves and condemns this system, and respectfully recommends that any factory allowing whey to be so returned in the milk cans, said factory shall be marked by the figure of a star on the blackboard of the Association for the information of the buyers at the sales.

Mr. Edwards, treasurer of the Board, seconded the resolution, which was strongly favoured by Mr. Drummond, president, and Messrs. Hodgson, Galvin, Sanderson and Blezard.

The practice is condemned because it tends to taint the cans and injure the quality of the milk, and therefore the quality of the cheese.

Mr. Cook referred to the danger of Peterborough going backward in the quality of its cheese, and he urged the appointment of an inspector.

The resolution was adopted, and the President said that it would be at once carried out.

THE BIDDING.

Mr. Whitton started with 6¾c, Mr. Jones 6 11-16, Mr. Hodgson 6¾, Mr. Cook 6 13-16c, Mr. Hodgson 6¾c, Mr. Jones 6 15-16c and Mr. Cook 7c. At this figure he got Westwood, Norwood and Ormonde. Mr. Whitton then bid 6¾c, Mr. Jones 6¾c, Mr. Whitton 6¾c and Mr. Jones 6 15-16c. Mr. Whitton advanced to 7c and Warminster, Warsaw, Maple Leaf, North Smith and Fleetwood accepted, Oakdale refusing. Mr. Hodgson bid 6¾c for further selections, Mr. Jones 6¾c, Mr. Hodgson 6¾c and Mr. Jones went 7c, and took Lakefield, Lakeview, Cherry Grove and Fraserville. Mr. Hodgson bid 6¾ for farther selections and Trewern and Myrtle accepted, but Lang, Central Smith, Keene, Missing Link, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, Pine Grove, Bensfort, Shearer, Cavanville and North Dummer declined. Mr. Whitton offered 7c for Oakdale but it was refused. Mr. Hodgson took Pine Grove at 7c. Mr. Whitton offered 6 15 16c for Keene and Shearer and this was accepted.

These sales were not allowed as being under 500 boxes.

Mr. Hodgson bid 6 15-16c for further selections, and Keene, Central Smith, Pine Grove, and Otonabee Union accepted. Mr. Wrighton bid 6¾c for selections, Mr. Cook 6 13 16c, Mr. Whitton 6¾c, and Lang, Shearer, Missing Link and Benefort refused. Mr. Wrighton then bid 6¾c for further selections, refused by Hope. Mr. Wrighton then bid 6¾c for further selections, also refused. Mr. Whitton offered 6 13-16c, Mr. Madden 6¾c, and got Young's Point, North Dummer, Stony Lake and Melrose Abbey, while Lang, Missing Link and Peterborough refused. Mr. Whitton got Shearer at 6 15-16, and Mr. Madden secured Oakdale at 7c. Mr. Cook offered 6 15-16c for Hope, Perrytown, Orono and Kendall, but this was refused. Lang sold to Mr. Hodgson for 6¾c. Mr. Wrighton bid 6¾c for Bensfort and Mount Pleasant, and it was accepted. Mr. Madden took Missing Link and Peterborough at 6 15 16c and Mr. Cook got Cavanville at the same figure and Blackstock at 6¾c.

Cedardale, Daisy D, Manchester, Perrytown, Orono, Hope and Kendall, were unsold, and the Board adjourned for two weeks, one factory unsold, being given permission to sell off the Board.

GALA DAY FOR HAVELOCK.

Laying the Corner Stone of the New Methodist Church.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Wednesday, July 8th.

The corner stone of the new Methodist church, Havelock, was laid to-day under auspicious circumstances. There was a large attendance of the villagers and others from the surrounding country.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. H. Campbell, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, assisted by Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, Rev. Messrs. Sanderson-McCamus and the pastor, Rev. H. McQuade, also assisted in the interesting ceremony.

The new church will be of brick, 38 x 65, with tower, and in the Gothic style, and standing on the site of the old church recently removed, will present a handsome appearance. The Building Committee is composed of Messrs. A. Mell, J. Rose, W. Ritchie, J. Marks, W. J. Wiseman, Dr. Jeffs and R. Phillips.

The occasion was enlivened by the presence of the Norwood band.

Under the corner stone was placed the usual casket containing coins, copies of the Globe, Mail, Hastings and Campbellford papers, the Havelock Standard and the Peterborough EXAMINER.

After the ceremony an adjournment was made to the grove where speeches were made. The Methodists of Havelock are to be congratulated upon the public spirit and enterprise represented in the auspicious beginning of the erection of a new place of worship.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

WILL GREENWAY SETTLE IT?

The Winnipeg Free Press Deals With the School Question—Tom Grigg, the Hotelman, Dead.

Winnipeg, Man., July 8.—(Special.)—The Free Press to-day editorially discusses the rumor that Premier Greenway will at once make a settlement of the school question satisfactory to the Catholics, and remove the dangerous obstacle from Mr. Laurier's pathway. The Free Press says: "If the Manitoba Ministers were manoeuvering in aid of their political friends in the Dominion they have the gratification of knowing that success has rewarded their efforts. There is nothing now remaining to prevent them from addressing themselves to the school question in very earnest, and settling it once for all. It is most desirable that they should do this. There is something to settle, and it is proper and altogether expedient that it should be settled by the Government and the Legislature of Manitoba. If the question should get back into the Federal arena, there is no guarantee that the province may not be compelled to accept conditions that are unnecessary, and may prove extremely irksome. Here it can be settled to the satisfaction of all parties."

Tom Grigg, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel at Regina, died at noon today of inflammation of the bowels, with other complications. Deceased, with his brother, Sam Grigg, formerly managed the Grigg House at London, Ont.

Winnipeggers are justly indignant over the result of the Dominion Government census of Winnipeg just published. The city's population is given at 31,000, whereas there is positive proof at hand that 40,000 would be closer to the correct figures.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Brockville, July 2.—To-day 2,950 boxes of cheese were boarded here, of which 930 were white and the balance coloured; 208 boxes of coloured sold at 6¾c; 6¾c was offered for white but none sold.

Woodstock, July 2.—Seventeen factories offered, 3,464 boxes cheese. Sales—1,565 at 6¾c, 1,110 at 6 13-16c; market fairly active, but prices low. Seven buyers present.

Kingston, July 2.—At the Frontenac Cheese Board to-day F. Vanluven opened the bids at 6¾c. The top bid was 6¾c, offered by C. E. Bartlett, who secured the make of Sunbury, Wolfe Island, Oregon, Granite Hill. John Nicolle secured the make of Ontario at Bartlett's figure and that of Pine Hill at 6 11-16c. A. Alexander bid 6 9-16c for selections of the remainder of the board, and secured Long Lake. The offer of L. W. Murphy of 6 9-16c for the remainder of the board was not accepted. The sellers were holding out for 7c.

Picton, July 2.—At our cheese board to-day 14 factories offered 1,052 boxes of coloured and 60 white. Sales were: 30 white at 6¾c.

London, July 4—At the market to-day 31 factories boarded 6,124 boxes, June; 125 boxes sold at 6¾c, 136 at 6¾c, 1,158 at 6 11-16c, and 857 at 6¾c. Attendance large.

Belleville, July 7.—The cheese board to-day was well attended by both buyers and sellers. Thirty-two factories boarded 2,190 boxes of white and 575 boxes coloured cheese. The sales were: Ayer & Co., 150 boxes at 6¾c, T. Watkins, 320 boxes at 6 15-16c; M. Bird, 175 boxes at 7c; McCargar & Brenton, 75 boxes at 6¾c, and 215 boxes at 7c; J. R. Brower, 85 boxes at 7c and 60 boxes at 6¾c. It is said the balance was sold on the street.

THE CALL OBEYED.

Mr. Laurier Proceeds to Ottawa and is Welcomed.

SUMMONED TO GOVERNMENT HOUSE

The New Government Inaugurated To-Day —Premier-Elect Placed in Charge by the Governor-General This Morning—Outgoing Ministers Take Their Departure.

Ottawa, July 9.—(Globe special.)—Mr. Laurier arrived here this evening by the regular Canada Atlantic express at 8.30, in response to the summons of His Excellency, who is without an adviser. He was accompanied by Messrs. Borden, M.P., Sutherland, M.P., S. Fisher, M.P., and Tarte, ex-M.P. Mr. W. C. Edwards, M.P., Mr. N. A. Belcourt, M.P., and Mr. Charles Murphy, President of the Federation of Young Liberal Clubs, met the leader en route, and came on with him. Before the train stopped the enthusiasm of the crowd, which numbered over 2000, broke out in cheers. No demonstration or reception was arranged, but the people seemed bound to greet the distinguished statesman at the first opportunity. When he appeared on the platform of the parlor car a great cheer went up, and the crowd surged back and forth, as those behind pressed forward to catch a glimpse of the Premier-elect, while those in front tried to keep their places. Four or five volunteers tried to force a passage through to the carriages in waiting, but it was impossible and no police were present. The lack of arrangements was due to the fact that the hour of Mr. Laurier's arrival was not generally known, and only at 5 o'clock did it become noised about. At last the carriages were reached, and Mr. Laurier drove away amid continuous cheering. At the Russell House a large crowd had gathered, and as Mr. Laurier alighted loud cheers were given in his honor. A thousand people waited in front of the hotel in the hope that Mr. Laurier would appear on the balcony, but he did not deem it compatible with his duty towards His Excellency to say anything in public. He is looking and feeling well, and evidently quite prepared for the task before him. A bundle of letters and telegrams was laid on the table in room 65, and he was immediately immersed in business. It was not expected that any communication with His Excellency would be had to-night. The large rotunda of the Russell was filled with a crowd of politicians, and Mr. Tarte was warmly congratulated by a number on the result of the fight in the Province of Quebec. It is understood that the vice regal summons to Mr. Laurier last night was conveyed by telegraph. The substitution of electricity for the time honored "Queen's messenger" is a tribute to the democratic character of the country, and a sign that we live in a business age. When seen in his sitting-room by your correspondent, Mr. Laurier expressed his thankfulness at escaping from the crowd at the station with a whole skin. When he saw the size of the informal gathering he remarked, with a recollection of the day not many years distant when there were few Liberals in Ottawa, "Have we not stopped at the wrong place?" He expressed the pleasure with which he heard of the election of two Liberals in Ottawa on the night of June 23. At half-past 10 Capt. Sinclair, His Excellency's secretary, called on Mr. Laurier, and intimated that the Governor-General would see him to-morrow morning at 11. By noon to-morrow, therefore, Mr. Laurier will have been entrusted with the task of forming a Ministry.

The Governor-General has received a telegram from the Right Honorable Joseph Chamberlain mentioning that certain press telegrams published in London state that in some Canadian newspapers he has been accused of interfering in internal politics in Canada, and requesting that his absolute contradiction of this false statement should be made known. His Excellency desires that the widest publicity be given to this denial.

DAY OF LEAVE-TAKING.

Sir Charles Tupper and Other Ministers Say Good-Bye.

Ottawa, July 9.—(Special.)—This has been a day of clearing up with the ex-Ministers. Most of them have been at this work for the past two or three days, and this morning there was little for them to do. Several, however, visited their departments and bade a formal good bye to their late officers. Shortly after 11 o'clock Sir Charles Tupper, accompanied by Mr. Pope, Under Secretary of State, went to Rideau Hall, when the late Premier, in his capacity of Secretary of State, surrendered to His Excellency the great seal, which Lord Aberdeen was pleased to accept, and then handed over to Mr. Pope for safe keeping until such time as it is presented to the new Secretary.

This afternoon your correspondent, the only outsider present, witnessed an interesting scene. It was shortly after 3 o'clock when Sir Charles Tupper requested Mr. Pope to cause all the clerks of the State Department to assemble in the Minister's office. When all were present the late Secretary of State said he had sent for them that he might say good-bye before he left the office. He expressed the pleasure which it had afforded him to meet such an able body of men and complimented them upon their efficiency and promptitude. He had experience of many departments, but he knew none he would sooner return to than the State. If at any time he could promote their interest he would be only too glad to do so. In conclusion, he wished each one of them long life and prosperity. Sir Charles shook hands with each of the clerks, who then retired.

Sir Charles Tupper informed me that he hopes to be able to take up residence in his new house in this city in five or six weeks. Until such time, however, as Lady Tupper returns to Ottawa he will make his home with his son, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. The latter will retain his residence here until the close of the coming session. He has not yet decided upon his future movements. Some weeks ago it was announced that he would join the legal firm of Borden, Richie & Parker of Halifax, but the partnership has not been consummated and there is a possibility of Sir Charles Hibbert joining a legal firm either in Ottawa or Toronto. The late Solicitor-General likes Toronto, and he and his family would doubtless receive a cordial welcome if the ex-Minister decided to locate there.

Sir Charles Tupper, Hugh John Macdonald, Mr. Angers, Mr. Taillon and Mr. Dickey left on the afternoon train for Montreal. Mr. Ives also left for Sherbrooke on the morning train, and Messrs. Haggart and Montague also left for Montreal, en route to New York. Col. Tisdale left for home to-night, Mr. Wood goes to-morrow, Mr. Costigan and Col. Prior are still here. The late Controller of Inland Revenue will not leave the Capital until such time as it is definitely known when Parliament meets. If there be only an adjournment for three weeks he will not likely return to Victoria.

The financial returns for the twelve months ending June 30 have been made up. They do not, however, accurately represent the Dominion's present financial position, as the books of the year will not be finally closed until early in September. The revenue is placed at $35,659,775, and the expenditure $30,557,274, leaving an apparent surplus of over $5,000,000. The net debt to June 30 was $250,425,310, or an increase of $4,000,000 in a year.

Some 30 excursionists from Oak Farm have been in the city for the past three days, visiting the Experimental Farm.

Major Donaldson, secretary of the D.A.A., is informed that the Shoeburyness Artillery team has now the full complement of men. They are practising diligently at Quebec.

Archbishop Langevin of Winnipeg arrived in the city on Tuesday. He visited the Juniorate and also paid a visit to Rev. Father McGuckin, rector of the University, who is ill at the hospital. The reverend gentleman left the city yesterday evening for Montreal, accompanied by Rev. Father George. He will proceed to New York and there embark for France, and thence to Rome, where he intends visiting His Holiness.

THE PREMIER'S LOYALTY.

His Laurier Gives Voice to Patriotic and Pro-British Sentiments in the Presence of Naval Officers.

Montreal, July 9.—Mr. Laurier received this morning the official summons to Ottawa in the shape of a telegram from Capt. Erskine, A.D.C., informing him that His Excellency the Governor-General was anxious to see him at Government House at his convenience. He accordingly left this afternoon by the Canada Atlantic.

In the morning Mr. Laurier attended the civic reception to Vice-Admiral Erskine and the officers of H.M.S. Intrepid and Tartar at the City Hall.

Mr. Laurier arrived shortly before the Admiral and party, accompanied by Mr. J. I. Tarte, Mr. James Sutherland, M.P. for North Oxford; Lieut.-Col. Tucker, one of the members for St. John, N.B., and Lieut.-Col. Domville, M.P. for King's. On Mr. Laurier's arrival he was most cordially received by the Mayor and introduced to the other gentlemen present.

The City Clerk proceeded to the main entrance to receive the Vice-Admiral, personally escorting him to the Mayor's apartments, where His Worship introduced him and his officers to the new Premier and all of the other gentlemen present.

After a short time spent in social intercourse, refreshments were served, and, His Worship calling for order, proposed the toast of The Queen. When this had been suitably honored the Mayor proposed the toast of the visitors. Vice-Admiral Erskine, in reply, said that he felt proud to be privileged to appear as the representative of the armed forces of the Empire before such an important gathering as this at this important time. He felt it a critical period in imperial history. The royal navy was an influence working not merely for British, but for Imperial interests and development. The navy realized that it was not merely the navy of Great Britain, but of Greater Britain.

"I am proud," the Admiral remarked, "to come here with such ships as it was convenient to detach from the squadron under my command to give expression here in the heart of this commercial metropolis of the Dominion of Canada to the gratification felt by the service with which I am connected and the sister service at the patriotic stand taken at a crucial moment by the people of Canada. It was magnificent and brought to us this feeling that if Great Britain found herself opposed by the united powers of the world she could depend upon the various peoples who make up the population of this great Dominion and the other parts of the Empire. With this affectionately loyal support, and with the dominion of the seas held by the navy, Britain could look upon the situation or any similar situation calmly.

In the course of his reply the new Premier said he appreciated to-day, in the presence of the representatives of the armed forces of the Empire, and occupying the position he did, having just been called a few minutes previously by His Excellency the Governor-General to assume the position of first citizen of the Dominion—he appreciated to-day more than ever the responsibility of citizenship, for he stood upon the common ground of our common Canadian and British citizenship. He realized more than he ever had done the strength and significance of the order by England's great admiral on the day of the Battle of Trafalgar, 'England expects every man to do his duty.' He would do his best to do his duty, not only by Canada, but by the Empire England did not require help from anybody, but if ever the occasion should arise when Britain would be summoned to stand against the whole world in arms she could depend upon the loyal support of the Canadian people. The Canadian people were free and loyal; loyal because they were free.

CUBA WANTS INDEPENDENCE

But Spain Will Hang on the Island for Fear of Other Nations Grabbing It.

Madrid, July 9.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday Prime Minister Canovas, replying to a criticism of the Government's policy made by Senor Silvela, the leader of the dissentient Conservatives declared that the real aim of the Cuban revolution was the independence of the island, and not autonomy. Spain, he said, would know how to overcome all the obstacles in her way. Cuba did not possess the elements necessary to maintain her independence, and if separated from Spain, would fall a prey to another nation.

The Chamber rejected the Carlist amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, urging that Spain join the Franco-Russian alliance in conformity to the exigencies of the Government's colonial interests, and with a view to resisting the perfidy of the United States' Government.

Senor Mella, Carlist, speaking in the Chamber of Deputies to-day, declared that the Government ought to be energetic in preparing for the inevitable conflict between the United States and Spain, in which she would prove her virility and her greatness.

RUSSIA BEHIND THE SCREEN.

Is the Czar Prompting France to Occupy the Island of Crete?

London, July 9.—The Westminster Gazette publishes a special despatch from Athens, saying that Russia is prompting France to occupy Crete and hold the island against Great Britain's tenure of Cyprus and Egypt. The Greek Government has become alarmed at this and is endeavoring to induce the Cretans to accept the terms of the Porte. The British fleet has been so strengthened in Cretan waters as to almost blockade the island.

The Behring Sea Treaty.

Washington, July 9.—It will be ten days before the correspondence between the United States and Great Britain relative to the treaty of arbitration will be made public. Agreeably to an understanding between Lord Salisbury and Secretary Olney, this will occur simultaneously in both countries. It will not be followed immediately by the preparation of the treaty, as there are others letters yet to be exchanged, but it is not doubted that such a treaty will be agreed to before the re-assembling of Congress in December next.

Canadians at the Buffalo Convention.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 8.—The Canadian delegates to the National Educational Convention, who have registered at headquarters are: Mrs. S. A. Williams, Mrs. J. Temple, Mrs. R. Church, G. H. S. Robertson of Toronto, U. J. Wray and lady of Lindsay, and Miss L. I. Belle of Hamilton. There are many other Canadians present at the convention, but they have not registered at headquarters.

FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1896.

THE FREE SILVER HERESY GROWING.

Alarming reports are being received from the rural districts of the Eastern States of the favour which free silver is meeting with among the farmers. It is said that some districts of New York are honeycombed by the heresy. The country has lately been flooded with the free coinage literature which has been so effective with the farmers in the west, and the agents of the free silver campaign are now claiming the sympathies of the farmers of the east for those of the west, and representing that the agricultural interests are identical throughout the country. Some of the independent journals declare that the campaign in favour of sound currency will have to be fought over again in the next few months, and that if it is not entered upon at once and fought vigorously the Democratic free silver war may prove unexpectedly successful even in the east. It is to be hoped, says the Montreal Witness, that the sound currency Democrats who have fought a losing battle in Chicago inside the party will determine upon a decided course which will be effective in detaching all sound currency Democratic strength from the Democratic party. The hope of modifying the policy of the party, the majority of which have gone mad on the question, has proved vain. Mr. Whitney, the leader of the gold or single standard Democrats, will, it is to be hoped, be successful in starting and organising a sound currency Democratic party, with candidates and a policy of its own. The work of such a party would of course be to carry on an educational campaign both east and west, south and north, and to prevent the success of the free silver movement, while not contributing to the victory of protection. If the eastern sound currency Democrats bolt, the new Democratic party will be necessary to preserve the organization in the east of the Democratic party against the day when the party shall have recovered its sanity. The danger from the silver movement lies deeper than the ignorance of the people in their dishonesty. Discussion could not but tend to remove ignorance, but below the ignorance lies a shrewd conviction that the recognition of fifty cents' worth of silver as a dollar would enable the debtor to pay his debts for half of what they now represent. This view is not the result of ignorance, for it is perfectly correct. It is the result of greed.

LORD ABERDEEN AND HIS CRITICS.

We have before pointed out that when Conservatives are out of office their loyalty effervesce. The journals are now pouring abuse upon His Excellency Lord Aberdeen, because, as alleged, he refused to sign certain appointments made by the outgoing Tupper cabinet. They show small respect for the Queen's representative, who, no doubt, acted within his constitutional prerogative in what he has done. Todd, in his "Parliamentary Practice in England," states that an outgoing ministry is "entitled to make any appointments which the originator of the public service may require." This is common sense, anyway, and few will be found to controvert the correctness of the position, but this would certainly exclude appointments made after June 23rd. Offices that were left open till after the result of the elections was known, were plainly made in defiance of the principle laid down by Todd. The question of "public exigency" did not apply —and as only the question of rewarding party workers during the election campaign could have been considered under these circumstances, the action of the Governor-General seems to have been justified. If the public interests demanded these appointments after the elections they certainly demanded them with equal force before the elections were held. All fair minded persons will approve of the course of Lord Aberdeen in his loyalty to the spirit of representative institutions. A defeated and discredited ministry, condemned at the polls, represents nothing but their own party interests, and to expect the representative of the Queen to respect those interests, as against the interests of the public, is preposterous. Lord Aberdeen doubtless did the right thing.

GOVERNMENT by conspiracy does not suit the people of Canada.

MR. R. R. DOBELL, the Independent representative of Quebec West, has declared that he will support "our chief," Mr. Laurier.

THE retired Tupper cabinet was the fifth ministry that has retired since Confederation—a fifth wheel to the national coach—unnecessary and obstructive.

THE representatives of the great Conservative party are now Her Majesty's "Loyal Opposition"—though their loyalty has been subjected to a direct strain by the loss of office.

THE recounts in the several constituencies are not to any extent weakening Mr. Laurier's support. In fact the tendency is to improve the Liberal contingent of representatives in the House of Commons.

THERE promises to be a mixture of politics in the United States at the coming presidential election. Thousands of free silver Republicans will vote for the free silver platform of the Democrats, and thousands of gold Democrats will cast Republican ballots.

WITH the passing of Sir Charles Tupper and the coming of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier the end comes of a corrupt political regime, under which the resources of the country were exploited for party purposes in a most shameless and reckless manner; and a new era of honest government dawns in the interests of the people. The new regime will restore confidence and tend to restore the prosperity and promote the progress of the country in all material respects. This is a great day for Canada.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER left Montreal a member of Parliament, in company of one of his defeated ministers, Mr. Tallion. Mr. Tallion resigned a provincial portfolio and has now neither that nor a seat in the House. Yet he doubtless sustains his reverses more philosophically than Sir Charles, who has lost a premiership of a few months duration, but has sustained a far more grievous loss in having closed to him the doors of the pap-box upon which he [illegible] for the past forty years, almost.

[illegible] is now in the initial [illegible] election campaign, [illegible] parties will be making great bids for popularity. It is probable that we shall hear a good deal of war talk against England, but the fear of any war between the Mother Country and the United States is groundless. British capitalists virtually own the majority of the railroads in the United States and the greater proportion of the great breweries, and have besides millions invested in other enterprises and these men will never allow England or the United States either, to go to war to the injury or ruin of their financial interests.

THE fly in Sir Charles Tupper's ointment is not the withdrawal of public confidence, for that he never enjoyed as Premier, but the failure of his grip on office and spoil. He has been an absorptive politician since his entering into public life. Of Canadian Premiers, Hon. Alex Mackenzie and Sir John Macdonald died with the honours thick upon them. Sir John Thompson died at his post an honoured man. Sir John Abbott passed away in the fullness of years. Sir Mackenzie Bowell was side-tracked by a most infamous conspiracy of his subordinates, and Sir Charles Tupper, who cuckooed him out of his position, retires into the obscurity of quasi private life, with none so poor to do him reverence. Even his own party followers admit that his defeat is a blessing to the country.

WE get good news from all quarters these days. We get news of good government from Ottawa. From Manitoba and the Northwest we learn of magnificent crops. From British Columbia we learn of a great mining boom, and even from Newfoundland, which with assurance of good government and fair play will doubtless be willing to join the sisterhood of Confederation, we hear that the catch of codfish is the best in forty years. With the defeat of a Conservative government the organs predicted "blue ruin;" instead, we have the sun breaking brightly from the clouds, and assurance of increased confidence and activity in every department of the varied interests of the country. Much is expected from a Liberal Government, and there is every reason to believe that expectation will not be disappointed.

As showing the development in dairying in the Northwest it is stated that three years ago hardly a pound of butter was made in the Moosejaw District in the Territories. Last month in the Government creamery 14,000 lbs. were made. The great Northwest has unbounded resources awaiting the development that has not come under the lax system of administration of the past. But with a new government with a vigorous policy of development with government in the interests of the country and not of party we may expect great and solid progress. The Northwest is designed by virtue of its extent, fertility and resources to be the homes of millions, and once the conditions favourable to settlement are introduced we may expect great things. A large and thrifty population in the Northwest, demanding the manufactured products of the older provinces, will give an impetus to industrial interests that will amplify their importance and prosperity to an incalculable degree.

Can Heart Failure be Prevented?

Startling and brief the announcement, "Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries and reporters arousing the forebodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart; symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable and speedily fatal malady. Maltine with Coca Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarmingly disturbing symptoms.

Maltine with Coca Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. All druggists sell it.

Mrs. M. says: "My daughter was pale, languid and unable to stand any exertion. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made her strong and gave her colour. 50 doses, 25 cents." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure constipation and sick headache.

DOAN'S

Kidney Pills first proved to the people that Kidney disease is curable. Being the original Kidney remedy in pill form, the cures they have made, and the fame they have attained have opened the way for a host of imitations and substitutes, but those who have been cured of

KIDNEY

Complaints through the use of this wonderful medicine, those whose lame back is now free from pain, those who now have no headaches, those who have escaped from the death grip of Diabetes and Bright's disease by the use of Doan's Kidney are the ones whose opinion is valuable. When scores of such people come forward and tell publicly that Doan's Kidney Pills cured them after other means failed, it is evident that the only for Kidney Disease, Bladder and Urinary difficulties, Lame Back, and the numberless results of disordered Kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Be sure to get Doan's. Price fifty cents per box.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

White Money Platform Adopted by the Democrats.

NO CANDIDATE NAMED AS YET

Bryan of Nebraska Comes to the Front as a Possible Candidate--Bill Makes a Stirring Speech Against the Free Silver Idea--Wild Enthusiasm.

Chicago, July 9.—This has been a day of days in the history of National conventions. From early morning until late at night, with the exception of a three hours' intermission, the gigantic coliseum, the largest hall in the world, was crowded to the doors with interested and enthusiastic spectators. But great in number as had been the masses which attended the morning and afternoon sitting, they were as nothing in comparison with the tremendous record-breaking audience that thronged the stupendous auditorium at the evening assembly. Such a gathering had never been before seen at a National convention, floor and galleries forming one great mass of solid humanity.

Where the narrow ribbons of aisles had marked the various divisions of the huge interior there were gathered thousands who could not find out accommodations. Every chair was filled and some idea of the meaning of this may be gained by the knowledge that the coliseum has a seating capacity of 16,000. And in addition to the myriads who choked and crowded every available space, many more, estimated at 500 in numbers, were gathered about the entrances during the greater part of the evening, tickets in hand, fruitlessly clamoring for admission for admission.

Like yesterday, it has been a day of remarkable demonstrations of enthusiasm, but the pinnacle of emotional expression was reached in a scene, wonderful in its spontaneity and unprecedented probably in any similar gathering of a political party. There had been an outburst of enthusiasm, stirring to behold, when D. B. Hill finished a great rhetorical effort in antagonism to the platform presented by the Committee on Resolutions. The vast assembly had listened to a sensational speech by Senator Tillman, replete in impassioned expression and in incrimination of President Cleveland, and had showed approval and disapproval by cheers and hisses.

But when William J. Bryan (Nebraska), handsome, vigorous and magnetic, and not unlike McKinley in voice and facial expression, concluded the effort of his life, in support of the free coinage platform, there occurred one of these scenes which set the blood coursing fast through the veins of even the most passive spectator and remain fixed in the memory for a lifetime.

Like the terrible premonitory rumbling that gives warning of approach of 10,000 cattle stampeded, delegates and spectators began the ovation to the young Nebraskan. And then the volume of sound grew and grew, until it could grow no more, and enthusiasm went mad as Bryan in his passage down the aisle toward the Nebraska seats was caught in the whirlwind of frenzied enthusiasm and lifted high on the shoulders of delegates.

From floor to gallery the waves of applause swept, and back again from gallery to floor, and when the shouting, yelling, cheering masses fell back exhausted, W. J. Bryan had been cast into the arena of Presidential hope as a full fledged candidate for his party's nomination.

An attempt on the part of Senator Tillman to have the convention condemn President Cleveland and his administrative policy, was frustrated by many protests from Senator Jones and Mr. Bryan, who, though admittedly anti-administration in their views, decried any abuse of the man who had been twice the choice of their party. Senator Tillman, admonished by the cheering which gave commendation to the remarks of Jones and Bryan, withdrew his resolution.

At night the candidates for the nomination were named by noted orators, and the usual demonstration followed.

Bland was cheered to the echo and a scene of the wildest enthusiasm ensued when Senator Vest mentioned his name at the end of the nominating speech.

Bryan, suddenly injected into the list of probabilities by his speech of to-day, was put before the convention in his maiden effort as a delegate.

H. T. Lewis of Georgia, who established a reputation for natural oratory in the few brief moments he took for the purpose, and equal to the demonstration for Bland was that which followed the Georgia delegate's address.

A girl in white, frantic in her enthusiasm for Horace Boles, leaped to a chair in the gallery and waved a Boles banner with frenzied vehemence, and nearly every man in the vast hall, whether from gallantry or actual sympathy, rose and cheered with a right good-will. And when the pretty young woman, swaying, jumping, clapping her hands and giving vent to her emotion in divers other ways, marched through the delegates and spectators, with the Boles standard borne above her head, the audience caught the full spirit of her enthusiasm and shouted approval with might and main.

Until late into the night the stirring scenes continued, and the thousands gathered until the vast expanse of iron canopy never seemed to tire of using their lungs.

The platform, as a whole, was adopted on roll call by 628 to 301, 1 not voting. The opponents of free silver were in the negative. This means a free silver candidate, and probably Bryan of Nebraska.

New York delegation has decided to stay in convention, but not to vote, and has apointed a committee of six to visit other gold delegations and urge on them some action.

After the candidates for President were presented, the convention adjourned at 12.35, to meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

SALVATIONISTS ROBBED.

Ensign March Loses $80, a Gold Watch and Other Articles.

New York, July 9.—The flat occupied by Ensign March, No. 29 Seventh-street, was broken into and ransacked last night while the ensign was conducting the Salvation Army meeting on Fourth-avenue. The thieves got $80, a gold watch and a collection of foreign coins, besides many articles of smaller value.

The flat has been occupied by Salvation Army people for two years, and persistent attempts have been made to rob it. Capt. Patty Watkins, now with Ballington Booth's American Volunteers, at one time occupied it, when thieves broke in and stole $100 and a gold watch belonging to Lieut. Lovett. Recently the apartments have been occupied by Ensign March and Capts. Bell and Mills, all women, and they have been in fear of robbers for a long time.

The police found Ensign March's watch in a pawn shop. They think they will be able to trace the robbers.

Socialistic Labor Agitators.

New York, July 9.—When the National convention of the Socialist Labor party convened this morning, F. A. Sieverman of Rochester was elected Chairman. The revised constitution, which has been fully discussed during the last two days, was finally adopted. Nominations for President and Vice-President of the United States were then called for. There were three candidates for President—C. H. Matchett of Brooklyn, William Watkins of Ohio and Matthew McGuire of Paterson, N. J. Matchett was finally chosen, receiving 43 votes to 23 for McGuire and four for Watkins. Mr. McGuire was then nominated for Vice-President.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease For Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Neepawa, (Special) June 29.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly, of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says:—"From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart-felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

The Re-count is Now On in West Assiniboia—Premier Greenway Has No Deal Yet With Laurier.

Winnipeg, Man., July 9.—(Special.)—The re-count in West Assiniboia is now proceeding at Regina. When the re-count commenced, Nicholas Flood Davin had five majority, but when court adjourned to-night his opponent, McInnis, had two the best of it. However, there are yet a large number of ballots to be argued and passed upon by the judge.

HERR PFLUNGER'S CARTRIDGES

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
MORRELL MACKENZIE.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Balk, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure. The worst chronic sold 25 cents.

Great Growth of Grain.

Mr. Wm. Eyres left with the EXAMINER samples of grain that show first, the fertility of South Monaghan, and second the phenomenal growth of the season. One sample of oats, just nicely shooting into head, measures five feet in length, and another sample consists of a bunch of ripened red Clawson wheat, of splendid quality. Mr. Eyres received these samples from his farm at Wallace Point, South Monaghan, and he reports the crops in that section of the township as of the greatest promise.

A Quiet Ceremony.

The Belleville Sun says: "Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a very quiet wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. M. W. Maclean, at the residence of Mr. Lewis Appleby, jailer, when his eldest daughter, Miss Stella Appleby, was united in marriage to Mr. Bert Smith, of Toronto, formerly of Belleville. Only a few of the near relatives and friends were present, yet many beautiful gifts were received. The bride was married in her travelling dress, and the two most interested left by the 5.10 train for Peterborough, there to spend a short time, after which they will leave for Toronto, where they will reside." Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the guests for the present of the former's sister, Mrs. H. J. Byers.

MR. JOHN W. GRAHAM'S DEATH.

Another Pioneer Settler Gathered to his Fathers.

Mr. John W. Graham, after an illness of only two days, passed away this morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. Manning, No. 631 Water street.

Mr. Graham was eighty years of age. He was born in Ireland, but came to Peterborough County when a lad and settled in Selwyn. He retired from active life about twenty years ago and moved into town, where he has resided ever since.

Besides Mrs. Manning, two other children survive the deceased, viz.; Mr Wm. Graham and Miss Mary Graham, both of town. Mrs. Keele of Toronto is a sister of the deceased, as was the late Mrs. Senator Dobson of Lindsay.

The funeral will take place from No. 631 Water street at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Symonds will conduct the funeral service at the grave.

THE GEORGE STREET AND GRACE CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Rainy Weather Deters Many from Going, but Those who Take in the Trip have an Exceedingly Pleasant Time.

The George street and Grace Methodist Sunday schools held a joint excursion down the river yesterday, with Idyl Wild as the objective point.

The steamers City of Peterborough and North Star were both chartered for the occasion, and although the weather in the morning was most unpropitious, between four and five hundred patronized the excursion.

The City left the wharf at about 8.30, the rain still descending in torrents. The North Star followed the larger boat in about half an hour.

The sky was overcast until Rice Lake was reached, when the sun burst forth gloriously, and the afternoon proved to be a grand one. The grounds were perfectly dry by the time the boats reached them at a little before twelve, and consequently as soon as the baskets had been emptied the sports took place, being referred by Mayor Yelland.

The results were as follows:—

Boys' race, 15 and under—1 Harry Kingdon, 2 R Gobeen.
Girls' race, 15 and under—1 Ethel Montgomery, 2 Jessie Manning.
Boys' race, 9 and under—1 Chas Ackerman, 2 Eddie Mann.
Girls' race, 9 and under—1 Gertie Allison, 2 Lottie Kennedy.
Three-legged race—1 Bert Kindred and Harry Kingdon.
All fours—1 Will Lush, 2 Bert Kindred.
Boys Primary Class—1 Charlie Ackerman, 2 Eddie Mann.
Girls' Primary Class—1 Lottie Dunnigan, 2 Lillie Hall.
Young Ladies' race—1 Fanny Kemp, 2 Ethel Montgomery.
Boys' race, junior classes—1 Orville Kingdon, 2 Willie Pickles.
Girls' junior classes—1 Edith Montgomery, 2 Jessie Manning.
Boys' race, any age—1 Will Lush, 2 Harry Kingdon.
Hop, step and jump—1 H Morgan, 2 Will Lush.
Teachers and officers race—1 J H Fife.
Consolation race, girls—1 Annie Thornton, 2 Alice Smith.
Boys' consolation race—1 Fred Roberts, 2 W Sutton.

At four o'clock the return trip was begun and by eight the excursionists were all landed at the wharf after an exceedingly pleasant day's outing.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON'S MISSIONARY JOURNEY.

Notes of His Tour in the North of the County and Beyond.

Rev. J.C. Davidson's missionary journey to the north began with a good meeting at Young's Point on Tuesday evening. He gave an impressive and encouraging address. Mr. Taylor, lay-reader of Buckhorn, and Mr. A. M. Dymond, of the Attorney-General's Department, Toronto, were also present. Mr. Davidson presented several handsome gifts to the mission through the liberality of St. John's, Peterborough. These were suitably inscribed.

Rev. Mr. Davidson left Young's Point on Wednesday morning for Apsley, where another successful meeting was held in the evening and more gifts distributed. From Apsley he proceeded to Cardiff and Monmouth townships, where he will spend Sunday. He is accompanied on the journey by Rev. F. H. Hartley. In the meantime Rev. E. V. Stevenson administers the parish of St. John's.

A DANGEROUS FALL.

Almost Under the Wheels of the Trolley.

Last evening a young lady was stepping from a summer car on the corner of George and Murray streets. She missed her footing and in falling rolled beneath the footboard, which extended along the side of the car.

The car started up, the motorman being unaware of the accident, but a chorus of shrieks from the lady passengers on the car caused him to quickly shut off the power.

Very fortunately no injuries were sustained by the passenger on account of the promptitude with which the car was stopped.

Y.M.C.A. RAILWAY WORK.

Mr. D. A. Budge is Engaged in Promoting it—Has the Sympathy of the General Manager of the Grand Trunk.

Mr. D. A. Budge, Secretary of the Montreal Y.M.C.A., is at present making a tour of inspection of the Grand Trunk lines in Ontario, with a view to ascertaining the possibilities of railway Y.M.C.A. work along the railway. The idea is to form railway Y.M.C.A.'s at all the stations and interest the railway men in the work. The new movement has the cordial support of General Manager Hayes, who, in fact, suggested that Mr. Budge should go over the ground.—Toronto Globe, July 9th.

ODDFELLOWS AND CITIZENS PAY TRIBUTE TO THE DEPARTED DEAD.

A Large Turn Out of the Order and Citizens Generally—Many Hundreds Throng the Cemetery—Appropriate Addresses by the Clergy.

Beneath those rugged elms, that yew-tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell for ever laid,
The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep.

For them no more the blazing hearth shall burn,
Or busy housewife ply her evening care;
No children run to lisp their sire's return,
Or climb his knees the envied kiss to share.

Perhaps in this neglected spot is laid
Some heart once pregnant with celestial fire;
Hands, that the rod of empire might have swayed,
Or waked to ecstasy the living lyre.

Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife,
Their sober wishes never learned to stray;
Along the cool sequestered vale of life
They kept the noiseless tenor of their way.

Yet even these bones from insult to protect
Some frail memorial still erected nigh,
With uncouth rhymes and shapeless sculpture decked,
Implores the passing tribute of a sigh.

The solemn ceremony of decorating the graves of the dead in the Little Lake Cemetery on Thursday afternoon was performed under the auspices of the Oddfellows of Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges, and was carried out with the same impressiveness that has characterized the observance of this occasion in former years.

At 3 30 o'clock a large procession of Oddfellows was formed in Central Park, together with a number of visiting brethren. Each member carried a bouquet or floral emblem to deposit upon the grave of some deceased brother. They were headed by the Fire Brigade band, and marshalled by Mr. Wesley Miller, marched to the Little Lake Cemetery, whither they had been preceded by many hundreds of citizens.

The streets on the way to the cemetery were lined with spectators, who were greatly pleased with the fine appearance presented by the members of the Order.

AT THE CEMETERY.

Arriving at the cemetery, the brethren were drawn up in front of the platform, erected in front of the chapel, where Bro. Elliott, N. G., of Peterborough Lodge, on behalf of the Oddfellows, welcomed the gathering.

Rev. J. J. Rae, chaplain, then offered a brief prayer, after which the band led in the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee."

The members then seperted into sections and the simple but impressive ceremony of decorating was begun. As each party reached the grave of some deceased brother the words "Here lies our Brother ———," let us emulate his virtues and remember not his faults." A floral tribute was then reverently deposited on the mound, and the party passed on to the next grave.

Many graves other than Oddfellows were decorated during the day by citizens who united in paying their tribute of respect to departed relatives and friends.

THE ADDRESSES.

The members of the order and those present assembled again in front of the speakers platform at the call of the bugle, to hear speeches, appropriate to the occasion, delivered by the clergy of the town. Seated on the platform were Rev. H. Symonds, Rev. Carl Smith, Rev. James Chapman, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, Rev. Wm. Grant, and Rev. J. J. Rae. Bro. T. C. Elliott, N.G., was assisted by Bro. D. Arnott, N.G., of Otonabee Lodge, and occupied the chair. Bro. Elliott addressed the assembly and said they had now performed the duties of the day and paid respect to those who had finished their course. He pointed out in an impressive manner, the perishable nature of all mankind and urged his hearers to take heed and be prepared for their inevitable fate. He detailed the objects and aims of the order and made many impressive references to the solemn thoughts that the occasion suggested.

Rev. H. Symonds said he took it as a very pleasant privilege to say a few words in connection with the ceremony they had been engaged in. The ritual of the Oddfellows, so far as he had been able to learn, is of the most beautiful description. There could be no doubt that it was the duty of every earnest Christian to hold in reverence and respect those who had gone before. And the Oddfellows and citizens generally were to be congratulated on the proceedings of the day. Many thoughts came to all by this annual visit for the purpose of decorating the graves. The names of those who had made and built up the town before many who were here came to town was to be seen inscribed in the cemetery. It taught us that we have, as it were, received a torch from our forefathers to bear it in our hands for others who should come after us. We had no cause to boast of what we had done in our day, but of what had been done for us. It was necessary, therefore, that we should realise that we all depended on each other, and that all have duties to perform, and to teach others just as we had been taught. The work of the Oddfellows helped to bring to our minds that we as a community should have a common love for all.

Rev. Mr. Chapman, of the South-end Baptist church, said that although a comparative stranger, he was glad to be there. He had been thinking of the brotherhood of man, and the lessons this occasion taught us. He felt that all would have instilled into their hearts this afternoon reflections that were a help to make all better men and women. He was glad to be here, and he prayed God to keep them unspotted from the world.

Rev. C. Smith of the South Ward Mission church, said the thoughts that came to all to-day were such as should prove a lesson to each heart. We should try to make love real to emulate the example here shown, so that those who may live after us may take courage and go on in the good work. Our footprints in the sands of time may be those that will encourage others to follow a good example. He esteemed it a privilege to be present and share in the ceremonies of the day.

Rev. J. J. Rae, chaplain of Peterborough Lodge, after a few preliminary remarks, said:—This world needs to be better. This is apparent to the most casual. How this shall be done is the question which most perplexes us. What is most evident is that the world cannot be made better until the individual is made better. How can we develop to the highest extent of privilege this individual, and then how can we unite these individuals into the strongest compact for good? As Oddfellows we say, first, fit a man to be a friend to his fellowman, and such he cannot be until he has become a man in himself. Friendship implies and demands manhood. Next we say, let this friendship be rooted and evidenced, in love which is unselfishness and lastly, we ask that this friendship, this love, this demanded unselfish manhood be true, stand in the white light of truth.

This gives us a true brotherhood, and we stand for the brotherhood of man. But this very brotherhood demands an origin, a fatherhood. We are led up to that. He who would have high manhood must have a high ideal and the highest ideal is Christ the Father's Son, and becoming like Him we stand by his side and with Him pray, "Our Father Which Art in Heaven." For these things we stand, a true manhood, a strong, helpful, undying brotherhood, &c., a recognition of Divine Fatherhood, and as we bedeck the graves of our brethren departed we do so in respect for their manhood's worth, which is an imperishable value because they are brothers, still sons, we hope, of a common Father, and we pray that the fragrance of their lives and of ours may draw all to grasp the sacred influence of friendship love and truth.

Bro. Elliott expressed his gratitude to the clergy who had so kindly honoured them with their presence and advice.

Bro. John Nugent, P. N.G., also expressed the pleasure it gave the Oddfellows to have listened to the eloquent addresses of the clergymen. He moved, seconded by Bro. Hill, a vote of thanks to the speakers, the press and all others who had assisted in the services of the day, which was carried unanimously.

A vote of thanks moved by Bro. McGill was also tendered the ladies.

The band then gave "Sweet Bye and Bye" and the exercises closed.

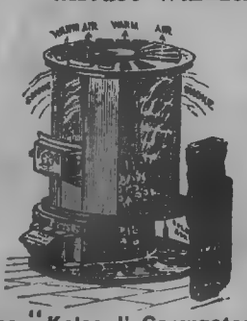
The Most Economical ..House Warmer



The "Kelsey" Corrugated Warm Air Generator.

Any ordinary Hot Air Furnace will produce heat if you will only supply enough fuel. The "Kelsey" has several special and valuable features but most important is that it will give more heat with less fuel and is the most durable heater made.

The "Kelsey" fire pot being constructed of several upright, tubular, corrugated, cast iron sections (see cut) around which the fire passes and up through which the cold air passes while being heated, and this entire section being wrapped with a heavy steel casing which becomes heated by the fire striking it when passing down outside of upright sections towards smoke pipe, it in turn warms the air that passes up between this steel casing and the galvanised iron casing, this explains why the "Kelsey" has three times more radiating surface and warm air capacity than an ordinary Furnace. The "Kelsey" heats every room evenly, wherever located, with a nice, mild, healthful warm air that will not injure your furniture.

The "Kelsey" will heat rooms 60 feet distant.

The "Kelsey" does not heat your cellar.

The "Kelsey" is absolutely gas and dust proof.

Bicycle Smashup.

The Campbellford Herald says:—"Rev. W. J. Cragg, while on his way from Bethany to Peterborough the other day, met with an accident that resulted in the loss of his bicycle. He was wheeling on the road, and in passing a buggy the horse shied and ran against the bicycle, and Mr. Cragg fell and was trampled upon by the horse and his wheel was badly smashed.

A Long Ride.

On Monday last, Master Willie Young, 15 years of age, son of Mr. L. G. Young of Campbellford, started off alone on a trip to California. He took a train to Buffalo, and there he will secure a bicycle and then begin the trip of wheeling all the way to the Golden State. He has a brother residing there who lately sent him money and induced him to undertake the journey. It is to be hoped the little adventurer will have fair sailing the entire distance, and will land safely whither his mind has directed him.—Herald.

THE MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

The Approaching Meeting in Belleville —The Officers.

Referring to the approaching meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge in Belleville, the Freemason, the organ of the Order, says:

"The absorbing topic in connection with the approaching meeting of Grand Lodge is the election of officers. It overshadows all other matters, and this year the interest centres in the contest for D.G.M. There will be no opposition to R. W. Bro. William Gibson, of Beamsville, for the highest office in the gift of the craft, and his election as G. M. will be unanimous, and deservedly so. We are confident that he will discharge the duties of that office with fervency, zeal, and ability. As a ruler in the craft, Bro. Gibson possesses all the necessary qualifications, and we predict for him a record second to none of his predecessors in the oriental chair.

"For D.G.M., our esteemed friend and R.W. Bro. E. T. Malone, is likely to be the successful candidate, if we may accept the opinion of leading brethren throughout the jurisdiction. He is eminently qualified to fill the position, and his services in the craft entitle him to the high office.

"For the office of G. S. W., R. W. Bro. Arthur McGinnis, of Belleville, is a sure winner, if he will accept the office. Everyone knows and respects Bro. McGinnis, and he is a representative craftsman, thoroughly qualified for exalted rank.

"For G. J. W. no name has yet been definitely mentioned in connection with the office, but it is likely to be given to some brother from Western or Northern Ontario.

"The Grand Registrarship depends upon the locality from which the G. J. W. is selected. The most prominent brother mentioned in connection with this office is W. Bro. Carrothers, of London, and we believe he will be the successful candidate.

"The Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer will be re-elected without a dissenting voice. Bros. Mason and Murray are so firmly entrenched in the confidence of the craft in Ontario that nothing but death can remove them from office."

AN UNCALLED FOR INSINUATION.

A Contributor to the Review Attacks Mr. J. H. Cobb Regarding the Prize Lists.

A communication appeared in last evening's Review, stating that the rules of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society compelled an exhibitor to be a bona fide owner of his exhibit two months before exhibition and insinuating that, as the prize lists were not yet issued, the secretary pro tem, Mr. J. H. Cobb, was holding them back until his own exhibits were well advanced in growth.

That the insinuation is wholly without foundation goes, of course, without saying and the explanation of the lateness of the issue of the prize lists is easily.

The Government has sent out a circular to all Horticultural Societies to whom they make a grant, calling attention to the fact that the grant is made for the purpose of encouraging floral culture and societies using their funds for purposes other than this will have the grant withdrawn from them. The receiving of this notification has necessitated a revision of the prize list, which formerly included Ladies' Work and Fine Arts. Such a revision naturally takes time, but the insinuation that Mr. Cobb is taking a larger time than is necessary to revise the list, falls to the ground when it is stated that he has nothing whatever to do with this work, it being in the hands of a committee composed of Mr. D. W. Dumble, Mr. J. H. Roper and Mr. Foord.

THE PEAR AND APPLE BLIGHT

The Only One Remedy is Cutting Out All Affected Portions.

This year in many orchards there is noted a peculiar appearance of apple trees. The green foliage is thickly stained with dead leaves on the terminal twigs. Mr. E. B. Edwards, who takes a deep interest in horticultural husbandry, sent samples to Mr. John Craig, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and received the following reply:—

Ottawa, July 9th.

Dear Mr. Edwards,—Yours of the 4th inst. is received, and with it a box containing samples of apple foliage affected by a disease which this year is exceedingly common, viz., pear blight. There is no remedy for it but to cut out and destroy by fire all affected portions. It works in the sap of the tree, therefore cannot be reached by a remedy applied to the exterior.

I send you a copy of my report for 1893, in which you will find an extended reference to this disease.

Yours very truly,
John Craig,
Horticulturist.

Though the name of the disease is called pear blight it similarly affects the apple tree. Last year it affected pear trees seriously and, singular to say, this year pear trees then affected are this year free from the disease, while apple trees in the vicinity are badly blighted.

Baptist Young People.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable trips imaginable is advertised by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway from any point in Ontario or Quebec to Milwaukee and return for one single fare. This is in connection with the Baptist Young People's Union, who hold their annual international convention in Milwaukee July 16th to 19th, 1896. Tickets are good until August 5th and give those going the opportunity of seeing both Chicago and Detroit on the return journey. Fred L. Ratcliff, Toronto, has been appointed by the Baptists of these provinces as transportation leader, and any who intend to avail themselves of this trip should write him at once for full particulars. Special arrangements have been made by the transportation leader for good board in Milwaukee at very low rates, and a special train will be run from Toronto right through, so that any single person going will have lots of good company by arranging to join the special train at Toronto, or such point west as this train stops at.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

Notwithstanding the rumours printed in the evening papers of Toronto, the vacancy in the Ontario Cabinet has not been filled. No decision has yet been arrived at as to filling the vacancy caused by the promotion of Hon. Mr. Hardy to the post of Premier of Ontario. All statements to the contrary are at this writing premature. The newspaper reports in reference to the matter are pure speculation.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY.

The vacancy in the Ontario Cabinet, caused by the promotion of Hon. Mr. Hardy to the post of Premier, has not at writing been filled. The following press comments on the subject are presented:

Catholic Record (London).

It is now settled that Sir Oliver Mowat will go to Ottawa to accept a portfolio in Mr. Laurier's Government, and it is understood that Mr. Hardy, the present Minister of Crown Lands, will be called on to form a new Government in Ontario. It is generally conceded that the members of Sir Oliver's Government will be invited by Mr. Hardy to accept portfolios under him, but the absence of Sir Oliver will necessitate the taking in of a new man, and there is much speculation as to who the gentleman will be. Among the names mentioned is that of Mr. J. R. Stratton, the present member for West Peterborough, who carried his constituency at the general elections by a majority of about 800. Just now the eastern part of the province claims that it has not as much representation as it is entitled to in the Government. We know of no better Cabinet timber than Mr. Stratton, as he is a liberal, broad-minded man with plenty of firmness. He is also popular throughout the Province, and would certainly strengthen any Government. We would be pleased to see Mr. Stratton in the new Cabinet, in case it is decided to recognize the claims of the east to further representation. He is a most estimable gentleman.

LACROSSE.

Monday's lacrosse game between the Peterborough and Port Hope teams on the P.A.A.A. grounds, promises to be a fast one, and the visitors are so confident of winning that a whole trainload of enthusiasts are coming up to see them do the trick. As our own boys are in fine shape the contest for supremacy will be keen.

The Juniors have just challenged the Millbrooks to a game, but the match will not come off, as the Millbrook boys did not organize this year. The Juniors are very anxious for a game, but it seems impossible to get one one. Oshawa and Bowmanville have now been challenged.

BASEBALL.

Belleville has a fine professional baseball club this year and yesterday Port Hope was defeated by them to the tune of 18 to 4 and this is the way the Port Hope papers explain the matter, entirely ignoring the difference between professionals and ringers:—"Port Hope went down before Belleville yesterday in the first of a series of games for the championship of Eastern Ontario. Belleville had a grand team of ringers on, two Rochester, three Toronto and one Belleville man constituting the team, and the boys feel that in playing their own team, though it caused defeat, 'twere better than victory at the price of professionalism. The two teams will meet again here and a battle royal may be expected. The Port Hope boys reached home this morning on the early train and are quite satisfied with the treatment given them by the members of the Belleville team.

The west end baseball club won from the hard-scrappers of Smith street last evening by a score of 18 to 9.

THE WHEEL.

Bald, Cooper and Sanger seem to have things their own way on the other side. Gardiner, the speedy Chicagoan, who was "touted" as the "man of the year," has not been able to do anything with the trio, whilst Zeigler and Coulter have degenerated into second raters. Bald beat the lot at Appleton, Wis., in both the opens on Wednesday, Sanger being second and Gardiner third.

"To attain the best results in racing," says The Wheel, "as in any other sport or profession, strict attention must be paid to every detail. To achieve success on the track a man must be well trained and fit. A few riders for a time seem able to dissipate and yet ride well, but in the end they must succumb. Training should not be regarded as a drudgery, but rather as a pleasure."

ONE HONEST MAN

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P O. Box 388, London, Ont.

NEAT JOB PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING DONE CHEAP AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples and blotches. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. The skin is not a thing by itself, and skin diseases are frequently not skin diseases at all. All the lotions and bleaches and creams and powders in the world won't make a good complexion if the digestion is wrong. If the stomach is sour, and the liver torpid, and the bowels constipated, the skin will show it. No use trying to treat the skin for such a condition. The only way to relieve it is to cleanse the system and purify the blood. As long as the heart is pumping impurities to every part of the body, just so long these impurities will show through the skin.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients, it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It fills out the hollows, rubs out wrinkles and substitutes for sallowness a rosy, healthy glow. There is no mystery about it. It isn't a miracle. It is merely the result of a combination of rational, natural common sense with expert medical knowledge. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood. Don't let prejudice and scepticism cheat you out of your health. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will positively cure you, if suffering from diseases named above.

If you want to know hundreds of great medical truths, send 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and we will send you FREE a copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

Cruel Punishment.

The singular punishment of bigamy in Hungary is to compel the man to live together with both wives in one house. A very peculiar theory has of late been propounded that all women who partake to any extent of malt drinks have large feet. The women of Holland, Germany and even of England, are noted as examples, while the women of the wine countries—France, Spain and Italy—are, on the other hand, famed for their small and shapely feet.

"Men are now living," says the Baltimore Sun, "who heard the eminent scientist, Professor Silliman, declare in a lecture at Yale College, after a careful mathematical calculation, that no boat could contain a sufficient amount of coal to propel it across the Atlantic ocean. ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

What Buyers Figure On.

Mr. John Robertson of Scotland, who is now in Canada buying cheese for a Glasgow firm, visited the dairy school in Sussex, New Brunswick, the other day, and addressed the students on "good selling cheese." He said the first thing the buyer looked at was the boxes; these should be neatly made and carefully plied and branded. Then the cheese must be neatly bandaged; not more than three-fourths of an inch should be turned over and carefully laid down. This neat appearance is necessary to give the buyer a good impression. Then the quality of the cheese is as essential as the appearance. No one wants a dry, hard cheese. It must be meaty, good flavored and otherwise suit the market for which it is intended. He said that a man picking out cheese is a good deal like a man selecting a wife. 1. They should be rich. 2. They should be mild. 3. They should be good-ookinx.—Ohio Farmer Correspondence.

OUR MAIL.

B.B.B. CURES

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN,—During the winter of 1892 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B. B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. Haight, Avoca, Neb.

COME IN WITH SPRING

GOWN EMBODYING ALL COMING FEATURES OF SPRING FASHIONS.

The Poke Bonnet Also to be in Vogue—Quiet Elegance in Trimmings—The Bustle a Distinct Mark This Year—The Bernhardt Tie.

The Easter tide will have need of pretty ball and dinner dresses again and they are now being fashioned. The shoulder strap is the badge of all their tribe. Three out of four of the new evening gowns have it, generally in dark decision and emphasis of color; and at least a third have the new sleeves, whose scant outlines are for the moment masked by fluffy epaulets.

A charming frock of white satin, with round sleeves in the older mode, has a short bodice whose loose front is covered with sequined net, and whose square decolletage is outlined with embroidery. There is a satin band at the waist and others at the shoulders negative the suggestion that the gown might else slide off the polished arms of the wearer.

Half the gowns have this slipping off effect. Hence, the shoulder straps, meant to reassure the eye—or cheat it, according to the beholder.

Dressmakers are a little chary of discussing final spring and summer styles. But all are up to the eyes in work for both seasons, and everywhere skirts seem to have grown narrower and sleeves smaller.

A medium bishop sleeve, that hangs with a snug, drawn-down look at the wrist, and is there finished with a round, flaring cuff, is being much used for the Louis Seize coats.

Bishop sleeves are also seen on the grass linen and wash cotton summer frocks offerred in the shops, and in almost every case they are found to be vastly more becoming than the long-honored gigots.

Then there are smart little Spanish jackets on the bolero order that not only disguise a passe bodice, elegantly, but that will be found very useful on discarding heavier wraps. These, as shown in the illustration, are sleeveless and are made of black or colored velvet appliqued all over with black or white guipure. The one shown is of green miroir velours and white guipure, and is worn over a gown of pale brown French broadcloth.

The spring costume which appears here illustrates the very newest fashions which will be worn this spring. The skirt, which has six instead of three box plaits in the back, is of sage-green Amazon cloth. The front and sides are cut with many tiny gores. A metal braid trimming extends from the waist part way down the first gores.

The body of the waist, in the cut-away, ripple jacket effect, is of black corded moire, the revere and spreading collar is of cream cloth edged with tinsel braid; the crush band and bow for the neck is soft cream silk, and the drawn fun vest is of heavy cream and rose Dresden silk, broadly striped with black satin. The upper rever is of the corded moire, and the belt is of folds of black satin ribbon.

The sleeves of sage-green cloth are wrinkled over a light lining nearly to the shoulder, and are an exact copy of the sleeves worn by the "lady-in-waiting" to the Dauphiness of Auvergne, in the old French court, even to the broad, full cuff, extending half over the hand. The short shoulder puff is a concession to modern fashion, as well as a necessity for holding out the broad rever.

The hat to be worn with this dainty creation is somewhat after the fashion of a broad-brimmed sailor. The brim is faced with black satin. A knot of cream satin ribbon is placed on the front of the crown, as a finish for a tall, slim aigrette, and the large plumes, starting from either side of the knot, are of sage-green, as is the band of ribbon circling the brim. A very thin black veil, dotted with cream, is the finishing touch.

Bustles, in all sizes and shapes, are in again, many of them being long affairs like the old-time "tilters." Then colored stockings are to be worn once more in the street and poke bonnets will be the very latest agony in spring headgear.

The doing away with crinoline in the back skirt beneath has necessitated the revival of bustles, which, however, are now respectfully dubbed "dress improvers." Correct skirts are stiffened fifteen inches at the bottom, which makes them much less heavy than formerly, but without some sort of cushion or pleatings just below the belt, the desired stand-off line of the back is bound to be broken unbecomingly somewhere. Many of the dressmakers, however, object to the ready-made improvers as clumsy and difficult to manage. They sew instead in the back of their skirts, small hair-stuffed cushions or long pleatings of heavy silk or light crinoline.

Some of the new French stockings for summer wear are really remarkable affairs. Many of the novelties in both silk and lisle run to sharp contrasts of color and odd clown-like designs. Insertions of real lace, in stripes, medallions and boot-top effects, decorate others for dressy occasions, or a fine white pair may have tiny seed pearls outlining a rich open-work over the instep.

The Easter bonnet has arrived, and it is a poke. The fair heads of the women will be crowned with large pokes, small pokes and medium-sized pokes. Our swell matrons, maids and little girls will be the prototypes of the fashionables of fifty years ago. Pokes made their first appearance in this country at the recent New York horse show, but they were not worn during the late winter except by a few ultra-fashionables.

The shapes of the pokes of to-day are the same that they were fifty years ago, but the trimming is altogether different. Our grandmothers' pokes had a simple embellishment of a little flat bow at the back of the crown and one on the brim. Now and then a band or two of ribbon encircled the crowns, but they were never trimmed with feathers, flowers or large bows. Extreme trimmings of all kinds are features of the Easter poke. Several times during the last decade an effort has been made by the designers of hats to introduce poke bonnets, but whereas the women admired them they were afraid to wear them. Many women declare that the old-fashioned poke will make even a pretty women look ugly; others assert that even a plain dame is ravishing in them. Be that as it may, poke bonnets are to be the smart thing this spring, and every woman who desires to be well dressed will wear one.

Both the large and the small pokes are worn well back from the face, and they fit close to the hair on the sides. The hair is worn low in the neck, or twisted in a small, loose knot midway on the head. The pompadour effect looks well under the extremely large hats.

The large pokes are worn with or without strings. Very wide strings appear on all the small bonnets. The bonnets in all sizes are a mass of feathers, flowers, lace, Rhinestones, aigrettes and ribbon.

A beautiful poke recently made for one of our smart matrons is of black lace straw. The rim is ten inches from the crown in front, and narrows down to the back. The crown is banded with a turquoise blue ribbon ending on one side in a graceful bow, from which waves a number of exquisite black plumes. At the back is arranged a bunch of crushed roses that rest on the mass of soft hair.

The collerette, scarf or necktie is one of the minor whims, but we may treat it as one which possesses considerable importance, and is capable of much comment thereon. The necktie or scarf should be a dainty trifle to discuss, although, to speak in very truth, it has never attained throughout its various phases that degree of perfection which should characterise every article or raiment worn by lovely woman.

That of latest date is the necktie in many and becoming forms in satin, silk and velvet of every shade and hue, swathed, ruched and folded, tied at the side, the front, the back, and above all, as the ribbon band and inevitable bow worn, too, from the society queen to the serving maid and still not condemned to obscurity, but possessing, when put on properly, a certain individuality and feminine grace.

Of the necktie in what may be termed its emancipated form we cannot fail to speak, for has it not passed from a whim to a feature in our wardrobe?

Of what should we speak now but of the necktie proper and mannish, that trifle taken from the masculine wardrobe and worn with such smartness upon our tailor-made costumes and neat summer skirts. This is perhaps the tie we have loved best of all, and it may be said with truth to possess the virtues of adaptability and complete neatness.

Of the wearing of this necktie, and all others favored by Fashion to-day, much might be said. To the woman who looks well in the severe gown of tailor-make the mannish tie is a natural and fitting accompaniment to her costume, but it is probably she upon whom the band and bow would appear out of place. The short-necked woman whose proportions are generous should rigidly eschew the modern necktie of swathed silk with outstanding and exaggerated ends, and with such details borne in mind the necktie of the present should be a fair success.

Have You Thought of It?

For four thousand years or more the world groaned, suffered and fumed about its corns, for there was no positive relief—no certain and painless corn cure until Dr. Scott Putnam gave to the world his great Corn Extractor. I received no benefit from their treatment. Nine months ago I was lucky enough to try Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, and, after taking two or three bottles, the pain entirely left me, and I have had no return of it for 8 months now."

ORANGE ANNIVERSARY

ORANGE COUNTY CELEBRATION IN PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, JULY 13th.

GOUGH BROTHERS

EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS FOR THE EVENT.

Right in line with the energetic work of the active Managing Committee of the Order for a Grand Parade, comes the redoubtable GOUGH BROS. with their extensive preparations for the Event. That the Orangemen may appear in Regulation Dress we have provided many and plentifully of specially attractive lines of ORANGE CLOTHING.

Everything requisite for a splendid parade and fit to grace the wearers on their Anniversary Day!

BLACK SUITS	WHITE VESTS	BLACK TROUSERS	WHITE TROUSERS
SILK HATS	TAN AND COLOURED BOOTS	ORANGE AND BLUE TIES	WHITE SHIRTS
WHITE BRACES	WHITE GLOVES	ORANGE HANDKERCHIEFS	FELT AND STRAW HATS

We throw open our Big Stores and offer every line at a discount of FIFTEEN PER CENT. in honour of the event. Orangemen can save money by buying their outfits direct from our stores. As the day is to be of greater importance and more imposing splendour than for many years, Orangemen will aim to appear in the ranks in their best attire.

We invite the Members of the Order to come and visit our Big Stores. We will make them heartily welcome, promise them the best of usage, and treat them so well that they will do us the honour of coming often.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

Fourteen Factories Boarded 1,350 Boxes—Prices Range Lower Than in Peterborough.

(Lindsay Post)

The regular fornightly meeting of the Victoria cheese board was held in the council chamber Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The president, Mr. Thomas Robertson, of Dunsford, and the secretary, Mr. J. L. Read, of Bobcaygeon, were in attendance. The buyers present were Messrs. Whitton, Flavelle, Cuff and Spence. The following factories boarded the number of boxes set opposite:

Star	118
Lorneville	45
Cameron	80
Dunsford	85
Gamebridge
Mariposa	90
Derryville	60
Cambray	80
Janetville
Manilla (not making)
Fenelon Falls	113
North Verulam	88
Minden
Leaskdale
Valentia	90
North Ops	72
Maple
Kinmount	125
Reaboro	150
Bobcaygeon

Mr. Flavelle bid 6¾c for selections and named Star, Mariposa, Cambray, Valentia and Reaboro, all accepting; later on he took Lorneville at 6⅞c. Mr. Whitton took Janetville, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Maple Leaf and Bobcaygeon. The remaining factories were given the privilege of selling off the board if they wished. Before adjourning President Robertson impressed upon the salesmen the necessity of meeting promptly at 11 o'clock hereafter, so that the buyers may get away on the noon train.

CHANDOS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last Sunday was big day at Paudash Creek. There was about 300 people there to see the baptism. Mr. May, the evangelist, baptised about twenty-seven people, some gray-headed old men and women. After singing and prayer, Messrs. May, Gilchrist, Farley and Howe delivered addresses. Mr. May entered the river. The men went in first. The water was nice and clear, as the clean white sand in the bottom raised no dirt. The people were very orderly and there was no disturbance of the solemnity of the occasion. About four weeks ago there were twenty-three immersed at the same place. Messrs. May and Gilchrist are doing a lot of good in turning many poor sinners from the downward road. Our prayer is that God may bless and prosper them. Although they are persecuted by the ministers of the different churches, the Lord is with them. People came more than twenty miles last Sunday to see the baptism.

Grasshoppers have done a great deal of damage in Chandos. They have eaten down fields of hay so that it is not worth mowing. The buckwheat crop and some of the gardens are also destroyed. But I think they have passed over now, travelling southward, and will get into Stony Lake. They have eaten out some people's turnips and carrots altogether.

To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and out-door exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

Cable Messages in Code.

Buda Pest, July 9.—The International Telegraph Convention yesterday decided not to compel the use of the official vocabulary for cablegrams in code to and from countries beyond Europe, known as extra-European business, in which, of course, is included the United States.

Protests against the compulsory use of the vocabulary were made by the representatives of the British Government, supported by similar protests from various commercial exchanges of the United Kingdom, and of the United States, which were presented by the representatives of the trans-Atlantic companies. This result was brought about by the joint movement of the interested telegraph administrations and companies, and was in no way due to the influence or effort of any particular company, as it has been claimed that it was.

50,000 PEOPLE LOST

In the Tidal Wave That Swept the Japanese Coast—Most Awful Disaster of Modern Times.

Victoria, B.C., July 9.—Additional details of the Japanese tidal wave of last month were received to-day on arrival of the steamer Braemer from Yokohama. The advices are to June 22, and show that the disaster was probably the most fearful of modern times. The death list has been greatly augmented since last advices, and will undoubtedly go far beyond 50,000. The distress among the survivors of the terrible visitation is appalling. Thousands of injured are dying from lack of medical assistance and many are upon the verge of starvation, subsisting on fish washed ashore by the waves and eating them raw, having no cooking apparatus.

The wave originated not far from the Japanese coast and appears to have visited an extent of over 300 miles of the coast line. Even in Hokkaido it wrought destruction. The most southerly limit of its ravages appears to have been a little north of the famous archipelago of Matzushima. Had the wave impinged upon the coast south of Kincasan it would have worked ruin among the towns and villages of this region—Ishinomaki, Shieogam, Nobiru and others—but it missed the promontory and began its devastation with the villages of Onangawa and Okachi, situated across the neck of the peninsula.

The Japanese papers are occupied in constructing theories as to the cause of the sudden ocean disturbance. Some suggest that a volcanic eruption took place far out in the Pacific. Another theory is that a huge cave-in occurred in the southern part of what is known as the "Great Deep," beginning off Ishinomaki and stretching over 700 miles northward and eastward. A Hachinohe telegram says that many bodies and wrecked houses were washed ashore in the Kamikita district of the Komorito prefecture, from which the conclusion is drawn that the wave traveled southeast and northwest. No damage to European vessels has been reported. The Oshironsdra and Yoshima post and telegraph offices, with their officers and families, were swept away by the wave.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address, JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 2259, Delray, Mich.

HARVEST OF DEATH.

Fearful Slaughter in a Railroad Wreck.

THE KILLED NUMBER 31, INJURED 50

Omaha Plunged Into General Mourning as the Result of a Wreck at Logan, Iowa—Headless Trunks, Bodies Without Limbs and Limbs Without Bodies.

Omaha, Neb., July 11.—An appalling accident to an excursion train occurred early this evening at Logan, Ia., 35 miles east of this city on the line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, in which 27 persons, living in this city, Council Bluffs, Missouri Valley and intervening points, were killed and 40 injured.

The train consisted of 15 coaches loaded down with members of the Union Pacific Pioneers' Association of Omaha, and their families and friends. The excursion party left Omaha early in the day, picking up recruits at Council Bluffs, Missouri Valley and Woodbine, Iowa. Its destination was Logan, Iowa, which was reached about 10 a.m. About 7 o'clock this evening the journey home was begun. The train had hardly passed the limits of the city and was rounding a curve when "down brakes" was whistled and then came a crash. The excursion train had been run into a fast freight, known as No. 38, and all the coaches were ditched.

The scene which followed is indescribable. Both the engines and the first passenger coach were demolished. The shrieks of women and the moans of the injured and dying in the gathering gloom rose above the crash of the heavy machinery and the screeching of escaping steam from the wrecked locomotives.

The engineers and firemen of both engines jumped and both crews escaped without injury.

Conductor Modelin of the freight train says he was running on orders, and that the excursion was not.

The engineer and fireman of the excursion train disappeared after the collision, and this lends color to the story as told by the freight conductor.

Immediately on receipt of the news in Omaha a special train was made up and a number of physicians and surgeons sent to the scene of the wreck.

The news spread like wildfire and soon the newspaper offices, railroad stations and headquarters were besieged by a crowd of frantic people who had relatives on the fated train and were hungry for the latest news from the scene of the disaster. Several thousand people are spending the night at the Union Pacific Station, awaiting the arrival of the train bearing the dead and injured.

Omaha, July 12.—This has been a day of general mourning in Omaha. The harvest of death from the Logan, Ia., wreck of last night has been increased and the list of victims now numbers 31. The crowds of anxious people at the depots did not scatter with the break of day, although the excitement of the night wore off as relatives and friends of the dead ones became convinced of the worst.

About 7 o'clock the first funeral train from the scene of the catastrophe arrived at the Union Depot, and there was an involuntary push forward to gratify a morbid desire to learn the news from those who had been in the disaster. The first train contained many of the more seriously injured, and as the poor unfortunates were lifted in blankets from the car the groans of the wounded mingled with the agonized sobs of relatives and friends.

Twenty passengers were taken in ambulances to St. Joseph's Hospital. Several of them cannot hope to live more than a few hours.

At 8.30 o'clock the train carrying the dead was sighted coming across the long Union Pacific trestle. As it drew up to the station a special cordon of police guarded the approaches and kept the crowd back. Seventeen bodies, laid on pine boards and covered with a plain muslin shroud, were taken one by one and placed in a long row on the floor of the baggage room. Only friends of the missing ones were allowed admission. These silent forms gave evidence of the force of yesterday's collision. Headless trunks, bodies without limbs, limbs without bodies, were gathered in that small space. Occasionally some one would recognize the features of a son or daughter. Kind friends would gently lead them from the room, and the body would be ticketed and sent to the undertakers.

The Dead.

A complete list of the dead and injured follows:

The dead: A. M. Gerard, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Owen Cavanaugh, Omaha; Willie Cosgrove, Omaha; E. C. Winegar, brakesman, Boone, Ia.; Fred Nellson, Omaha; Lawrence Peterson, engineer, Waterworks, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Mrs. Carroll, Omaha; infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll; Mrs. Bradley, wife of moulder, Union Pacific shops, Omaha; infant of Mrs. Bradley; — Dudson, son of Samuel Dudson, Omaha; William Summit, Missouri Valley; Mrs. Nellson, Omaha; John Perkins, Omaha; — Pierson, son of Andrew Pierson, machinist, 13 years old, Omaha; John Larson, 16 years old, World-Herald carrier, Omaha; Patrick Scully, engineer, Union Pacific shops, Omaha; Miss Maggie Cosgrove, Omaha; James E. Cosgrove, Omaha, head torn off from mouth up, identified only by laundry mark; G. A. Lawrence, tinsmith, Omaha; Walter Jennings, Missouri Valley; John McDermoit, machinist, Omaha; Mary Tracy, Omaha; Mrs. John Kehler, Council Bluffs; infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Kehler, 3 months old; Philip Carroll, boy, Omaha; John Kinsle, Omaha.

The Injured.

The injured: Engineer J. D. Montgomery, bones broken, deep cut over eye; John Kehler, Council Bluffs, head cut and injured internally; Jack Taylor, Council Bluffs, head crushed, probably fatally; Mrs. Mary Scully, Omaha, chest and internal injuries, probably fatal; John McKenna, Omaha, severely injured; Leonard H. Mack, Omaha, head cut, severe injuries; Michael Shannon, Omaha; Henry Conrad, boy, supposed to be stealing a ride, lives in Dayton, O., contusion of chest and arms; — Conrad, his brother, similar injuries; Moses Baudo, Omaha, probably fatally injured; Sam Dodson, Omaha, chest and arms injured; J. A. Lillie, Omaha, President of the Union Pacific Pioneers, chest contusions; J. J. Fitzgibbons, Logan, Ia., legs and chest injured; Fred Kinney, Omaha, neck, back and shoulder injured; Katherine Cosgrove, Omaha, badly shaken up; Mike Leonard, South Omaha, slight injuries; Stephen Meaney, face cut, contusion of chest; Miss Jetter, Omaha, badly injured; Teresa Terry, Omaha, eye badly cut; Robbie Buchtel, Omaha, nose broken; Lizzie Byles, Omaha, arm broken; Jack Kenney, Omaha, internally injured; — Hudley, badly hurt; Oliver Colvin, Omaha, scalp wounds; Annie Colvin, his sister, back hurt; Eva Nielson, Omaha, limbs crushed; William Christensen, Omaha, legs and back injured; H. M. McMichael, Dayton, O., head cut hurt internally; Miss Maggie Scully, Omaha, arm broken and body crushed.

A number of others were more or less seriously injured.

SMALLPOX AT WINONA.

A Well-Diagnosed Case of the Dread Disease Discovered Struck by a Train Finagin Dead.

Hamilton, July 12.—(Special.)—Residents of Winona and the surrounding country are in a state of agitation at present over the fact that there is a case of smallpox in their midst, T. H. P. Carpenter, a farmer and horseman, being the victim. He attended the Windsor races, and apparently contracted the disease there, but as soon as suspicious evidences of the disease were noticed, a Hamilton physician was sent for, who diagnosed it as smallpox. He had the patient isolated, and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease, while the rural physicians are busy vaccinating all the children. Mr. Carpenter's numerous friends hope to see him speedily recover. His residence is about 14 miles from this city.

Mrs. Charles Wilkins, 131 Catharine-street north, was struck by a Beach train at the corner of Rebecca-street and Ferguson-avenue about 6.30, and was badly injured. She was walking down Rebecca, and not seeing the train, walked onto the track. The engine struck her, breaking her collarbone, and she received other injuries. She was removed to the City Hospital and was getting on all right to-day, with chances of recovery.

Peter Finagin, who was injured in the spur line accident on Friday evening, died from internal injuries during the night at St. Joseph's Hospital. He resides at 171 Caroline-street north, and leaves a wife and eight children. He was employed on the tunnel and was considered a good workman. William McCallum received a compound fracture below the knee, and Dr. Rennie amputated the leg in order to save his life. He is doing nicely to-day.

FROM NEWFOUNDLAND.

Authorities Holding a Conference Over the Fishery Troubles.

St. John's, N.F., July 12.—The French flagship sailed hence this morning.

Gov. Murray, the British and French Commodores and the Newfoundland Ministry held a conference last evening on fishery troubles. All preserve the greatest reticence as to the result of the discussion, but from semi-official sources it is learned that an amicable settlement of the difficulties is likely. The local press urges conciliatory overtures from the Newfoundland Government, fearing that the French may take measures to entirely prevent Newfoundlanders from fishing on the treaty coast, a result which would be ruinous to hundreds and entail losses a thousand times more serious than the duties demanded at present by the Newfoundland Government.

The Christian Endeavorers.

Washington, July 12.—A list of 20 meetings arranged to be held in the tents and churches this afternoon offered varying attractions to the 40,000 Christian Endeavor delegates in attendance here upon the fifteenth international convention. They were mostly denominational rallies and they drew crowds according to the numerical strength of each particular denomination. The Baptists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists occupied the three tents on the White Lot. Speeches were made at these rallies by prominent members of the several denominations.

Three Drowned at Buffalo.

Buffalo, July 12.—Sailing on Sunday cost three young men their lives to-day. John Deehop, 19 years old; John Geppart, 20 years old, and John Eberts, 25 years old, were drowned at the foot of Austin-street this afternoon about 4 o'clock.

THE NEW CABINET.

The Official Announcement to be Made To-Day.

MR. MILLS TO GO ON THE BENCH

Ontario Will Have a Strong Representation in the Government Sir Oliver Mowat Will Have the Justice Portfolio—Mr. Mulock for the Agriculture Department.

Ottawa, July 12.—(Globe Special.)—Mr. Laurier's Cabinet will be announced officially to-morrow. No "slate" given out now would have a great deal of value, and already a dozen have been announced, each different from the other. Mr. Laurier was sworn in yesterday as President of the Privy Council, a portfolio which will leave the Premier free to attend to the important duties of First Minister. Sir Oliver Mowat will be Minister of Justice, and Mr. Tarte Minister of Public Works. It is probable that Mr. Blair will be Minister of Railways and Canals, and Mr. Fielding is spoken of as Minister of Finance, with Sir Richard Cartwright as Minister of Trade and Commerce, but this is only rumor, as nothing official can be ascertained until to-morrow. Mr. Paterson is assigned to the Department of Customs, but if so he will be Minister of Customs, it being the intention to abolish the anomaly of Controller by legislation. Dr. Borden will be Minister of Militia, and Sir Henry Joly will fill another portfolio. Mr. Mulock is spoken of as Minister of Agriculture, a department he is specially qualified to preside over. Mr. Davies, the Maritime leader, will be Minister of Marine and Fisheries, while Mr. Fisher of Brrome, Que., will be assigned a portfolio, as will also, it is said, Senator Scott of Ottawa. Mr. Fitzpatrick of Quebec City is likely to be Solicitor-General and Mr. Geoffrion will be a member of the Cabinet without portfolio. Mr. J. D. Edgar will be Speaker of the House of Commons, with Mrr. Brodeur of Rouville Deputy Speaker. Senator Pelletier will probably be Speaker of the Senate.

Hon. David Mills left for home to-night, having elected to stay out of the Cabinet and take a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of Canada when the first vacancy occurs. So far as known no one has been named for the Department of the Interior, a post to which the Northwest and Manitoba have some claim. Mr. Blair arrived to-night and was immediately closeted with Mr. Laurier. Mr. Fielding will not arrive for a couple of days. The name of Senator Power is prominent for a portfolio.

Sir Oliver Mowat, Mr. J. D. Edgar and Mr. William Mulock arrived yesterday. Sir Oliver was the cynosure of all eyes in the rotunda of the Russel, that Mecca for politicians, where he sat for some time conversing with Hon. David Mills. Across was Sir Richard Cartwright talking with Mr. Edgar, and in another spot Dr. Borden, Mr. Mulock and Mr. Fisher formed a group; Major Sutherland, M.P., with the inevitable cigar between his teeth, was sometimes upstairs in room 65 and sometimes down, but always "on deck." Mr. S. H. Janes, Toronto, and Mr. Barron, Lindsay, were in town to-day, and left for the west to-night.

Mr. Laurier drove to Rideau Hall at noon yesterday, and was sworn into office as President of the Council. It is expected that the whole Cabinet, with one or two exceptions, will be sworn in to-morrow, and an order in Council will be passed immediately afterwards advising the further prorogation of Parliament until probably August 13.

One of the last acts of the retiring Government was to appoint Mr. Emerson Coatsworth Commissioner to revise and consolidate the Federal Statutes, the time having arrived when this important work should be commenced. It is ten years since the last consolidation and revision was completed. The commission, which the Governor-General has approved, consists of the following: Judge Baby, Quebec Supreme Court, chairman; E. Coatsworth, ex-M.P., Toronto; E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice; J. G. A. Creighton, Law Clerk of Senate; F.A. McCord, Law Clerk of Commons, and R. V. Sinclair, barrister, Ottawa, secretary, Mr. Coatsworth's salary will be $1000 a year, while the work lasts. The duties of the office will not interfere with his professional work. Whether the Grits will allow his appointment to stand remains to be seen. Mr. Sinclair is a bright young Ottawa barrister and secretary of one of the local Conservative Associations.

It is learned that His Excellency has approved the list of Q.C.'s submitted by his late advisers; also the departmental promotions. He has refused Senatorial and judicial appointments, rewards for political services and suggested superannuations without the consent of the party proposed to be superannuated. It is said His Excellency has been guided in his action by the last report of the Civil Service Commission, of which he has made a careful study.

The list of Queen's counsel is said to include about 50 members of the profession from Toronto and district, and as it includes a fair sprinkling of Grit lawyers this may account for it going through.

Rumor has it that Mr. Laurier had the list submitted to him before it was signed by the Governor-General.

The Orangemen of Ottawa attended divine service to-day. There was a fine turnout, despite the great heat. Rev. Dr. Campbell preached the sermon and said Mr. Laurier and Clarke Wallace were the heroes of the recent electoral struggle.

WHAT IS IT?

A Strange Sea Monster Seen by Fishermen in Bedford Basin—Has a Head Like a Horse.

Halifax, July 12.—A sea monster hitherto unknown in these parts has made its appearance in Bedford Basin. The truth of the statement is vouched for by four fishermen, who, while seining for mackerel, have seen the strange creature several times and have made preparations to harpoon it. It is described as between 30 and 40 feet in length, with a head resembling that of a horse. Its body never appears above the surface, but creates a commotion in the water for some distance.

ABOLISH SPECIFIC DUTIES.

In amending the tariff the abolition of specific duties should not be forgotten. This is an unjust tax, whose tendency is to throw the burden of taxation on the class that is least able to bear it. In introducing his revised tariff in the House in 1894, Hon. Mr. Foster condemned specific duties "where they act so as to raise the cheaper though good articles, thus discriminating against a class of consumers in the country." But he had not the courage of his convictions, and his proposed abolition of specific duties was abandoned under the pressure of interested classes in defiance of the rights of the poorer classes of consumers.

Take the operation of specific duties on cloths. A specific duty of so much per pound upon a workingman's tweed and the same duty upon the gentleman's broad cloth is obviously and greatly to the former's disadvantage — in one case as much duty is collected on a yard of tweed worth 50 cents as is collected in the other—upon a yard of broad cloth worth $3, and more in the former case because a yard of tweed weighs more than a yard of broadcloth. The same applies to other textile fabrics, such as silks and cottons, and it is easily seen that the specific duty system inflicts great injustice upon the working classes. The late government borrowed this system as it did its protective system from the United States. The Brantford Expositor suggests the reason for the adoption of the specific duty: "Some woollen manufacturers who made nothing except coarse cloth found themselves hard pressed by goods of the same sort imported from Great Britain, and they had influence enough at Ottawa to secure the change in the mode of levying the tax." But under a Liberal government such disparity must disappear. Reasonable privileges may be granted to manufacturers but in no case should any class demand advantages at the expense of any other class.

DRAWING THE MARRIAGE LINES TIGHT.

At the recent session of the Ontario Legislature an act was passed consolidating the acts respecting the solemnization of matrimony—to take effect on the August first. This act is certainly not an example of "marriage made easy." The requirements are stringent. Issuers of marriage licenses have very strict injunctions laid upon them before they can legally issue a license, such as these :—Each of the parties, male and female, must personally make an affidavit, setting forth the place of marriage; that there is no lawful cause or impediment such as blood affinity or prior marriage; that one of the parties has been fifteen days a resident of the judicial district in which the marriage is to take place; or, that, if the marriage is to take place in any other than the fifteen days' residential the reason is not to evade dye publicity or for any improper purpose; that the parties are of the age of 18 years and that in case either party is under the age years, the required consent has been duly given. The issuer is not to issue a license in case of any party who is under the age of 14 years or for the marriage of two persons of whom one is idiotic or insane—the penalty for solemnizing such a marriage being $500. Every marriage license is void if not used within three months of the date of issue.

CONSERVATIVES ARE SATISFIED.

Despatches from Ottawa say that Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hugh John are not discouraged over the present political condition — they feel sure that Mr. Laurier's term of office will be brief. Perhaps they base their hopes on such sentiments as these, which may be fairly taken, with scores of other similar expressions all over the country, as evidences of real party feeling. The Kincardine Review, Conservative, says :—

In the past week we have come across not one Conservative who has expressed any other opinion than that the defeat of the Government was deserved. The idea that majorities may safely be counted upon as being invariably wrong does not obtain. It was not the Grits that turned out the Tories. It was the Tories themselves. And they did not do it because they had an abiding faith in the other fellows. The Government we have had for the past few years dominated the party, framed the party policy and commanded the party to accept it. The people had little or nothing to do with it. No national convention has been held for twelve years. Not even a pretense of consulting the party has been made. The leaders relied solely on the fetishism of the party, on the dread of the party lash; on the unchanging politics of the people. During the last year they acted like a lot of women in National Council. They quarrelled and fought and wrote anonymous letters to each other. They entered into vile conspiracies while professing enduring friendship and proclaiming the unity of the Cabinet. They spent public money and perpetrated jobs that no honest men could defend. Finally they sold themselves body and house to Quebec and were "sold" in return. Egregious asses they have made of themselves and through a campaign that was trying enough without them they commanded the party to carry them. A man must have the stomach of a bonesmill that can swallow the record of the Government during the past year.

The people, Liberal and Conservative alike, are in the humour to give an honest trial to honest government, and we feel confident that Mr. Laurier will conduct the affairs of the country so that his days as a prime minister will be long in the land. If the people stood bad government for eighteen years they certainly can stand a longer term of good government. We are afraid the "loaves" will be kept on too high a shelf, and the "fishes" will be too shy of the bait to permit of Sir Charles, Sir Adolphe and Hugh John realizing their dream of marching as conquering heroes at the head of the boodle brigade.

As long as Rats, of Middlesex remains faithful, Laurier is safe, for rats never leave a ship till it's in danger of sinking.

Mr. Laurier is now in a position to engage in cabinet making. He is favoured in one important respect—he has plenty of good material, some of which has been seasoning in "the cool shades" eighteen years, and can be warranted not to warp or shrink.

Bradstreet's list of failures in Canada and the United States for six months shows that in Canada the number of failures was, in 1896, 1,184, as against 994 in the corresponding time in 1895. The comparative assets and liabilities showed a proportionate relation. In the United States the failures in the first six months of this year were 7,603, as against 6,897 in the first half of last year, with a similar relation between assets and liabilities.

STILL PREMIER OF ONTARIO.

Sir Oliver Mowat's Resignation Has Not Yet Been Received by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Toronto, July 13.

Sir Oliver Mowat still holds the Premiership of Ontario. Enquiry at Government House last night elicited the information that his resignation had not yet been submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor. It is likely, however, that to-day will see the retirement of the Little Premier from Provincial politics.

The resignation of his seat in the House will be made the occasion of a public demonstration in North Oxford. The Reformers of the constituency which he has so long represented are arranging to fittingly show forth their appreciation of his services. The celebration will likely take the form of a big gathering at Woodstock, with addresses by Sir Oliver and one or two of his Ottawa colleagues, Mr. Laurier, perhaps, included.

The Cabinet vacancy still absorbs a good deal of attention, and although it was stated quite definitely on Thursday that Mr. Balfour was in the lead, it is now said that Mr. Stratton's chances are good. The Peterboro man's services to the party are considered imporant enough to give him a strong claim, and he may yet capture the position.

X RAYS WERE USED

At the General Hospital and Aided in Locating the Bullet in a Patient's Leg.

Toronto, July 13.

Stanley Allen McDonell, a 15-year-old youth, who lives with his parents at London, Ont., was loading a 22-calibre revolver with cartridges in a bedroom of his home last Thursday night, when in some manner the weapon discharged and a bullet lodged in the inner side of the lad's thigh joint. On Saturday evening his mother brought him to the Toronto General Hospital, where the bullet was located by means of the X rays.

A photograph of the leg showed the course of the bullet. It had passed behind the knee joint and was lodged between the tibia and fibula at the back part of the leg, about three inches below the knee.

An operation was conducted by doctors of the hospital staff in the amphitheatre of the General hospital yesterday morning. The lad was placed under chloroform and the bullet was easily cut down upon and removed.

The hospital doctors say that without the aid of the X rays the operation would have been a most difficult one, in fact it would have been almost impossible to locate the bullet, which was taken out fully eight inches below the point where it had entered.

Young McDonell is getting along well and will be all right in a very short time unless blood poisoning should set in, but so far there are no symptoms of it.

Mrs. Rowat, the woman who was shot by her husband a short time ago, is still in a low condition at the General Hospital. As soon as she is well enough an endeavor will be made by the hospital doctors to locate the bullet with the X rays. It is thought that the missile is lodged against the unfortunate woman's spine, and in the event of it being located, it will be a hard task to remove it with safety. In any event, Mrs. Rowat will be an invalid for life.

LIBERALS GET SELKIRK.

Manitoba Premier Will Visit Ottawa Shortly.

Winnipeg, Man., July 12.—(Special.)—According to the declaration of the returning officer for Selkirk constituency, John Macdonell, the Liberal candidate, was one vote in the majority. The Conservative candidate, Hugh Armstrong, applied for a re-count, and as there were many spoiled ballots it was admitted to be anybody's election. When counsel for Armstrong proceeded to the Court House to pay the money necessary for a re-count, he asked Judge Walker to whom he should pay it. The Judge said the prothonotary, and to that officer the money was handed over. When Judge Walker on Saturday proceeded to conduct the re-count, counsel for the Liberals argued that the money should have been paid to the Clerk of the County Court and that the error to comply with the statute in this respect was a fatal one. The Judge, in deciding, narrated the circumstances and regretted that the point had been raised, but as it had he found he was forced to uphold it, and ruled there could be no re-count. The Liberals, therefore, hold the seat, though the election may be protested on petition.

The Liberals of Western Assiniboia are much disappointed at the result of the re-count there and have now subscribed to a fund to protest Nicholas Flood Davin's election.

Alphonse Sauviet, a farmer, of Holland, was killed on Saturday by falling from his seat on a mower, his neck being broken.

Premier Greenway departed on Saturday for his country home at Crystal City, but the report is current that on Monday he takes the train from Crystal City for Ottawa, having been invited there by Mr. Laurier. It is understood that Mr. Sifton, too, will leave for Ottawa shortly.

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention :—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

The Democratic Team for the Two First Offices.

JOHN R. M'LEAN LED IN THE VOTING

But the Newspaper Man From Cincinnati Would Not Have the Nomination for Vice-President—Bland and Sibley Also Withdrew and Sewall Got the Place.

Chicago, July 11.—The Democratic Convention closed up its ticket and adjourned sine die soon after 3 o'clock. It selected its candidate for Vice-President in the veteran shipowner and shipbuilder, Arthur Sewall of Massachusetts, for many years Chairman of the Democratic State Committee of that State. This result was not reached without a struggle, the same number of ballots being required to effect it as to make the nomination for President, viz., five. Sixteen candidates were placed in nomination or were voted for with or without consent on the first ballot. All but four quickly dropped out of sight. They were Messrs. Bland, Sibley, McLean and Sewall.

After the first ballot, a movement was started (chiefly at the instigation of Gov. Altgeld of Illinois) to throw the nomination to Bland of Missouri, "Silver Dick" Bland, as his sponsor, Senator Vest, dubbed him. The Missouri delegation kept from the movement at first, but reserved its vote in order to cast it for Bland at a later stage if there was a probability of thereby turning the scale in his favor. That did not happen on the second ballot and Missouri voted for other candidates, but on the third ballot Missouri presented Bland's name, explaining that it did so without authority from him, and awaited results. This was not encouraging.

Mr. Bland had about 50 votes fewer on the third ballot with his delegation supporting him than he did on the second ballot when they voted for other candidates. Upon this showing, Gov. Stone promptly withdrew Mr. Bland's name.

Mr. Sibley of Pennsylvania started in with a rush, receiving 163 votes on the first ballot, but lost 50 votes on the second and was withdrawn by a telegram addressed to Hon. Amos Cummings of New York before the third ballot could be taken, though he still retained scattering supporters.

Mr. McLean's name was not formally placed in nomination, but was brought before the convention by the Ohio delegation voting for him. Starting with the Illinois votes, he ran up to 236 on the fourth ballot, and then the chairman of the Ohio delegation read a telegram from him stating that all votes cast for him were cast against his expressed wishes, without his authority. Although the chairman of the Ohio delegation qualified this declaration by saying it was the voice of Mr. McLean and not that of the delegation, the convention listened to Mr. McLean and he passed out.

Mr. Sewall, the selected candidate, was placed in nomination by a delegate from a distant State.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW'S CRITICISM.

What the Railroad Man and Politician Says About Bryan's Nomination.

London, July 11.—A representative of the United Press to-day had an interview with the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew on the subject of the nomination of William Jennings Bryan by the Democratic National Convention at Chicago for President of the United States. Mr. Depew said: "I think that the nomination of Mr. Bryan is the best the convention could have made. He represents all the unsound and absurd theories that the convention proposes to materialize in the laws if the party gets into power. Excepting his two terms in Congress Mr. Bryan has had no experience in the Legislature. He is eloquent and sentimental. He belongs to the imaginative school, and is just the man to capture a crowd of impracticable faddists. The convention cut loose from the time-honored principles of the Democratic party and pushed the old ship, already leaky, out upon a sea of vagaries and theories without a chart or compass. It seems eminently proper that the youngest, most daring and least experienced of such a crew should be captain of the ship."

The Editors.

These American Democratic journals have bolted on the Chicago ticket: The New York Sun, The Buffalo Courier, The Brooklyn Eagle, The Atlanta Journal, The New York World, The New York Journal, The Louisville Courier-Journal, most influential Democratic paper in the South; The Philadelphia Record, whose editor, Col. Singerly, was the last Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania; The Philadelphia Times, The Trenton (N.J. Evening Times, The Hartford Times, The Boston Herald, The Springfield Republican, The Utica Observer, The Charleston News and Courier, The New Haven Register, The Baltimore Sun, The Baltimore News, The Paterson (N.J.) Guardian, The Salem (Mass.) News, and The Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, leading Democratic daily of South Dakota.

THE WALK IN MONTREAL.

For the First Time Since the Murder of Hackett the Orangemen Turned Out in Full Regalia.

Montreal, July 12.—(Special.)—For the first time since the murder of Hackett in Victoria-square, the Montreal Orangemen marched to-day in full regalia, with bands and banners. About 400 of the brethren left the lodge room, St. James-street, and marched to St. Batholomew Church, where Rev. Mr. Dobson preached an appropriate sermon. After the service the procession reformed, marched west along St. Catherine-street down Peel and dispersed. The bands played religious rather than party airs and everything passed off very quietly.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease For Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Neepawa, (Special) June 29—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly, of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says:—"From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart-felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

NORTH ONTARIO STOLEN.

Mr. McGillivray Placed in Embarrassing Position Through No Fault of His Own.

Whitby, Ont., July 11.—Major McGillivray is confirmed in his seat by Judge Burnham as a result of the recount before him, concluded this morning, but the developments of the case promise startling results to others, as well as to the doughty Major, for it was found that the most flagrant example known to election trials of tampering with ballots is the distinguishing feature of this election. Twenty-one ballots reported by deputy returning officers to have been cast for Warden Duncan Graham, the Patron-Liberal candidate, opposing Major McGillivray, have utterly disappeared, and twenty-one ballots for McGillivray, which were found in envelopes with Graham's ballots, had no initials of the deputy returning officers on them, and some had never even been creased.

The counsel engaged in the recount, Judge Burnham and the counsel engaged in the recount, D'Alton McCarthy, for Graham, A. B. Aylesworth, for McGillivray, as well even as the Major himself, who wanted to resign forthwith, but was dissuaded by his counsel, but who nevertheless, expressed his intention of not defending the protest which Graham is to make, were all astounded, and for a time it looked as though Returning Officer Taylor would be arrested at once. He was not, however, and returned to his home in North Ontario to day. As the particulars of the re-count became public, the feeling in town is very strong amongst all parties, and expression is freely given to the wish that the extremest penalties should be meted out to the guilty parties in this outrageous affair.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whitness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

Every person who is deprived of outdoor air and exercise, should take Miller's Compound Iron Pills. They keep the bowels regular and tone up the nervous system. 50 doses for 25 cents.

Buckwheat as a Weed Killer.

The quick growth of buckwheat and its broad leaf completely shading the ground, fits it to suppress most of the annual weeds. It has even been said to kill the Canada thistle, but this is more probably due to plowing the thistle under in June as preparation for the buckwheat than the crop which followed. But there is a better reason for the belief that growing buckwheat clears the land of wire worms and insects that destroy vegetables. So far as we know, there is no insect that will eat either the root or stalk of buckwheat, and sowing it on any piece of land for two years will kill the wire worms by furnishing nothing for them to eat.

IT IS IN THE AIR.

Tweed People Talk About it.

It is in the air.
Can't stop it spreading.
Can't keep down a good thing.
People who don't know about it want to known.
People who do know, want to tell about it.
It is kidney education.
Tweed people are learning fast.
Here are some facts.

One of the best known residents of Tweed is Mr. W. H. Houston, who relates the following interesting facts: Mr. Houston says, "I have been very bad for several years with pains in my side and back.

"I had to urinate very frequently, in fact my rest was disturbed by frequent rising at night for that purpose. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, at Newton's drugstore, and have experienced great relief from the first.

"I am sure that I have been greatly benefited, and can recommend them highly to anyone troubled as I was."

BBB FOR THE BLOOD

In Spring Time get Pure Blood by using B.B.B.

No other remedy possesses such perfect cleansing, healing and purifying properties as Burdock Blood Bitters. It not only cleanses internally, but it heals, when applied externally, all sores, ulcers, abscesses, scrofulous sores, blotches, eruptions, etc., leaving the skin clean and pure as a babe's. Taken internally it removes all morbid effete or waste matter from the system, and thoroughly regulates all the organs of the body, restoring the stomach, liver, bowels and blood to healthy action. In this way the sick become well, the weak strong, and those who have that tired, worn out feeling receive new vigor, and buoyant health and spirits, so that they feel like work. If your appetite is poor, your energy gone, your ambition lost, B.B.B. will restore you to the full enjoyment of happy vigorous life.

A Quiet Wedding.

Rev. W. R. Young performed a quiet wedding ceremony this morning, when he entered in marriage Mr. Joseph James Hunter and Miss Rose May Coulter, both of Bobcaygeon. The bride was assisted by Miss Lula Clemens and the groomsman was Mr. A. V. Coulter, brother of the bride.

A Difficult Paper.

The pupils who are trying the second-class certificate or junior leaving examina-tions, at the Collegiate Institute, complain very bitterly of the examination paper set in Algebra. It seems that one of the questions was incorrectly printed, and a great deal of time was wasted in endeav-ouring to solve it.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Monday, July 13.—A rare occurrence took place on Saturday afternoon. The thermometer in a short time in the after-noon rose from 84 to 92 degrees. I have sometimes seen a quick change in frost but seldom in heat. Sunday we had it again up to 90 degrees, and at this morn-ing's observation the thermometer indi-cated 72 degrees above zero, with little change in temperature. Some local showers.

Tuberculous Near Bobcaygeon.

The Lindsay Post says,—"On Wednesday last Dr. Kenny, government live stock inspector for this district, was called to Bobcaygeon to examine a cow owned by Mr. M. Ingram, of North Verulam, sup-posed to be ailing from a tuberculous affection. He arrived after the animal had been killed by the local veterinary surgeon, Dr. Vrooman, and upon examining the lungs, found that they were badly affected. Mr. Ingram lost a cow last fall, presumably from the same disease, and when he observed similar symptoms in the animal above referred to, he promptly isolated her."

Solid for W. G. Green's Factory.

Mr. William Nelid, the well-known prac-tical pump maker, who carried on business for himself in Ashburnham, some years ago, has commenced an engagement with Mr. W. G. Green, proprietor of the pump and fanning mill factory on Dickson's Race. Mr. Nelid is favourably known to the farming community of these counties. He was employed for some time with the former proprietor of the Dickson Race factory, and last year left town to fill a responsible position with the Brantford Windmill Company. Mr. Nelid is a pusher, and as he is representing a reliable firm that manufacture reliable machines, he will no doubt give a good account of himself.

St. Andrew's New Pastor.

The Globe has the following in reference to the future pastor of St. Andrew's Pres-byterian church: "A unanimous call has been extended by the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Peterbor-ough, to Rev. James G. Potter, of South-side church, Toronto. Mr. Potter is pro-minent among the younger Presbyterian clergymen, and has done extremely effect-ive work in the church of which he has been pastor for four years. During that time the congregation has increased from 110 to 135 members, and the various church organizations have shown a most gratify-ing growth and improvement. Mr. Potter is a graduate of Queen's University, and prior to coming to Toronto was pastor of the Merrickville Presbyterian church for a number of years.

HOUSE-BREAKING IN THE VILLAGE.

Three Men Break into the Farley Residence.

Last evening an outrage of a serious aspect was committed in Ashburn-ham. It seems that about midnight three young fellows who were alleged to be considerably the worse of liquor broke into the residence of Mr. Farley on the corner of Elizabeth and Lake streets and proceeded to abuse both the old man and his wife.

Farley, seeing that the intruders meant mischief, called to his wife to run for aid to the neighbours and catching up a poker, sought to defend himself against the brutal attack as best he could.

The blood bespattered appearance of the walls this morning indicate the violence of the fight whilst it lasted. Farley finally succeeded in driving the men from the house by the free use of the heavy poker, but seeing a crowd coming towards the corner thought the assailants were being reinforced and fled. It was friends, however, and they were horrified to find the old man covered with blood. Fortunately it was the blood of the assailants and not his own, but as Chief Craig has a clue to the identity of the housebreakers, the matter will be pushed to an issue, in order that hoodlism may be suppressed in the village.

LAKEFIELD VS. PETERBOROUGH.

Lawn Tennis Tournament at Lakefield on Saturday.

Tennis has received a great impetus as the result of the splendid tournament which was held in Lakefield Saturday between the club of that place and the local racquet wielders.

The sets were all closely contested and replete with brilliant play. Lakefield was greatly reinforced by the presence of Mr. McKenzie, of Montreal, who last year held the city championship in the singles. Miss McKenzie, of Brantford, who is also a very dashing player, was also enlisted to assist the Lakefield forces, but in aggregat-ing the points at the close of the match it was found that although splitting even in the mixed and men's doubles, the Peter-borough club had still won the tourna-ment by scoring the greatest number of points, as well as winning the ladies' doubles.

The score was as is appended:

LAKEFIELD.		PETERBOROUGH.

BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady Badly Frightened on Saturday.

Whilst riding her bicycle down George street, on Saturday afternoon, Miss Rack-ham got cornered between two teams, one of which was standing by the sidewalk and the other advancing from the direction in which she was going.

In attempting to turn quickly to clear both teams the young lady fell from her wheel and before she was able to move the advancing team was almost directly over her.

In falling Miss Rackham pulled the bicycle over upon herself and to this she probably owes her escape from serious injury, as the horses not being accustomed to the sight of a wheel in this position, shied off somewhat, and though one of them irreparably damaged the bicycle with its iron shod hoofs, yet Miss Rack-ham was not injured before she was drawn out from beneath the machine.

Gilmour's Mill in Algonquin Park.

Dr. D. Gage has arrived home on a brief visit from the Gilmour sawmill on Canoe lake, in the Algonquin Park. Mr. Gage is engaged as millwright, and states that the mill has now one band saw in operation, working day and night, and cutting about 80,000 feet of deals per day. This will be kept running for the season, and later on in the fall, when the cut in the Trenton mill is completed, about half the machinery will be removed to the north. The mill is being built ready for the machinery, the yard laid out, building erected, and all preparations made for a very large busi-ness. The Parry Sound and Ottawa Rail-way runs one mile north of the mill, and the track into the yard is now ready for the rails. The railway will be graded to the west of the mill this month, and the contract to transpor the lumber by Sept. 15th will probably be ante-dated some time. About 150 men are now employed at the mill, under the management of Mr. David Clark. A powerful electric plant has been installed, and the yard is as light at night as in the day time. Some very fine deals are being cut, some as high as 36 inches broad. The sorting shed is a very large building, and mechanical contriv-ances are cleverely arranged to economize labour.—Independent.

Rich Bargains.

The practice of A. H. Stratton & Co. in holding a half yearly clearance sale affords a rich opportunity for procuring rich bargains in high class goods. If you want to seize this opportunity your attention is directed to the advertisement of the Peter-borough Bookstore in another column. Watch this space during the next month and you will be well repaid for your watch-ing.

Did the Girls Demand It?

There seems to be an epidemic of mous-tache mowing. About a dozen young men in town have had their mous'aches removed. It is a question whether this is in compliance with the spirit of the prin-ciple, "beauty unadorned," or whether the titillation incident to osculatory exer-cises with hirsute appendages on the male labial organs, provoked the demand for clean upper lips on the part of the female party of the second part. The epidemic is spreading.

While They Last.

Just now the Peterborough branch of the R. S. Williams & Sons Piano Company, 372 Water street, are turning over a num-ber of second-hand upright pianos into ready cash and giving buyers the biggest part of the transaction. These instru-ments are in good order and properly tuned, and as the Water street warerooms are crowded for space, they cannot hold them long. Some of these can be sold as low as $150 and $200, and are as good for beginners, or, in fact, for most purposes, as some new instruments. They will be sold on favourable time and the customer suited as to the terms. Any person wish-ing to rent a good second-hand piano should call at once at the warerooms and interview the local manager, Mr. Dies. Visitors should also call and inspect the beautiful display of new pianos of the best grade just placed in these ware-rooms. If you want all the good points in a piano, the Williams piano has them. When you are going to buy an article whose value you don't know, you pick out an old established house and trust their experience and reputation. Do so when buying pianos. Here also you will find the latest sheet music, small instruments, stringed and reed instruments, band instruments, silk and plush piano drapes, etc., and musical supplies. Orders for piano tuning left here. GEORGE E. DIES, local manager, 372 Water street. 21

THE TOWN ALIVE WITH ORANGEMEN.

They Foregather From Every Quarter.

THE TOWN BRIGHT WITH GALA COLOURS.

Under the Guiding Influence of "the Master Hand" Peterborough has the Greatest Orange Demonstration Which she has Ever Held—Thousands of Visitors in Town During the Day—Trains Have to Make Two Trips.

The intense heat of yesterday was re-garded as ominous by the weatherwise, and a wet twelfth of July was predicted. True to surmise the dawn broke on black clouds, which continued to discharge their contents in torrents throughout the morn-ing.

After going away to assist other towns in celebrating the memory of King Wil-liam, on July 12th, for four years in succes-sion, the Peterborough Orangemen stayed at home to-day and did some celebrating on their own account. They did it well, too, and from early morning until the big parade took place at noon, the streets enlivened by music from fifes and drums and brass bands, and marching men in bright uniforms.

Peterborough was the home of hospitali-ty to Orangemen to-day and numerous brethren in orange and blue from outside points were warmly welcomed as they arrived in lodges by the various morning trains. The visiting lodges marched proudly through the streets from the stations to the headquarters and with the arrival of each detachment of Orangemen, the fact of this being the day they cele-brate, became more and more apparent to the citizens in general.

The Orangemen who were in the procession were a fine looking lot of men and there were a few Indians in the turnout, who were worthy specimens of the noble red man.

The procession was formed at the Court House Park and began to move between two and three o'clock.

Although opposed by some disappointed office seekers the demonstration proved to outrival any celebration of the kind ever held in Peterborough before and to fully equal the best Orange demonstration which has taken place in Eastern Ontario in years. It is easy to see that the "Master hand" is at the helm once more.

Shortly before the hour fixed for the starting of the procession the clouds dis-persed and the sun beamed forth warm and glorious, transforming the day into a typical one for a celebration. The roads however remained muddy, as considerable rain fell during the night.

Owing to the fact that the trains from some of the outside points were so loaded as to have to make two trips the procession was postponed from eleven o'clock until two in the afternoon, when, after assembling on the Central Park, the differ-ent lodges marched forth in the following order:

The marshalls who directed the course of the procession were County Master J. B. McWilliams, County Marshall Samuel Stanson, District Master Hiram Arm-strong, District Marshall J. Hetherington. The route of march was down George to Hunter, to Aylmer, to Charlotte, to George, to Hunter, to Water, to McDonel, to the Central Park.

The different trains brought in thousands of visitors from all points and if the day had been brighter early in the morning thousands more would doubtless have been present.

The streets never looked gayer. No pains were spared to give the town a gala appearance and great credit is due the decorators. George street was lined with evergreens and almost canopied with bunting and flags, as were Charlotte, Simcoe and Hunter streets. Appropriate mottoes were strung across the street from almost every point of vantage and the visitors to Peterborough were indeed agreeably surprised by the cordialty of their welcome.

Above Lodge 40, of Peterborough, waved what was probably the handsomest banner in the procession. Under the wise direc-tion of Worthy Master David Moore the Lodge is progressing both financially and numerically. No. 30 also flung a fine new banner to the breeze.

There seemed to be at least 1500 orange-men in uniform in the procession.

The length of the immense procession may be imagined when it is stated that the front ranks had passed west on Hunter, south to Charlotte, east to George, north to Hunter, and passed the latter half at Hunter street before the middle of the long line had passed this point, and the rear of the procession had just left Central Park when the front ranks return-ed. It took the procession, marching at a brisk pace, 60 minutes to pass a given point. It was a genuine Irish procession. It was over before it began—the front of it reached the park before the end of it had started.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY.

There is no Decision Arrived at Yet.

The following in reference to this matter is an expression of press opinion:—

Minden Echo.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., the energetic and able representative of West Peterbor-ough, is spoken of as the coming man to fill the vacancy in the Ontario Cabinet on the retirement of Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat which is daily expected. We hope the report may prove true, as Mr. Stratton would make an excellent Commissioner of Crown Lands, and it is also thought that the time has arrived when this part of the province should have representation in the Government.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Geo. Wilson of the Port Hope Guide is in town for the day.

Mr. Eli Sager, who has been ill for some time, is reported to be very low.

Rev. Dr. Gardiner, of Belleville, is visit-ing with his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Shaw, Rubidge street.

The Messrs. and Misses Tully have been visiting with their cousins, Messrs. J. P. and S. J. Dickson, of Minden.

Mr. Garnet Bell, son of Dr. Bell, left last week to take a three months' course at the Royal School of Infantry, Toronto.

Misses Nellie and Lillie Christie, daugh-ters of Rev. J. J. Christie, of Ottawa, are visiting Mrs. Edward Cookson, Aylmer street.

The Lindsay Post says: Mr. J. W. Garvin, insurance inspector, Peterborough, was in town yesterday visiting his local representative, Mr. Robt. Campbell.

Mr. J. F. Sill, of the Buffalo Express, and Judge Dunkleberger, also of Buffalo, called on the EXAMINER Saturday, on their way home after a week's fishing at Buckhorn. They had great luck among the 'lunge.

The Havelock Standard says: Mrs. Allison, of Peterborough, accompanied by her son, Mr. C. Allison, of Chicago, spent a few days in town during the week, visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wiseman, Ottawa street.

The Minden Echo says:—"Mr. Samuel J. Dickson, of this village, returned home on Wednesday evening last after visiting friends in Peterborough and vicinity. There seems to be a great attraction for Sam in that locality just now, and we hope these trips may produce satisfactory re-sults.

Miss M. E. Mann left town Saturday evening for her vacation. While away she will attend the International Baptist Young People's Union Convention, which meets this year in Milwaukee. She goes as a delegate from the Park street Baptist Y.P.U. of C.E., and will join the Canadian delegation at Toronto.

THE ORANGEMEN'S ANNUAL SERMON.

Delivered by Rev. W. R. Young Last Night.

THE CHURCH WAS CROWDED.

The Past Has a Great Effect in Modelling the Future—Lessons Drawn From the Graves of our Predecessors—Three Score and Ten Years Do Not Compass a Man's Life.

Headed by the Fire Brigade Band, the Orangemen of the district, accompanied by the local lodges of True Blues and 'Prentice Boys, paraded to the George street church last evening, where Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., the pastor, preached to them their annual sermon.

The procession was formed at the lodge rooms on the corner of George and Simcoe streets, and marched up to the church in the following order:

Fire Brigade Band.
John Hetherington, Marshall,
Queen's Own Lodge, L. T. B. No. 48, Robert Sutherland, Master
'Prentice Boys, A. T. Dugan, Master.
L.O.L. No 571, Downer's Corners.
L.O.L. No 178, S mith.
Diamond L.O.L. No. 80.
Young Canadian L.O.L. No. 49.
S. B. Weir, Dep. Dis. Master.
H. S. Armstrong, District Master.
J. B. McWilliams, County Master.

Special mention should be made of the attractive appearance presented by the junior members of Otonabee Lodge, (Downer's Corners) who numbered several score, and were attired in white shirts and blue knickerbockers.

In addressing those assembled, Mr. Young mentioned the fact that this was the second time he had had the pleasure of so doing and expressed his sense of the honour which had been accorded him in selecting him to again deliver the annual sermon. He hoped that he would, during the evening, give voice to some thought that would sink into the hearts of some of his hearers and lead them to be better men, better husbands, and brothers, better citizens; a thought which would induce someone to lead a higher, holier Christian life—a life acceptable to Jesus Christ.

As his text for the evening he took the latter portion of the 21st verse of the 13th chapter of II Kings: "And when the man was let down and touched the bones of Elisha he revived and stood up on his feet."

Taking up a small stone in his hand the speaker explained that it was merely a piece of quartz—

VALUELESS IN ITSELF,

but together with others of a sufficient quantity, most useful for the making of highways. Still if this piece of quartz was studded with gold it would become exceedingly valuable because of the position it held as custodian of the treasure. So it was with history. A small portion of it selected at random, might be of no interest or value, though a component part of a grand whole. But again this small portion if carefully selected might be studded with great truths and as such it became a rich gem deserving of our most careful consideration.

So it was with the incident from which the words used in the text had been taken.

Elisha had died and the decline of Israel was rapid. It was overrun with tribes. A man of unknown name had died and the funeral was taking place. While the cortege was on its way to the grave a tribe of robbers suddenly loomed up on the horizon and the body was hastily of Elisha which stood near. As soon as the feet of the corpse touched the body of the dead prophet, new life came into the man and he arose and fled with his companions.

That is the incident.

It is a portion of Scripture history which is studded with strange truths.

A man lives in this world after he dies. This may seem to be a strange paradox but it is the case.

Voltaire was one of the men who had probably more to do with the great French Revolution than anyone else. His writings had a wide influence. He was a sceptic—an atheist, and though dead for years, he still lives, as to day his works are read and do an infinite amount of harm.

On the other hand take Martin Luther—a man whose influence was so great that he broke through the superstitions of Rome. He lives to-day in the freedom of of the Bible and in the cause of Protestantism.

Man dies, man is buried, but man still lives, paradoxical as it may appear, and his influence lives on and on and on.

LIFE IS NOT COMPASSED

by the three score years and ten. It shall not cease until time shall be no more. See, then, that the lesson you leave behind you is one for good.

Another lesson to learn is that the past is always affecting the future.

Lives there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own—my native land.

The past history of one's country always has its effect in stirring up patriotism.

The speaker had visited the Plains of Abraham last summer and described his feelings when reading the inscription on Wolfe's monument,—

"Here died Wolfe—victorious."

In imagination he could see the two armies, the conflict, the victory. He could see the British flag still floating over the Quebec citadel, and the patriotic feelings which were stirred up were very intense.

When we touch the past of our national history a new fire of patriotism, zeal and loyalty is kindled. So is it also with the past of our religion. Take the noble men and women who laid the foundation of our Protestantism. As in thought one goes to the graves of Calvin, Luther, or any of those score of others who are dead and gone, as we think of the work accomplished is there not kindled in our life our churches and our homes and hand down to our children the rich heritage, which has been entrusted to us.

Yes, the past has a wonderful effect in the modelling of lives.

In 1857 the heroic workers for the abolition of slavery had given up heart. They acknowledged they were beaten. Then a woman stepped into the breach and that wonderful little book "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was launched on the world. Phillips, Wilberforce and their helpers were aroused. Their enthusiasm was kindled anew.

Tell me to-night, said the speaker, that the name of Harriet Beecher Stowe has no significance.

She was laid away in her grave a few days ago but who will say she is dead?

There is inspiration and instruction to be drawn from the past. Voices of warning come from the past. Voices from the tomb of Judas, from that of Benedict Arnold, from the nameless ones over whose grave shines no single star of hope—where all is gloom. Let us be inspired by those who won success and let us be warned by those who fell.

There is an inspiration to be drawn from the past of the Order. Touch the graves of those men who declared against Rome on that beautiful July day, and does there not come to us an inspiration to defend the freedom of Protestantism?

In closing Mr. Young made an appeal to the members to live closer to the rules of the Order. Make the future brighter, said he. Let not the finger of scorn be pointed in derision at a member who has degraded the Order, and departed from the path of sobriety. Let to-morrow's sun go down on the celebration without any member having disgraced his colours.

Orangeism has its duty to perform, said he in conclusion, but Orangeism never saved a soul. There is but one Saviour, whose bleeding and mangled form I raise before you, and point to him for salvation.

The procession reformed outside the church, at the conclusion of the service, and upon marching back to the hall the following resolutions were passed:—

Moved by Bro. J. B. McWilliams, seconded by Bro. Armstrong, that the District Secretary extend to the Rev. W. R. Young the thanks of the Orangemen for the able and appropriate sermon, and also a letter of condolence on the death of his sister.

Moved by Bro. Sidney E. Weir, seconded by Bro. Sloan, that a vote of thanks be sent to the trustees and the choir of George street Methodist church for their services.

LACROSSE.

The following item concerning Dick Kelly, formerly of Peterborough, will be of interest to lacrosse enthusiasts in town. The Montreal Herald says: "R. S. Kelly, the well known fielder of the Senior Shamrocks is a very indignant man these days, in consequence of the rumours circulated by certain papers, which have more regard for sensational trash than they have for people's characters. It appears that one or two of these enterprising blood and thunder journals which remind the school boy of the days spent in reading Beadle's Dime Novels, have published a statement that Kelly had agreed to play with the Toronto club for the good fat salary of twenty dollars ($20), per week. This gentleman called at the Herald office and denied in the most emphatic terms, that he either directly or indirectly had any communication with the Toronto club, or with any other organization regarding such matters."

THE WHEEL.

I am the scorcher!
Please observe
The curve
That appertains unto my spine!
With head ducked low
I go
O'er man and beast, and woe
Unto the thing
That fails to scamper when I ting-a-ling!
Let people jaw
And go to law
To try and check my gait,
If that's their game!
I hate
To kill folks, but I'll do it just the same,
I guess,
Unless
They clear the track for me;
Because, you see,
I am the scorcher, full of zeal,
And just the thing I look like on the wheel.

The First Sod of the New Railroad Turned on Wednesday—The Work to be Permanent.

Cobourg Sentinel Star.

There was no demonstration down at Cottesmore avenue on Wednesday afternoon, when the first sod of the Cobourg, Northumberland & Pacific Railway was turned—the surveyors and engineers were there with their plans and profiles, and after making out the line the road will follow, the plows and scrapers quietly set to work at grading the new railway.

The charter obtained from parliament to build the road expired on the 9th of July, and it was necessary in order to save the charter and all the money already invested in plans and surveys, that active building operations be commenced on or before that date, otherwise the charter would lapse. On Saturday last Mr. Wicksteed, C.E., was wired to have men and teams ready to start the work on Tuesday morning, but owing to the wrong profile being brought up by the engineers, the work was abandoned until the next day. The start was made on the Sam Purser farm, at the northern terminus of Cottesmore avenue. Mr. John Green rents the farm and has a luxuriant growth of peas in the field through which the line runs. The crop was ruthlessly cut for a width of upwards of 40 feet through the field and the grading commenced. There were about 50 people present when operations commenced, but there was no formality or ceremony in "turning the first sod."

Mr. Cecil Bowen was seen at the Dunham House by the Sentinel Star on Wednesday night.

"Yes, we made a start to-day and in order to hold the charter, will have to do continuous work," said Mr. Bowen.

"When do you expect to put on a large force of men?" was asked.

"Just as soon as the subsidy is re voted at Ottawa. You see the re-vote has to take place before the financial syndicate will take over the bonds, so that until that time we cannot complete all our financial arrangements. In the meantime we will continue at an expense of $35 to $50 per day, and when the re-vote is made in parliament, which convenes about the beginning of next month, we will let the subcontracts and rush the work through. There is some heavy work on the road, one filling alone near Baltimore will cost $30,000, and there are several such places on the line."

Then you at all events don't think the railway is an "election dodge?" was asked.

"I'm an engineer, not a politician," replied Mr. Bowen. I left a profitable permanency on the New York Central to come here and build this road, because I thought there was more money in it. There's no money in "election dodges," and I have no use for them. So far as my instructions go, the work will be proceeded with until it is finished, provided the subsidy is re-voted.

THE GREAT WALLACE SHOW.

Yellowstone Journal, Montana, has the following in reference to the great Wallace Show, which will probably visit Canada this year:—

"The great Wallace Show came in early yesterday morning and long before the church bells were ringing, its city of tents was up and its flags of all nations were flying. The extreme orderliness of this troupe cannot be commended too highly. There are 400 people and 300 horses, and yet the whole outfit was unloaded and put up, and the people living in the neighborhood of the lot found nothing to kick about. There was no profanity, no loud shouting; every man went quietly about his work, and everything was done with perfect system. It certainly speaks well for Mr. Wallace that the quiet of Sunday was not desecrated.

"The Wallace show's paraphernalia is the finest ever brought into Montana. There are 43 cars, all of special build, and the railroad men say it is the best show train they ever handled. The horses are beauties and are the talk of everybody. The parade this morning was over a half mile long and was the best ever seen in Miles City. There is an entire absence of shell workers, short change men and other species of grafters, a most refreshing innovation in circus management. The Wallace show is by long odds the best that ever came to Montana.

A Glorious Age in Which we Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achivements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanising that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

NOWADAYS, when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops.

Working in this way has manifold evils. As an old colored Aunty used to say: "There's always somethin' the matter. If it isn't one thing it's two." The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

There is no human ailment that so saps the energies, so deadens the ambitions, as that coming from the bowels forgetting their vocation, or the liver only working about eight hours out of the twenty-four.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

MRS. ROSANNA M. BLISS, of Colosse, Oswego County, New York, says: "I had suffered much with dizziness, sometimes faintness from too much mental work. Over exertion physically caused constipation of the bowels. I tried liver pills. They gave temporary relief. Two years ago I began using Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have, at intervals, used three bottles, and I am now enjoying uninterrupted good health."

Yours truly,

Rosanna M. Bliss.

CUT HIS THROAT WITH GLASS.

A Horrible Tragedy Enacted at St. Henri During the Absence of a Sick Man's Nurse.

Montreal, July 10.—(Special.)—A horrible tragedy was enacted at St. Henri at midnight. A hotelkeeper named Louis Couillard, 46 years of age, had been ill, and was in charge of a nurse at his home, 275 St. Ambroise-street. It appears that while the guardian was absent Couillard took a piece of glass and cut his throat so badly that he died shortly after.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that I written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address, JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 3259, Detroit, Mich.

SIR OLIVER GOES TO OTTAWA.

He Still Holds the Premiership—Jim Conmee's Slick Trick—Yet Retains His Seat.

Toronto, July 11.

Sir Oliver Mowat received a summons from Hon. Mr. Laurier yesterday, and left for Ottawa by the 9 o'clock train last night. As soon as he is appointed to the Senate, and before he is sworn in as a Cabinet Minister, he will send in his resignation as Premier of Ontario to Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick. He will retire from his seat in North Oxford at the same time. The fact that he still holds on to his Provincial portfolio and seat in the Legislature shows that it is with some feeling of regret that he abandons the arena of local politics, in which for so many years he has been the bright and shining light.

To-day the Ministers' quarters in the Parliament Buildings will present a rather deserted appearance. Hon. Mr. Harcourt started for Europe yesterday, and Hon. Mr. Dryden leaves this morning for his home on his way to the Northwest. Only Hon. Messrs. Hardy and Harty are left.

It now turns out that James Conmee played a pretty clever trick in order to retain his seat in the Local Legislature until he found whether or not he could win one in the Dominion Commons. Before he was nominated by the Liberals in Nipissing he announced that he had resigned his seat for Algoma in the Ontario House. But now that he has been snowed under in the Federal fight by a majority of 900, he quietly resumes his right to the old provincial constituency. The members of the Government say they understood Mr. Conmee had resigned, but admit that no trace of the resignation can be found now.

MR. DAVIN HOLDS IT.

The Re-count Resulted in a Tie and the Returning Officer Voted for Nicholas Flood Lisgar Seat.

Winnipeg, July 10.—(Special.)—Nicholas Flood Davin had a very close call, but will hold his seat for West Assiniboia in the next Parliament. The re-count was concluded to-night and resulted in a tie, but the returning officer gave the casting vote in Mr. Davin's favor.

The re-count for Selkirk was to have proceeded to-day, but counsel for the Liberal candidate, who is declared elected by the returning officer by two votes, raised the technical objection that the Conservatives had paid the money necessary for a re-count to the wrong court officer. The objection seems to be good, except that the money was paid to the wrong officer on the suggestion of the judge himself, who was consulted. If the objection does not prove fatal to the Conservatives the re-count will proceed to-morrow.

The Conservatives to-day made application for a re-count in Lisgar, where Editor Richardson of The Tribune has only a few votes the best of it.

At the Baptist convention to-day this resolution was adopted: "Whereas Baptists are and ever have been opposed to the teaching of religion by the state, on the subject of denominational schools by money grants, we, in convention assembled, as representing the Baptists of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, hereby place ourselves on record as determinedly opposed to all legislation not strictly in accord with the most absolute separation of church and state."

Wheat is now heading out in Manitoba, and there are bright prospects of an abundant harvest.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

Care of Horses in Summer.

The basement barn ought never to be used to keep horses in in summer. It is a cool place, but it is made so by being kept too dark and by a lack of ventilation. The odor from the urine is constantly rising from their evacuations, and as this contains much ammonia, it is doubly injurious, first to the health, and secondly to the eyesight. Many horses have been blinded by being kept in dark stables, with perhaps a light shining from a small window over the horse's head.

The Yard.

The present legal yard was instituted in England in 1758.

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 13,571 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

TURNING GRAY

AND THREATENED

WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

Silver Bells on Bikes.

Smart Chicago wheelwomen are now copying the Parisian fashion of providing a collar of silver bells for the handle bars of their machines. Instead of worrying about constantly thinking of warning bells, the motion of the machine causes the incessant jangling of the silver chime, and the effect is decidedly pretty. These bells are also of a more or less costly description, the handsomest consisting of a set of six, of pure silver, exquisitely chased and hung upon a band of white leather, embroidered with gold and jewels.

Nature's Secrets.

Perhaps, if we could penetrate nature's secrets, we should find that what we call weeds, are more essential to the well-being of the world than the most precious fruit or grain.—Hawthorne.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Needlework.

Needlework forms no unimportant feature in the home decorations of today, and almost any one, with practice and care, can do the simple outline stitch, which results in such pretty and neat effects. Patterns for this work are readily obtainable and transferred to the cloth and every one has bits of bright-colored silks or velvets that can be embodied in making up these simple and artistic productions; but what we would especially speak of now is a rich and yet simple, window screen, one that is to cover the lower portion of a window in the parlor or sitting-room, where direct communication with the outer world is not strictly necessary, or where an unsightly view is to be shut off, and while it may be simple in material and form, can be beautiful in design and execution.

The body of this screen may be an amber-hued silk, in which a design of wild roses may be worked, using very delicate shades of pink, toning with richer tints, gradually deepening in color towards lower and heavier portions of the design. For the stamens use two shades of dull yellow—a warm brown for the twigs, and a varitty of yellow-greens and darker olives for the foliage.

We would say, further, that fine work will make evenly homely crash beautiful, as the plain material is entirely transformed by the beauty of drawing, harmony of color, and skilled embroidery, while on the other hand, such material as plush, while it gives added beauty to the most carefully-executed design, will, by its luxurious texture, hide many faults of the unskilled worker.—Decorator and Furnisher.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

THE HEAL-ALL.

Dear blossom of the wayside kin,
Whose homely, wholesome name
Tells of a potency within
To win thee country fame.

The sterile hillocks are thy home,
Beside the windy path;
The sky, a pale and lonely dome,
Is all thy vision hath.

Thy unobtrusive purple face
Amid the meagre grass
Greets me with long-remembered grace,
And cheers me as I pass.

And I, outworn by petty care,
And vexed with trivial wrong,
I heed thy brave and joyous air
Until my heart grows strong.

A blessing from the Power I crave
That moves in thee and me,
That makes thee modest, calm and brave,
Me restless as the sea.

Thy simple wisdom I would gain—
To heal the hurt life brings
With kindly cheer, and faith in pain,
And joy of common things.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NAVY.

The Unarmored Cruiser Terrible is a World's Record Breaker—Charlie Beresford's Outcry for More Men.

London, July 12.—The enormous unarmored cruiser Terrible, recently built on the Clyde for the British navy, maintained a speed of 20 knots an hour on her recent maiden trip from Glasgow to Portsmouth, and it is asserted that her maximum speed was 24 knots, which is certainly remarkable in view of her size and length—14,200 tons and 500 feet respectively. Not less remarkable is the Terrible's coal-carrying capacity, enabling her to steam 25,000 miles without re-coaling. Her sister ship, the Powerful, is soon to be in commission and then the British admiralty may claim to hold the world's record in this class of vessels. The naval experts are not satisfied, however. They are still crying aloud for more men, more quick firing guns, and suchlike things, which, of course, mean more money.

The leader of the malcontents, Capt. Lord Charles Beresford, loses no opportunity of warning Englishmen that they are living in a fool's paradise, and being deceived by the very people who ought to tell them the whole truth. No doubt, he says, we are gradually remedying the grave defect of too few ships, but what is the good of building ships if you don't at the same time increase the number of men? This distinguished critic pledges his veracity as a man that if war were declared to-morrow a score of powerful warships would have to remain in port for lack of sailors and stokers to man them, and this for the sole reason that the governments of the day, Tory and Liberal alike, fear to face the necessary expenditure, and so keep the strength of the navy's personnel below what should be the standard even in a time of peace.

A GUY ROPE SLIPPED

And It Ended the Life of John Whitely, Employed on the Presbyterian Church at Palmerston.

Palmerston, July 11.—This evening about 8 o'clock as the workmen on the Presbyterian Church were about to quit work, one of the guy ropes slipped from its fastenings and in an instant the whole of the heavy roof timbers crashed to the ground, killing a workman named John Whitely, about 35 years of age. Several others who were on the roof at the time had very narow escapes, some clinging to the walls, and others going down in the wreck. This church was burned down last winter, being erected only a short time before this, and was being rebuilt when the sad accident occurred. Much sympathy is felt for the poor fellow who lost his life. He leaves a widow and one child.

A VERY FUNNY IDEA

That the Young Czarina Cannot Visit Her Grandma With Her Husband Without France Making a Fuss.

London, July 12.—Queen Victoria has sent an official invitation to Young Czar Nicholas and his wife to visit Balmoral during the coming autumn, and the news of this action appears greatly to have agitated French diplomats, and caused some stir at the German Court.

The Queen sent the invitation as the grandmother of the Czar's wife, and certainly had no idea of arousing international passions, but it looks as though that would be the result if the Czar comes to this country. The French Ambassador has been instructed, so the story goes, to delicately hint to the Czar that he had much better stay at home; or, if he wants a change, that he should take it on French soil. It seems scarcely creditable that French diplomacy should make such a fearful mistake. As far as the Czar is personally concerned, he has no particular love for the French alliance and has never concealed his own conviction that an Anglo-Russian alliance could stand against the world. He has subordinated his personal opinion and predilections to the unanimous advice of Russian statesmen and diplomats, and has even made believe to love the French alliance, another proof that autocracy has its limits.

If, however, the French should presume to give advice and make representations in connection with such a purely family affair as a visit to Queen Victoria, the Czar, as likely as not, will tell the Frenchmen to mind their own business.

The German Emperor seems to think that if he is not to go to England this year, no other monarch ought to go there, and German diplomats undoubtedly would regard the Czar's visit to this country as an intentional rebuke to their efforts to get England within the meshes of the Triple Alliance. Hence it is possible that there will be a prodigious pother over a distinctly innocent transaction on the part of a sovereign of whom it may truly and without flattery be said that she, personally, has never, in the 60 years of her reign, made a serious mistake of policy or etiquette in dealing with foreign monarchs and international questions.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July '13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

The Attorney-General of the United States Gets After the Joint Traffic Association—37 Roads in It.

New York, July 11.—By order of the Attorney-General, United States District Attorney Macfarlane has taken an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of the United States against the Joint Traffic Association. In this suit, which was decided in favor of the defendant in the United States Circuit Court a few weeks ago, it was sought to prevent the operation of 32 railroad companies composing the association in their agreement.

A REMARKABLE MIRAGE.

Kingston Distinctly Seen at Oswego—Everything Reflected.

Just before the sun sank to rest in the blue waters of Ontario last night persons along the lake front and from lower bridge witnessed one of the most beautiful and raest phenomena witnessed in this climate—a mirage. It was first discovered shortly after 7 o'clock. The Duck and Galloup Islands, the entrance to Kingston harbor, the masts of vessels, and what appeared to be buildings like fortifications hung suspended in the sky.

It was a remarkable picture and was witnessed for more than half an hour by hundreds of people, and then gradually faded away. Records of such phenomena are not kept, and data regarding them on Lake Ontario are not to be had. That of last evening, however, is said to have been clearest and most distinct seen in many years from Oswego. A mirage on the lake is not infrequent in midsummer, but is rarely seen at this season of the year. When first it was seen last evening, it is said by some who were on the old pier, that the reflection of the sunlight upon what appeared to be church spires could be plainly seen. One large building, evidently a church, had the spires hanging down almost into the water.

The mirage is most frequently seen in hot climates, more especially on the sandy plains of Egypt. It is a phenomenon of reflection which results from the unequal density of the different layers of the air when they are expanded by contact with hated soil or water. The hot sun has warmed the water and no doubt yesterday afternoon the cool currents of air that came into contact with it were expanded.

To see the city of Kingston suspended in the sky over Lake Ontario, and its inhabitants walking about its streets head down, is a sight seen but once in a lifetime. However, it was not quite as vivid as that last night, but it was all very beautiful.—Oswego Palladium, June 25, 1896.

A Good Story.

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

Baptist Young People.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable trips imaginable is advertised by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway from any point in Ontario or Quebec to Milwaukee and return for one single fare. This is in connection with the Baptist Young People's Union, who hold their annual international convention in Milwaukee July 16th to 19th, 1896. Tickets are good until August 5th and give those going the opportunity of seeing both Chicago and Detroit on the return journey. Fred L. Ratcliff, Toronto, has been appointed by the Baptists of these provinces as transportation leader, and any who intend to avail themselves of this trip should write him at once for full particulars. Special arrangements have been made by the transportation leader for good board in Milwaukee at very low rates, and a special train will be run from Toronto right through, so that any single person going will have lots of good company by arranging to join the special train at Toronto, or such point west as this train stops at.

400 Acre Farm FOR SALE.

IN SNOWDEN.

I WILL SELL AT A BARGAIN A 400 acre Farm in the Township of Snowden—very convenient—about half a lot from the Village of Gelert and Gelert Station. The property consists of lots 16, 17, 18, 19, in the 11th Con. less a strip of Lots 17, 18 and 19, through which runs the Victoria branch, of the Grand Trunk Railway. There are cleared on lot 16, 90 acres; on lot 17, 60 acres; on lot 18, 20 acres, and on lot 19, 25 acres, balance good hardwood bush and well timbered. Log House, Log Barn. The property is well watered by a branch of the Burnt River and would make an excellent farm for stock and grain and the Timber being convenient to the station can be sold at a good price or shipped as purchaser desires, and in the most profitable manner. It is close to school and church.

At a recent examination it is estimated that there are upon the four lots the following quantities of wood, etc.:—800 cords maple wood; 200 cords birch wood; 300 cords hemlock, balsam and soft wood; 2000 cedar ties; 2000 cedar posts; about 200 acres good farming land; 100 acres good pasture land. It is one of the best farms in the country for stock raising, pasture being always good.

THE SELKIRK SEAT.

Tories Feel Sore Because They Lost It.

BUT THERE IS NO REMEDY FOR THEM

The Nor'Wester Makes a Howl—Re-Count in Lisgar Fixed for To-Morrow—Washouts in the Rockies—No Change in Wheat and Flour Duties.

Winnipeg, July 13.—(Special.)—The Conservatives are naturally much annoyed at being denied a re-count in Selkirk, particularly as they felt sure their candidate would be found to be in the majority. The Nor'Wester to-night says editorially: "As it now stands, it is conceded that Mr. Armstrong complied with the provisions of the law for a re count, and that a re-count would probably have elected him. That the Government was protected against any loss of costs, as is provided it shall be, and that the officials who accepted the money are as much responsible for the mistake in taking it as Mr. Armstrong's agent in tendering it to them, cannot be denied. Is it not a travesty on justice that when an injustice has been done, and the injured party has complied with the requirements of the law, the machinery of the law should not be adequate to rectify a mere technical mistake?"

The re-count in Lisgar constituency is fixed for Wednesday at Morden. This time the Conservatives have been careful not to pay the money to the wrong court officer. The Conservatives expect to win the seat. They say that a number of ballots marked for Mr. Rogers and thrown out on a technicality will be allowed by the judge, and the effect will be that the Liberal candidate, Mr. Richardson, will be found in the minority. Mr. Richardson, however, thinks the recount will increase his majority.

Trains over the C.P.R. from the west are delayed by washouts in the Rocky Mountain regions. The passengers say there are tremendous floods in the valley of the Fraser River. A large number of the farmers are living in the upper stories of their houses and moving round with the assistance of boats, while much of the growing wheat is a foot under water.

Mr. Alex McGaw, one of the most prominent men in the Manitoba grain and milling trade, has just resigned the Manitoba management of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., to go into business for himself. In connection with this announcement, Mr. McGaw was asked if he thought the change of Government would materially affect the grain trade. Mr. McGaw replied. "I do not think so. I cannot believe there will be any change in the duties on wheat and flour. Were such change proposed, it would be opposed tooth and nail by all the western members. This country, as a matter of fact, has prospered under these duties, and I believe that Mr. Laurier recognizes the fact. The present duties on wheat and flour protect the manufacturers and grain growers without doing injury to anyone."

It has leaked out that instead of returning to his country home Saturday, as was announced, when he left town, Premier Greenway quietly departed for Ottawa. This fact, coupled with to-day's news that Mr. Laurier has in the meantime left vacant the portfolio of the Interior, leads to the belief that Mr. Greenway will enter Mr. Laurier's Cabinet. There are other circumstances which lead to this belief.

THE BALLOT STUFFING.

Major McGillivray Says Some Infernal Scoundrel Did the Trick.

Toronto, July 14.

Major McGillivray, M.P., who went to Ottawa to see Sir Charles Tupper after the disclosures made in the recount in North Ontario, returned to Toronto yesterday. To a reporter last night he said that he now intended to give up politics, as there was nothing in it for him and retain the secretaryship of the Foresters. Had Sir Charles Tupper's Government been sustained he would have hung on to the seat, but now he would give it up.

Regarding the stuffing of the boxes, the Major said that his worst enemy could not have done himself or the party a worse turn.

"My opinion is," he observed, "that some infernal scoundrel, and no friend of mine tampered with the ballots."

Other ballots, he said, besides the 21 disallowed as spurious, were tampered with. He instanced cases where ballots at the first count marked for one candidate were destroyed by having a cross placed opposite the name of the other also.

The Major completely exonerates Returning Officer Taylor in the case. After the election, Mr. Taylor took the ballot boxes to his own house and locked them up in his "spare" bedroom. During the three weeks that elapsed before the re count the returning officer, who is an insurance man and cattle dealer, was often away from home, and at such times his wife and daughter were the only custodians of the ballots, and they probably could not watch the bedroom all the time.

Mr. McGillivray, therefore, thinks that someone got at the boxes while the room was not guarded, and he is strongly of the opinion that the Government should provide in each constituency a safe place for the custody of the ballot boxes.

The member said that in any event he would not have occupied his seat longer than one session, and that as things now stood he would either send in his resignation to the Speaker or disclaim the seat in court.

The Major further states that in the recent fight he had the support of even the ultra Protestants, and that now the Patrons were dead he could, if he ran again, win the riding by a majority of 300 votes.

If the Major allows judgment to go by default a new election can be held very early in the session. If, however, a petition is entered he cannot resign his seat until the petition is tried. It was said last night that no petition would be entered if his resignation went in.

THE SEALERS ARE SAFE.

It Was Supposed That the Victoria Schooners Were Wrecked in the Great Tidal Wave.

Victoria, B.C., July 13.—A cablegram from Yokohama, received last evening, puts at rest all anxiety entertained for the safety of the Victoria sealing schooners supposed to have been wrecked off the northeast coast of Japan by the recent tidal waves. The message states that all of the fishing schooners have been spoken within a few days.

IT LOOKED LIKE MURDER,

But at the Coroner's Inquest the Boy Confessed That He Shot the Girl Accidentally.

Kingston, July 13.—Yesterday afternoon Jemima Riddell, adopted daughter of Alex. Glassford, Glenvale, about ten miles from this city, was mysteriously shot and instantly killed in a shed at the rear of the farm house. She was discovered by William Babcock, another adopted lad about the age of the girl, 16. Suspicion rests on Babcock, but no positive proof is yet declared.

This afternoon Coroner Kilborn, County Attorney Whiting and Dr. Abbott went to Glenvale to hold an inquest on the body of Jemima Riddell. The smoking gun filled with gunshot stood where it usually did, so that the young girl could not have handled it and killed herself.

To-night John Babcock, alias Willie Wright, confessed that he accidentally shot Jemima Riddell while carrying out the gun to shoot a hawk. The jury made careful investigation, and returned a verdict of death by accident.

Blow Up a Passenger Train in Cuba—Many Said to Have Been Killed or Wounded.

Havana, July 13.—At 2 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred on the railway between Cidra and Sabanilla, in the Province of Matanzas. A passenger train that was passing at the time was badly damaged and it is believed that many persons were killed. A train with physicians on board has been despatched to attend to the wounded and take them to the hospitals. Details of the affair are hard to obtain, as the Government is seeking to minimize its results.

GENERAL OTTAWA NEWS.

Writs for Bye-Elections to Issue at Once—Prorogation Till Aug. 19.

Immediately after the Ministers had been sworn in to-day, they repaired to the Council Chamber to discuss urgent matters, chief among them being the date of the meeting of Parliament, which was fixed for Wednesday, Aug. 19. This is a week later than was expected, but the Ministers considered it necessary to secure ample time for the re-election in their several constituencies, particularly as strenuous opposition is expected.

The writs for the bye elections caused by Ministers' acceptance of office will be issued immediately.

The Cabinet to-day decided upon Thursday, July 30, for nomination; polling, if any, Aug. 6.

From the Cabinet list the Minister of the Interior is missing. It will not be filled for some days yet. Mr. Laurier, it is said, has sent for Mr. Greenway and Mr. Sifton and either one may get it.

It was shortly after 4 o'clock that His Excellency arrived at his office in the Eastern Block. Mr. Laurier was immediately sent for. Then, after a wait of a few minutes, Mr. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, went to bring the new Ministers to His Excellency's office. Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Davies were the first to come down the corridor.

Following these three gentlemen came the others in a group.

The absentees of to-day were: Joly, Blair, Fielding and Geoffrion. Mr. Blair was in town, but he is yet Premier of New Brunswick, and consequently could not take the oath of office to-day. Mr. Fielding will not be here until next week.

Sir Oliver, by the way, had left his resignation in writing in Toronto with his private secretary, and telegraphed him to present it to the Lieutenant-Governor. The old man was canny to the last and was not going to take any chances of a slip.

Since yesterday several changes have been made by the Liberal leader in the disposition of the portfolios. Mr. Scott was out of it last night, but he is in it to-day.

Another change made since yesterday is the putting back of Mr. Fisher on the slate as Minister of Agriculture and assigning Mr. Mulock to the Postoffice Department. Toronto people know that Mr. Mulock, among his many other excellent qualifications, possesses a good knowledge of farming, but the influences which have been at work since yesterday point out that Mr. Mulock is after all a professional man, and, although he farms 700 acres in North York, the objection which the Patrons raise to professional men might crop up against Mr. Mulock, although the Patrons are undoubtedly friendly to him. Accordingly Mr. Fisher, the well-to-do farmer from the Eastern Townships, takes the Agriculture portfolio.

Even Conservatives admit that Mr. Laurier has got together a strong aggregation. Indeed the politicians do not hesitate to say that it is the strongest Ministry since the first Confederation Ministry. Whether they will be able to justify this opinion remains to be seen.

It is understood that Mr. Tarte will run in St. John and Iberville, Mr. Bechard making way for him. As a STOLEN.

Mr. McGillivray cannot afford to take advantage of the scoundrelly work done in his behalf in North Ontario. He cannot afford to go to Parliament, says the Globe of Monday, as the representative of the thief who stole Mr. Graham's ballots. Nor can he wholly escape responsibility for the work of the tools he selected to conduct the election. The scandal in North Ontario is a natural result of the system that has been pursued. Election officers have been chosen, not because of qualifications for carrying out an honest election, but for suspected fitness to do questionable party work in case of necessity. The Mackenzie Government passed a law putting the management of elections into the hands of public officers who are under permanent obligation to give honest service to the community. This law was repealed by the Conservative Government, and the public officers were replaced by partizans of the Administration. From that day to this the election machinery has been framed to do party service, and the guarantees for honest election steadily weakened.

There is the gravest reason to fear that in the last election there was wholesale ballot-stuffing all over the country. There can be no doubt that in many cases the election officials were deliberately selected for corrupt work. We saw a partial unveiling of the plot in London. We have an utterly disgraceful and humiliating exposure in North Ontario. We do not suppose that Liberals will make any special appeal to Mr. McGillivray. He may do as he likes. The vote of North Ontario is not needed to keep Mr. Laurier in office. Mr. McGillivray's resignation of the seat will give only a partial redress. A new election will not repair the fraud. Mr. Graham was fairly and honestly elected for North Ontario and the seat must be his without a second contest. Judge Burnham did all that lay in his power to right Mr. Graham, and we must look to the higher courts with their larger powers for a complete defeat of the conspiracy and the final establishment of the authority of the people. In the meantime prompt and thorough investigation must be made, criminal proceedings instituted and the miserable thieves who stole the election subjected to such punishment as will be a warning to such scoundrelly operators for a very long time to come.

A REVENUE TARIFF.

A correspondent asks the Globe the difference between a revenue and a protective tariff. A revenue tariff is one in which all the money paid by the people goes to the public revenue. A protective tariff is one in which all the money the people pay goes to assist protected interests. All tariffs on lines of goods not produced in the country levying them, are revenue tariffs. The amount they add to the cost of the goods is collected by custom officers. Tariffs levied on imports similar to domestic products may be made revenue tariffs by equal excise taxes on such domestic products. When so levied the tariffs enable home producers to levy protection on their customers, but the excise tax compels them to turn it over to the public revenue. A protective tariff is one that absolutely prohibits the importation of articles of domestic manufacture, thus producing no revenue. All the money which consumers pay in increased prices rendered possible by the impost goes to assist the protected interests. Many tariffs partake of both natures. They permit a restricted import, thus yielding a revenue, and to that extent no protection. At the same time they facilitate increases in domestic prices, and to that extent make the people pay protection but no revenue. They are called revenue tariffs with incidental protection, or protective tariffs with incidental revenue, according to the fancy. Uniformity of rate is not essential to either a revenue or a protective tariff.

MAJOR MCKINLEY'S private secretary is a Canadian. There is one good thing about the future president and that is his private secretary.

THE refusal of Lord Aberdeen to sanction death-bed appointments has a recent precedent in New South Wales where Sir Robert Duff refused to permit the defeated Cabinet of Sir George Dibbs to act as the late administration proposed to do. In this he was upheld by Lord Ripon, the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

THE British electorate can give pointers to the Canadian electorate in the matter of independence of party. During nearly the whole of Queen Victoria's reign, for about fifty-five years, every general election has been followed by a change of Government. That this apparent fickleness of the populace has an injurious effect is not shown. It causes both parties to be careful, and to pursue such lines of policy as are in the public interest, and therefore likely to meet with popular approval.

"THE New York Sun" says the Mail and Empire "keeps on saying that Sir Charles Tupper was too British by half." This shows that the New York Sun is not in touch was Canadian politics. Canadians think that Sir Charles Tupper is not half enough British. The central British characteristic, such as honour and integrity in statesmen, Sir Charles has little or no use for. The Sun has been deceived by Sir Charles' revenue professions of loyalty to British institutions, while his career has been boodleistic enough to make him a past master in Tammany methods.

THE London Times, the leading newspaper of Great Britain says:—"Mr. Laurier comes to office with the cordial respect of political opponents as well as friends. His private record is as stainless as his personal character is engaging and attractive. He counts warm friends upon both sides in politics, and many Conservatives will be found to echo the remark once made by Sir John Macdonald with regard to him: "I can trust Laurier without the slightest fear. He is incapable of breaking his word, even if he wished to."

"WE are free in Canada and we are loyal because we are free," said Mr. Laurier in Montreal recently. And it is not amiss to recall, says the Ottawa Free Press, the fact that it was the race of which the new Prime Minister is so distinguished an ornament which made the first determined effort to obtain that constitutional government which makes us "free," and risked life and fortune in order to obtain the privilege. The threshold of the temple of Canadian freedom is unhappily tinged with the blood of French Canadians.

THE Conservative Stratford Herald is good enough to give us the following pleasing information:—"Great Britain's trade continues to boom according to the revenue returns. Last quarter, compared with the same period of 1895, the receipts increased by $8,408,000. While the revenue increases, the condition of the people improves. In recent years the ratio of paupers in England has fallen from 47 per 1,000 to 22 per 1,000." Yet a few weeks ago this paper joined with its contemporaries of the same colour in the howl that Cobdenism had proved a failure, and that unless England went back on free trade she would shortly be bankrupt.

WAS SHE FROM TORONTO?

Christine Aumond Died in the New York and It Is Said She Was a Canadian.

New York, July 13.—The young French woman who died at Roosevelt Hospital last night, after having been taken ill at the Hotel Lincoln, was identified this afternoon as Christine Aumond, 28 years of age. She was a governess and came to this city five years ago from Toronto, Canada, where her parents now live.

Four years ago she was governess to President Cleveland's family when they lived in this city. At the same time she was governess for the children of Secretary Daniel Lamont and held that position over the Cleveland and Lamont children when Cleveland returned to Washington for his second term.

Miss Aumond was reared in the Sacred Heart Convent in Toronto and was very well educated.

Mrs. Hirschmann, with whom she lived at different periods during the last five years, does not believe that the girl committed suicide.

Coroner's Physician Schults to-night performed an autopsy on the body of Christine Aumond, the governess, the cause of whose sudden illness at the Hotel Lincoln and subsequent death at Roosevelt Hospital was wrapped in mystery. Dr. Schults found that death was due to hemorrhagic gastritis, probably due to poison, the nature of which the doctor was unable to determine. He removed the stomach and intestines, which will be submitted to a chemical analysis. Later he gave a permit for the removal of the body of the dead woman to the rooms of Undertaker Gorden, at No. 27 Columbia-avenue. Mr. Gorden said that two women called on him at his office this afternoon and asked him to take charge of the remains until the friends of the dead woman could be communicated with. The callers did not give their names.

There is no Sacred Heart Convent in Toronto and the family name Aumond does not appear in the directory.

UP IN NORTH GREY.

The Orangemen Had a Grand Turnout in Owen Sound—Over 5000 Visitors There.

Owen Sound, July 13.—A large Orange celebration was held here to-day, under the auspices of the county lodges of North Grey. About 5000 members and their families were present from the surrounding district. Three special trains brought in Tara, Chesley, Wiarton and intermediate stations; others came in conveyances; while the steamers Collingwood and Atlantic brought over several hundreds from Thornbury, Meaford and Collingwood. A procession was formed at 2 p.m., headed by four brass bands and numerous fife and drum bands. At the pleasure grounds they were addressed by prominent local Orangemen. The celebration was a successful and pleasant one.

DO YOU DYE COTTON AND MIXED GOODS?

The only household dyes that make perfect bright and unfading colours in dyeing Cottons and Mixed Goods are the Diamond Dyes. These popular dyes give colours that will not wash out with soap or fade in sunlight.

Many of the "Diamond" Cotton dyes are patented, and cannot possibly be used by other dye manufacturers, so if you want satisfactory dyes for Cotton goods of any kind, or for any description of Mixed or Union Goods, be sure to ask for the Diamond Dyes for Cotton and Mixed Goods.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. He remained a representative of the county until 1874, when he resigned and filled the position of Emigration Agent at Quebec for some time, but was again elected member, serving until 1882.

THE NEW MINISTRY.

An Interesting Review of the Careers of the Lucky Liberal Leaders.

Mr. Laurier's political career is well known. In the Mackenzie Ministry he held the portfolio of Inland Revenue. He is considered to have acted wisely in selecting the Privy Council Department. Alexander Mackenzie is conceded to have made a great mistake when he tried to run not only the Premiership, but the Public Works Department, to which the Railways were then attached. The worry of conducting a large spending department is sure to be too much for any Premier.

Sir Henry Joly.

Sir Henry Joly, who becomes Minister of Inland Revenue (the Controllerships being abolished), has been a leading figure in Quebec for many years and was at one time Premier of the Province. He is a Protestant Seigneur of Lotbiniere, a man of the highest character, and 67 years old. He was educated in Paris.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte.

J. Israel Tarte, the new Minister of Public Works, who became prominent in public life by exposing the Langevin-McGreevy scandals, is one of the best political organizers in the Dominion. He is a newspaper man, and one of the ablest writers of the French press. He owns Le Cultivateur. Mr. Tarte was born in the County of Berthier 47 years ago. He was a notary by profession, but only practised two years, then taking to journalism. He was editor of Le Canadien when first returned to Parliament in 1887.

Hon. Sydney Fisher.

Reference has already been made to Mr. Sydney Arthur Fisher of Brome, who becomes Minister of Agriculture. His presence in the Cabinet will be specially satisfactory to the agricultural community. He is generally conceded to have also all the qualifications for administering efficiently the Agricultural Department, and is himself a successful farmer. Mr. Fisher is a resolute prohibitionist. He is 46 years of age and is, by the way, a graduate of Cambridge University.

Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick.

Charles Fitzpatrick, Q.C., the new Solicitor-General, although a young man, has been long prominent in provincial politics in Quebec. He is an able lawyer, and likely to be of material assistance to Sir Oliver Mowat in the Department of Justice. Mr. Fitzpatrick is 43 years of age. He was one of the counsel who defended Louis Riel. His wife is a sister of Sir Adolphe Caron.

Sir Oliver Mowat.

Sir Oliver Mowat, who takes a leading portfolio, that of Justice, has for nearly a quarter of a century been Premier of this province, being first returned to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario by acclamation in 1872, and immediately becoming Premier. His previous record began in the old Canadian Legislative Asembly in 1857, and lasted until 1864, when he retired from public life to become a judge. In this former period he was Provincial Secretary in the Brown Dorion Government, and Postmaster-General in the Sandfield Macdonald-Dorion Administration. Then, when after three years on the bench, he went into politics again, Oct. 25, 1872, he became Attorney Gen ral and Premier of Ontario, offices which he has held since. He will now sit in the Dominion Senate. Sir Oliver will be 76 years of age on July 22.

Sir Richard Cartwright.

Sir Richard Cartwright, at the age of 61, re enters a Liberal Cabinet as Minister of Trade and Commerce. Sir Richard was Finance Minister during the Mackenzie regime, and was not only faithful to his leader during that time, but has never since failed to defend upon every occasion the acts of the administration. Mr. Fisher was also a Minister in the Mackenzie Government, and so was Hon. R. W. Scott. Sir Richard first entered public life in 1858, and has been a prominent figure in Canadian politics ever since.

Hon. William Paterson.

William Paterson, who is to be Minister of Customs, is one of the best platform speakers in Canada and has made a special study of the tariff. It is the intention to do away with the controllerships. In 1882, when Sir Richard Cartwright was defeated, Mr. Paterson was the financial critic of the Opposition, and he did his work well. He is extremely modest and is popular with all classes, Liberals and Conservatives alike. The commercial community will probably have more confidence in the new Minister than in any other Liberal who might be selected, as he is both a trader and manufacturer himself. He represented South Brant from 1872 to this year, and it is claimed that he would not be defeated now but that he left his own constituency to work and talk for the party all over the province. That this has been appreciated by the Liberals has been made plainly evident to Mr. Paterson since the election has taken place. Mr. Paterson is a biscuit manufacturer and of Scotch descent, and 55 years of age.

Hon. William Mulock.

Mr. Mulock is Vice-Chancellor of Toronto University, is very wealthy and was first elected to Parliament in 1882. He is too well known to need extended notice here.

Hon. L. H. Davies.

Louis Henry Davies, Q.C., to whom has been assigned the portfolio of Marine and Fisheries, came to the Dominion Parliament after a long and successful career in provincial politics in his own native province, Prince Edward Island. He is an able counsel, having represented Canada before the International Fisheries Commission at Halifax in 1877. He was Solicitor General in Prince Edward Island in 1869 and again in 1872 and 1873. Then he was leader of the Opposition in the Assembly until 1876, when he became Premier and Attorney-General. His administration was defeated in 1879. He was first returned to the Commons in 1882. Mr. Davies is one of the ablest debaters in the House of Commons, and was Mr. Laurier's Lieutenant-General in the Maritime Provinces. He is 51 years of age.

Hon. W. S. Fielding.

William Stevens Fielding affords the surprise party of the day by becoming Minister of Finance. He is a journalist and a very successful politician. He was connected many years with The Halifax Chronicle. In 1882 he declined the offer of the Nova Scotia Premiership on the defeat of the Thompson Government. He afterwards, in the same year, joined the administration of Hon. W. T. Pipes and in 1884 he was called upon to form an administration. He succeeded in doing so, and has since been Premier and Provincial Secretary. He is 48 years of age.

Hon. A. G. Blair.

Andrew George Blair, who becomes Minister of Railways and Canals, is of Scotch extraction. He was born in Fredericton in 1844. He was called to the bar in 1866 and was first returned to the Legislature in 1878. In 1883 he was called upon to form an administration, which he succeeded in doing. On his acceptance of office he became Attorney General. His administration was known as a coalition government, composed of Liberals and Conservatives, and he succeeded in carrying the Province at every general election after that. He will be one of Mr. Laurier's strongest men. Although Mr. Blair's Government was composed of Conservatives and Liberals he has always been a staunch Liberal in Dominion politics. His administrative ability is good and the Department of Railways and Canals ought to be well looked after while under his charge.

Hon. W. F. Borden.

William Frederick Borden, M.D., the new Minister of Militia, has been 17 years in the Dominion Parliament, being first returned in 1874 and a member since, except from 1882 to 1887. He is a native of King's County, New Brunswick, which he has always represented in the Commons. He has splendid business capacity, a good speaker, and has always taken an interest in militia matters. Dr. Borden is the youngest member of the new Cabinet, being just 40 years of age. He is a Harvard man.

MR. LAURIER'S LOYAL SPEECH

Created a Most Favorable Impression in Official Circles in the Old Land.

London, July 13.—The British policy in Africa has had so few creditable features of late that one item of good news assumes importance. The Government of Zanzibar at last has yielded to British opinion, and has decided to abolish the legal status of slavery throughout the Zanzibar dominions in the near future. This removes the scandal of slavery being recognized under the British flag.

The pro-British speech of Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, at Montreal on Saturday, has been received in official circles with much relief. Mr. Laurier is quite unknown to statesmen here, who feared the effects of his rule upon Canadian relations with England. His promise to do his duty to Canada and the Empire is accepted as an assurance that, though he would gladly enter into a broad reciprocal agreement with the United States, if an opening should arise, he will not discriminate against British goods, and will join in the fast Atlantic steamship service and the Pacific cable schemes, which depend for success upon his cordial and immediate support. It is understood that Mr. Laurier is asking for Imperal sanction to the appointment of a Canadian agent at Washington, to watch Canadian interests and promote more friendly relations with the States.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease For Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Neepawa, (Special) June 29.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly, of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says:—"From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart-felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

WHITEWAY'S BRAVE MOVE

To Cut Down the Expenses of the Newfoundland Legislature - He Had But One Follower.

St. John's, Nfld., July 13.—The Whiteway Ministry is involved in a serious quarrel. Premier Whiteway, who is endeavoring to reduce expenses of conducting the sessions of the Legislature, moved a reduction in the vote for that purpose from $35,000 to $20,000. Only one member of his party followed him. The remainder, led by Colonial Secretary Bond, voted for the higher figures. The rupture intensifies previous quarrels and threatens to break up the Government.

A Little One Saved by Lactated Food.

A mother, writing about her baby's rescue from death by Lactated Food says: "One doctor was of opinion that my baby had consumption of the bowels, and did not give us much hope. My sister, who came to my aid in my time of trouble, recommended me to try your Lactated Food. I did so, and in less than a week I saw a happy change; my darling gained strength and could sleep well. She is now bright and strong—saved to us by your wonderful food."

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. B. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

Civic Holiday Excursion to Buffalo.

Court Littlejohn's Excursion Committee met last night after the close of the regular Court meeting. The principal business was the report of the two delegates, Messrs. W.S. Cocks and R.Mulligan who were sent to Buffalo to make better arrangements with the N. Y. C. Railway. The delegates reported that they had failed to secure better terms. They had, however, interviewed the manager of the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway, who offered them satisfactory rates over that line to Chippewa and on via steamer to Buffalo. The committee decided to accept this route and arranged accordingly. E. A. Kempt was relieved off the Printing Committee and W. S. Cocks appointed in his stead. Mr. Kempt also intimated he could not undertake the duties of R. S. for the Court another term—a position he has filled for a number of years.

THE GREAT ORANGE DEMONSTRATION.

THE BEST EVER HELD IN THE MIDLAND DISTRICT.

A Grand Procession - Speeches in the Park—A Large Concourse of Visitors—Unusually Quiet and Orderly Day—Praises of the Visitors.

As Police Magistrate Holland of Port Hope said in Central Park yesterday, the Orange Demonstration held yesterday was the most successful ever held in the Midland District, in more ways than one. The procession was the largest, the street decorations were the most profuse, and the attendance of visitors was larger than on any other occasion, and what is more gratifying, is that never did so large a crowd behave in so orderly and commendable a manner.

Our report of yesterday took affairs up to the close of the procession. After the brethren returned there were

SPEECHES IN THE PARK.

Upon a tented platform, Mr. J. B. McWilliams, County Master, occupied the chair, and the several speakers and others had seats on the platform. Mr. McWilliams in a few words on behalf of the Orangemen of the town and county, heartily welcomed the visitors to Peterborough.

Mr. Thomas Stevenson, of Omemee, the veteran Orangeman, and one of the oldest in the district, was the first speaker. He referred to the great growth and progress of Orangeism since the establishment, by the late Ogle R. Gowan, of the first lodge in Brockville about 55 years ago. In reference to the grand demonstration of the day, Mr. Stevenson said that it and similar demonstrations had no significance unless the members of the Order became more united in upholding the principles of the order.

Bro. Geo. McCartney, of Bethany, Past County Master of East Durham, after referring to the unequalled success of the present demonstration, pointed out the differences that at times were evident in the Orange order, resulted from independence of thought. They showed that Orangemen did their own thinking. (hear, hear.) He urged that there should be mutual respect of the opinions held by brethren. Upon some dissent being expressed in the audience, the speaker said that speaking from the spur of the moment he may have said some things which, in his cooler moments he might not have uttered.

Police Magistrate Holland, of Port Hope, County Master of East Durham, said he believed that the divisions in the Orange order that had been spoken of

WERE THINGS OF THE PAST.

The Orange society by the actions of the past few months, had shown that it had cut itself loose from party ties, (cheers.) The way the Orangemen had acted during the late general elections showed that the members were true to Orangeism. He believed we were on the eve of one of the greatest revivals of Orangeism that the world ever saw. (Hear! hear!) People would be glad to join a society which had shown by recent events that it placed Orange principles before party ties. This condition of things was chiefly due to the noble stand taken by Mr. N. Clarke Wallace. The speaker said that though he had visited many grand demonstrations, the demonstration of the day was the best that had ever been held in this district. He had never seen a town so beautifully and plentifully decorated for a similar occasion. He heartily congratulated County Master McWilliams and those who had co-operated with him upon the signal success that had crowned their efforts.

Bro. Brethour, County Master of North Ontario, said the big defeat of Sir Charles Tupper in Quebec in the recent elections was the best thing that ever happened. It stirred up the Orangemen and put them on their mettle, and another election would show the Orangemen recording a united protest in opposition. He had been told that morning that Sir Charles Tupper had said that within three months—he had it from Bro. McGillivray. If this were true, and he believed it, then the Conservative majority of North Ontario would be the biggest thing on record. (Cheers and counter cheers and cries of "shut up" and momentary uproar.) The speaker seeing the storm he had raised apologised and retracted anything he had said to give offence.

Mr. R. C. Newman, the late independent candidate in West Peterborough, was received with hearty cheers and said he appeared as a representative of the order of Loyal True Blues. Dealing with the statement of the previous speaker that there would be another election within three months, Mr. Newman said, that if Sir Charles Tupper said so it must be true—his information must be authentic—for he had sent Archbishop Langevin to Rome for orders (cheers and counter cheers); he had done so before. If the Orangemen had been as true to Orange principles on the 23rd of June as they were trying to be that day there would be a different tale to tell in West Peterborough. (Cheers and cries of "give it to 'em.) The speaker called upon the people to drop party for principle and he declared that the man who would attempt to barter away the sacred rights of himself and his little ones, though he sent ten thousand emissaries to Rome, he would fight him to a finish.—(Cheers.) The speaker said he had been a staunch Conservative but now he had not but the Conservative party had. But, the speaker went on to point out there were indications of a change for the better, a revolution of the human mind tending towards the better order Government and the proper relations of citizens to each other in the common cause of nationality. These conditions would come when the people freed themselves from the servitude under which the country had laboured through those who claimed power to dictate to the masses. Justice was asserting itself, and our statesmen must learn from the masses that the "ancient mythology" no longer controlled the mind and conscience. The speaker concluded the longest address of the afternoon by pointing out the aims and objects of the L. T. B. order, which was thus far advanced that it included ladies in its membership, and was thus better qualified for bringing up (as was its aim) the rising generation in the principles of Protestantism. At the conclusion of the speaker's address, Mr. Wm. Graham of Smith, called for "Three Cheers for Newman," which were heartily given.

Rev. Mr. Grant made a few remarks upon the principles of Orangeism. The chairman thanked the people for and said that while they might differ in politics, they could all agree in love and respect for the Queen, and with three hearty cheers for Her Majesty, the great gathering dispersed.

At once the several lodges fall in and those that were due for early trains marched to the different railway stations with drums beating and banners flying, and gradually all the lodges moved out with the utmost decision. The immense crowd that had filled the town during the day gradually thinned until at about half past eight the town had resumed its normal condition, and there was nothing to indicate that the grandest Orange demonstration ever held in this district had taken place during the day.

The remarkable absence of drunkenness during the entire day was a feature of the occasion. Considering the immense attendance of visitors, the excessive sobriety that existed was a conspicuous feature.

Mr. Wm. Cottingham, District Master of Emily, was one of the most pleased men at the demonstration. He had the best turnout of any district. His men presented a splendid appearance, particularly one lodge composed of about 175 in uniform. There was no mistake in giving this district the head of the long procession, and as District Master, rode at the head of the parade with County Master MacWilliams.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY.

There is no Decision Arrived at Yet.

The following in reference to this matter is an expression of press opinion:—

Belleville Ontario.

In spite of the rumours that Speaker Balfour has been selected to fill the vacancy in the Ontario Cabinet we believe no decision has as yet been reached, and the matter is, consequently, still undecided. Sir Oliver Mowat has resigned the position which he has so creditably filled for nearly a quarter of a century, and Hon. A. S. Hardy will take his place. Mr. Hardy's first duty will be to fill the vacancy in his Cabinet, and we sincerely hope Mr. Hardy will act justly by the East and appoint Mr. J. R. Stratton, of Peterborough, to the vacancy.

As to Mr. Stratton's qualifications it is unnecessary to speak, for it is admitted he is in every way qualified to fill any position of trust. Speaker Balfour is also thoroughly qualified, so Mr. Hardy has good material to choose from.

It resolves itself to a simple matter of justice to this section of the Province. The west has had their share of favours heretofore from the Government, but the East is now justly entitled to greater consideration. Insofar as support of the Government is concerned the Liberals of Eastern Ontario have given a good account of themselves despite tremendous difficulties. This portion of the Province has long been the back bone of Toryism, and it seems natural for Eastern Ontario to support that party, on the theory we presume of acquired inheritance. Gradually, but surely, the light of true Liberalism is here spreading, and that largely through the work of Mr. Stratton. So with a growing and increasing Liberalism this portion of Ontario is justly entitled to increased representation in a Liberal Cabinet.

We respectfully urge the Ontario Government to give us increased representatives and to deal fairly with us by appointing Mr. Stratton to the vacant portfolio.

LAST NIGHT'S I. O. O. F. JOINT INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges of Oddfellows Instal.

Last evening, at a largely attended meeting of the two local lodges of Oddfellows, the joint installation of officers took place, with Bro. Dodds, District Deputy Grand Master, officiating. He was assisted by the District Committee—Bro. Coon, of Havelock; Bro. Fry, of Norwood; Bro. Morrow, of Otonabee Lodge, and Bro. Cowle, of Peterborough Lodge. TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

An Inspection of the Proposed Route Just Completed.

Sir Collingwood Schreiber was in town yesterday and, accompanied by Mr. R. B. Rogers, inspected the work on the local section of the canal and expressed himself as being much pleased with the progress made by the contractors. Mr. Schreiber is on his way home to Ottawa after having examined the work on the entire portion of the canal now under contract between this point and Lake Simcoe.

The tenders for the railway bridge across the river at Auburn were opened to-day at Ottawa and the results will probably be known in the course of a day or so. The plans and specifications were drawn up for the bridge without reference to the town's application for a highway bridge to be erected in connection with it. The work, it is understood, will be rushed through with all possible despatch, as a lock is to be placed just at the point where the Grand Trunk at present crosses the canal near the Little Lake.

STREET AND BRIDGE EXPENDITURE.

The Outlay This Year Will, it is Said, be Very Heavy.

A great deal of money will be spent this year on the streets.

At the meeting of the Street and Bridge Committee last night the condition of several bridges came up for discussion. The Sherbrooke street bridge, it seems, is in bad shape, the girders and plank being about played out. It will be repaired for the present, but a new bridge will be a necessity before long.

The King street bridge was also stated to be badly in need of repair.

A Glorious Age in Which we Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achivements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Their jars are guaranteed not to crack in filling and will be replaced in case they do. Prices the lowest in town. See the "Beaver" or the "Bees" before buying the ordinary jar.

THE DOMINION CABINET.

MR. LAURIER'S ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCED.

A Good Strong Government.

OTTAWA, July 13.—The administration is now in office, and is composed of the following members:

Premier and President of the Privy Council, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

Minister of Trade and Commerce, Sir Richard Cartwright.

Minister of Justice, Sir Oliver Mowat.

Minister of Finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. L. H. Davies.

Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. A. G. Blair.

Minister of Customs, Hon. Wm. Paterson.

Postmaster-General, Hon. Wm. Mulock.

Minister of Public Works, Hon. J. L Tarte.

Minister of Militia and Defence, Hon. F. W. Borden.

Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Sydney A. Fisher.

Minister of Inland Revenue, Sir Henri Joly.

Secretary of State, Hon. R. W. Scott.

Solicitor-General, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick.

Ministers without portfolio, Hon. C. A. Geoffrion, Montreal, and Hon. R. R. Dobell, of Quebec.

Mr. J. D. Edgar will be nominated for the Speakership of the House of Commons and Senator Pelletier will be appointed Speaker of the Senate, while Mr. L. P. Brodeur will be appointed Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons.

[Such is the composition of the administration which under the leadership of Mr. Laurier will give Canada good government. That it is an exceptionally strong administration, the strongest in parliamentary and administrative ability and personal character that the Dominion has ever had, will not be generally denied. There is every ground for the Premier's opinion that the personnel of the new government will be satisfactory to the people at large. Mr. Laurier had abundance of good material and he has used it to advantage. Of his Cabinet, five are ex-premiers of provinces, of whom Sir Oliver is chief. These will bring matured experience to the counsels of the Cabinet. The Cabinet as a whole is excellent, and it is also excellent in the individual fitness of the several ministers for the departments to which they have been assigned. With the advent of a clean-handed, capable and progressive administration installed in power, we may look forward with confidence to the realization of the hopes the people entertain for the dawn of an era of national progress and national prosperity.

If you would have an abundance of dark, glossy hair, if you would have a clean scalp, free from dandruff and irritating humors, or if your hair is faded and gray and you would have its natural colour restored, use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is unquestionably the best dressing.

LACROSSE.

It was understood yesterday that the Ontarios of Port Hope were coming up to win and rumour had it that they had imported a number of crack players for the occasion. As they lined up on the field, however, only one strange face was discernible and as the game progressed it was seen that the owner of it played an inferior game to the regular man of the team.

Port Hope undoubtedly possesses the material out of which a fast team can be made, but it will take longer than one season to perfect the combination. They have a fine defense field already.

The Peterboroughs proved yesterday that they are composed of splendid material. The defense was thought to be a trifle weak, or at least not up to the standard of the home field, but they did capital work yesterday, although Glover was absent through illness. Dobbin played a fine game in goal as usual, and his marvellous throws down the field were greatly admired. He had a good man just in front of him in Brown, who made some fine stops. Mein had a bad man to check in Tutton, (F.) who so deliberately fouled him as to nearly cause a free fight on the field. The majority of Port Hope's team is composed of gentlemanly players, but Tutton and a few more will receive a sharp lesson from a strict referee some bright day. For the Peterboroughs Borland played a dashing game, surpassing in his stick work anything he has done in previous games. His fine work was the cause of frequent applause. Hickey, although not yet in as good shape as he will be, put up a steady game. Logan replaced Glover for the game as third defence man, and during the first part of the game did well. His transfer to the home field later was a mistake. McDonough at centre as a feeder, and Phelan, Rubidge, Lipsett, Galley and McCabe made a grand home field, which it is hard to keep from scoring. Their combination at times yesterday was very pretty, and their play in front of their opponents' flags to draw the defence out was particularly worthy of praise.

Lionel King makes an exceptionally fine field captain.

The two teams lined up as follows:

PETERBOROUGH.		PORT HOPE.
Dobbin	goal	Crowhurst
Brown	point	Raymond
Mein	c ver	Nattrass
Borland	1st defence	Clegg
Hickey	2nd defence	Stott
Logan	3rd defence	Hayden
McDonough	centre	G Tutton
Phelan	3rd home	Burt
Rubidge	2nd home	Crowhurst
Lipsett	1st home	Coleman
Galley	outside home	F Tutton
McCabe	inside home	Marvin
L King	field captain	D Hosey

Referee—Mr. Duncan, Cobourg.

McDonough took the ball on the face off at nine minutes to four, and from the start it was anybody's game as the sphere besieged first one goal and then the other. The Peterborough's had several chances to score, as had the visitors, but the shots on goal were wild. Phelan finally made a good one on the Port Hope flags, which was very cleverly stopped by Crowhurst; one by Galley was also stopped. The home field then got in some nice combination work and drew out the visitors' defence, when Rubidge passed to Lipsett, who in turn passed to McCabe, the latter scoring. Time 17 minutes.

The second game was more scientifically played than the first and some fine combination work was seen on both sides. Crowhurst made several more fine stops, but the ball was sent between the posts three times and still the umpire refused to give the Peterboroughs a game. This caused a complaint to be lodged and the umpire was deposed, after which it didn't take long to score, the ball passing from McDonough to Rubidge to Lipsett, who did the necessary. Time 23 minutes. Score 2—0 in favour of Peterborough.

The third game was opened by a concentrated and brilliant attack on the Peterborough flags and Dobbin had to work hard for the first time during the game. He was equal to the emergency, however, but it was fully five minutes before the war was carried into the visitors' territory. Once the Peterborough home had the sphere the rest was easy. Rubidge scored in five minutes. Score, 3—0 in favour of Peterborough.

During the fourth game there were a number of disagreements on the field and in order to avoid any serious outbreak Port Hope decided to acknowledge itself defeated and have the game called.

The standing of the series in this district is now as appended:

	Won.	Lost.
Peterborough	2	0
Port Hope	1	1
Cobourg	0	2

The work of Peterboroughs home field is grand and their combination perfect. Individual mention in this connection is impossible as all play an equally fine game.

The referee did not give satisfaction to either team.

Orillia comes down for a game on July 23rd, a week from Thursday, and as it is the day on which the weekly half holiday falls there should be a big crowd to see the match. It will be a test of Peterborough's strength.

ONTARIO'S NEW PREMIER.

By the retirement of Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. A. S. Hardy becomes Premier of the Province of Ontario, and none will be found to deny that Sir Oliver's mantle has fallen upon worthy shoulders. In all respects Mr. Hardy is the fitting successor of the late Premier. He has been associated as Minister of Crown Lands since 1889, having entered the Cabinet as Provincial Secretary in 1867. He has thus served his apprenticeship to statecraft in a grand school—the honoured and trusted associate of Sir Oliver Mowat for half a score of years and a faithful supporter since the late Premier's accession to power in 1874. Mr. Hardy, during his Parliamentary and Ministerial life, has shown qualities that have their fitting recognition in his advancement to the Premiership. He has been Sir Oliver's right hand man and a great source of strength to the party, and he has been a most efficient and satisfactory administrator of one of the most important provincial departments. He is a man of integrity, ability and efficiency and these qualities exhibited in the most conspicuously successful manner have long marked Mr. Hardy as the inevitable successor to the premiership when the late incumbent should resign the reins of government. Mr. Hardy carries to his new office a full and practical knowledge of the administrative requirements of the province and the ability, energy and tact necessary to the successful application of that knowledge. In every respect we can heartily approve the wisdom of Mr. Hardy's promotion and we most heartily congratulate him upon the practical recognition of his eminent services in the past and his undoubted ability and statesmanship as implied in his elevation to the premiership, which we hope he will long be spared to hold to his own honour and the advantage of this great province.

The new Premier has a very pleasing and attractive personality. He is a brilliant and incisive speaker both in the House and on the platform, and has shown during his long representative career that he is equally at home in the Legislature and in the committee rooms. He is well versed in the public questions of the day, has the details of questions at his finger ends, and is quick to grasp and apply his special knowledge with a readiness and fitness that have always distinguished him. We have met with a great loss in the departure of Sir Oliver Mowat from the domain of Provincial politics, but so far as a capable Premier is concerned, Hon. Mr. Hardy makes the best successor that could be named, and we have no doubt that the spirit of the late Premier, which from long association Mr. Hardy must have imbibed, added to his own great abilities and other necessary qualities, will enable the new premier to continue the wise and salutary administration that has blessed the province for the past quarter of a century. While heartily congratulating Hon. Mr. Hardy on his new dignity, we can also at the same time congratulate the Premier of Ontario on the accession of Hon. Arthur Sturges Hardy, Q.C., to the honourable and responsible position of Premier of the premier Province of the premier Colony of the great Empire.

AN ELOQUENT DIVINE.

Two Powerful Sermons in St. Andrews on Sunday last.

An eloquent divine from Kingfisher, Okla., occupied the pulpit of St. Andrews church, Peterborough, on Sunday last, and, it is fitting to say to the entire satisfaction of everybody present. The sermon was a strong and eloquent presentation of the text Rom. 15.—"The strong ought to help the weak."

At the close of the sermon the Lord's Supper was dispensed and the whole constituted a most blessed service.

The very closest attention was given without any apparent lassitude. Happy are that people who are in such an atmosphere if only for one short hour on the Sabbath day.

The Rev. gentleman is the guest of Mr. R. S. Davidson, whose wife's mother, Mrs. Thos. Menzies, formerly of this place, has been the means of introducing him to the people of Peterborough.

He preached in the evening another such a sermon, and many were the expressions of delight and appreciation that could be heard from those who had the pleasure of attending these services.

M. L. HENRY & CO.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder that if left to itself will go on and on till it develops seriously.

When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. The time to cure a disease is at the beginning and better than all is to so watch your health that disease will never come. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold.

That is the principle on which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood; it puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order. Makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health.

"I got a cancer on my tongue and had it cut out. I consulted fifteen different physicians without deriving any benefit. At last I turned to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I persisted in its use and my health is better than ever before. Formerly every accidental wound I received began to fester, would not heal; now, such lacerations heal themselves."

Respectfully yours,

Peter J. Shocker

THE EYEBROWS.

The Hinis Fashion Sends Out For Their Proper Care.

It is really wonderful to see how very little attention is bestowed, as a rule, on the eyebrows and the lashes, says Womankind. A woman will worry herself thin and make the lives of her household unendurable if her hair is falling off, or she has a pimple on her chin, but she pays less than no regard to the state of any other part of her face. As long as there are enough lashes to protect the eyes and the eyebrows are thick enough to make their presence known, she rests content—unaware, perhaps, that much of the attractiveness of her face entirely depends on these minor points that she seems to despise.

Not everyone possesses that delicate, high-arched curve that is the height of perfection in an eyebrow, or the long curling lashes without which no heroine of fiction ever yet is complete. As a rule, scantiness of hair characterizes the one and short stubbiness the other. A great deal of this unloveliness is owing to the lack of care which nurses and mothers take of their children's appearance and the stupid habits they let a child get into regarding them.

Eyebrows to be perfect should be slightly arched, and the hair of the same length and softness. It should not be too bushy, or it makes us look unduly fierce and masculine; or too scanty, so that we look characterless and insipid. The color should be a shade darker than the hair.

The brows must never be rubbed or brushed, except from the roots to the ends. Some people contract a bad habit in childhood of rubbing them the other way, and the effect is both grotesque and painful to behold. The hairs will never after lie as flat as they ought to do, and bristle in unexpected places. A tiny comb and brush should be used daily on them to keep them soft and smooth. They should be most carefully washed every day, and the same care must be taken about the direction they are rubbed in. They should have vaseline gently smoothed over them once or twice a week. This will keep them in perfect health and serve to strengthen and thicken them. Where they are very scanty and coming out very much, there is nothing better to use than a few drops of castor oil in a little paraffin.

They are sometimes apt to get a little scurfy. When this is the case vaseline must be put on the spot, and it must be bathed with hot water and a little soap till it is cured. On no account must it be rubbed.

Eyelashes should be long and curling, and when they are like this, they are most attractive and bewitching. A child's lashes may be slightly clipped now and then at the extreme points, and will be longer and better in consequence. But this should never be done when a person grows older, as the only effect it has then is make them coarse and stubby.

ONE HONEST MAN

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P O. Box 383, London, Ont.

For Dyspepsia and Bad Blood Humors Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is unexcelled.

Mr. Geo. Reid, G.T.R. Operator, New Hamburg, Ont., under date of March 3rd, 1896, writes as follows: "I was troubled for two years with Boils and Dyspepsia of the worst kind. Tried several medicines, but none gave much relief. Until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound my blood was in a dreadful state, but I am happy to say your medicine cured me."

DAINTY BEDSPREADS.

Some Things That Comfort the Rich on Summer Nights.

The first object of importance in the bedroom is the bed. If this is comfortable, rightly made which, under Norah's hands, it seldom is, and prettily draped, the rest of the room is easily managed. It is a mistake to strive after artistic effects unless you have the true artistic instinct. During the recent craze for fancywork there has been much wasting of precious eyesight and time that might have been better employed over the embroidery of bedspreads in wash silks that sometimes do not wash, says a writer in the New York Herald.

If you can drape your bed irrespective of cost there is nothing richer or handsomer than renaissance lace on Brussels net. If your soul yearns for embroidery, there are heavy linen hand-embroidered and hemstitched spreads, with drawn-work insertion, richly embroidered in raised satin stitch in cotton, white or colors.

The old Marseilles quilt, which has held undisputed sway, has now a rival in the patent satine embroidered spreads. These show a satine finished face, with heavily raised border and sprays in floral effects closely resembling hand embroidery, in heavy raised satin stitch. You may pay for them anything from $2.50 way up to $25, but after you have reached the $10 mark they are exquisitely embroidered by hand to an appealing extent, when you put yourself in the place of the worker. This class of goods is imported from England, the embroidery being done by the country woman adjacent to towns where the goods are manufactured. You find them in white, pink blue and yellow. So extensively have these goods superseded the Marseilles quilts that in an order for 600 spreads sent by a New York linen house, only ten were of Marseilles. Generally the embroidery is done in cotton floss, but a few exceptions are found done in silk by machine, in exquisite shades of pale yellow, old rose, blue, pink or green. The effect is extremely rich, and the price about half of those worked by hand.

The satine spreads are also shown with a deep border in a raised design, then a floral border in colors, dogwood or wild roses in daintiest shades, and more of the raised effect, with the center covered with sprays in the design of the border. The printing is hand-stamped and in absolutely fast colors. The beauty of any of these spreads is greatly enhanced by a deep fall of lace, which is sewn on by hand. This may be of heavy torchon, antique or renaissance, according to the quality of the spread.

For summer use, and more especially for one's cottage in the country, the Ariel spreads of light, figured dimity are to be recommended. For trimming these comes a pretty Vandyke fringe. The whole thing is so suggestive of sweetness and country scents and lavendered sheets that I was not sure that I did not prefer them to the more costly ones.

Summer blankets of a lightness as to weight that would scarce embarrass a fairy are shown in colors to suit the furnishings of any room, and instead of being left double, to the dismay of the unwary sleeper for whose discomfort they are always put on wrong end up, they are cut in two and handsomely bound with satin ribbon in white or colors.

Mattress pads in all sizes are shown. They are light and easily washed and a great improvement on the muslin cases with which neat housewives have heretofore enveloped their mattresses.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

Costumes for Garden Parties

Of all the pretty gowns which are included in the summer wardrobe, the prettiest and daintiest are those designed to wear at garden parties and summer out-door entertainments. There are so many different designs possible in these costumes, and so much opportunity for effective trimming, as well as the use of most fascinating fabrics, that it is scarcely to be wondered at that these gowns play so important a part in buying summer clothes.

Heavy materials and dark colorings are the exception to the rule, and while not absolutely tabooed, are not considered smart even for elderly ladies to wear. And, by-the way, a garden party is one of the few entertainments to which young and old are invited, and it devolves upon the middle-aged woman to pay strict attention to what they wear, for their gowns will be quite as much en evidence as the more brightly colored ones worn by the younger people. While the bright colors, so fashionable at present, are not often becoming to gray hair, it is a mistake for women whose hair has turned gray to feel it incumbent upon themselves always to wear black. Soft grays, lavenders and purples, and even white, are as permissible for the matron as for the maid. Southern women, as represented by favorite heroines in fiction, and in their beautiful every-day life as well, have always had a fancy for white, and the finest of laces and organdies and the richest of laces were used by them for their summer gowns.—Harper's Bazar.

A Good Story

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

B.C. Tombs Intact.

Five intact tombs of the second and third centuries before Christ have been discovered at Camarina, in eastern Sicily, by Dr. Orsi, though the greater part of the burial places had been plundered in ancient times. At Noto Vecchio he has found three prehistoric cemeteries, a Jewish and three small Christian catacombs. He will end the season with excavations in the forum of Syracuse.

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

The Latest Fashions

Some home-made shirt waists have deep sailor collars edged with ruffings of white embroidery. The eye is grateful for the change.

A chatelaine of silver, from which are suspended a pretty coin purse, vinaigrette and boutonniere will be found a really useful addition to a chic traveling toilet.

Lips to be perfection must be soft and healthy-looking, with a pretty red color in them. Deep red lips have something startling about them, and only look well when seen on very young children.

A silver or gold belt-slide and safety pin combined is a novel and timely invention, as it is warranted to prevent the unsightly divorce of wayward shirt waist and a too emancipated dress skirt.

Flowers are worn on everything; at the waist, on the collar, on the bodice, in pocket holes of jackets—wherever there is a vacancy—but the place they fill charmingly is the back of summer hats, where they congregate, not in trails or garlands, but in serried masses.

New and striking effects in the way of cotton gowns always appear after the first of May. New cotton crepes, organdies, dimities and piques delight the eyes of everyone able to wear cotton gowns. I say "able," for many women from climate, health or occupation are debarred from wearing any but woolen gowns. Even heavy Irish linen has been taken for midsummer wear, and gold lace appears on grass linen.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Hot milk is the newest panacea for all complexion ills. If the face be wrinkled, sallow, freckled or otherwise afflicted, hot milk, say the enthusiasts over this new remedy, will produce a cure. Converts declare that the face, after being washed with milk at night feels wonderfully refreshed while the skin soon becomes very white and soft. Some even go so far as to pour a generous quantity of milk into the water for the bath, and claim that it is positively magical in removing fatigue.

The exercises for restoring the plumpness of throats are as follows: Shut the teeth firmly and thrust the head forward; then, still keeping the jaws clenched, move the head backward as though against some force pressing upon it. Next turn the head to the left and placing the right hand, with outspread finger tips, partly on the neck and partly behind the ear turn the body slowly to the right against the steady pressure of the hand, which must be as strong as possible without actually preventing the movement of the head. Repeat the process alternately, six times to the right and six to the left.

Once upon a time—and that not very long ago—men were all agreed that a woman, to look her best, should be robed either in black or white. Of course the women themselves scouted this monstrous idea. They realized that men, whose own wearing apparel is limited very closely to white and black, merely spoke out of their own ignorance. That they did not know. Hence lovely woman kept on in her own sweet way, wearing all the colors that she chose, and glorifying in their brightness. She has not changed, but the men seem slowly veering round. In a recent novel Marion Crawford puts in a word for blue. "A perfectly fitting dark blue dress," he says, "is an ideal gown," but adds, "one that few women can successfully wear!" That shows how much he knows about it, even if he is a famous novelist. Than dark blue no color is easier to wear. I can show you twenty women who look well in navy to one who finds black becoming! But what's the use?—Polly, in Chicago Times Herald.

Of late all sorts of new ideas have been thought of for portieres and draperies. People are apparently becoming tired of the hangings of chenile, plush or brocades and are hinting for something new. Portieres made of woven silk rags are produced by exactly the same method as the ordinary rag carpet. The silk is cut or torn into strips of even width and any haphazard length, and are even lapped upon each other and sewed together without regard to color, except that two pieces of the same color are joined to each other. If there are few or many of some unusual and brilliant color they must be scattered so as to appear at intervals over the entire surface. Any weaver of rag carpeting—and they can be easily found either in town or country—will take the sewed rags and weave them into a panel of the required length and width, and this is usually about three and a half feet in width by seven in length. The warp should be of coarse linen thread, either black or dark blue.

The handsomer qualities of silk, or, to speak more correctly, the more expensive qualities, are being made up for summer outfits. Poult de soie is a fashionable material, and comes in exquisite shades. A maize or corn color is among the novelties, and when trimmed with white lace is exceedingly becoming. It used to be thought that anything approaching yellow should be exclusively worn by brunettes, but never was there a greater mistake, for blondes look equally well in that color. These heavy silks used to be considered suitable only for evening wear, but we have now no fixed laws for material or coloring for different occasions. Gray is lovely in poult de soie, and a robin's egg blue is the softest and most delicate thing imaginable. Lace, embroideries, mousseline de soie and chiffon all combine satisfactorily with these heavy silks, but black lace, unless for older women, should never be chosen to trim them, although there are many gowns that have been lately made up that have fine black lace on the solid colors. White against the soft shading is usually becoming, and gray made up with white and touches of yellow gives a beautifully picturesque effect.—Harper's Bazar.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

Handkerchiefs.

The woman who economizes in handkerchiefs, either in their number or in their quality, places herself outside the pale of daintiness at once. Every woman should have handkerchiefs enough for every possible emergency. They should be of moderate size, of modern fineness and generally unembellished except by hemstitching and a monogram or an edge of narrow lace. Some large, soft silk ones for the inevitable cold, and some small, cobwebby, point lace edged ones for festivities are necessary.

The Best Sort of Starch.

Housemaids don't like to make it, because it is a good deal of bother, but there is no starch so good as that made from ordinary oat. It will last four times as long as will that made from what we call "starch," and which is much easier to prepare. It looks better, too, from the first, and it is, in fact, in every way an improvement on what was invented to be an improvement upon it.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

unfortunate

Cod-liver oil suggests consumption, which is almost unfortunate.

Its best use is before you fear consumption; when you begin to get thin, weak, run n; then is the prudent to begin to take care, and the best way to take care is to supply the system with needed fat and strength. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, will bring back plumpness to those who have lost it, and make strength where raw cod-liver oil would be a burden.

A substitute only imitates the original.

On Wednesday the Grand Lodge will open in the opera house and the sessions will continue till Thursday afternoon. On Wednesday evening the delegates will be taken for a sail on the bay on the steamers Hero and Merritt and music will be provided for both boats.

J. J. Mason, Grand Secretary, is a veritable encyclopedia for the delegates and he is kept busy.

Taken altogether the Grand Officers are a most representative lot of men and a more jovial party would be hard to find.

The Peterborough delegation to the Grand Lodge left for Belleville on this afternoon train and was composed of the following representatives from the local Lodges:

Peterborough Lodge—Messrs. Alex. Gibson, Robert Logan and Wm. Martin.

Corinthian Chapter—Messrs. R. E. Wood, District Deputy; W. D. Parker, D. Burritt and W. F. Johnston.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

HOT WEATHER COMFORT AND HEALTH.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes Life Happy and Enjoyable.

The hurry, worry, bustle and excitement of modern life in business circles and society is producing untold misery in our midst. We see the results in nervousness, prostration, insomnia, mental depression and dyspepsia. These troubles are developed to an alarming extent during the intolerable heat of summer. It is then that thousands are thrown on beds of sickness and suffering.

For the benefit of such as are now suffering, we confidently recommend Paine's Celery Compound as an unfailing and sure health giver. It strengthens the nervous system, quickly purifies the blood, and gives that sweet and regular sleep that conduces to permanent health. When dyspepsia is the bane of life, Paine's Celery Compound strengthens the stomach, and acts as a tonic and stimulant to all the organs of digestion. The great medicine gives clearness of brain and intellect; it gives that vim, snap and energy of disposition that is required in the workshop, office, countinghouse, and in the home circle. It makes the weak strong, by bracing up unstrung nerves, building up flesh, bone and muscle. When Paine's Celery Compound is used in summer, every trace of disease is banished, and every prevailing pestilence and plague is avoided.

NORTH SMITH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The first rain of any account for over a month fell here on Friday evening of last week.

The grasshoppers are very plentiful in this part, but as yet they have not done much damage to the crops.

The probability of Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., for West Peterborough, becoming a cabinet minister is received with satisfaction by the electors of North Smith.

News was received here on July 11th, of the death of Mrs. James Davis, of Nebraska, widow of the late James Davis, formerly a resident of North Smith, which took place on July 4th, caused from heart disease. Deceased leaves behind to mourn her loss four sons and three daughters, James, of this place, J. H., who resides near Young's Point, Stephen, in Ohio, and the three daughters and Alexander in Nebraska. She was a kind and loving mother, a good neighbour and a kind friend. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of affliction.

On Sunday July 4th, a funeral sermon was preached by Rev. G. R. Clare, in memory of the late Mrs. J. R. Craft, who departed this life on June 21st. The memorial service was largely attended. The rev. gentleman preached a very instructive sermon and was listened to with rapt attention.

On Sunday July 12th, the members of Wesley L.O.L., No. 417, marched to the Methodist church in a body, where a sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. White. The speaker read for his lesson the 12th chap. of Romans, and took for his text, Psalms, 20th chap. and fifth verse: "We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners." After service the brethren marched back to their hall, when a vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker, the choir and the officials for granting the use of the church for the occasion. Mr. White preached one of the most instructive sermons that the members of the Orange body ever had the privilege of listening to here.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

THE ENGINEER RESPONSIBLE

For the Terrible Loss of Life at Logan, Ia., on Saturday Night.

Omaha, Neb., July 13.—The responsibility for the accident at Logan, Ia., on Saturday night rests on Engineer Montgomery, of the ill-fated excursion train. His orders were to wait at Logan for the fast mail and fast freight. He started his train out immediately after the mail passed, forgetting about the freight. The head-end collision occurred 20 minutes later on a curve. The heavy freight passed partially over the passenger. All the people killed were in the front coach of the excursion train.

The Breath of the Pines.

Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat and lung troubles are cured by Norway Pine Syrup. Price 25 and 50 cents. It breathes out the healing virtues of the pine forests.

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and lung troubles.

MR. HARDY IS PREMIER

Will Be Sworn Into the Office To-Day

BY LIEUT.-GOVERNOR KIRKPATRICK

The Cabinet as It Will Appear Now That the Grand Old Man Has Gone Into the Federal Government—Messrs. Cartwright and Eastede Remain.

Toronto, July 14.

Sir Oliver Mowat is no longer Premier of Ontario. Before he was sworn in as Minister of Justice in Hon. Mr. Laurier's Cabinet yesterday, his resignation of the chief office in the gift of the people of Ontario, which he has held for 24 years, was communicated to Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick.

At a late hour last night Hon. Mr. Hardy had not been informed of Sir Oliver's retirement, nor had he received any message from the Governor. His Honor was out of the city yesterday, and when he returns this morning he will no doubt call upon the present Commissioner of Crown Lands to form a Government, which he will proceed to do.

Hon. John Dryden left for the Northwest yesterday. He will remain away several weeks. Mr. James Conmee, the wily, who spent Sunday in town, left for Detroit yesterday. Being sick of Federal politics, he will now be content to let his light shine in the provincial arena.

Hon. David Mills and J. A. Barron, Q.C., M.P., of Lindsay, came up from Ottawa yesterday morning and registered at the Rossin. Late in the day, Mr. Mills left for his home in London, but Mr. Barron remained over. Mr. Barron would not admit last night that Hon. Mr. Mills was much disconcerted at being left out of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet, nor would he say that he was satisfied with the way things had gone.

Asked if Mr. Mills would accept a seat on the Supreme Court bench when a vacancy occurred, Mr. Barron said he would.

The latest rumor is to the effect that proceedings are on foot to unseat Mr. Mulock, M.P., in North York, for an alleged breach of the Election Act. The startling story concerning Mr. Laurier's Postmaster-General is, however, so far unconfirmed.

Hon. W. D. Balfour was in Toronto yesterday, straightening things up in the Speaker's Chambers. He is going over to St. Catharines this morning.

CHIEFS TAKE CHARGE

And the Big Departments Will be Well Managed.

PARLIAMENT MEETS AUGUST 19

The Official Proclamation Was Issued by the Governor-General Yesterday—Hon. Mr. Paterson, Minister of Customs, Has Not Yet Decided Upon His Riding.

Ottawa, July 14.—The new ministers took formal charge of their departments to-day and several of them made a personal acquaintance with the officers of their respective departmental staffs.

Mr. Tarte is credited with having called for the complete list of the employes of the Public Works Department, an action it was feared preliminary to a number of heads falling into the basket. A wave of relief passed through the department subsequently when it was ascertained that Mr. Tarte's object was to ascertain the amount of the departmental pay roll in order that the clerks and employes might draw their monthly salary this week. This was far more welcome to the departmental staff than a suggestion of decapitation, and needless to say, barring the 8 o'clock move, the Minister of Public Works is a popular man in his department to-day.

There is every indication of an immediate scattering of Ministers to their constituencies. Mr. Blair has gone East to straighten out the affairs of the Provincial Government of New Brunswick before he quits.

Mr. Paterson is anxious to return to Brantford to rearrange his business affairs, preparatory to becoming a resident of Ottawa. Similarly the other Ministers are not anxious to put in much time here during the dog days, although, seeing that Parliament is to meet on the 19th of next month, some work will be necessary. Mr. Paterson, by the way, says it is not definitely settled what constituency he will run for, and his trip home this week is for the purpose of deciding this point.

Sir Henry Joly de Lotbiniere was this morning sworn in as Controller of Inland Revenue, and assumed charge of his department. Sir Henry cannot be sworn in as Privy Councillor, except in the presence of His Excellency, unless a special commission is issued to Mr. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council. As a consequence, Mr. Geoffrion has not been able to take the oath of Privy Councillor.

An extra of The Canada Gazette was issued to-day, summoning Parliament for Wednesday, the 19th. It says that "for certain causes and considerations, we have thought fit further to prorogue the same to Wednesday, the 19th day of the month of August next, so that neither you nor any of you, on the said 18th day of July, instant, at our city of Ottawa to appear are to be held and constrained, for we do will that you and each of you be as to us, in this matter, entirely exonorated; commanding and by the tenor of these presents enjoining you and each of you, and all others in this behalf interested, that on Wednesday, the 19th day of the month of August next, at our city of Ottawa, aforesaid, personally, you be and appear for the despatch of business, to treat, do, act and conclude upon those things which in our said Parliament of Canada, by the common council of our said Dominion, may, by the favor of God, be ordained."

Mr. Davies remarked to-day that the only business which the Government would ask the House to pass would be the estimates, and that every effort will be made to close up the business of the session as speedily as possible. He remarked that it rested very much with the Opposition now as to what the duration of Parliament would be.

The Treasury Board, which is constituted of Sir Richard Cartwright, Messrs. Borden, Scott, Tarte and Davies, met this morning and this afternoon, and again to-night the Cabinet was in session. Among the business transacted, it is said, is the appointment of Lt.-Col. the Hon. M. Aylmer as Adjutant-General of Militia. Colonel Moore has been acting A.G. for some time. His appointment

One of the coolest men around Ottawa during the past few days has been Jim Sutherland. The chief Ministerial whip has had as much to do in the formation of the Government as any other man except the Premier. Jim is a devoted follower of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. It is said he is not in politics for what can be made out of the game; he is there from conviction. And when Mr. Laurier offered him a portfolio, Jim magnanimously stood aside and suggested to his chief to look elsewhere.

Rumor has it to-day that Mr. Laurier has sent a communication to Mr. Greenway requesting him to come to Ottawa. If this report be true, two motives may have led to this course of action, one being to secure Mr. Greenway's advice respecting a Manitoba representative in the Federal Cabinet; the other is to talk over the school question.

Mr. F. C. O'Hara, late of The Herald, Baltimore, M.D., has been appointed private secretary to Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. O'Hara is a Canadian, a native of Chatham, Ont., but for five years has been engaged in newspaper work in the United States. During the recent campaign he wrote the notable interview from Baltimore with Cardinal Gibbons upon Mr. Laurier, in which the Cardinal said: "With such men as he (Laurier) the truth will prevail." Mr. O'Hara has had a varied newspaper career. Upon the outbreak of the Cuban revolution he was sent there in the interests of his journal, but was expelled for telling the truth. He also made himself conspicuous as correspondent during the big coal strikes and riots in West Virginia in 1894.

All sessional messengers of the House of Commons have been notified not to report for duty at the coming session unless specially instructed. This notification, it is said, has been sent out by order of Mr. Edgar, prospective Speaker.

Arrangements are being made for the temporary administration of all the departments. To-day Mr. Laurier, in addition to his other duties, is attending to the Finance Department till Mr. Fielding takes office and the Hon. R. W. Scott is Acting Minister of the Interior.

One of the first official acts of Mr. Davies was to cause an intimation to be sent to the Maritime Provinces that the close season for lobsters would be rigidly enforced this year.

Mr. Mulock, Postmaster-General, left for Toronto last night.

Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, left for Montreal this afternoon.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper leaves for Halifax to-day.

Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick left for Quebec this morning.

Mme. Laurier has joined the Premier here.

Senator Miller of Arichat, N.S., is here on private business.

Col. Prior leaves for Halifax to-morrow.

T. Dixon Craig, M.P., arrived here to-night.

Mr. L. Smith of the law firm of Bishop & Smith has been appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario Police Magistrate for the County of Carleton.

The Clerk of the Crown in Chancery reports to-day that there are some 30 returns which he has not yet received.

SHORTIS WAS NEAR DEATH.

The Valleyfield Murderer Has Had a Hard Time of It since He Went to St. Vincent de Paul.

Montreal, July 14.—Cuthbert Valentine Shortis, the Valleyfield murderer, came within an ace of death recently in the penitentiary. For some hours the physicians attending him had very little hope of recovery. His almost fatal illness was brought about by the accident which he met with in April last, in having his thumb almost cut off by a circular saw while at work in the carpenter shop. Though he is now considered out of danger, he is still confined to the penitentiary hospital and under medical supervision. The accident, the officials say, was the result of his own carelessness in placing his hand too near the saw when driving lumber to it. The thumb was almost wholly severed at the joint, and, though Shortis lost a great deal of blood and became deadly pale, it was only after he had been removed to the hospital that he fainted.

Dr. Gaudet, the penitentiary physician, succeeded in putting the injured thumb in place and bandaging it. For some days it was doing well, but one night while dreaming, Shortis explains, he tore the bandage away. The doctor had much difficulty in fixing it up again, but he did so. The next day, however, the arm was swollen out of all proportion and erysipelas had set in. Shortis' condition became most critical, but through skilful treatment he was saved and is now nearing complete recovery. His mother corresponds regularly with him and the letters from Ireland are always anxiously awaited.

John Fahey is still connected with the hospital ward and necessarily sees a great deal of Shortis.

ONE MURDER UNAVENGED.

The Smith's Falls Jury Says Thomas Barnes Was Killed by a Pistol in the Hands of Persons Unknown.

Smith's Falls, Ont., July 14.—The adjourned inquest in the Barnes murder case was resumed this morning, and, as no further light has been revealed, it was decided, on consultation with the county attorney, to close the matter. The jury before dismissal rendered the following verdict: "That the deceased, Thomas Barnes, came to his death by a pistol shot at the hands of some person or persons unknown."

This concludes the case for the present, unless something occurs to justify the authorities in taking it up again.

IS IT CAPT LARSON'S BODY?

One of the Crew of the Wrecked Africa Found Near Stokes Bay, Ont.

Stokes Bay, Ont., July 14.—The body of a man who is supposed to have been Capt. H. P. Larson of the steambarge Africa, which was wrecked on Loyal Island during a storm on the night of Oct. 7 last, was found on the lake shore about seven miles from here to-day. The body is in a badly decomposed condition, but the clothing is well preserved and it may lead to positive identification.

Oswego's Celebration.

Oswego, N.Y., July 14.—The centennial celebration of the evacuation of Fort Ontario to-morrow promises to be a grand affair. An immense crowd will be in attendance. All railroads running into Oswego will run special trains and excursions by boat from Canada are announced.

SENSATION IN PARIS.

A Man Fires Point Blank at the President.

IS HE LUNATIC OR ANARCHIST?

Four Revolver Chambers Not Discharged Proved to Have Been Loaded With Blank Cartridges—The Culprit When Arrested Said He Simply Desired to Attract Attention.

Paris, July 14.—What is claimed in some quarters as an attempt to assassinate President Felix Faure was made at 2.50 this afternoon at the Parade Ground at Longchamps. The day was the 107th anniversary of the fall of the Bastile and was celebrated in the usual manner, including a review of the troops at Longchamps, which drew a very large concourse of people. Among those present were some of the members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, who were yesterday elected members of the Cercle Militaire.

President Faure, accompanied by Prime Minister Meline, Gen. LeMouton de Boisdeffre, Chief of Staff of the Army, and Gen. Tournier, Chief of the President's military household, left the Palace of the Elysee in open carriage and drove to Longchamps, it having been arranged that the President should review the troops.

As the carriage passed through the Porte du Moulin entrance to the Parade Grounds, it was surrounded by troops, who were to escort M. Faure to the reviewing stand. Before the vehicle had proceeded far a tall, fair and correctly-dressed man of about 35 years of age stepped slightly in advance of the crowd and drew a revolver, which some eye-witnesses declare he discharged point blank at the President.

Immediately there was a scene of the greatest excitement, and it would undoubtedly have gone hard with the man had he not at once been seized by the gendarmes who were standing by.

The man resisted arrest, and claimed that he had not fired the revolver with any intention of injuring the President and that in fact the weapon had only been loaded with blank cartridges. He claimed that he had discharged the revolver in exuberance of spirits. Some of those who stood close by him when the President entered the grounds declare that two shots were fired. An examination of the revolver that was made by the police appears to bear out the prisoner's statement that blank cartridges were used, for in four of the chambers cartridges with no bullets were found. Attempts at the police station to learn anything further from the prisoner were of no avail. He stated that his name was Francois and refused to say anything further. The prisoner appeared to be insane.

In the meantime the news of the affair had spread like wildfire and the most exaggerated reports gained credence. The crowd of spectators surged towards the President's carriage and the troops had a difficult task in keeping the excited people back.

The police informed a reporter of La Presse that Francois is the same lunatic who recently threw a bundle of petitions from the gallery of the Chamber of Deputies into the body of the House, thereby causing a semi-panic among the members, who imagined that the bundle was a bomb.

Late this afternoon Francois was examined by Prefect Lepine. He was then more communicative and told the Prefect that in discharging the revolver he merely wished to attract attention. He reiterated his statements that he had no wish to injure anybody and that the weapon was loaded with only blank cartridges. Francois was formerly a street surveyor employed by the Municipal Council of Paris, but was discharged, owing to his presumed Anarchist tendencies. The special offence which led to his discharge was the publication of revolutionary verses. He lives at No. 46 Rue Clery. His residence was searched by the police, but nothing of a suspicious nature was found. The officials believe that he is insane.

During the commotion which followed the firing, a reputed Anarchist named Boulant was arrested for saying: "That's the sort of fellow for me. He has done the proper thing."

This approval of outrage is a penal offence under M. Dupuy's anti-Anarchist laws, and Boulant stands a good chance of spending a few years in prison.

The feeling of the crowd at the reviewing grounds was illustrated by its treatment of a waiter at the cafe at the Grande Cascade. In some way this man was mistaken by the crowd for Francois, and a savage attack was made upon him. One of his eyes was torn from its socket, and he was almost lynched before the police were able to rescue him.

The news of the shooting had preceded the President to the city and as he was recognized by the people on the streets, through which he passed on his return, he was greeted with cheers and congratulations.

This evening the diplomatic corps and a large number of prominent men called at the Palace of the Elysee and congratulated M. Faure. Several sovereigns sent telegraphic messages of congratulations.

FRENCH SHORE QUESTION.

The Newfoundland Fishermen, It is Said, are Undergoing Hardships Owing to French Encroachments.

St. John's, Nfld., July 14.—The French shore trouble continues to be a prolific subject of discussion. Representations from the scene show great hardships the local fishermen labor under this season owing to the vexatious French encroachment and the repressive measures enforced by both the British and French warships, which make the resident Newfoundlanders the victims of every dispute, being fearful of opposing the French fishermen because of the diplomatic friction which might arise. Intelligent observers think that the outcome of the matter will largely depend on how the pending questions between England and France are settled.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1896.

It will be "one man, one vote"—before long.

Loaded dice in the election game is a thing of the past.

The first protest in the Dominion elections has been filed against the return of Dr. Reid, member-elect for South Grenville.

Queer citizens, our American cousins. The silver West hates the golden East as much as they both hate Great Brita'n.

"Silence is golden; speech is silver." This explains why "silver" tongued Bryan's talk secured him the Democratic nomination.

The Tupper party in the bye elections will sorely miss the piratical advantage they formerly enjoyed in manipulating electoral machinery.

Sir John Macdonald's personal popularity was almost unbounded—and is only equalled by that which Hon. Wilfred Laurier has achieved.

Three of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet Ministers served with Hon. Alex. Mackenzie—himself, Sir Richard Cartwright and Senator Scott.

A clean Cabinet, is the verdict of press and politicians, both Liberal and Conservative, respecting Hon. Wilfred Laurier's administration.

Criticism of the numerical size of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet is premature. He had to take things as he found them. The matter of Cabinet readjustment will come when opportunity presents.

Mr. Laurier didn't have as much trouble as Sir Charles Tupper in getting his Cabinet together. Conservative politicians did not have any wild longings to work with the "great stretcher."

It would appear that there is only one majority, Major McGillivray is entitled to. The Government that gave him his military majority; also it appears through its creatures aimed to be generous and give him an electoral majority.

The Mail and Empire attributes the plague of grasshoppers to the advent of the Liberal party to power. This is all very well for a joke, but the serious part of it is that the plague of grasshoppers will have to be ten times more serious than it now is to equal in destructive effects upon the country's interests, a year of the late government in power.

The Ottawa Correspondent of the Toronto World (Tory) says: "Even Conservatives admit that Mr. Laurier has got together a strong aggregation. Indeed the politicians do not hesitate to say that it is the strongest ministry since the first Confederation Ministry. Whether they will be able to justify this opinion remains to be seen."

In selecting Hon. Wm. Paterson as Minister of Customs, Mr. Laurier has made an excellent choice. His excellent business training will come into very convenient play. And Mr. Paterson possesses the personal qualities that will make him personally popular with the manufacturers and importers with which he has to deal. Mr. Paterson will not assume that importers are thieves in disguise, plotting to rob the public treasury, but citizens worthy of just and respectful treatment.

Hon. Wilfred Laurier has made a sensible move in selecting his Cabinet. He has made Mr. Fisher, a practical farmer, Minister of Agriculture. A Prime Minister who begins by recognizing the existence of a class that constitutes seven-tenths of our population shows good sense. This is the first time since the portfolio was created that a practical farmer has been made Minister of Agriculture. We have had brewers, lawyers and doctors, but never a farmer before. Mr. Fisher, from his practical knowledge, will doubtless find a better way of encouraging the dairy industry than by buying butter at twenty cents a pound and selling it at fourteen cents.

The Cobourg Post of Conservative leanings says:—"Twenty years ago this month, Cobourg witnessed a building boom. A number of buildings were in course of erection and completed. That was during the Mackenzie reign. We are again under Liberal reign, and since the change of government some activity has been shown toward new buildings. Mr. A. Wood has let the contract for an addition to the British that will require 5,000 brick. Another building that will consume 125,000 brick has been let, and yesterday we were told that Mr. G. T. Bickle would build a large addition to his George street property. This only a beginning, but we hope will not be the ending."

Under the heading "A Cabinet of Gentlemen" The Evening Star says:—"The country must of course await the practical test of the new Government, but whether its policy be good or bad, whether its members prove able or incapable administrators, the Ministers will teach the Opposition leaders a much-needed lesson in dignity, and the tone of Parliament will receive a very necessary elevation. The personnel of the Cabinet is unexceptionable. It is a government of gentlemen, of men of unblemished character. The Ministers are honourable men, too broad-minded to indulge in petty squabbling or to be actuated by personal jealousy. Canadians will at least not be ashamed of their Government."

Mr. Sidney Fisher, enters the Cabinet for the first time, but was elected for Brome in 1882, and represented that county in the next Parliament also. His appointment, says the Ottawa Free Press, to the Ministry of Agriculture is a most happy one. He is a practical farmer and a fitting person to take charge of that important department which has, under the neglect of Mr. Angers and the scandalous administration of Dr. Montague, sunk into a most deplorable condition. Reform re-organization is imperatively necessary, and we have no doubt Mr. Fisher will restore this important branch of public economy to its proper position. The agricultural community may be thankful for his appointment.

Talking about that "united Opposition" the Toronto Star (Independent-Tory) says, with significance: "Sir Charles Tupper persists in ignoring the fact that the party has not had a convention since Sir John Macdonald's death, and has, therefore, never really chosen a leader, and he now declares the party to be thoroughly united forming a compact opposition. Many quite as good Conservatives as Sir Charles Tupper will fail to agree with him; they can see the rift in the party, they remember the split before the elections, and they find difficulty in believing that defeat will heal the breach which could not be bridged during the party's tenure of power. The men who would not follow Tupper blindly when in power will not follow him blindly when in opposition." This is only one of the many discordant notes that will be heard from the party lute (with a "rift" in it), while Sir Charles Tupper continues to try to play on it.

THE CHEESE TRADE.

Whether or not it may prove permanent, it is very certain that there has been a slight improvement in the price of cheese, buyers having paid ⅛ to ¼c more money than they were willing to pay last week, both here and in the country. On Monday last the Quebec cheese by boat and rail, amounting to about 6,000 boxes, were supposed to have been sold at 6⅞c, and so they would have been had not a buyer come along who wanted a line to fill an order and paid 6¾c for it, which it seems settled the price which had to be paid for the balance, as there appears to have been an arrangement made to the effect that the highest figure paid for any portion of the cheese should be the ruling one. In this market 7c has been paid for finest: western white and 7⅛ to 7¼c for finest western colored. Therefore the black eye which the market had last week is evidently healing, and it is to be hoped it will not have a relapse.

The statistical position continues to improve, the shipments from this port last week being 61,035 boxes, against 66,503 boxes for the corresponding week last year. From May 1st up to the close of last week the total exports were 353,137 boxes, against 395,508 boxes for the same period in 1895, showing a decrease of 42,370 boxes; but the combined shipments from Montreal and New York for the same period show the still larger decrease of 95,106 boxes. The price of cheese to-day is about 1c lower than at this time last year, and all other provisions are lower, too.—Montreal Bulletin.

HOW ONE MAN GOT HIS PASS.

The employees of the Grand Trunk are annoyed about a letter that has been received by the local superintendent from the general manager. It is understood that in this letter the intimation is made that no more passes are to be extended to the employees unless they merit them. This will put a stop to all the men who are employed getting free journeys, and as it is just vacation time, it comes hard on those who have been depending upon the usual pass.

That reminds us of an incident that occurred in a certain assistant superintendent's office on the Grand Trunk some years ago. A brakeman while off duty wanted to go to a certain place about 20 miles away. He went to the superintendent and asked him for a pass.

"If you were working for a farmer would you expect him to hitch up his team and drive you into town?" was that official's reply to the request.

"No, but I'd consider him a blank mean man if he were driving my way and wouldn't give me a lift."

He got his pass.

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

Copyright by Charles Austin Bates.

There is a theory that advertising pays. There are facts which prove the theory true.

All men who advertise are not successful, but, with rare exceptions, all successful men have been advertisers.

Advertising is the greatest of all modern engines for facilitating business. Beside it the telegraph, the telephone, the locomotive and steamboat are dwarfed. If it were not for advertising these would not be need. Business would not be of sufficient volume to justify their employment. The man in Chicago advertises and the man in St. Paul buys—by telegraph, perhaps—and has his purchase delivered by the locomotive. But the advertising comes first. It always does.

An advertisement in a paper like The Examiner places this information before thousands of buyers, either present or prospective. Count the cost of a suitable advertisement against the possible number of those who will need some special thing on any day. The chances will always be found on the side of the profitability of the advertisement.

Nine times in ten a good ad. will bring more than enough in direct profit to pay for itself, leaving its great cumulative value clear gain. Half the time a good ad. will pay an actual direct profit, but to do this, it must be carefully tended. Treat the newspaper fairly and it will pay every time.

ONE HONEST MAN

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P.O. which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

Dear Sir,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
Morrell Mackenzie.

WHOSE FAULT THIS?

Why Was the Buoy Not Placed at Hillcrest?

THE SAMOA STRIKES THE SHOAL

And Now Lies at the Bottom of Watrous Bay With Her Hull Stove in and Her Big Cargo of Grain Destroyed — Her Consort, the Celtic, is High on the Shoal Itself.

Brockville, Ont., July 14.—One of the worst accidents which have ever been chargeable to the rock shoal in the narrows opposite Hillcrest occurred in broad daylight this forenoon and as a result one of the largest and finest steambarges in the river and lake trade lies at the bottom of Watrous Bay, while her consort is piled hard and fast on the shoal itself. The vessels in question are the steambarge Samoa, owned by Brown & Co., Buffalo, and the barge Celtic, the property of G. K. Jackson, Bay City, Mich. Both had grain cargoes, consigned to the Prescott Elevator, the former carrying 74,000 bushels of oats and the latter 47,822 bushels of corn.

The Celtic is a three-master and an unusually fine vessel. [illegible] tow of the Samoa at the time of the accident.

The accident occurred shortly after 9 o'clock and was witnessed by quite a large number of summer residents at Hillcrest, who were watching the vessels making their way down the channel, which, at that point, is narrow enough to merit the title of narrows. Almost in the centre of this channel, and opposite the lower point of Hillcrest, is located a rock shoal, which has always been a menace to navigation. It was commonly reputed to carry eight or nine feet of water, but it did not, and a couple of years ago the Government spent considerable money in blasting off its top. It was originally intended to mark it with a steel buoy and a buoy was actually sent here, but for some reason or other the idea was abandoned and the money spent in blasting. At the conclusion of the work, it was given out that 14 feet of water had been secured. Whether this was true or not is not known, but all mariners try to give the spot a wide berth, and occasionally do a little swearing because a lighthouse does not distinguish it more clearly.

Capt. Stewart of the Samoa said he knew of the existence of the shoal, but must have got too close to it. He was in charge himself, not having taken on a pilot for the down-river run. At all events, the big steambarge, while running at her usual speed, struck the shoal about the hour named, and with such force that her bottom must have been badly stove in. The water rushed into her hold in a torrent, but Capt. Stewart does not seem to have been rattled. He cast away the towing line and, turning the Samoa about, headed her back for Watrous Bay, where he ran her ashore before she settled to the bottom. In the meantime, the Celtic, left to her own resources, was also carried on the shoal. She struck also with considerable force, but does not seem to have damaged her hull to such an extent as the steamer. Water began to show in her hold, however, and at noon to-day the crew were keeping it clear by working the pumps. She is out fully 14 inches forward and eight inches aft, and will have to be lightered before she can be pulled off.

As to the Samoa, it is impossible to say just how badly she is injured. She lies in 18 feet of water aft and her upper decks are out. She was drawing 16 feet at the time of the accident. Both vessels and their cargoes are insured. Shortly after the accident, Capt. Stewart of the Samoa and Capt. Jackson of the Celtic rowed over to Hillcrest and telephoned a message to Brown & Co. at Buffalo. They then signalled the Empire State, which called in at Hillcrest and brought them down here. They next telephoned to Folger Bros. at Kingston, being anxious to lighter the Celtic as soon as possible and expect assistance at once. A steam pump will also be put in the Samoa.

SIR DONALD COMING HOME.

Does the Canadian High Commissioner in London Intend to Resign His Post? —The Cable Conference.

Montreal, July 14.—A special cable from London says: Sir Donald A. Smith returns to Canada on Saturday. I learn he had intended to return last Saturday week by the Campana, and the visit was then given some political meaning in Canadian circles, but he has decided at the last moment to remain for the Hudson Bay meeting.

His departure now gives rise to the conjecture whether or not he means to resign the High Commissionership, which it is understood he would retain if pressed by the new Ministry.

The fact that the Pacific Cable conference has adjourned till October suggests that Sir Donald's visit to Canada will be of some duration.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell also returns to Canada on Saturday.

Mr. Sandford Fleming remains for a few weeks longer.

This break-up of the cable conference is most disappointing to the supporters of the scheme. It means that the project is thrown over till next year, and gives an opening for the rival United States and French projects to get the first footing in the Pacific. The delay is all the more annoying because it is understood that the conference had made such progress that the application to business details alone was needed to complete the scheme to submit next year to the British, Canadian and Australian legislatures for a state cable, under a joint government trust. This hope is now abandoned.

Hon. T. M. Daly also returns to Canada on Saturday. The change of Ministry has spoiled his immigration mission.

COLUMBIA ON THE ROCKS.

The New Ship of the Pacific Mail S.S. Line in Dangerous Shape and May Break Up.

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—The steamer Columbia of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, Capt. Clark, went ashore about 8 o'clock this morning during a thick fog at Pigeon Point, a rocky projection about half way between San Francisco and Santa Cruz. The big steamer was on her way from Panama to San Francisco. The latest advices from the scene of the accident state that the Columbia is in a dangerous position, severely pounding the rocks, and if she is not soon lightened will go to pieces. The Columbia is a new ship and one of the latest additions to the Pacific fleet of the mail company. She was built in Chester, Pa., in 1892, and is of 3816 tons burden.

A brief despatch received from Picadero at 9.30 to-night states that the Columbia's passengers, 63 in number, and her crew of 90, had all been safely landed. The vessel is pounding heavily on the rocks, and will in all probability be a total wreck. She has on board a mixed cargo, the value of which cannot be ascertained until the bills of lading arrive.

DID HE SUICIDE?

Or Is Ruckdeschel of Buffalo Only Playing a Practical Joke on His Family?

Buffalo, July 14.—William C. F. Ruckdeschel, a night clerk in the employ of the American Express Company, disappeared last Friday night and his family fear he has committed suicide.

He was seen at Niagara Falls on Saturday. It is reported that he wrote a note to his wife informing her that he was about to do away with himself. It concluded something like this: "May God have more mercy on you, my children, than I have had. Good-bye. Your Unfortunate Father."

The police do not believe Ruckdeschel has committed suicide. He is said to be giving to practical joking, and on many occasions is reported to have jocularly threatened to kill himself. He is a large man, 55 years old. He has three children, two girls and a boy, the youngest being about 18 years old. His wife died about six months ago, and last March he married a widow, a Mrs. Trinder, about 45 years old, who came from Canada.

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! This state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examinaton." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

THEY LIKE OLEOMARGARINE.

Germans Will Permit Its Importation—The Law of Civil Marriage.

Berlin, July 14.—The Federal Council has rejected the Oleomargarine Bill, which was passed recently by the Reichstag. This bill, had it become law, would in effect have prohibited the importation of oleomargarine from the United States.

The council has adopted the civil Code Bill relating to civil marriage and the property rights of married women. This bill was passed by the Reichstag on July 1. One provision of this law makes a civil ceremony compulsory, and another makes 21 years the limit of age at which parental consent is required. In the preliminary stages of the bill a clause was stricken out which made incurable insanity a ground for divorce.

ROCHESTER BEATS ALBANY.

Dineen of the Sensational Aggregation Was Hit Hard and Often.

Rochester, July 14.—The home team won from Albany here to-day in an exciting game, which was replete with clean hitting and brilliant fielding. Dineen was in the box for the ex-Canucks, and he was hit safely 18 times, with a total of 24. McFarland was touched up in the first four innings, but after that Albany obtained but two hits. He received great support, especially when men were on bases. Score:

POPULISTS FOR BRYAN.

A Manifesto Advising the Party to Support the Democratic Candidate.

Washington, July 14.—J. P. Turner, Secretary of the National Committee of the People's party, issued a manifesto to-day advising all Populists to ratify the nomination of Bryan at the Populist convention at St. Louis on July 22 next. In the course of his address he says: "The truth of it is that the only point the Populists now have to decide is whether or not they will take Mr. Bryan, whom every gold bug in the country has denounced as a Populist, for our next President of the United States, or whether they will take Mr. McKinley, who represents everything that the Populists have denounced and just the opposite of everything that they have advocated since they have been a party."

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

Abused His Mother.

Patrick Daly was penalized to the extent of a $5 fine or ten days in gaol this morning by Mayor Yelland on a charge of creating a disturbance at or near a public place. It seems that Daly had been drinking and was using abusive language to his mother last night. She complained to the police and Daly's arrest followed. He was unable to pay his fine and so will spend ten days on the hill.

The Sewer Brickwork.

In yesterday's issue of THE EXAMINER appeared a paragraph stating that Mayor Yelland was inquiring why it was that last year red brick was rejected when offered for sewer work when the present contractor is using it for constructing manholes. In connection with the matter Messrs. Heap and Butcher state that it was the white brick which was rejected last year, and that their red was used, a large quantity of it having been supplied. The white brick was not accepted on account of its not being as durable as the red brick.

A BATCH OF TRAMPS.

Nine of Them Arrested Last Night—The Burnham's Point Camp Broken Up.

The police swooped down the tramps' camp on Burnham's point last night, much to the consternation of the "tie counters," who had assembled for their evening's fun.

There were nine of them sitting around and seven were captured on the spot, whilst the other two were run down after their comrades had been placed in the cells.

In one of the prisoners the Chief thought he recognized a lad named John McClurey, who is wanted as a witness in the Smith's Falls murder case, and accordingly telegraphed to Chief McGowan of that place, apprising him of his suspicions. The description which the Smith's Falls Chief of Police sent this morning of the man wanted was rather meagre, but corresponds in the main with the general appearance of the prisoner, who will be held, therefore, for further identification.

Frank Williams, who claims to be a printer from Kingston, was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison on a charge of vagrancy, as were J. Smith of Winnipeg and another tramp named Armour. All three carried cards upon which a poem was printed appealing for aid as cripples. The Mayor was very indignant over the imposition and therefore pronounced the sentence recorded against the prisoners.

One of the prisoners named Beaumont was allowed to go, as he proved by a union card that he was a mechanic. He stated that he was trying to get work here and failed but would leave immediately for Lindsay if allowed to go. He was given the chance.

The remainder of the prisoners were remanded for a week.

PUNCTURED WITH TACKS.

Numerous Bicycle Tires Come to Grief Yesterday.

The streets in the vicinity of the South Central School have been liberally besprinkled with carpet tacks by some young scoundrel, and in consequence dozens of the employees in the Canadian General Electric Works had the air suddenly let out of their tires by means of punctures yesterday.

The action of strewing tacks on the streets is a most contemptible one, and the penalty would be severe, as no clearer case of wilful destruction of property could be made out.

A few of the riders received punctures in the morning, and at noon about every bicyclist who passed south along the streets near the school came to grief, and on examination a carpet tack was inevitably found embedded in the tire, and sometimes there would be two or three, according to the rate at which the rider was progressing. A strong effort is being made to bring the culprit to justice.

57TH RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The Members Will Shoot on Thursday as Well as on Saturday.

At a meeting of the Rifle Association of the 57th Battalion the other evening, it was decided to practice at the rifle butts on Thursday afternoon as well as Saturday.

Arrangements were also made in regard to having the company officers take charge alternately at the ranges. Captain Stevenson will be present this week at the butts.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Will Brien left this morning to visit his parents in Seaforth.

The Belleville Sun says: Mr. Charles Stone of Peterborough is in the city to-day. He is on a wheeling tour and left here for Napanee.

Miss Lilian White, daughter of Councillor J. M. White has arrived home after a pleasant six weeks' visit at Brockville and Smiths Falls.

Miss Hasel Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Water street, left yesterday to visit her uncle, Mr. Robt. Hunter, Lindsay.

Mr. J. R. Donell and family leave this morning for their summer residence, Kilkenny, Stony Lake. They intend going in their yacht, "May Flower" from Lakefield.

The Port Hope Guide was in error yesterday in stating that Rev. J. E. Trotter was accompanied to Port Hope by his wife and son. Mr. Trotter has no son, and Mrs. Trotter remained in Peterborough. The baby which was taken to Port Hope for burial was eight, and not eighteen, months old.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross, of Pembroke, accompanied by their two children, are in town, the guests of Mrs. Ross' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wrighton, McDonel street. Mr. Ross will leave in the course of a few days to assist in examining the papers of the candidates who have been writing on the Primary and Junior and Senior Leaving examinations.

The Orange Celebration.

Last evening at a largely attended meeting of those having in charge the celebration of Monday last, the following resolution was unanimously carried by a standing vote:

Resolved, that the hearty thanks of this meeting be tendered to Bro. J. B. McWilliams, our esteemed County Master, for the wholesouled, energetic and capable manner in which he discharged his duties as chairman of the committee having in charge the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, one of the most successful demonstrations ever held in Peterborough, or in fact in Eastern Ontario, and further that it is the firm belief of the brethren assembled, that the grand success attending the celebration was in no small measure due to the experience, wide influence and active exertions of Bro. McWilliams.

DEATH OF MR. ELI SAGER.

Another Well Known Resident Passed Away.

At No. 29 Harvey street, at seven o'clock this morning, Mr. Eli Sager quietly and peacefully passed away.

The deceased was born in the Township of Tyendinaga in the year 1820, and was the eldest son of a family of 13 children, six of whom, three brothers and three sisters, survive him.

Mr. Sager was a familiar figure in Peterborough and surrounding country, where he was universally respected. In fact he has been over the greater part of Canada in the prosecution his business.

Mr. Sager was married 44 years ago and his widow and ten children mourn his loss. The family consists of Mr. Eli Sager, contractor, New Duluth; Rev. S. Sagar, Deboise, Pa.; Rev. L. A. Sager, Yorker, Ont.; Rev. A. T. Sager, Rochester, Pa.; John Sager, Wm. Sagar and Ernest Sager, Peterborough. The daughters are Mrs. T. Clitherow, Ashburnham; Mrs. H. Gray, Harvey street, and Mrs. W. Stenson, Macdonel street.

The family have the sympathy of a large number of friends in their loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

BLOCKADING THE STREETS.

Water and George Streets to be both Torn Up.

It is understood that the chairman of the Sewerage Committee has instructed Contractor Bogue to proceed with operations on the George street portion of the sewerage system.

Water street is at present almost entirely unfit for traffic on account of the sewerage operations there, and attention is called to the fact that if George street is torn up at the same time traffic will become too congested on account of the two thoroughfares being parallel, and trade would consequently suffer considerably in the business portion of the town.

The completion of the Water street sewer before the commencement of operations on George street, is under the circumstances, the only course to follow, and it is understood that a meeting of the town council is to be called immediately for the purpose of instructing the Sewerage Committee to this end.

If the George street sewer is commenced by the first of August the contractor will be given plenty of time to finish the work on that thoroughfare before the busy season opens in the fall.

BIBLE SERVICES.

A Series of Them to be Held, Commencing To-morrow Evening.

Commencing next Thursday evening, July 16th, at 8 o'clock, there will be given a series of Bible lectures in the S. D. A. mission tent, located on corner of George and McDonnell streets, opposite Central Park.

The theme presented will be of a practical interest to every Christian. The gospel in its clearness will be preached. The Bible and the Bible only is acknowledged to be the only rule of Protestant faith, hence in every discourse the Bible will be the guide book, chapter and verse being given. The prophecies and the second coming of Christ will receive much attention. The public is invited to attend these meetings. All are welcome. Come and hear, bringing your Bibles with you.

WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY.

Shoppers are reminded that the stores will be closed to-morrow afternoon at twelve o'clock, on account of it being the day settled upon by the merchants for the observation of a Weekly Half-holiday.

GETTING IN ITS WORK.

The Army Worm Makes Things Unpleasant for New York Farmers—Plan to Get Rid of the Pest.

A despatch from Jamestown, New York, on the 9th says:—Reports continue to reach this city of the ravages of the army worm in Chautauqua County. Many meadows which a day or two gave every indication of abundant harvests are to-day blackened as if swept by fire, while some corn fields have been stripped of every blade, only the bare stalks being left standing to give evidence of the visitation of the pests. It is reported that at certain points on the J. & L. E. Railway the worms have been crushed under the wheels of the cars until the track has become so slippery that the brakes refuse properly to respond. At points in this city at times it is impossible to walk upon the sidewalks without stepping on the worms.

J. H. Comstock, entomologist of the State experiment station at Cornell, telegraphed this information to the farmers of the country:—"The army worm usually appears first in limited areas in meadows or pasture lands. If it is discovered before it has spread from these places, it can be confined by surrounding the field with a ditch, or it may be destroyed by spraying the grass with Parisgreen water. Ordinarily, however, the worms are not discovered until after they have begun to march and are widespread. In such cases it is customary to protect fields of grain in their path by surrounding them with ditches with vertical sides. It is well to dig holes like postholes at intervals of a few rods in the bottom of such ditches. The worms falling into the ditch are unable to get out and crawl along the bottom and fall into these deeper holes. I have seen insects collected by the bushel in this way."

A Glorious Age in Which we Live.

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achivements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

LACROSSE.

This is what the Port Hope Guide has to say about Monday's lacrosse game,—"If the Ontarios had been successful yesterday in their lacrosse match with Peterborough they indeed would have been much surprised. A weaker team never left Port Hope to cope with one of Peterborough's calibre, four of the best men, Tuer, Richardson, Ware and C. Hayden, being unable to attend. Peterborough thought they had a snap too, and in the morning it was whispered round they would beat the Ontarios four straights, but when they saw the team from here, they put it up to 10. The Ontario boys averaged about 125 pounds each and the Peterborough people were surprised to see them play such a tight game with able-bodied men. Honours were very equally divided and it was nobody's game from start to finish. Luck was with Peterborough and they scored the first goal in 18 minutes, and the second in 25 minutes. Not one was scored for the remainder of the two hours' play after that. However the Peterborough's claim a third. The rubber was fired on goal, but it struck keeper Crowhurst on the foot, bounded up, but did not go through, the official score thus being 2 to 0 against Port Hope. This latter shot was seen by many spectators who emphatically assert it was not a goal, despite what they said. Shortly after the second goal Mein of Peterborough was ruled off for five minutes for striking Burt of Port Hope, unnecessarily.

Most of the boys can show marks from Galley, of the Peterboroughs, who used his stick quite freely over the heads and bodies of our boys, and to him is credited the origin of so many free fights during the match. It wouldn't be safe to bring him in here on August the 5th, when the next game will be played with Peterborough, for some of the boys will not forget his slugging in a hurry.

The boys and their supporters are perfectly satisfied with the result of the game notwithstanding that numskull of a referee, Duncan, of Cobourg, who knows as much about lacrosse as a sucking duck, who was substituted for Mr. Piercy, also of Cobourg, a gentleman who understands the game and would have given satisfaction to both teams.

With one of the absent men on yesterday, the Ontarios feel they would have easily defeated the Peterboroughs.

Every member of the Ontarios put up a rattling good game, the defence doing especially good work. The home was a little weak, but played a swift combination at times, and it was simply hard luck they did not score."

The Times says: "The Ontario lacrosse team met defeat at the hands of the Athletics at Peterborough. The result was 2 goals to 0. The game was characterised by rough play on the part of the Athletics, although the Ontarios were not by any means as meek as lambs."

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Capt. Halifax, wife and family, with Mrs. Wood, as nurse, have gone to England on a visit.

Mr. Clarence Bell, and wife, of Toronto, spent a few days at Stony Lake last week.

Miss McKenzie, of Brantford, is the guest of her brother, Rev. A. W. McKenzie, at the Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McWilliams, are visiting friends in the village.

Have you thought of where you are going to spend your holidays. A very pleasant place is at "Viameda" cottage, Mount Julian, Stony Lake. Everything clean, comfortable and homelike, newly furnished throughout. Piano for the use of guests. The table well supplied with choice food, Excellent boating, bathing and fishing. Parties desirous of an outing on Stony Lake will find this place a very pleasant locality. Accommodation for 25 guests at very moderate rates, which will be made known on application to William M. Graham, Lakefield.

ORANGE SERMON.

On Sunday evening the Young Canadians and the True Blues attended Divine Service at the Methodist church, when Rev. T. J. Edmison, the pastor, preached the annual sermon. He took for his text Ps. lxxiii, 24 25: "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterwards receive me to glory. Whom have I in Heaven but thee? And there is none on earth that I desire beside thee."

He stated that he was not there to announce the principles of the order, as the members all knew what they were, and others already had heard them. They are founded on the Word of God. He was not there to attack those who held different opinions from his own. We shall replace error with the truth. If you wish to drive away error do so as you would light a dark room—not by driving away the darkness but by introducing the light.

The first great principle in the text consists in deep felt need. The soul is looking outside itself for help. If we look at ourselves, at anything we can do or merit, we must feel that we are lost through sin, and there is no hope for us except through Jesus Christ.

We should have strong faith. The soul is looking up to God in simple, child-like faith, and rests on God, our Saviour, our Redeemer.

Our Hope.—There is no other religion that gives hope to the heart as does our glorious Christianity, and whose hopes are bound on an open Bible. We know that if we believe in the Lord Jesus Christ we shall live forever, and shall meet those who are departed from us.

Supreme Love.—"Whom have I in Heaven but thee?" The Christian loves Jesus Christ above wealth, honour, pleasure and health. They love truth, liberty and pure religion, and have laid down their lives for it, loving God even above life itself. There are those to-day who have the same love as the martyrs of former days, who laid down their lives at the stake.

We need God's Guidance.—Who is sufficient to find out the right way for each of us but God. There is no hope for man without him. There is a great gulf fixed—we must have a guide or we would wander away.

The Source of God's Guidance—The word of God in this book we have God's revealed will. All we need know about the way of life, and to find our way to God and heaven. We have here the clear oracle of God's will, clearly pointing out the way to God, God will guide us, etc. Let the Christians read the word of God, he will then get before him the requirements of God's law. By studying this the truth will then be applied to his heart and he will see his need for mercy. Of himself he cannot come up to God's standard, but by the power applied to the mind and heart, he feels he must have a new nature. He learns of Jesus Christ that he saves to the uttermost, that he offers a full and free salvation to all, and becomes a free man through our Lord Jesus Christ. He cannot purify himself, but the Word tells of a fountain that will cleanse and keep him if he study it day by day. The word teaches us by precept and example.

The Holy Spirit is another source of guidance. He will guide us by and work on our hearts and lead us to do that which is right.

God will be a support to us in death. When my heart and my flesh fail, God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever. Where Jesus is it is always light, such is the hope of the Gospel. True religion guides us in life and supports us in death. Thank God for such a religion, by which the youngest child is not afraid to meet the grim monster, death. It is an eternal portion.

Embrace and hold fast the true religion of the blessed Book, and the Book on which your organizations are founded, and that you may be made pure and holy and bring us nearer our common Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

The lodges marched back to their lodge rooms where votes of thanks were passed for the able and instructive sermon and to the visiting brethren.

On Monday, July 13th, the Orangemen of this locality went to Peterborough and made a very creditable turnout. The lodges marching to the train in the morning were headed by the North Smith brass band under the leadership of Mr. Williams, followed by Wesley Lodge, Smith, No. 419, S. Harrison, W. M.; Stanley Lodge True Blues, No. 419, R. Griffin, W. M.; Beresford L. O. L., No. 122, John W. Stuart, W. M. Wesley Lodge had a new banner which they had just received the Saturday before and which elicited considerable comment. Young Canadian Lodge, No. 158, went to the steamer to meet the North Dummer Lodge, which came down on the boat. Returning in the evening, all the Lodges, including North Dummer Lodge, marched through the village.

The Golden City carried a large excursion of Orangemen, True Blues and their friends down to meet the train on Monday morning, made her regular trip in the afternoon and was on hand in the evening on the arrival of the train to carry them back again.

The Golden City is meeting the afternoon train this week and next week will meet the morning train.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Jas. Wedlock is preparing another large shipment of frogs for the United States market. Mr. Wedlock has made a success of the frog industry, as he does with everything he undertakes.

Rev. Mr. Cattanach and wife with Miss Mary McLeod and Mr. David Dodds were fishing on Thursday last. They were quite successful and caught quite a number of the finny tribe and should be congratulated on their proficiency in the piscatorial art. Among their catch they captured an exceptionally fine 'lunge.

Mr. Thos. Lucy, of Bailliieboro, road contractor and general jobber, has completed his contract of gravelling on the road at the new bridge. Mr. Lucy has had a large experience in such work and the Managing Committee may rest assured that his part of the contract will be satisfactory in every respect.

Mr. John Smith has secure the contract of supplying lumber and repairing a barn on Mr. Ayres' estate at Hales' Bridge.

Mr. John Byers, late of the employ of Mr. Robert Fisher, our worthy reeve, has gone on an extended tour to unknown parts of Uncle Sam's domains. Monaghan's loss will be Uncle Sam's gain.

Mr. John Monorief's team ran away last Monday with a load of hay, breaking the rack and upsetting things generally, but doing no serious damage.

Mr. D. H. Morrison will soon be done harvesting if it continues fine weather. Mr. Morrison is an expert farmer and knows how to handle his harvest to the best advantage.

One of our respected and intelligent citizens went to Peterborough last Thursday to do some shopping but found to his dismay that the stores were all closed for their weekly half holiday, and had to come home again. He surely does not read the papers very carefully or he might have saved the trip and disappointment.

A few of the local Orangemen attended church parade at Bailliieboro on Sunday, July 12th, also the celebration at Peterborough, July 13th.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Angus McPherson, of Peterborough, was visiting her father, Mr. Matthew Young last week.

Mr. A. Smith, our old school master, is paying the village another visit. We are pleased to see the smiling countenance of "Art" once more.

Mr. and Mrs. John Galvin, of Ennismore, were at the Point on Thursday.

Mr. Harry Andrews, our present school teacher, is staying here for a few days, and is enjoying the invigorating breezes of Clear Lake.

The weather is very warm at present, but we always enjoy the breeze off the water here.

Mr. C. Young has added a new planer and matcher to his shingle mill here, and is prepared to furnish all kinds of lumber, etc., for building purposes.

The guests at the Lakeview House these last few days are: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loewer, Messrs. Joe Harding, Chas. Merry, George Brinker, of Rochester, N.Y., Mr. John Wilson and S. Geddisen, of the Canadian General Electric Company, of Peterborough.

Mr. Henry Loewer, of Rochester, while fishing on Saturday here, with his guide, caught three 'lunge, weighing twenty-eight pounds in all, and twenty-seven bass. Beat that who can.

The True Blue Lodge here went to Peterborough on Monday to take part in the celebration there. They marched on Sunday here to the church.

Mr. Richard White cut a field of fall wheat here on Friday last, which was a very fine crop.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

On motion of Messrs. Ferguson and Fair the secretary was instructed to communicate with the town council stating that owing to the over-crowded state of the schools the Board has found it necessary to rent a building for school purposes, furnish three rooms and engage three teachers and that the council be required to raise for the public schools the sum of $1000 for current expenses in addition to the amount previously demanded.

It was moved by Dr. Caldwell and Mr. Jno. McKee, that the Inspector and Supervision Committee be instructed to re-arrange the school boundaries in consequence of the new rooms to be opened in the Menzies building.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Hill and Ferguson it was resolved that the male assistant for the South Central School be paid a salary the same as that as the assistant of the Central School.

Moved by Messrs. Ferguson and Fair that the matter of engaging an assistant male teacher for the South Central School be referred to the Chairman of the Committee on Appointments and the Inspector.—Carried.

Their jars are guaranteed not to crack in filling and will be replaced in case they do. Prices the lowest in town. See the "Beaver" or the "Bee" before buying the ordinary jar.

A Destructive Grub.

Small whitish green grubs with black heads have done much damage to young grain this season, by cutting off the blades near the ground or splitting them up in the centre so that they fall over and die. The grubs are from one-eighth of an inch to one inch in length, and their main depredations are in crops which followed the breaking up of sod land. In some localities their attacks are confined mainly to spring wheat, but in other places oats have suffered even more, and barley has also been attacked. So far as heard peas have altogether escaped the ravages of the grub.—Guelph Herald.

FIGHTING FOR CASH

Don't let the Political Excitement make you forget the

HALF-YEARLY SALE

Of Summer Clothing and Furnishings, at

H. LeBRUN & CO'S

Every July we start a GREAT CUT DOWN all along the line in Prices of our Superior Men's, Boys' and Children's Ready-Made Clothing, Ordered Clothing, Suitings, Trouserings, Furnishings, &c. We do it because it is better to lose money in season than out of season. We must rid the shelves, tables and counters of summer stocks without considering cost or profit.

WE ARE FIGHTING FOR CASH now and, in the Reduced Prices, you will find abundant evidence that the fight is to a finish.

When you see "The City Clothing Store" cutting the prices to a point which means, in many cases, a genuine loss, you may rest assured that it means something away out of the ordinary.

All our Men's, Boys' and Children's Summer Clothing going now at about the Cost of Manufacture.

All our High Quality Summer Tweeds, Worsteds, Serges, Trouserings, Fancy Flannels, Fancy Vestings, &c. now going at Prices to clear them out quick.

H. LeBRUN & CO.

THE doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten, there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It was originally sold with an absolute guarantee that it would cure every case, or that the money paid for it would be refunded. Its success has been so universal that this guarantee is no longer necessary. The "Favorite Prescription" relies now upon the thousands of testimonials from grateful and happy women, in all parts of the land, whose lives have been made worth living by its use. "Favorite Prescription" is sold by druggists.

Complete information regarding it, and testimonials from hundreds who have used it, are embodied in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a standard medical work of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, which will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. This work is a complete family doctor book and should be read by both young and old. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE MARKETS.

Toronto, July 15.

Intense Heat in London.

London, July 14.—Intense heat prevails to-day throughout the southern part of Great Britain and in France and Germany. In London there is not a breath of air stirring and the mercury marks 80 degrees in the shade and 135 degrees in the sun. In Paris the heat is so great that it has been found necessary to close many of the workshops.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER SMILED

When The World Asked Him What He Thought of the Personnel of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet.

Ottawa, July 13.—(Special.)—Sir Charles Tupper was found to-night at his son's cosy residence in Ned Edinburgh. On being asked by your correspondent what he thought of the personnel of the new Ministry, his reply was characteristic of the philosophical humor in which he accepts the situation:

"I scarcely think," he said, smiling, "that my opinion would be accepted as that of an unbiased critic.

As to their policy, however, Sir Charles was less reticent. "I presume," said he, "that the inclusion of Sir Richard Cartwright in the Cabinet, head of the important Department of Trade and Commerce, means that we are to have an uprooting of the protective policy commenced forthwith."

"But Mr. Fielding, and not Sir Richard, is the new Finance Minister," was suggested.

"True," rejoined the ex-Premier, 'but the Trade and Commerce Department is intimately associated with the fiscal policy, and besides Mr. Fielding is perhaps a more pronounced free trader than Sir Richard Cartwright."

Asked if he would give any indication of Conservatives' intention as to bye elections, Sir Charles said that, so far as he could see, there would not be much gained by offering opposition to the Ministers."

"In Ontario, for instance," he remarked, "they have not dared to challenge an expression of popular opinion, and so far as can be learned Grit hives are to be chosen in other provinces."

The C.P.R. Said to Have Had Luck in Connection With Naud's Arrest.

New York, July 13.—Henry Naud, formerly assistant paymaster of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Hannah Naud, whose right name is said to be Claverly, were before United States Commissioner Shields to-day on an application for their extradition to Canada, made by the British Consul, General Percy Sanderson. Henry Naud is accused of having stolen $5500 from the railroad company and the woman is charged with being an accomplice. In order to give the British authorities opportunity to fully prepare their case, the examination was postponed until July 27 next. The theft is alleged to have been committed between February 15 and March 7, 1896.

This afternoon Hannah Naud, who had previously refused to do so, opened a vault hired by Henry Naud, in the American Safe Deposit building at 42nd-street and Fifth-avenue, and in the presence of lawyers and officers a package which she took from the vault was subsequently opened in Commissioner Shields' office. The package contained $2000 in American bank notes and some private papers.

As there was no direct evidence showing her connection with the theft and as she is in delicate health, the woman was then discharged, upon her own recognizances.

A Good Story

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

HANSON TAKES FITS

And the Defence Claim That When He Killed James Mullen at Seguin Falls He Was Insane.

Parry Sound, Ont., July 14.—The Midsummer Assizes opened here to-day. Justice Ferguson presiding. The court to-day was occupied with civil cases. The only criminal case on the docket is that of the Swede, Christian Hanson, charged with being the murderer of James Mullen. This crime was committed on the 8th of last month at Seguin Falls. Mr. L. P. Heyd will act with Crown Attorney Johnson for the prosecution, and the prisoner Hanson will be defended by W. L. Haight, barrister of this town. It is said that Hanson is subject to epileptic fits and that he has been attacked by spasms of this nature more than once since his incarceration here. This being the case it is thought the defence will make this the argument for his acquittal, holding that the crime was committed whilst the prisoner was irresponsible. At the conclusion of to-day's proceedings, the grand jury had not finished. They meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning and if a true bill is returned, the trial will take place forthwith.

Mr. Benj. Scott, Van Horn, Ont., says: "My heart caused me great uneasiness, my appetite failed and I became very weak and discouraged. Miller's Compound Iron Pills made me all right; I feel well and strong. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Flowers and Ozone.

Dr. Andres of Philadelphia, says the Hospital Review a few years ago made the discovery that ozone in the atmosphere, which is the great purifier, was mainly supplied with blooming flowers, and for this reason blooming plants were healthful in dwelling houses, as well as attractive.

Some interesting experiments with the odors of flowers have been made in the old world, and it is found that many species of microbes are easily destroyed by various odors. The odor of cloves has been known to destroy these minute creatures in 35 minutes; cinnamon will kill some species in 12 minutes; thyme in 35. In 45 minutes common wild verbent is found effective, while the odor of some geranium flowers has destroyed various forms of microbes in 50 minutes.

The essence of cinnamon is said to destroy the typhoid fever microbe in 12 minutes, and is recorded as the most effective of all odors as an antiseptic. It is now believed that flowers which are found in Egyptian mummies were placed there more for their antiseptic properties than as mere ornaments or elements in sentimental work.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Headache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

It is the voice of the people recognizing the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood.

Mr. T. G. Ludlow, 334 Colborne Street, Brantford, Ont., says: During seven years prior to 1896, my wife was sick all the time with violent headaches. Her head was so hot that it felt like burning up. She was weak, run down, and so feeble that she could hardly do anything, and so nervous that the least noise startled her. Night or day she could not rest and life was a misery to her. I tried all kinds of medicines and treatment for her but she steadily grew worse until I bought six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters from C. Stork & Son, of Brampton, Ont., for which I paid $5.00, and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. Mrs. Ludlow took four out of the six bottles—there was no need of the other two, for those four bottles made her a strong, healthy woman, and removed every ailment from which she had suffered, and she enjoyed the most vigorous health. That five dollars saved me lots of money in medicine and attendance thereafter, and better than that it made home a comfort to me.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal In Its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Verdict Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female. Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kincardine, Ont., had made himself a hopeless invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever." Samuel Elsa, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Boiger, of Renfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Paisley, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through la grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, "I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known bailiff of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but, thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians did not help me. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say that I am a new man."

A shrewd observer of human nature has said: "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." How important it is, then, that health and strength should be made the lot of the mothers of this country. The women of Canada are ready by scores to tell of the benefits that have come to them through the use of South American Nervine. Mrs. R. Armstrong, of Orillia, wife of the colporteur, of the Bible Society of that town, suffered for six years from nervous prostration. Medical assistance did not help. "In all," she says, "I have taken six bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say this is the one medicine that has effected a cure in my case." Mrs. John Dinwoody has been for 40 years a resident of Flesherton, and has reached the allotted three-score years and ten. Three years ago her system sustained a severe shock through the death of a daughter. Nervine was recommended. She perseveringly took 12 bottles of medicine, with the result that she is to-day again strong and hearty. Hundreds of women suffer from impoverished blood and weakened nerves. "All vitality," says Mrs. J. Fallis, of Brampton, "seemed to have forsaken my system. I was unable to get relief from any source until I commenced taking South American Nervine. The results are most satisfactory—greater far than I could have hoped for." It came within the way of Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, to treat under the best physicians, both in Canada and England, for heart disease and nervous debility, but she failed to get any relief. "I was advised," she says, "to take South American Nervine, and must say I do believe that if I had not done so I would not be alive to-day."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

The Latest Chatter

THE AVERAGE MAN.

One Within That Classification May Consider Himself Lucky.

"It's a pleasure to fit you," said the clothing salesman to his customer.

"Why?" queried his patron, as he glanced complacently over his shoulder at his figure reflecting in a long mirror.

"Because you are an average man, I mean that your height, width of shoulders, chest measure, length of back, width across the hips, length of arms and legs and general 'set' conform to the average dimensions struck off by the manufacturer of ready-made clothing."

"I thought you could fit any sized man?"

"So we can, but to do it sometimes we must break up three different sets of clothing; take the coat from one, the vest from another and the trousers from another. Now, with you, it is different. I simply took the chest measure and found the coat in a few minutes made for that measure. The vest and trousers were all right, of course, for you are a man of average build. And you are a lucky man, too, according to my way of thinking. I know that when it is said, 'Oh, he is an average man,' the term is used in the deprecatory sense. As a matter of fact, to say that a man is an average man is to say that he will go through life easily, with less friction, with more pleasure and less annoyance than the man who is above or below the average. Everything made in quantity is made to fit the average man. A door knob is placed where it is most handy to the man of average height. A letter box is put up so that the average man can mail his letters with the least difficulty. Car straps hang down far enough for the average man to clutch them with the least effort. Car steps are placed so that the average man can get in and out of a street car easily.

"Hats, shoes, shirts, collars, cuffs, stockings, clothing of every sort, are made of average sizes. If a man of a certain height is too fat or too slim for the average build of that height, he is in trouble as soon as he enters a clothing store. If his legs are too long or too short, the salesman must overhaul his stock and try on a number of trousers before he finds a pair that will fit, and frequently he must have them altered after all.

"Now, it's the same with other things. The man of average intelligence, average brain power, average schooling, average morality and average religious ideas will get along better in the world than men who stand high above him. Men above the average have added responsibilities thrust upon them. More is expected of them. They are supposed to keep up a fast gait, and if they do not, the world finds fault with them. The average citizen, average husband, average father, average man is happy because he is inconspicuous. He goes along unnoticed, as he is neither a fool nor a genius. He attracts no attention and finds ten times more solid pleasure in life than those who are highly gifted in one way or another. You see the average man is a well-balanced man, and balance means stability, and stability means rest. I have figured this thing out, and have come to the conclusion that the world is better because of the great majority of average men, who go steadily and quietly along, not because of the few geniuses who ash up and blaze like bonfires for a time, and then die down to have their ashes blown into everybody's eyes to annoy and pester them."

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address, JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 220, Petrey, Mich.

SWARMING.

A Telling Illustration and Explanation of Hiving a Swarm.

No doubt the advanced condition of this season will induce early swarming, says the Farmer's Advocate, as it is generally due to an abundant secretion of honey and the general prosperity of the colony. The outward indications immediately preceding swarming are a partial cessation of field work on the part of colonies that have been industriously gathering and the clustering or loitering of the workers about the entrance at times when they have usually been engaged in collecting and when other colonies, no more populous, are at work. Suddenly great excitement seizes the workers that happen to be in the hive at the time when they rush out pellmell, accompanied by the old queen, and after circling about for some minutes cluster on some neighboring tree or shrub.

When a swarm has fairly settled it is best to hive it as soon as possible, lest others coming out may join it, occasioning a loss of queens and sometimes of bees. The operation of hiving may appear very formidable to the novice and attended with great risks, but a little experience will dispel such apprehensions. The bees before swarming usually fill their sacs with honey, and are quiet and peaceful, so that by the use of a little smoke in hiving there is seldom any difficulty. A glance at the operation as being performed by the lady in the illustration shows how easily it can be done. The same sort of quiet, deliberate motion as should characterise all handling of bees is as effective here as at any other time. To be doubly sure the novice should sprinkle sweetened water over the cluster, and at the same time wear a veil to protect the face, is advised by Frank Benton, in his manual issued by the American Department of Agriculture. If the cluster should be a small limb, which can be readily cut off, it can be laid down in front of the new hive, which should have a full width entrance, to be raised up in front. The bees will go trooping in, but if not fast enough, gentle urging of the rear guards with a feather will hasten matters. If the bees have clustered on a branch which it is desirable to preserve, yet where the hive can conveniently be placed under the cluster and close to it, the swarm may be shaken into the hive at once, as shown in the illustration, or the hive may be located on the stand it is to occupy, and the bees shaken into a large basket, or into a regular swarm-catcher, and poured in front of the hive. A convenient home-made swarm-catcher is arranged by attaching a long cotton bag to the end of a long pole, held open at the mouth by means of a wire hoop attached to the pole. This can be slid up around the cluster, when the limb should be subjected to sharp tapping, which will cause them to drop into the catcher. If the bag is then given a twist over the pole, they are safe to convey to any point. When the hive is reached the bag should be carefully inverted before the hive. If thought wise they can be given a little smoke and then dipped, by means of a dipper, upon a board before the entrance. As soon as the swarm is fairly within the hive it should be carried to its permanent stand and well shaded and ventilated. The new swarm having the old queen will be in fine condition for work. It should, therefore, be given a super in a few days, which they will readily fill.

To prevent swarming the racks should be examined occasionally, and the green cells pinched, so that they will be destroyed, also give more room above by the addition of supers.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

The Art of Overlooking.

The discriminating art of forgetting is invaluable, but the art of overlooking may take precedence, even over this distinct aid to happiness. It is well to put aside the annoyances of by-past time, dropping the remembrance of disagreeables, but it is better still to pass them by in the beginning without taking them up. Prevent the impression, and there will be no occasion to erase it. A mollifying ointment is good for a hurt, but better no hurt in need of healing.

Do not dwell upon unpleasantness long enough for it to take a place in the convolutions of the brain. Do not scrutinize what is unseemly, obnoxious or disquieting, if nothing is to be gained by it save a disturbing memory. Don't stop and stoop to examne dispelasing things along the life-path, Keep the eyes at higher levels, and overlook the thorn hedges at the sides, taking care to keep the middle of the track, so as not to brush against them. —Christian Guardian.

THE ALMIGHTY (SILVER) DOLLAR

A Little Light on Uncle Sam's Proposal to Juggle With the Silver Question.

A great many people in this country who are trying to understand the silver question of the United States are hampered at the very beginning by wrong ideas about our own 5, 10, 20, 25 and 50-cent pieces. Meeting with large numbers of these Canadian silver coins in the ordinary way of trade, they arrive at the notion, almost as a matter of common observation, that the basis of our money is in part silver. Indeed, as they rarely see a piece of gold, and since, as a matter of fact, there is not such a thing as a Canadian gold coin, it would scarcely be surprising if, without further inquiry, many people supposed the greater part of the metallic basis of our money to be silver. At all events, as gold is generally understood to be at the foundation of our monetary system, and as silver is met with in every-day experience, it is perhaps popularly inferred that we have the double standard, or, as it is commonly called, bi-metallism—that is, the two metals, silver and gold—under our currency. But we have not.

CANADIAN MONEY IS MONO-METALLIC;

every dollar of it is of the single standard; it is purely gold money. Silver we do use for many purposes as the material of the fractional pieces named—the 5, 10, 20, 25, and 50 cent pieces—but every one of these subsidiary coins is redeemable for its full face value in gold. It is not necessary that the substance of this "change" should be worth what it actually passes for. It is enough to know that there is gold back of it for the full sum of which the silver coin is the mere token. A 25-cent piece may not have as much silver in it as can be bought for 15c., but the stamp on it makes it good for the fourth part of a dollar. A similar stamp makes the intrinsically worthless bit of paper called a "shinplaster" of the same monetary value. The matter or substance of the Canadian silver pieces is not offered as the equivalent of any other thing quoted at the same gold value, no more than is the material of a five-dollar bank note or a two-dollar Dominion note. We may call the Canadian silver coins metallic due bills. They represent as the paper due bill—the bank note or Dominion note—does. They, as does all the money in Canada, rest on gold. Whence, it may be repeated, we have but one standard, that is gold, no matter how much small change it may be necessary to carry in the circulation. All countries on the purely gold basis use silver coins for their small change, and are indifferent if the intrinsic value of these coins falls away far below their face value. A six-penny piece or a shilling piece is worth all it calls for in that greatest of gold countries, Britain, though the actual worth of the silver in the piece is not more than half its stamped value. The United States is yet on a gold basis, and its token silver coins are good for the sum marked on them.

But it is not more "change" the silver Democrats want. They demand that the mints of the nation shall be opened to free coinage of dollar pieces. To-day if any citizen brings to the mint 25 8 10 grains of standard gold he is entitled to have it coined into dollar piece if that is his wish, or to get a gold dollar for it, or the

in United States currency. Now the silver Democrats require that the mints shall be opened as freely to silver, so that whenever a citizen brings a piece of standard silver of 16 times the weight of a gold dollar, he shall have that silver stamped $1, or in lieu thereof receive a coined silver or gold dollar, or $1 note, whether issued by the United States Government or a National bank. Though in this country we have 25 cent and other silver pieces, it must be remembered we have no mints open to the free coinage of these. Miners in British Columbia cannot bring their bullion to the Government and require that it shall be converted into half-dollars, quarter dollars and ten-cent pieces for them. If they had such rights of money-making we should soon have the buying value of the subsidiary coins down to their actual bullion value on the market, which is at present not more than half their money value. Similarly, if the United States made dollar pieces of all the silver the mine-owners of the West chose to bring, those they now possess by virtue of their good backing. They would drop by sheer force of over-supply. To-day the mine-owner, not having any mint at his command, has to sell his silver in the open market, where he realizes about 52 cents for every 412½ grains. But if silver free coinage were established in the ratio of 16 to 1, he could have every 412½ grains of his metal turned into a full dollar, which is a good deal better than 52c. Then what mine-owner would want to sell any more silver for use in the arts? All would bring their product to the mint, and with such a sudden boom in the price of the metal every mine would be worked to its full capacity. Their contents would be turning into money. A tremendous over-supply of money, that is an inflation of the currency, would be the result, and the value of the dollar would fall still lower than the 52c, which is the present bullion value of the material in it. In Britain, an American dollar would be reckoned as one-tenth or one-twelfth, instead of one-fifth of a pound. In Canada it would be 50c., or less.—Mail and Empire.

To make your business pay, good health is a prime factor. To secure good health, the blood should be kept pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When the vital fluid is impure and sluggish, there can be neither health, strength nor ambition.

The Supposed Toronto Girl Who Died in New York Was Married—Two Sisters in Ottawa.

New York, July 14.—Coroner Hoeber ascertained to-day that Christine Aumond, who died at Roosevelt Hospital last night, it is believed from poison, is a married woman, though she has not lived with her husband for a year. The husband was Edward Johnson of Boston. His street address is unknown. The dead woman has two sisters in Ottawa, Canada. Coroner Hoeber will try to get possession of the dead woman's trunk, thinking it may contain something that will throw light on her death. While she was in a delicate condition when she died, she had previously had two children, both of whom are dead.

One of the sisters married a well-known physician of Toronto, and resides in that city.

Mrs. Ward-Cameron-Morrow's Case in Detroit Now in its Sixth Week—One Lawyer Spoke Nine Days.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—The hearing upon the petition of Orville W. Owen and other heirs for an accounting by the executors of the late Capt. Eber B. Ward has now entered upon its sixth week. Attorney Gurley of Chicago closed his argument in opposition to the application last evening, having spoken as the legal representative of Thomas L. Lyon and Mrs. Ward-Cameron-Morrow, for nine days. He was succeeded this morning by Mr. Wells, the attorney of Orrin W. Potter, also one of the executors. Mr. Wells said he would present his argument under three heads—an examination of the proceedings of the Probate Court, an examination of the rights of the complainants under the will and an examination of the charges of fraud.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

PREMIER HARDY SWORN IN.

The Oath Was Administered by Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick at the Provincial Buildings.

Toronto, July 15.

Hon. A. S. Hardy was yesterday afternoon formally sworn in as Premier and Attorney-General of Ontario.

In the morning the Lieutenant-Governor despatched Capt. A. T. Kirkpatrick, his private secretary, to the Parliament buildings to summon Mr. Hardy to a conference at Government House. In compliance with the order, the Minister repaired to the gubernatorial mansion at 11 o'clock, when he was officially informed of Sir Oliver Mowat's resignation and asked to form a new Government.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, accompanied by Captain Kirkpatrick, drove up to Queen's Park, and in the Cabinet Council room administered the oath of office to the new Prime Minister. The oath was read by Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright, and the whole ceremony of creating a First Minister for Her Majesty occupied only a few moments. The act was witnessed by three of Mr. Hardy's colleagues, namely, Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. Richard Harcourt and Hon. William Harty, and among others present were: Lieut.-Col. Clarke, Clerk of the House; Mr. Aubrey White, Deputy Commissioner of Crown Lands; Lud K. Cameron, Queen's Printer; Arch. Blue, S. F. Bastedo, Henry Totten, Dr. Gilmore, Peter Ryan, Peter Small, Hugh O'Leary of Lindsay, Andrew Pattullo of Woodstock, Alf. J. and George Wilkes of Brantford, and several members of the press.

After the oath of office had been taken, Mr. Hardy entertained those who had witnessed the ceremony at a dainty repast, served in the Speaker's chambers.

Mr. Hardy will not likely announce the composition of his Cabinet for a few days. Several of the Ministers are out of town, and, although it is taken for granted that Mr. Balfour will be the new Provincial Secretary, he will probably not be sworn in until the end of the week. It is understood that the only other member of the Government to whom the oath will have to be administered is Hon. J. M. Gibson, who, in becoming Commissioner of Crown Lands, will be taking over a new portfolio. Mr. Hardy stated to a reporter last night that he would not officially complete his Government for some days.

A BAD LOT OF THUGS.

The Chicago Police Made a Good Haul When They Gathered in the Long and the Short Men.

Chicago, July 14.—John O'Collins and William, alias "Red" Sullivan, were positively identified to-day as two of the robbers who held up the clerks in the office of the New York Biscuit Company at Morgan and Randolph-streets at noon last Saturday and made away with over $2000. Louis Larsen, a West Side tough, was also identified by Peter Ackerman, a butcher of No. 279 West Randolph-street, as being one of the men who held up his place of business some weeks ago. Chief Badenoch, speaking to-day of the alleged plot to assassinate him, said: "A few days ago, while driving along Lesalle street, I noticed a group of four or five fellows standing on the corner near Washington. They were a tough looking crowd, and I sized them up as men who should be run in. I forgot all about the incident until yesterday, when we had "Red" Sullivan in the "sweat box," and he made his confession. Among other things he told Inspector Fitzpatrick and myself that if I had made the slightest motion to arrest them I would have been killed right there and then. So that, while there was no plot to kill me, yet I only escaped by the merest chance from being shot down in the street."

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and and lung troubles.

Hats are Trump

Keep Cool as a Cucumber.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturer of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They knew where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

Wilkinson's "Stanley."

Who has not heard of or worn this favourite English hat, of which we are the sole handlers here. The "Stanley" is made of the very purest fur felt. They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowded the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for..... $1.00

Maud Miller on a summer day,
Raked the meadows sweet with hay,
Now Maud might rake the world in vain
To find Straw Hats so low again.

English Wool Fedoras.

Our "Special" line of Fedoras, that hatters would scorn to take less than $1.50 and $2, we sell you for 75c. Its a wonderfully fine hat for the price and have been going with a whirl at $1.50 up till now. But we have other lines of our Wool Fedoras which no one else can match in value, because they start at..... .25

Boy's Caps.

As much style in our Boy's and Youth's stock as in our Men's—Knockabouts, School Caps, Tweed Caps, Bicycle Caps. We dump in a dozen lines that would ordinary go like hot cakes, at 25c to 50c, for..... .10 .15 .20 .25

Bicycle Caps, Tennis Caps, with the prices all cut it two to clear them out. Money does not come so easy to every man nowadays that he should pay the hatters of fancy prices. Nothing newer than than what we have in stock. Starting price..... .35

Men's and Boy's Straws.

In addition to the wagon loads Straw Hats we had on hand, we secured a snapping bargain in 2 cases of American Straws the other day from a large New York house. We can sell a $1 split-straw, fine braided, fine trimmed and silk banded Straw for 60c. We have Straws for all ages—the 49c line, soft or stiff brim, with black and coloured bands, are great value at.. .30

These are only a few of the HALF-PRICE offerings, but you can take them as a fair criterion for all the other prices during our Slashing July Sale. You know, or should know, that we are always getting the best possible goods at the LOWEST prices—and that's the sort of refreshing ozone that refreshes all kinds of pocket books. Come in and blow yourself. Whether you are taking a holiday or not, remember WE ARE GIVING THE PROFITS ON HATS A HOLIDAY.

Our next Slashing Sale will be in Boy's Clothing, but if you or the boys need a Hat just now, you might get the bargains in Clothing, now, too, as well as in the Hats.

A PROHIBITION VOTE.

The Dominion Alliance Meets in Toronto.

MANY MEMBERS WERE PRESENT

Resolutions Prepared by the Committee Created Some Stormy Talk—A Deputation to Wait Upon the New Government—These Orgies in the House of Commons.

Toronto, July 16.

The Dominion Alliance for the Total Suppression of the Liquor Traffic was in council at Temperance Hall yesterday.

Mr. J. R. Dougal of Montreal, one of the Vice-presidents from Quebec, presided in the absence of the president, Hon. A. Vidal of Sarnia. Among the delegates present were: Rev. W. A. Mackay, D.D., Woodstock; Rev. William Gribble, Berlin; Rev. C. D. Baldwin, Dunham, Quebec; Rev. James Kines, Cobourg; H. S. Matthews, Newmarket; Thomas W. Gale, T. H. Carson, J. R. Dougall, A. M. Featherston, E. L. Bond, Montreal; W. W. Buchanan, F. W. Watkins, D. L. Brethour, J. H. Land, George H. Lees, Hamilton; John L. Robertson, M. McMullen, Toronto; Lillian M. Phelps, St. Catharines; P. H. Stewart, Barrie; J. W. Morgan, Thornhill; George Washington, Sandford; Miss Mary A. Mair, Mrs. St. Croix, J. George Miller, J. A. Miller, Greenbank; S. Stewart, Dr. E. J. T. Fisher, John T. Moore, R. W. Dillon, F. S. Spence, James Hughes, Dr. J.J. Maclaren, J. B. Kennedy, J. A. Austin, Buchanan, Mrs. Vance, L. P. Peake, J. K. Stewart, Mrs. F. S. Spence, Rev. A. P. McDiarmid, Rev. W. R. Parker, D.D., J. B. Brooke, Elias Walls, W. H. Orr, C. Feasey, Mrs. J. Spence, M. McDonell, Rev. Dr. Dewart, Toronto.

The Executive's report referred to the result of the recent elections, and quoted Mr. Laurier as stating that the Liberal party would be prepared to carry out the mandate of the people.

"We are now, therefore, face to face with a plebiscite for the Dominion. It is to be hoped that every province and every locality will immediately perfect organization to secure from that plebiscite such a victory as will ensure us the speedy enactment of a prohibitory law for the Dominion."

At the afternoon session there was considerable ill feeling and dissatisfaction displayed, and there was a lot of heated discussion and wrangling. The trouble was over the report of the Committee on Resolutions, which presented five resolutions for adoption. The first three carried all right; the fourth carried after a lot had been said about it, but it was at the fifth that the real trouble commenced, and the resolution was eventually struck out by the chairman's deciding vote.

1. That, as the present Dominion Government is pledged to submit the question of total prohibition to the people in the form of a plebiscite, it is essential that a central fund be raised for the dissemination of literature throughout the country, and that every province and locality be urged to immediately perfect organization to secure that plebiscite such a victory as will ensure us the speedy enactment and thorough enforcement of a prohibitory law for the Dominion.

2. That we learn with great pleasure of the organization effected by brother prohibitionists in the Province of New Brunswick and of the active part taken in the recent elections, and we extend to them the right hand of fellowship, to invite them to co-operate with us in the dissemination of literature and all other temperance work.

3. That whereas there are, so far as known to our committee, several provinces not yet organized for active work, we recommend that the provinces be earnestly requested to effect immediate organization, either in affiliation with the Alliance or by some other name, to further the interest of the prohibitory cause.

4. Your committee learns with pleasure the preparation of a digest of important parts of the report of the Royal Commission, to be used for information in campaign work. We suggest the distribution of this digest in public libraries and temperance societies and church courts, with requests to carefully read the same. Further, that it be used by the Literature Committee which may be appointed for the campaign work, and in every other way that would benefit the temperance cause.

5. Whilst we recognize the work done by our Executive, we regret that more active steps were not taken by them in the late Dominion elections to more thoroughly carry out the plan of campaign as outlined at the Montreal convention.

It appears that the main reason the resolution had been framed by the committee was the defeat of Messrs. Buchanan and Watkins, the Independent candidates in Hamilton, at the recent elections. Hon. G. W. Ross, an ardent prohibitionist and connected with the Dominion Alliance, had spoken on behalf of the Reform candidates in preference to Messrs. Buchanan and Watkins. In this connection, Mr. A. M. Featherston said that a man who is a renegade from the Alliance should not be asked to be at the Prohibition Convention.

This resolution, moved by Mr. Buchanan and seconded by Mr. Dougall, carried: "That the Dominion Alliance appoint a deputation to wait on the Dominion Government as early as possible to plead for prohibition. If the Government promise early action on the plebiscite policy it be an instruction to prepare for the campaign. If no such promise is given, that the deputation be instructed to consult with friends of prohibition in the House and endeavor to secure an immediate re-introduction of the Flint resolution."

The meeting was continued at 3 o'clock Hon. Mr. Vidal, the president, having arrived, took the chair. His absence had been due to a misunderstanding regarding the date of meeting. His Worship Mayor Fleming was present. The Resolution Committee had been at work since the afternoon session and presented another batch of resolutions, which were amended and adopted, as follows;

That the Alliance recommends that the platform be largely used to educate the public mind, and that agents for lecturing and collecting funds be put into the different provinces.

As scenes of national disgrace have arisen from the sale of intoxicants within the Parliament buildings at Ottawa, that as clear and steady minds are absolutely necessary for the enactment of suitable legislation, that the Alliance request the proper authorities to suppress the sale of liquor within the Parliament buildings.

A resolution of thanks to J. B. Flint, M.P., for estimable services to the Alliance.

A resolution favoring the enfranchisement of women.

The report of the committee on political action recommended the following two resolutions, which were adopted:

"That it be an instruction to the incoming Executive to arrange with temperance and church bodies for the perfecting of organization for the plebiscite campaign, in provinces where general organization does not exist."

"That the Legislation Committee be the deputation to wait upon the Dominion Government, and that churches and temperance societies be requested to co-operate in the matter."

Senator Vidal was re elected president over Mr. Fred W. Watkins by a vote of 30 to 13. Senator Vidal rendered thanks for the honor again being given him. He has been president since 1876.

Vice-presidents were elected as follows: For Ontario, Mayor Fleming and Hon. Senator Aikins; for Quebec, Hon. S. A. Fisher and J. R. Dougall; for Nova Scotia, Hon. A. R. Dickey and T. B. Flint, M.P.; for New Brunswick, Rev. James McLeod, D.D., and A. H. Hannington; for Prince Edward Island, Hon. David Laird, S. Crabbe; for Manitoba, Rev. Dr. Boyce and J. Redford Mulock; Northwest Territories, Frank Oliver, M.P.; British Columbia, Aniey Morrison, M.P., and J. B. Kennedy, M.L.A.

Corresponding Secretary, F. S. Spence, Toronto; recording secretary, J. H. Carson, Montreal; treasurer, William H. Orr, Toronto.

Executive Committee, Rev. Dr. Dewart, Frank Buchanan, J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., Rev. George Washington, Mrs. McDonell, F. W. Watkins, Rev. Dr. Parker, Dr. Fisher, T. Urquhart, J. B. Brookes, Rev. Dr. Mackay, Mrs. Rutherford, H. O'Hara, George Duffy, C. T. Williams, A. M. Featherston, Rev. T. G. Williams, D.D., Rev. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. J. G. Sanderson, William Tees, Major Bond, S. J. Carter.

Legislative Committee, the officers of the Alliance and A. M. Featherston, J. J. Maclaren, Major E. L. Bond, W. W. Buchanan, S. P. Leet, Rev. Dr. Saunders, Rev. Dr. Armstrong.

The delegates will attend the Provincial Prohibition Convention at the Pavilion to-day.

NO MORE PAY CARS.

The Employes of the Canadian Pacific Railway Will Hereafter be Paid by Cheques.

Montreal, July 15.—(Special.)—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have adopted the system of paying all of their employes by cheque, addressed to each official from the treasurer's office. In this city, instead of sending out four pay cars each month from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and running the risk of having the cash pounced upon by highwaymen, or some dishonest official, as was the case of Harry Noad, whose arrest was made in New York last week. So far the change has been carried into effect from Fort William eastward to Halifax, but Mr. Taylor, the treasurer of the company, told The World this afternoon that the new system would in the near future be put into operation over the entire road from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Mr. Taylor explained that the cheques were drawn upon the Bank of Montreal, but the company had made arrangements with all the banks of the Dominion so that the cheques in question may be everywhere taken at par. It appears that all of the leading railways in the United States have discarded the pay cars and introduced the cheque system instead and that the Grand Trunk Railway Company were about two months ahead of their big rival in putting the improved pay system into force.

HEAVY SUITS FOLLOW

The Troubles at St. Barnabas', St. Catharines.

REV. C. H. SHUTT THE PLAINTIFF

The Rector Issues Writs Against Seven Members and Ex-Members of His Congregation Claiming $40,000 Damages for Alleged Libel and Slander.

St. Catharines, Ont., July 15.—For months past Dame Rumor has been exceedingly busy with the alleged wrongdoings of the rector of St. Barnabas' Church, the Rev. C. H. Shutt, and the matter has more or less been ventilated in the newspapers, starting with the alleged wrongful opening of a letter addressed to the organist of the church by the rector. This matter was the cause of a split in the congregation, the members taking sides, and several members, in consequence of the squabble, left the church, though some have since returned. Bishop Hamilton was made aware of the matter by complaint being made to the Synod, but his translation to Ottawa prevented him taking up the matter, and Bishop DuMoulin has now the matter in hand and some decision or action is anxiously waited for by those who signed the petition to the Bishop. Several times the rector has expressed his intention of making trouble for someone in connection with the stories that have been floating around; but was not apparently able to secure conclusive evidence on which to base an action. Now however, he seems to have got what he wants, for on Tuesday afternoon three actions were entertained against different parties in town, some members of the church, and some ex-members, in which he claims the sum of $40,000 for damages for libel, slander and conspiracy.

The first suit names as defendants William Ellis, W. Canute, H. E. Cudney, F. B. Waite and H. G. Radcliffe, and from these defendants he claims $20,000 damages.

Another suit is against Mary Amelia Ellis, wife of William Ellis, the first named defendant in the previously mentioned action, and is for the sum of $10,000.

The other suit is against Willie Thompson, the organist of the church, and the person whose letter was secured by the rector and opened. This action also is for $10,000.

Considerable surprise is expressed in legal circles at these writs, and much displeasure is expressed. Generally it is conceded that much trouble and scandal will arise out of the actions. Mr. Lancaster, who has been acting all along for Mr. Shutt, could not be seen this morning, having gone out of the city. F. B. Waite, one of the defendants, was seen by a reporter but he would say nothing whatever about the case, beyond that he had been served and had left his writ with his attorneys.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

Grand Master White Speaks on the Growth of the Order—The Grand Treasurer's Report.

Belleville, Ont., July 15.—The report of Grand Master White of the Masons, which was read this afternoon, states that six dispensations for new lodges have been granted and three refused, namely, for Wyoming, Burk's Falls and Creemore. During the year five new rooms have been dedicated for Masonic use—at Kingston, Sudbury, Renfrew, Huntsville and Alvinston. The report of the Grand Lodge shows a gratifying increase over any preceding year in its history. For the first time the receipts exceed $20,000 and the expenditure is lower than last year. The Grand Master recommends an annual allowance of $500 to his successor in lieu of paying his expenses. The so-called Grand Lodge of Ontario has been swept out of existence under an arrangement made with the members of that body.

In the Grand Treasurer's report the receipts for the past year are stated at $20,215, and the expenditure at $15,748, leaving a balance on hand of $4467. The amount granted for relief was $3630, an increase of $1210 over the previous year.

The condition of Masonry is reported upon favorably by the special committee on that subject, and the Prince of Wales is congratulated on having reached his twenty-first year as Grand Master of the Mother Lodge in England.

COYLE DIED SUDDENLY.

A Kingston Sport, Known as the "Hong Kong Kid," Dies in a Bay City Saloon.

Bay City, Mich., July 15.—John Coyle, 25 years of age, of Kingston, Ont., more familiarly known in sporting circles as "Hong Kong Kid," died in Bay City last night, apparently of morphine poisoning. The deceased entered Tierney's saloon at 5 o'clock last evening in an intoxicated condition. He was taken deathly sick shortly after, and at the suggestion of Mr. Tierney he was carried to a room upstairs. His condition became worse rapidly, and he expired at midnight. All the symptoms point to morphine poisoning. An inquest will be held.

MR. MENIER AT QUBEC.

The Chocolate King Who Owns Anticosti Shown the Sights of the City.

Quebec, July 15.—Mr. Henri Menier, the French chocolate king, and party were shown the principal places of interest and industrial establishments in this city and neighborhood to-day. A number of our leading citizens accompanied the distinguished visitors. Mr. Menier visited Monseigneur Labreque at the Cardinal's Palace this morning. His Lordship, who is the diocesan for Anticosti Island, told Mr. Menier that he would try his best to have a resident priest at English Bay.

Mr. Menier is a great friend of Mr. James Gordon Bennett, owner of The New York Herald, and within the past week the great daily has had several columns about the well-known Parisian's island in the St. Lawrence.

A WELL CONSTRUCTED CABINET.

It was urged against Mr. Laurier by his opponents during the election that he was "no business man." Yet he has shown himself to be a first rate mechanic. He has put together a fine strong clean Cabinet. Not only is his work well put together—the proper material in the proper place—but he has made splendid choice of material. It is a remarkable fact that he has five provincial ex-premiers in his Cabinet—men who are themselves master mechanics at state craft, who served their apprenticeship in the practical work of governing, and governing successfully. These are Mowet, Fielding, Blair, Davies and Joly. This ought to pretty well dispose of the Mail and Empire's unpatriotic carping as to "French domination." Mr. Laurier has consulted the public interests primarily in the selection of his Cabinet, and we in Ontario, have for once got a set of representative Cabinet Ministers who do not misrepresent the province—Mowat, Cartwright, Patterson and Scott, take the places of Haggart, Montague, Tisdale and Wood—three of them of the nest of traitors—and no honest man will deny that the improvement is immeasurable.

TARTE ON GUARD.

MR. TARTE is abundantly hated by the Tory politicians, and the reason is not far to seek. By a sort of poetic justice he has been made Minister of a department in which he found the robbers at work. He was then a member of the Conservative party, but his party fidelity was not reckless enough to permit him to wink at wickedness against which his soul revolted. At the risk of his political life, and his place in his party, he exposed the robbers in their nefarious plundering of the public treasury, and held them up to public execration. That is why Mr. Tarte is hated by the party whose methods he unmasked. On that occasion he guarded the strong box from the outside. Now he stands guard inside. Mr. Tarte, who sacrificed his personal interests to protect the public interests, will now more efficiently guard the public interests, when his action will meet the reward of public approval. He is a clever man, and will make an efficient Administrator.

MR. LAURIER'S DEMOCRATIC SIMPLICITY.

LAURIER began his Premiership well by declining a special train from Montreal to Ottawa. What was good enough for his fellow-citizens, the St. Thomas Journal points out, he felt was good enough for him. And his action was not that of the demagogue, seeking the applause of the mob, but was natural to the man, who is equally devoid of false humility and false pride.

TARIFF BY POLITICIANS, FOR POLITICIANS.

The Canadian Grocer, the editor of which is a most pronounced Conservative, heartily endorses the Liberal idea that a commission should be appointed to thoroughly investigate the workings of the tariff before the expected changes are made. It says:

The trouble with the tariffs of the past is that they have been framed by the politician for the politician. Ostensibly they have been framed for the industrial interests of the country, but in reality they have been shaped more with regard to the exigencies of the politicians than the interests of business men. The tariff this country needs will not be turned out from the mould created by the free trade theorist; nor by the mould formed by the protection theorist: That which has been created on a business basis is the ideal and that alone will suffice. In order to the creation of such a mould as that, it is necessary, first of all, that the needs of the country should be ascertained. And the only way to ascertain these is by the appointment of a commission; not a commission of politicians, but one representing the different interests affected by such an instrument as a tariff on imports and composed of men outside Parliament. The result of the recent contest cannot be taken as a groundwork upon which to remodel the tariff, granted even that it was a triumph of one class of tariff doctrinaires over that of another class. A commission such as that suggested would collect that material so desirable in tariff modelling, and yet which one thousand general elections could not collate. By the time the House is ready to consider the tariff the commission could have the report printed and ready for the guidance of the Government and Parliament. And the tariff could thus be better, as well as more expeditiously revised. Such a report would be a most valuable document to business men, newspaper men, etc., but its value to Parliament as a basis on which to frame a tariff law would be incalculable. Let us have it.

BRANTFORD may easily be excused for chuckling over the honours that have come her way. That city is the home of the Premier of Ontario, Hon. Mr. Hardy, and of the Minister of Customs, Hon. Wm. Paterson. They are two statesmen of whom any city might be pardonably proud.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

Sore Feet.

Mrs. E. J. Neill, New Armagh, P. Q., writes:—"For nearly six months I was troubled with burning aches and pains in my feet to such an extent that I could not sleep at night, and as my feet were badly swollen I could not wear my boots for weeks. At last I got a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and resolved to try it and to my astonishment I got almost instant relief, and the one bottle accomplished a perfect cure."

MR. LAURIER'S CABINET

Meets With the Cordial Approval of Sir Donald Smith—Canada's Trade With Britain.

Montreal, July 15.—A special cable from London says: Sir Donald A. Smith says of Hon. Mr. Laurier's Cabinet: "It is regarded here as one of remarkable strength; of the highest character." He adds: "Mr. Laurier's speech on Canada and the Empire at Montreal aroused much satisfaction. I expected nothing less from him. I am no party man here, and I know Mr. Laurier to be a loyal, true-hearted Canadian."

It is believed Sir Donald A. Smith will tender his resignation as High Commissioner, if he has not already done so, leaving Mr. Laurier to suggest his continuing in office, if he so desires.

I understand the Pacific Cable Conference was postponed till October, primarily because Mr. Chamberlain thinks the attitude of the Liberal Government towards these Imperial projects should be fully known before further progress is made.

Mr. T. M. Daly sails by the Parisian to-morrow.

The Board of Trade returns show a continued and remarkable expansion of Anglo-Canadian trade. The imports from all the colonies increased four per cent. in June and six per cent. in the half year. The imports from Canada increased 37 to 40 per cent. The exports to all the colonies increased 4 per cent. in June and 12 per cent in the half year. The exports to Canada increased 5 1-4 and 9 per cent, respectively. The British purchases of Canadian exports show these increases in the half years in pounds sterling: Sheep, £6000; wheat and flour, £170,000; bacon, £100,000; hams, £38,000; butter, £12,000; cheese, £83,000; fish, £55,000; wool, £341,000.

The opponents of Mr. Chamberlain's zollverein are saying: "Why ask us to change our whole fiscal system to bring about what Canadian energy and enterprise can accomplish as things are?"

IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

Sir William Harcourt Makes a Fierce Attack Upon the Government—The Irish Land Bill.

London, July 15.—In the House of Commons to-day Gerald Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced that the Government withdrew the sections of the Irish Land Bill relating to procedure before land courts and defining improvements upon landed property, whether made by landlord or tenant.

Mr. Labouchere and John Morley asked what were the intentions of the Government in case the bill should not be passed before the middle of August, when the House is to adjourn.

Mr. Balfour replied that he did not know what would be done in that event.

Sir William Harcourt delivered a fierce speech, denouncing the Government for their gross mismanagement of public business.

John Dillon, the leader of the Irish Nationalist party, spoke in condemnation of the Irish Land Bill, and declared that the Irish members would force the Government to produce a better measure at the next session of Parliament.

Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, replied to Mr. Dillon, as the spokesman for the Government, in the absence of Arthur J. Balfour, the Ministerial leader in the House, who is suffering from an attack of catarrh. Mr. Chamberlain made a vigorous defence of the bill, and said that the Irish in recent years had had a monopoly of the time of the British Parliament, and England, he declared, would not allow Ireland to monopolize the time of that representative legislative body any longer. With a reasonable time for discussing a measure the bill ought to pass within the present session.

Timothy Harrington, Parnellite, said the bill was by no means a bad one, and he hoped the Government would persevere in putting it through.

Mr. Healey, anti-Parnellite, who participated in the debate, did not attack the bill, but claimed for the Irish members a reasonable time for its discussion. It was finally announced that the Government would proceed with the Irish Land Bill to-morrow.

HANSON ON TRIAL.

The Silly Swede Was Examined by Doctors, Who Will Testify as to His Accountability for the Crime.

Parry Sound, July 15.—The second day of the Assizes here opened with a true bill from the grand jury on the murder charge against the Swede, Christian Hanson. The prisoner, through an interpreter, pleaded "Not guilty."

An adjournment was asked for by the prisoner's counsel Mr. W. L. Haight of this town, in order to allow time to put in affidavits from medical men as to prisoner's mental condition. This was granted by the court, and at 4 o'clock this afternoon the case was taken up. After about 20 names had been challenged by the defence, a jury was selected, and the trial proceeded.

Mrs. Mullin, wife of the murdered man, was the first witness called for the Crown, and identified a number of articles which had belonged to her husband.

Other witnesses were examined, who had seen the prisoner and Mullin together previous to the murder.

At 6 o'clock the court adjourned. It is probable that a decision will not be arrived at by the jury till to-morrow evening.

FLOATERS AT DETROIT.

The Body of a Man and Another of a Woman Found at the Same Place.

Detroit, July 15.—The body of an unknown man, about 45 years old, was found in the water under the first bridge on Belle Isle about 7 o'clock this morning.

Annie Fleming and Kate Guvern were rowing under the bridge this afternoon, when they caught sight of a woman's body, floating about six feet from the point at which the man's body had been found. They notified the police. When the body had been drawn ashore it was found to be that of a person about 50 years old. The officers looked carefully over the ground, and when they directed their search to the space under the bridge, they saw that the ground was torn up as if a terrible struggle had taken place there. Coroner Teagan examined the woman's body, and when he found no marks of violence, ventured the opinion that she had committed suicide, or had been murdered by being held under the water. Both bodies are at the Morgue.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. Then the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

MILITIA CAMP DRILL

Not Yet Settled Whether it Will Take Place.

VIEWS OF THE FORCE WILL BE MET

The General Suggests a Postponement Until the Men are Provided With New Arms—Mr. Paterson May Represent a Northwest Constituency.

Ottawa, July 15.—Hon. William Paterson has not yet received a constituency and it is reported that Mr. Laurier, who will sit for Quebec East, has asked the Saskatchewan Liberals to elect Mr. Paterson as their member.

Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia and Defence, left for Nova Scotia this afternoon and will not likely return to Ottawa before the beginning of August. Previous to the Minister's departure he had a conference with General Gascoigne regarding the holding of annual camps of exercise. Owing to the lateness of the date at which the necessary funds can be available, the General has doubts as to the advisability of holding any camps this fall. He points out, moreover, that if they are deferred until next spring the Department will be in a position to place the new rifle in the hands of rural corps. On the other hand there is the objection that several battalions have not been drilled for two years. The Minister is anxious to meet the views of the force and has, therefore, given instructions for different D.A.G.'s to be communicated with in order to ascertain the views of the force in the several districts, and when their reports are in the Minister will recommend to his colleagues what course should be adopted.

In official circles it is learned that His Excellency has not signed a single appointment suggested by the late Government. The orders-in-council will all come under review before the new Cabinet.

Messrs. Paterson and Joly are not members of the Cabinet, although in the late Government the two controllers had full Cabinet rank. Not until the act has been passed changing the Controllers into Ministers and increasing the salaries to $7000 a year will these two gentlemen be sworn of the Privy Council.

It is expected that Sir Richard Cartwright will immediately take up the consideration of the fast Atlantic steamship contract, as considerable anxiety is felt in colonial circles in England respecting the line of action which the Government will assume on this subject.

The Free Press says the contract for the agreement with the Allans has not been put through. The late Cabinet worked on the scheme after their defeat, and the day before the resignation Messrs. H. A. and A. Allan came from Montreal, as it was thought at the time for the purpose of signing the necessary papers. They sent a note to the then Premier, Sir Charles Tupper. He sent another in return, and this concluded their business, as they went right back home without having accomplished anything.

From other sources it is gathered that the sanction of the Imperial authorities to some alterations in the agreement was anxiously awaited a day or two before Sir Charles withdrew from office, and as far as can be learned, the necessary sanction from the Old Country had not been obtained in time for the late Government to complete their plans as they would have liked to do. The whole question is likely to be threshed out during the approaching session, as power was left with the Dominion Parliament to go over the action of the Government and uphold or disallow it as seems best.

The Prime Minister was asked this morning if there was yet any announcement to make in connection with the filling of the portfolio of Interior, and his reply was that there was nothing as yet to be given out. The department will be administered by the Secretary of State for the time being.

The Cabinet will continue to meet every day for the present. The Ministers went into session again at 2 p.m. to-day. One Minister said this morning: "So far we have been engaged in finding out what was done by the late Council during the last few days they sat, and have done little work on our own account yet. We have not quite reached the starting point yet, and no announcements can be expected for a while."

The new Treasury Board has made a recommendation to Council for the issuance of an order with the recommendation of his Excellency to provide for raising sufficient funds to pay the salaries of the civil service. The recommendation will be forwarded to His Excellency, who is at present in Quebec.

There is much talk about Premier Greenway's trip to the Capital at the present juncture and conjecture as to his real mission. It is generally thought, says The Free Press, that the visit of the astute Premier of the Prairie Province has to do with the representation of that country in the Laurier Cabinet. He will consult on the subject with the First Minister, and no announcement as to the new Minister of Interior need be expected till that time. The opinion is freely expressed that he will take advantage of the opportunity to talk over the school question and perhaps state what he and his colleagues propose doing.

Major James Sutherland, M.P., and chief Liberal whip, is a noticeable figure in political circles here, and it is amusing to know that in the scramble that members from all over the country made for seats in the House of Commons he was completely left in the cold, and discovered yesterday that no seat had been allotted him on the Government side.

A story is told to the effect that a local barber waited on William Hutchison, M.P., with the request for the position in the House of Commons. He suggested that he only wanted a decent living out of the place. Mr. Hutchison might have the balance of the receipts. The applicant got out of that house in double-quick time.

Hon. A. G. Blair is expected back from New Brunswick by the end of the week, whither he had gone to straighten out his business connected with the local Premiership. He will probably take the oath of office at Quebec.

Our old friend Ald. John Hallam of Toronto was in town to-day and had an interview with the Prime Minister.

Ald. Preston, the Provincial Librarian, is also here to-day in connection with some patronage matters in West Toronto.

The first deputation to wait upon the Minister of Militia was received to-day at the Militia Department by the Hon. Dr. Borden. It was from this city, and urged the claims of Mr. Michael Ryan, formerly employed in the militia stores, to re-appointment on the ground that he had been unjustly dismissed.

Miss Mowat, daughter of Sir Oliver, arrived down from Toronto this morning on a visit to her father, and will remain in the Capital a short time.

Mr. Arch Campbell, Liberal member for Kent, is in town.

J. M. Hurley, the new Liberal M.P. for East Hastings, arrived in Ottawa to-day.

Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, left for the Eastern Townships to-day.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

THE ASSASSIN AGAIN.

This Time an Attempt is Made to Kill Carlos Ezeta, Ex-President of San Salvador.

San Francisco, July 15.—An attempt was made to assassinate Carlos Ezeta, ex-President of San Salvador, in the dining room of his hotel yesterday afternoon. The ex-President was seated at a table with a few of his friends, when Pedro Jiminez, a native of Salvador, entered the room. He walked directly to Ezeta's chair and, as the latter faced about, Jiminez spat in his face. The ex-President sprang to his feet to resent the insult, when Jiminez drew a revolver and leveled it at Ezeta's breast. The former Dictator of Salvador retained his presence of mind, and, seizing a chair, held it over Jiminez's head and dared him to fire. In another moment the would-be assassin was disarmed by Ezeta's friends and hurried from the room. Jiminez was arrested and stated he was formerly district attorney of Salvador under Ezeta's administration. While acting in that capacity he incurred the displeasure of the Dictator, who put him to torture. The ex-President denies the prisoner's statement and expresses the belief that Jiminez is an emissary of President Gutirres of San Salvador, who construes Ezeta's presence in San Francisco as a menace to the San Salavadorean Government.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM.

Further Changes Announced—There are Now Four Divisions—Those Who Will be in Charge of Each.

Toronto, July 16.

A circular has been issued from Grand Trunk headquarters at Montreal, dividing the system into four divisions, to be known as the Eastern, Northern, Middle and Western, as follows:

Eastern Division—Main line, Montreal to Toronto, including Harwood, Kingston and Jacques Cartier branches and all lines east and south of Montreal, comprising districts Nos. 1 to 7, inclusive.

Northern Division—All lines north of main line (except Harwood branch), between Belleville and Georgetown Junction, also line between Georgetown Junction and Hamilton comprising districts Nos. 8 to 14, inclusive.

Middle Division—All lines west of Toronto and the Niagara frontier and east of Detroit and St. Clair Rivers (except lines running north from Toronto and Hamilton, which are included in northern division), comprising districts Nos. 15 to 24, inclusive.

Western Division—All lines west of Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, comprising districts Nos. 25 to 29, inclusive.

William Cotter will be superintendent of the eastern division, with headquarters at Montreal; J. Webster, superintendent of the northern division, with headquarters at Allandale; and E. H. Fitzhugh, superintendent of the middle division, with headquarters at Toronto. No appointments to the western division have yet been made, but W. R. Tiffin goes to Montreal as assistant to Gen. Sup. McGuigan, Mr. G. C. Jones of the Wabash becomes trainmaster at London.

Mr. E. Wragge left the Union Station to-day, Mr. Fitzhugh taking his place.

ONE HONEST MAN

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P.O. Box 388, London, Ont.

ANOTHER THUG CAUGHT.

The Fourth Member of the Gang That Held Up the New York Biscuit Company Now in the Toils.

Chicago, July 15.—The fourth member of the gang of robbers who committed the New York Biscuit Company hold-up on Saturday was arrested today and taken to the Hooly-street Police Station. William, alias "Red" Sullivan, made another confession this morning, stating that the other two men in the Biscuit Company hold-up were Mike Monahan and William Dempsey. Within three hours this statement led to the arrest of one of the men. Monahan and Dempsey are said to have been connected with nearly all of the recent hold-ups on all sides of the city. "Red" Sullivan was the prime mover, and guarded the outside while Dempsey and Monahan took the money.

IT IS ALL TALK.

Yes, but it is Norwood Talk—The Kind That Tells in Norwood.

Talk that tells.
Talk that is endorsed.
Every day talk by people that know.
City talk.
Kidney talk.
Do the kidneys talk?
Well, yes, both loud and long.
You are learning the kidney language.
Backache in kidney language means kidney ache.
Lame back means weak kidneys.
Weak back means weak kidneys.
The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

Nowadays when ladies take part in so many active sports it is necessary to have gowns that will preserve their graceful shape thro' every kind of exercise, and this is why Fibre Chamois is so immensely popular. It never loses its charming stiffness, yet owing to its flexible nature it imparts a sinuous grace to your gowns which nothing can disturb. Dresses interlined with it will have just the same style at the end of the season as at the beginning.

But don't expect these results from imitations, always see the label on each yard to be sure that you are getting the genuine Fibre Chamois—it never disappoints.

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

GENERAL MANAGER HAYS, OF THE G. T. R., IN TOWN.

Grand Trunk Officials Visit Peterborough on a Tour of Inspection.

Yesterday afternoon Peterborough was honoured by a visit of the new General Manager of the Grand Trunk. Mr. Hays, accompanied by General Traffic Manager Reeves, General Supt. Guigan, District General Freight Agent White and Superintendent Webster have for the last few days been inspecting the road and yesterday came to Peterborough.

The Chemong and Lakefield branches were carefully inspected and it was finally decided that the former would not be re-opened for passenger traffic this season. The inspection is stated to have been a most minute one.

A circular issued in Montreal yesterday by the General Manager, reads as follows.

Montreal, July 15th, 1896.

Taking effect this date, the lines will be operated in four divisions, to be known as the Eastern, Northern, Middle and Western, as follows:

EASTERN DIVISION.

Main line, Montreal to Toronto, including Harwood, Kingston and Jacques Cartier branches, and all lines east and south of Montreal, comprising District Nos. 1 to 7 inclusive.

NORTHERN DIVISION.

All lines north of main line (except Harwood branch) between Belleville and Georgetown Junction, also line between Georgetown Junction and Hamilton, comprising Districts Nos. 8 to 14 inclusive.

MIDDLE DIVISION.

All lines west of Toronto and the Niagara Frontier, and east of Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, (except lines running north from Toronto and Hamilton which are included in Northern Division), comprising Districts Nos. 15 to 24 inclusive.

WESTERN DIVISION.

All lines west of Detroit and St. Claire Rivers comprising Districts Nos. 25 to 29 inclusive.

CHAS. M. HAYS,
General Manager.

The office of assistant superintendents having been abolished. Mr J. Webster has been appointed superintendent of the northern division, with headquarters at Allandale. Mr. E. H. Fitzburgh is superintendent of the middle division, with headquarters at Toronto.

COUNTY COUNCIL DIVISIONS.

The Commissioners at Work at the Court House—Judge Dean, Lindsay, and Judge Benson, Cobourg—The County Councillors in Attendance—The Commission' Report Probably Made This Evening.

The commissioners appointed by the Ontario Government to gather information upon which to base a division of the County of Peterborough into County Council divisions, in accordance with the provisions of the County Councils' Act of 1896, Judge Dean, of Lindsay, and Judge Benson, of Cobourg, sat at the County Council Chamber at the Court House this afternoon. There were also present the Warden and Councillors Forster, Moloney, Buck, Burnham, Casement, Crough, Johnston, Anderson, Crowe, Armstrong, Shaw, Mr. W. A. Stratton, sessional clerk, Mr. Edg. Pearse, County Clerk, and Mr. J. E. Belcher, County Engineer. Mr. J. M. Drummond, township clerk of Otonabee, was also present.

In beginning Judge Dean said he felt solicitious that the outlying townships of the county should be as fairly dealt with as possible.

The commissioners will probably conclude their investigations and make their report this afternoon.

THE SEWERS ON GEORGE AND WATER STREETS.

A Committee of the Whole Council will Discuss the Order in Which the Work will Proceed.

The agitation of the EXAMINER against the prospect of opening up sewer operations on George street before Water street is in a condition to accommodate the traffic of the business portion of the town, has born fruit to the extent of stirring up the merchants to petition the town council in the matter.

In accordance with the request of the petitioners, a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council has been summoned for this evening for the purpose of discussing the matter in all its bearings.

W. C. MORRIS, D. D. H. C. R.

He Was Elected to This Office by the C. O. F. Last Evening.

A meeting of the three courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters in Peterborough was held last evening for the purpose of electing a District Deputy High Chief Ranger for the town.

Mr. W. C. Morris, of Court Langton, was the unanimous choice of the meeting for the office.

A large representative was present from all three courts and at the conclusion of the business for which the meeting was called other matters of considerable interest were informally discussed.

ENDEAVOURERS AT WASHINGTON.

A SKETCH OF THE GENERAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Places of Meeting—Membership and Methods of the Convention—Thirty Thousand Delegates—Missionary Movement—The Importance of the Junior Work.

Special to the Examiner.

Last week we published an account of the experiences along the line and the reception of delegates at Washington and started our delegates out sight seeing. We will briefly tell of the places of meeting, the membership, the methods of the convention and the music, leaving for next week the report of President Clarke and Secretary Baer. The places of meeting were the three large tents "Williston," "Endeavour" and "Washington," with a seating capacity of 10,000 each, the principal churches in the immediate district and Central Hall, in all sufficient room to accommodate 10,000 people. On Wednesday night tent Williston collapsed. This was caused by damp weather shrinking the canvas and those who were in charge did not loosen the ropes sufficient to allow for shrinkage. The anchors were all pulled out and the mammoth structure collapsed for a while. This caused a dilemma. Many of the congregations in the city offered their churches for the use of the delegates. The committee in charge started to erect the tent as soon as the canvas dried and by Saturday morning had everything in readiness. The tents were highly decorated with red, white and blue bunting. The Union Jack and Stars and Stripes formed the principal decorations. The raised portion on the front of each tent was arranged to accommodate 300 persons who composed the chorous. At all the sessions these tents were crowded, as were the many churches and halls. In the thirty-two churches set aside as state headquarters the sunrise prayer meetings and denominational rallies were held.

THE GREATEST MEETING OF ALL

was the gathering at the capital on Saturday afternoon. It is estimated that 40,000 people assembled around the capitol building to participate in the event. This sight baffles description. If you could imagine a throng of people, finely dressed gaily badged, filling one of Washington's magnificent avenues to the extent of three miles you can form a faint conception of this gathering.

The musical portion of this convention is said to be the most complete and brightest of any convention yet held. The directors were musicians of world renowned fame. There was Sankey, known to all, Excell and Bilhorn, of Chicago, and Clark and Foster, of Washington. Each of these gentlemen directed the choruses and all had a special hymns written by themselves and they were called upon many times to render them. An octette composed of negro gentlemen brightened many of the gatherings by singing plaintive melodies. The rendering of "Let a Little Sunshine in," written and sung by E. O. Excell, of Chicago, was the favourite selection of the convention, and promises to become well known to all Endeavourers throughout the land.

The manner in which these directors arranged the singing and the way they controlled these great gatherings seems most wonderful—especially when we take into consideration the weather. It was so hot that one could hardly breathe, and a special effort was put forward to raise the spirits of those present, and soon after the commencement of every exercise the throng forgot the heat and entered fully into the service. The great climax of the musical display was reached on Saturday afternoon, when the Endeavourers gathered at the Capitol. The entire chorus of 4000 voices was present, and led by the Marine Band of Washington, sang the most patriotic airs. This, as many other portions of the programme, baffles description. It seemed that all the enthusiasm of America was let loose to celebrate this event. The patriotic spirit of the singing throughout could not help but make those participating in it better Christians, and in the quiet hour seasons the deepness of the spiritual outflowing conveyed through the sentiment of the Convention hymns was truly blessed. All over the city, on street cars, and wherever a number of delegates gathered, a hymn would be sung, and the most notable thing was the happy state the Endeavourers kept themselves in by this indulgence. If there was a rush anywhere, instead of pushing and shoving and wearing a frown upon the face, a tune would be started, and the

of each brightens the way, which must have been, under different circumstances, decidedly oppressive owing to the extreme heat.

The membership of the convention was composed of 30,000 delegates, many visitors and some of the ablest men on the continent—in all some 60,000 people. The notable persons present were Dr. Clarke, Secretary Baer, Treasurer Shaw, of the international Committee, and B. Fay Mills, Dr. Chapman, Wayland Hoyt, Amos R. Nells, Rev. R. S. McArthur, Commander Booth-Tucker of the Salvation Army, and a host of the ablest divines on the continent.

The method of the convention, first, The Deepening of the Spiritual Life. This was the topic of the first night and at the sunrise prayer meetings and quiet hours, with the closing consecration service, all tended to give a deeper influence. None who had attended the convention could ever be the same again. There seemed to be a craving for this deeper influence, and it seems that all realized it before the close. The evangelistic meetings were conducted every day during the noon hour and on Saturday morning and evening special services were held and the results were gratifying.

The missions received special attention at the convention. "Sweet to Serve" was the topic on Friday, and many returned missionaries took part in these services. Sunday afternoon was the great missionary feast. The different denominations rallied at centres and missions were discussed from a denominational standpoint by some returned missionaries, many of whom were ladies. The missionary extension must have received an impetus that will tell before the year closes. The American Presbyterian Endeavourers are going to try and raise the $100,000 that the board is short this year by subscribing 25 cents per member, and the other denominations are going to try and do equally as well when the call comes for missionary service. Many offered themselves.

The Committee Conferences.—Some helpful information was given at these gatherings and served as a training school in committee work.

Junior work received special attention at this convention. At the junior workers' meeting on Friday morning a lively scene was presented. Over one thousand junior enthusiasts assembled together to discuss plans of work, and the great were present and the junior movement advanced many steps on this occasion. All these present must have desired to be a junior worker. In the afternoon at the superintendents' conference some very useful plans of work were presented. But this portion, as in all others on the programme, had a climax, and it took place on Saturday morning in tent "Williston," when the juniors had their rally. Over eight hundred trained children took part in this rally. This, as many other portions of the programme, is beyond description. Let it suffice to say that the C. E. in the world is not going to lose any of its brightness. When these lively little Americans Canadians, Scotchmen, Irishmen, yes, all nationalities as they were represented here by their national airs and flags. This is where not only the international state exists but also the international fellowship is fostered.

The Sabbath observance meeting on Sunday afternoon was highly enthusiastic, many notable Sunday school workers taking part. Toronto was highly landed for her strict observance of the Sabbath, and was the pride of the Endeavourers. The Americans received no small share of attention. On Monday morning a special meeting was held in the interests of suffering Armenians. Some strong language was used on this occasion. One of the speakers said, "I charge the government of the United States with misrepresentation of the enlightened sentiment of American people in this matter. The president, the secretary, and the American ministers have disregarded our broken treaties, they have permitted American property to be destroyed and American citizens to be imprisoned without reparation.

The Christian Citizenship movement also received a great deal of attention. On Thursday evening the sessions were devoted entirely to the consideration of this topic, and the most earnest appeals were made for a deeper interest in this great work of refining the customs of American people. On Sunday evening the delegates enjoyed the privilege of participating with the Washington Endeavourers in their regular weekly meetings. It is needless to say that there was no pauses in these gatherings.

Monday was

and on this evening the great convention of '96 closed with very impressive consecration services. An appeal was made to all to give themselves entirely up to the service of the Master, and when the call came for those who were willing to do so, the response was hearty, and although the weather was depressing throughout, this was held to be the liveliest convention yet held.

Tuesday was also devoted to sight seeing. The announcement that Dr. Clarke and the International Committee would visit Mount Vernon attracted the crowd. Many side trips were arranged and courtesy displayed towards the delegates by the officials in the many buildings, which was extremely pleasing.

The Canadian delegation received no small amount of attention. There is a general feeling prevailing among the Washington people that Canada wishes to be annexed, but when they were informed that Canadians belong to a greater nation than they and that if annexation takes place it will have to be that of the American Union becoming another portion of British possessions, they responded in a pleasing manner, "Oh, you want the earth." At the close of the sunrise session on Monday the Canadians had a photographic group taken with the members who acted as their reception committee. At this gathering a motion was moved that a Dominion organization was necessary and that steps be taken at the convention to be held at Ottawa to form same. This met with the approval of all. The convention to be held at Ottawa will be the first Dominion convention.

The next annual International convention will be held at San Francisco and in '98 it will go to Nashville, Tenn.

Next week we shall give a condensed report of reports of committees and general statistics of the World's Christian Endeavour Union.

THE MASONIC GRAND LODGE IN SESSION.

HUNDREDS OF DELEGATES NOW IN BELLEVILLE.

An Address Presented From the City—The Grand Master's Annual Address to the Delegates.

The forty-first annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of Ontario, opened in Belleville yesterday, M. W. Bro. W. R. White, Q.C., Grand Master, on the throne, and all the other grand officers present. On the stage beside the Grand Master were seated a large number of Past Grand Masters.

The grand officers and delegates assembled at the drill shed, where they formed in procession and marched to the Opera House. The grand officers in their beautiful regalias presented a fine appearance, and as it was generally understood that this would be the only opportunity the general public would have to see them, quite a large gathering of citizens witnessed the parade.

Before the opening of Grand Lodge, Mayor Wamsley, accompanied by the chairman of the civic committees and Ald. Falkiner, were announced, introduced and presented an address on behalf of the city.

A constitutional number of lodges being represented, the Grand Lodge was opened in ample form at 2.30 o'clock, and the Grand Chaplain, R. W. Bro. Rev. E. H. Mussen, implored a blessing from the Great Architect of the Universe upon the proceedings.

The Grand Master then delivered the following address:—Again we have come together from all parts of the jurisdiction for the purpose of holding in this historic City of Belleville the 41st Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada and I have much pleasure in extending to you, one and all, a most hearty and fraternal welcome. Though strictly business meetings, I have always felt that these annual gatherings were not only beneficial to the Craft in general but both profitable and pleasant to the individual Masons who attend them. And nowhere, in my opinion, are such firm, lasting and loyal friendships formed, friendships based upon the soundest of all bases, mutual respect and brotherly love.

Legislation—Several motions of which notice have been given will probably come before you for your consideration and doubtless will be dealt with by you upon their merits. I can only recommend to you, as I did last year, that, where amendments to the constitution are proposed, you should be exceedingly careful not to disturb the existing order of things unless you are quite sure that you are going to get something very much better. Two years' experience as Grand Master has convinced me that, although our Constitution is not absolutely perfect, yet, it is fairly workable and that great care should be exercised in amending it.

By-Laws—I have had submitted for approval during the year and have read, examined and approved the full revised by-laws of 18 lodges, and amendments to the by-laws of 23. There has been a marked improvement in the manner of submitting these by-laws to me and my labours have been somewhat lightened thereby. Still, the careful perusal and examination of the by-laws of 41 lodges has furnished me with a reasonable amount of employment to fill up the intervals between my ordinary avocations.

Corner Stones.—Special communications of Grand Lodge have been held during the past year for the laying of corner stones, as follows:—On 14th August, 1895, at Sarnia, for laying the corner stone of the General Hospital, a very beautiful and costly building, which, when completed, will be a credit to the citizens of Sarnia. At Rockport, on 3rd June, 1896, for laying the corner stone of an Anglican church, at which M.W.R.T. Walkem, Q.C., P.G.M., kindly officiated, I being unable to make train connections. At Glammis, on 25th June, 1896, for laying the corner stone of a Presbyterian Church, R. W. Bro. Cumman, M.P., D.G.M., officiating.

Dispensations for new Lodges.—I have had an unusual number of petitions for dispensations for new lodges presented to me during the year and I have granted six and refused three. I refused petitions for new lodges at Wyoming, Burk's Falls and Creemore, as, in each case, I was satisfied the establishing of a new lodge would mean the practical destruction of existing lodges in the same locality.

Dedications.—During the year five new rooms have been dedicated for Masonic use:—At Kingston, Sudbury, Renfrew, Huntsville and Alvinston. I must express my unqualified approval of those new lodge rooms I have seen, and of the enterprise and liberality displayed by the members of all these lodges in providing tasteful and convenient meeting places.

Dispensations.—An unusual number of dispensations have been granted for festivals and other purposes, no less than seventy-seven having been issued since last July—strong evidence that the craft throughout the jurisdiction have been attending to both labour and refreshment.

Receipts and expenditures.—The receipts of Grand Lodge show a gratifying increase over any preceding year in our history. For the first time, I am informed, the receipts exceed $20,000, and the expenditure is lower than last year, a very gratifying condition of affairs indeed.

Allowance to Grand Master—As I am about to resign the gavel into the hands of my successor and quit forever the high and important position which I have occupied during the past two years, I have no delicacy whatever in pointing out to you, for the benefit of my successors, that the present method of allowing the Grand Master his actual travelling expenses is in my opinion not only impracticable but wholly beneath the dignity of either Grand Master or Grand Lodge. My own experience has been that I have been wholly unable to keep track of my expenses, and I felt that it was not only impossible to do so, but humiliating personally to be asked to do so. I would recommend most strongly that Grand Lodge adopt one of two courses, either revert to the former system of granting the Grand Master an annual allowance of $500, or let him pay his own expenses. Do not put him to the humiliating necessity of making an entry every time he pays a 5 cent car fare.

General Masonic Relief Association—I have much pleasure in calling your attention to the good work performed by the General Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada, with which this and many of the leading Grand Lodges of the continent are affiliated. By the system and methods adopted by this General Board great benefit has accrued to the craft.

The So Called Grand Lodge of Ontario.—I am very much pleased to be able to report to this Grand Lodge that during the past year, (pursuant to the authority granted at our last meeting), such arrangements have been made with the members of this organization as effectually sweep this body out of existence for, I trust, all time to come. Their charter (granted by the Provincial Government) has been transferred to myself and the Grand Secretary, as trustees for this Grand Lodge, all warrants issued to subordinate lodges, the seal and all other books and property of this so-called body have been or are being delivered up and are now in possession of this Grand Lodge. All members of this so-called grand body who have applied have been healed and declared their allegiance to this Grand Lodge. Many of them have applied for affiliation to our lodges, and are now active and useful member of this Grand body. The surrender is voluntary and complete—the only concession granted being that members of the extinct body holding the rank of Past Master therein are conceded that rank in any of our lodges with which they may affiliate or to which they may be admitted.

I am sure every member of Grand Lodge will agree with me in congratulating the Grand Lodge of Canada upon the complete healing of this long-standing sore. It is peculiarly gratifying to my-self personally that it should have taken place during my term of office. I desire, however, to say most emphatically that the credit for the happy accomplishment of this very desirable result is mainly due to the arduous, able and untiring efforts of my predecessors in office and that little remained for me to do but to reap the harvest they had sown. I cannot close my reference to this subject without expressing my high appreciation of the assistance I received in the settlement of this troublesome matter from the following brethren, viz.: W. Bro. Geo. C. Patterson, W. M. of Harmony Lodge, Toronto and Bros. Barton and Copper, former members of the so called Grand Lodge of Ontario. Indeed, it was largely owing to the patient, intelligent efforts and wise counsel of these brethren that the difficulty has been so happily adjusted. I am also assured that Bros. Reith, Ramsay and Egan (former members of the so-called Grand Lodge of Ontario) aided materially in bringing about the settlement. I most heartily recommend that this Grand Lodge should recognize in some appropriate manner the services of these brethren.

Official Visits.—I have, so far as time and circumstances would permit, visited every portion of the jurisdiction during my term of office, and everywhere have I found the same earnest, enthusiastic feeling animating the brethren. Truly I can say that love for the Craft and respect for the Grand Master seem to be distinguishing characteristics of the Masons belonging to this Grand Lodge. I had last winter the pleasure of being present at the dedication of the Masonic Temple in Montreal, an edifice well worthy, both in the building and its appointments, of the Masons of that metropolitan city. That I received a hearty, enthusiastic and fraternal reception goes without saying, and I shall never forget the right royal hospitality of the Grand Master, Col. Massey, and the Masons of the Province of Quebec.

Rulings.—I am again able to state that I have had few questions submitted to me during the past year, much less than during that preceding. And I am inclined to think that the policy adopted by me and acted upon during my first year of office had had the effect intended and stopped the propounding of many useless Masonic conundrums.

Our Progress.—During the past year I have to report an increase interest in Masonic work and generally a very gratifying condition of the craft throughout the jurisdiction and a satisfactory increase both in numbers and in the number of new lodges. Peace and harmony are our watchwords, and so long as they reign among Canadian Masons, just so long will our progress be in every respect as satisfactory as during the past year.

Grand Representatives.—During the past year, upon my recommendation, the following brethren have been appointed representatives of foreign Grand Lodges near this Grand Lodge, viz.:

R. W. Arthur McGinnis for G. L. of Colorado; V. W. James H. Flock for G. L. of Idaho; R. W. John Hoodless for G. L. of North Carolina.

Closing Observations—I have endeavored as briefly as possible to put before you the record of the past year and have aimed at making my address a business document addressed to and to be dealt with by a body of business men. I must confess, however, that I cannot close this address and lay down the gavel without expressing the hope that my occupancy of the chair I am now leaving has been of some benefit to the Craft and it has been a source of great pride and pleasure to me. When I look back over the past two years and reflect that, as the presiding officer of such a large and intelligent body of men as those composing the Grand Lodge of Canada, I have been able to discharge the duties of that office without, insofar as I am aware, forfeiting the esteem and friendship of those with whom I have been brought in contact, I feel I have been exceptionally fortunate, and that I can now hand over the gavel to my worthy successor, conscious that I have, to some extent at least, justified the confidence of those who two years ago placed me in the proud position of Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada. To the officers who have assisted me during the past year I return my sincere thanks. Indeed I have no words to express my appreciation of the unswerving loyalty shown by every Grand Lodge officer towards myself, and I feel that whatever success I have had as Grand Master has been owing in a great measure to the hearty support I have on all occasions received. I thank you, brethren, one and and all for your unfailing kindness and courtesy towards me, and I resign the gavel to my successor, who, I know, is well worthy of the love and confidence of this Grand Lodge.

W. R. WHITE,
Grand Master.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up with the reading of reports and routine business.

ST. JOHN'S PICNIC.

The Sunday School Scholars' Annual Outing.

The children of St. John's church Sunday school were given their annual outing yesterday and steamed down the river to Jubilee Point. The day was a perfect one and the enjoyment of those who participated in the trip was most apparent. The beautiful grounds of Jubilee are now at their best, and the visitors were delighted with the pretty picnic grounds.

The following list of sports was run off, in charge of a committees consisting of Revs. E. V. Stevenson and Carl Smith and Messrs. W. H. Walkey and A. Kingscote:

Girls' race (infant)—Louisa Morris, 2 Florence Connors.
Girls' race (9 years and under)—1 Florence Robertson, 2 Katie Morris.
Girls' race (12 years and under)—1 Ethel Wills 2 Maud Seymour.
Girls' race (16 years and under)—1 Rosie Judge, 2 Bessie Jones.
Young ladies' race—1 Nettie Pratt, 2 Maud Byers.
Married ladies' race—1 Mrs Greenwood, 2 Mrs Donnell.
Girls' boot race—1 Minnie Wilkins, 2 Annie Vout.
Boys' race (infant)—1 Allen Campbell, 2 John Kennedy.
Boys' race (9 years and under)—1 Geo Buchanan, 2 Lorimer Shelurake.
Boys' race (10 years and under)—1 Willie Kearns, 2 Sidney Rush.
Boys' race (12 years and under)—1 Willie Bradburn, 2 Bert Cranfield.
Boys' race (16 years and under)—1 Ed Graham 2 Albert Brundrette.
Boys' wheelbarrow race—Albert Brundrette, 2 Ed Graham.
Boys' boat race—1 Ed Graham, 2 B Cranfield.
Boys' three-legged race—1 Willie Bradburn and Arthur Graham, 2 Fred Roddy and Wilbert Lowes.
Throwing baseball—1 Harry Morgan, 2 Fred Whitcroft.

The boat reached the Wolfe street wharf at a most reasonable hour.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

John Hardy, the inventor of the vaccum brake, died recently in Vienna, where for many years he had been employed by the state railroads. He was born in 1820, worked for a time under George Stephenson, and is believed to have been the last survivor of his assistants.

The engineer of the Rocket, the first locomotive ever built, is still living in Iowa. His name is Edward Entwistle.

The Lindsay Post says: Conductor Pym passed through to Peterborough to-day. His many friends will be pleased to learn that his health is much better, and he hopes to take his old run shortly.

It takes a bookkeeper now to act as baggageman on the G.T.R. By a new rule a complete description of every article which is checked must be entered in a book and reported to headquarters. The entry must show exactly what the article is, what it is made of, what condition it is in, what injuries, if any, it has sustained, where it came from, and what was done with it. A series of abbreviations is introduced for convenience of description. Thus, B.L.T., S.B., C.B., S.B., means that it is a black leather trunk, with bottom split, corner broken and strap gone. The system will add immensely to the labour of handling baggage, as every piece must be separately and minutely examined.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whitness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

LACROSSE.

A telegram has just been received from the Orillia Lacrosse Club stating that the team will be here a week from to-day without fail. This will of course be the game of the season. Neither the Peterboroughs nor the Orillias have been defeated this year and the struggle for supremacy will be one which no lover of lacrosse should miss. The P. A. A. A. grounds should be crowded for the match and doubtless the attendance will be the largest of the season, as the game promises to be even faster than that played with the Elms on July 1st.

BASEBALL.

The Ennismore club are anxious to come in for a game on Saturday next. It is probable the match will be played on the P. A. A. A. grounds on that afternoon.

The Lindsay Post says the Park Nine is expected in that town for a match this week.

Mercer's

A man may dress as well as his own good taste, judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" as regularly as the most conscientious water-cure doctor may dictate; but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation.

Worst of all, his temper is as ugly and unwholesome to live with as is his person. A man who has the least appreciation of what he owes his family and friends, to say nothing of himself, will make an effort for health.

The quickest, surest, easiest way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. MEXICO'S WORLD'S FAIR.

It Will Open Next September and Continue Open for Six Months.

The great international exposition of industries and fine arts, authorized by the Federal Government of Mexico, by concession dated January 9, 1895, will be opened in the City of Mexico next September and will remain open for a period of six months. This will be Mexico's first attempt at holding a world's fair. The exposition is to include all kinds of industrial, scientific, commercial and artistic productions and to embrace, in fact, the whole range of human activity.

The exposition grounds are situated at the foot of the historic Castle of Chapultepec, on the grand Avenue de la Reforma, within ten minutes' ride from the center of the City of Mexico, and comprise an area of about 600 acres. The exposition will comprise a natural and an international department, to which latter all the nations of the globe may contribute.

The City of Mexico is situated on an extensive plateau, having an area of over 170 square miles, surrounded by lofty mountains and including five lakes within its area. Although with a geographical location within the tropics, the latitude of the city being 19 degrees 50 minutes north, it is possessed of a climate so salubrious, of so even a temperature, that summer or winter a residence in Mexico city or its environs is always pleasant, and visits to the city can be made at any time of the year, whether it is to escape the extreme cold of the northern winters or the excessive heat of the northern summers. The climate, however, is not the only attraction, all visitors agreeing that the beauty of the environs, of the surrounding mountains and the beautiful lakes, in whose waters are reflected the snow-capped peaks of the great mountains Ixtaxihuatl and Popocatapetl, and further the many antiquities and strange sights to be seen, the fruits and flowers, both summer and winter, are fair rivals of the greatest interest to the visitor.

In natural resources, especially in metals and other minerals, Mexico is favored more than almost any other portion of the globe. She has endless and inexhaustible mines of nearly every metal, of marble, onyx and other valuable stones, which in themselves would insure wealth to millions. Thousands of tons of the most valuable metals lie hidden beneath her soil. In agriculture and in horticulture lie an amount of wealth almost as great as in minerals.

After noticing the forward movement of the Mexican nation, it can be readily understood that the needs of the people are increasing proportionately and that a market of enormous value is being opened to the world. A few nations have already taken advantage of this fact, and are doing all in their power to secure the trade benefits which are to come to those who supply the demands. Canada produces much that Mexico requires, and should be able to bring about a greater exchange of products than at present obtains between the two countries.

PETITION FOR REHEARING.

There Was an Able Argument, but the Court Held for the Plaintiff.

The judge's daughter was perturbed. "Papa," she said, knitting her pretty brow, "I am in doubt as to whether I have kept in the proper form of procedure. In law one can err in so many little technicalities that I am ever fearful. Now, last evening George—"

The judge looked at her so sharply over his glasses that she involuntarily paused.

"I thought you had sent him about his business," he said.

"I did hand him an adverse decision," she answered, "and he declared that he would appeal. However, I convinced him that I was the court of last resort in a case like that, and that no appeal would lie from my decision."

"Possibly the court was assuming a little more power than rightfully belongs to it," said the judge, thoughtfully; "but let that pass. What did he do, then?"

"He filed a petition for a rehearing."

"The usual course," said the judge, but it is usually nothing but a mere formality."

"So I thought," returned the girl, "and I was prepared to deny it without argument; but the facts set forth in his petition were sufficient to make me hesitate and wonder whether his case had really been properly presented at the first trial."

"Upon what grounds did he make the application?" asked the judge, scowling.

"Well," she replied, blushing a little, "you see he proposed by letter, and his contention was that the case was of that peculiar character that can not be properly presented by briefs, but demands oral arguments. The fact that the latter had been omitted, he held, should be held to be an error, and the point was such a novel one that I consented to let him argue it. Then his argument was so forceful that I granted his petition and consented to hear the whole case again. Do you think—"

"I think," said the judge, "that the court favors the plaintiff."—Chicago Post.

He Might Try.

A lawyer tells the following story in the "Green Bag":

Some time ago we had under cross-examination a youth from the country, who rejoiced in the name of Samson, and whose replies were provocative of much laughter in the court.

"And so," questioned the barrister, "you wish the court to believe that you are a peaceably disposed and inoffensive person?"

"Yes."

"And that you have no desire to follow in the steps of your illustrious namesake and smite the Philistines?"

"No; I have not," answered the witness; "and if I had the desire I ain't got the power at present."

"Then you think you would be unable to cope successfully with a thousand enemies and utterly rout them with the jawbone of an ass?"

"Well," answered the ruffled Samson, "I might have a try when you have done with the weapon."

Treed.

"Since my daughter has given her consent, Mr. Sutor," said the Old Man, "I am inclined to look with favor upon your suit. But I must first be satisfied as to your financial condition and prospects. Would you be prepared now, to lend me, say, one hundred dollars?"

"No, sir," answered the young man.

"Fifty?"

"No."

"Ten."

"No."

"Five?"

Mr. Sutor wavered slightly, but answered in the negative, as before.

"Take her, my boy!" said the Old Man, vainly striving to conceal his emotion. "Take her, and God bless you! You've got a lot more sense than I thought you had!"—Harper's Bazar.

A Good Story

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

In a country town in Kentucky there is a store where they sell "most everything." The young man who does the selling intends to be a brilliant hand at repartee some day. Meanwhile he practices with the patrons in general, with a preference for colored patrons.

An old "aunty," with a mellow fifteenth century finish on her cheek bones, came in one market-day and inquired, "You ain't got no eends o' satin cut squintin', is you?"

"I didn't say I hadn't, aunty."

"Well, yo' needn't be so smart, mister. I ain't arst you, isn't you; I arst you, 'ain't you. Is you?"

THE SUN LIFE

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

MEASURING LAND.

A Method by Which the Work is Rendered Comparatively Easy.

Make a light and straight pole sixteen and a half feet in length, and mark feet and half feet on one side, and on the opposite side divide the sixteen and a half feet into spaces representing the length of links in the chain of a surveyor, says a good authority. A surveyor's chain is sixty-six feet in length, containing 100 links. Hence, a pole sixteen and a half feet long would be equal to twenty-five links. A link is 7.92 inches in length. With dividers one can indicate twenty-five equal spaces or links on one side of the pole in a few minutes. Let the pole be oiled or painted, and kept under shelter where it will not spring by being exposed to alternate rain and sunshine.

Now, in order to measure an acre of land multiply the number of rods (or the lengths of the pole) on one side of the plot by the number of rods on the end of a plot, and divide the product by 160, the number of square rods in one acre. For example: A plot eighty rods long and two rods wide will make one acre. A plot forty rods long and four rods wide is equal to an acre. A plot twenty rods long by eight rods wide will embrace 160 square rods, equal to one acre. A plot twelve and a half rods on each side, if the lines run at right angles, will embrace (approximately) a square acre, or 156 square rods.

When a plot is not lined out at right angles, it (the square plot) will not embrace as much ground, although the length and width are the same as there is in the square plot. A fourth of an acre, or even a tenth part of an acre may be lined out with the angles so acute as to measure as many lineal feet as the length and side of a square acre.

One can make a rude square of two pieces of lath that will enable him to line out the land at a right angle, unless it is important to proceed with the accuracy of a surveyor, indicated by his compass.

The Apple Orchard.

It takes a long time to have a young apple orchard grow to size for bearing. It is all the longer if the apple trees are plantd so far apart that it is only as they attain large size that they begin to be a check on each other. The young trees have too much room for their best results in fruiting. It is just here that a number of peach trees planted in rows between those of the the apple tree will do good service. The peach is a short-lived tree, and will market several crops before the trees wax old and have to be grubbed out. On the other hand, the apple trees shelter the peach trees from prevalent winds and also help keep more snow upon the ground than there would be if either kind of fruit tree occupied the land to the exclusion of the other. The peach tree will crowd the apple trees earlier, and thus bring them to earlier fruitfulness. We have known several farmers who planted peach trees between rows of young apple trees in an orchard, and in every case the peach crop sold paid all the expenses of both orchards up to the time that the apple orchard came into bearing. As one old farmer remarked, his only mistake was that he did not set out a greater proportion of peach trees and fewer apples. It is no use, however, to try to set peach trees in an old orchard. By the time an apple orchard has attained bearing size, its roots interlace through the entire ground, and neither a newly transplanted peach tree nor tree of any kind has a chance to begin to grow.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address, JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 338, Delray, Mich.

ABOUT COLD STORAGE.

Why Every Farm Should Have a Small Plant of Its Own.

The cold storage business is taking on immense proportions. Its development in the principal cites of the country has been nothing less than phenomenal of late years. And now cold storage warehouses are being erected at country shipping points. In some cases they are put up by the farmers themselves, who organize co-operative stock companies and conduct the business on the same general principle that is applied so successfully in co-operative creameries. Most of these cold storage plants in both city and country use chemical refrigeration or other artificial means of creating and maintaining a low temperature. We understand that recent progress in this line makes it possible to build and equip a cold storage plant at comparatively reasonable cost. Of course, where the ice crop is assured, no expensive refrigerating machinery is required, and in such localities cold storage can be provided in connection with a neighborhood ice house. The fact that cold storage is coming into such extensive use in the cities is the best possible evidence that it generally pays to thus hold perishable products until they can be marketed to the best advantage. Now, if this is such a good thing for marketmen, cold storage can be equally useful to farmers, especially as they can utilize its advantages by the co-operative method. Almost any farmer can have a fruit retarding house built on a side hill, which does not require ice, and a small cold storage room should be a feature of every farm or home ice house.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Fine-Tooth Comb Cultivation.

The contest is still on between the old-fashioned and the new-fashioned cultivation of coarse crops. The old fashion says: "You can't make me believe that your new-fangled weeders and smoothing harrows can tell the difference between a corn plant and a weed." The new fashion retorts: "Your dull hoe and soddy corn rows drove the boys off the farm." It is a sort of guerilla warfare upon the outposts of the two systems. The sober seeker after truth would like to see the real issus poined, for he is tender both of his back and of his young plants. The impartial student of the question will find that the new-fangled machine does not distinguish between species of plants, but it does have a brutal respect for strength, and will tear out the hair-like tendril of a just-sprouted weed but leave unharmed the deeper rooted corn or potato plant. But it will leave the weed if once well established; therefore "early and often" is a by-law of the process. On the other hand, if the smoothing harrow or weeder can scrape along a piece of sod, a flat stone, or an old corn stub, it appears to enjoy the destruction of a young corn plant equally with crow or chipmunk. A clean surface in preparing for the crop is therefore another necessity of successful use of the new corn culture. With these things in mind the new method can be made a great improvement on the old by any farmer. —American Agriculturist.

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! Such state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examinaton." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

Guide Boards on Country Roads.

There is one highway improvement which may be made without involving taxpayers in any great expense. We refer to the placing of signboards at the intersection of the principal country roads, explaining the direction, distance and names of contiguous villages or towns. In England, from time immemorial, these guide boards have been in use, and any person driving along a country road there needs not be under the necessity of enquiring the road to any place. This guide board gives the direction, number of miles and the name of the place. Whoever has had occasion to drive much through rural districts, with which he was not familiar, has experienced the embarrassment of coming to the parting of the ways and not knowing which to take. Often one has to waste much time in hunting for some one who can give information needed or in retracing steps erroneously taken. A suitable signboard conveying the intelligence specified above, planted at that junction of highways, would have saved all that trouble in one case. Multiply that case by the scores who may be misled in the course of a year, and one can see how valuable such a bulletin is.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

MILVERTON, 23RD JULY, 18

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

A THREE RINGED CIRCUS.

There's lots of cheapness stalking about in this plate glass city, and the three ringed circus houses seem to be all mixed up in a grand circus poster effort to grab a few coppers. There is such a seething vortex of competition and conglomeration of various stocks that it's a wonder we don't get lost.

Every store in the town sells cheaper Clothing, Boots and Shoes, etc., than we do—because we're not in it. We've been twenty years doing the high grade Hat trade of this district. We've made a specialty of one line, giving our whole attention to it—made it a hobby to get the right goods as to quality and style—thereby have seemed to hold the top position—don't get the idea that because we believe in quality that we are high priced. Our 25c Fedora Hats have quality as well as our $2.00 ones. When you expect to get $3.00 for $1.75, lookout—you may get an eye for an eye—especially in Hats—for instance the "Celebrated New York Enfield" Hat does not sell for $3.00 or $1.75 but $1.50 with us.

—Boy's Tweed Caps start at 5c to 25c.
—Men's Dress Straw Hats 25c.
—A special lot of Men's Fine Dress Hats to clear for 50 and 75c.
—Boy's Straw Hats 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c.
—All our light-weight and light-coloured Stiff and Soft Hats to clear ⅓ off regular price.
—Camping and Outing Hats in great variety.

THE MARKETS.

DOINGS IN LOCAL AND FOREIGN TRADE.

Local and Telegraphic News From the World of Commerce—Doings in the Local Markets.

[Corrected weekly by W. H. Wrighton, Produce and Commission Merchant, George street.

PETERBOROUGH, July 15th, 1896.

There is almost nothing doing in grain, low prices and dull markets prevailing. Any oats offering are bought for local trade from 20 to 21c, shipping price about 12c, wheat, fall 60c, spring 55c, peas 40 to 45c, no other grain offering. On the market—Eggs 9 to 10c, lots 8½c; butter 13 to 14c, crocks 12 to 12½c, chickens 40 to 50c, lamb 5 to 10c, new potatoes 15c peck, by the bag 70 to 75c, raspberries by the pail 90c to $1 currants 6 to 8c, cherries 8c, black cherries 10 to 12c. No other changes.

WOOL.

The wool market is now practically over, though odd lots are straggling in and bringing about 18c. Some of the local buyers have shipped their wool to their agents already.

CELERY.

The first of the out-door grown celery is now on the market, and brings 10 cents a bunch, or 12 bunches for a dollar. This excellent article of diet promises to yield in abundance this year. That which is already in is of fine healthy quality.

GOOSEBERRIES.

Fruit growers are not getting much for their gooseberries this year. The small varieties are only worth 6c a box, and sell very slowly at that figure. The large Eng'ish variety bring 7c a box. The profit to the retailers is so small that it is hardly worth the trouble of handling them.

SMALL FRUITS.

Black currants are very plentiful and the local dealers have to refuse a great many crates. They bring 5c a quart. Raspberries are selling at 12 boxes for $1, but as the crop is a big one the price will have to drop soon. Blackberries are worth 11 boxes for $1 and prices will keep up, there not being many of them this year in some localities.

HONEY.

Bee men are congratulating themselves on the prospect of a large yield this year, in which they expect to recover from the almost total failure of last year's supply. Not only in this section, but from various points, come favourable reports of the honey market. Comb honey sold on the market to-day two boxes for 25c.

WHEAT AND OATS.

Wheat to-day is worth from 55c to 60c, and little encouragement can be held out for a higher figure in view of the prospects of a large yield throughout the great wheat producing countries. The crop in this county will be large in fall wheat, although the spring variety is not looking so well.

Oats are worth from 18c to 21c, The prospects for a large crop are encouraging. Some of the buyers are reported to be loaded up in this section with oats for which 23c was paid. The buying now is mo tly done for the local trade.

HORSE HIDES.

Many farmers may not be aware that they are able to dispose of their horse hides at $1 to $1.25 each Large hides are worth from $1 to$1.25; No. 2, small and split, are not worth so much, while culls and colts only bring from 20c to 30c.

HAY AND STRAW.

Old hay sold to-day for from $6 to $10, new hay $5. Most of the hay is now all in and the crop in the crop in this section is considerably larger than in previous year and can be considered fairly good. From advices received, however, this cannot be said to be a criterion of the yield throughout the country, since heavy rains have done great damage to the hay crop in Quebec and the Lower Provinces. Even in Ontario reports come from various points that the hay crop is not large, hence farmers in Peterborough County may consider themselves lucky.

APPLES.

Apples are so plentiful in western counties that it is feared there will not be enough to handle them at the opportune moment. It has been estimated that there will be at least 500,000 barrels in Huron alone, with similar quantities in other counties in Western Ontario. In Peterborough County the crop is not so good and from here west to Orono it may almost be said to be a failure.

HOGS.

Plenty of hogs are coming in now from the factories, but as there were not as many raised this year, the prices are expected to advance soon from the figures appended. Live hogs, select, 140 to 200 pounds, $4.70 to $4.80 per 100; hogs, fat, over 200 pounds, $4.25; Hogs, light, under 140 pounds, $4.40; sows, $2.75.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

There was a very quiet tone at the Western cattle yards to-day, in spite of the fact that offerings were light. There were 43 carloads of stuff came in to-day and there were 10 carloads on the market from last week. The offerings to-day included 350 sheep and lambs, 930 hogs and 70 calves. For the week ended Saturday July 11, total receipts at the two markets were: Cattle, 2,614; sheep and lambs, 2,997; hogs, 2,703. Hogs were firmer, but otherwise the market showed no improvement. Buying of butchers' cattle for Montreal was quiet, only about half a dozen carloads being taken.

Export Cattle—Prices were low and not much business was done. Cables to dealers continue very discouraging. The top price for the general run of good cattle was 3½c per lb, only a few going at that. The range went as low as $3.10 per cwt., and quite a few deals were made at 3½c per lb.

Butchers' Cattle—The feeling was barely steady, and prices ruled from 2½c to 3c per lb for loads of medium to good cattle. Once or twice an odd choice steer touched 3¼c per lb, but these were exceptionally choice as compared with the other cattle offering. The quality of many of the cattle coming in is very poor. There was a lot of rubbish on the market today a result of the poor pasture. Sales—one carload cattle, 900 lbs average, $2.35 per cwt.; 2 cattle, 2,100 lbs weight, 13c per lb; one carload cattle, 1000 lbs, average 3c per lb.

Bulls—A few heads changed hands at 2½c to 3c per lb Choice ones are wanted.

Sheep and Lambs—Lambs were scarce and prices were a little better, owing to the lighter run. Good lambs sold at from $3.25 to $3.35 per head. Export sheep found a good demand at from 3½ to 3c per lb.

Calves—Steady. All sold, and a few more choice veals could have been disposed of. The ruling figures were from $2 to $4 per head.

Milch Cows and Springers—The ruling figures were from $15 to $50 per head. Only about a dozen head offered and all sold. Too many poor ones are coming in. Good cows sell well enough.

Hogs—Offerings were light and the trade was good. For really choice sluggers $4.35 was paid to-day, the ruling prices for the best bacon hogs being from $4.25 to $4.35, weighed off the cars. Thick fat hogs sold for 3¾c per lb and other hogs rules as quoted, with hardly any demand for stores.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Campbellford, July 7.—At the meeting of the cheese board here this evening 1,250 boxes were boarded, of which 80 were coloured. Barrie, July 8.—At the cheese board here to-day 1,365 boxes of cheese were offered, mostly colored; market depressed. Sales—95 boxes at 6½c, 60 at 6¾c; 6¾c bid for balance, but not accepted. Buyers present—Messrs. Noble, Brown and Perkins. The board adjourned until July 23rd, at one o'clock.

Brockville, July 9.—To-day 2,307 boxes of cheese were boarded here, of which 277 were white and the balance coloured; sales were 197 boxes of coloured at 7c; 6 15-16c offered for white but none sold.

Kingston, July 9th.—The top price at the meeting of the Frontenac Cheese Board this afternoon was 6¾c. At that figure 212 boxes were sold to G Gray. C E Bartlett secured 345 boxes at 6¾c, A Alexander 95 boxes at 6 13-16c, C E Bartlett for a bid for the remainder of the Board, secured 183 boxes at 6¾c. Only coloured cheese was offered for sale by these factories.

Belleville, July 14.—At the meeting of the board to-day 33 factories offered as follows:—2,067 boxes of white and 805 of coloured. The following are the sale:—Thos. Watkins, 60 white at 8½c; Wm. Cook, 50 coloured at 6 13-16c; J. K. McCargar & Co, 215 coloured at 6¾c; Hodgson Bros., 100 white at 6¾c; Morden Bird, 60 white at 8½c and 50 white at 6 11-16c.

Ingersoll, July 14.—Offerings to-day, 4,147 boxes balance June make. Sales, 510 boxes at 6¾c, balance holding for same price. Market quiet.

Campbellford, July 14.—At the Cheese Board here to-night 745 boxes white and 180 coloured were boarded; 360 white were sold at 6 5-8c; balance unsold.

Madoc, July 14.—At the Cheese Board to-night there were 1,040 boxes white and 150 coloured boarded. Watkins bought 385 at 6¾c and 6 11-16c; McCargar 400 at 6¾c and 6 11-16c; Bird 285 at 6 11-16c. Six buyers present, 20 factories represented. Balance cheese unsold.

Ottawa, July 15.—(Special.)—Application was made to-day for probate of the will of the late John Heney of this city, the value of the estate being $464,000. The sum of $2500 only is bequeathed to charities, practically the entire estate going to the heirs.

Off for Shoeburyness.

Quebec, July 15.—The Shoeburyness Artillery team, headed by the R.C.A. band and escorted by sailors of the fleet and men of the battery, marched down to the Princess Louise dock jetty and boarded the Lake Ontario, which sailed for Liverpool this evening. Before leaving the men Commander Montizambert addressed them, telling them to remember Canada's honor at the target, and wished them all possible success across the sea.

A Glorious Age in Which we Live!

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achivements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanising that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and and lung troubles.

Hats are Trump

Keep Cool as a Cucumber.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturers of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They know where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

Wilkinson's "Stanley."

Who has not heard of or worn this favourite English hat, of which we are the sole handlers here. The "Stanley" is made of the very purest fur felt. They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowded the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for $1.00

Now Maud might rake the world in vain
To find Straw Hats so low again.

English Wool Fedoras.

Our "Special" line of Fedoras, that hatters would scorn to take less than $1.50 and $2, we sell you for 75c. Its a wonderfully fine hat for the price and have been going with a whirl at $1.50 up till now. But we have other lines of our Wool Fedoras which no one else can match in value, because they start at..... .25

Boy's Caps.

As much style in our Boy's and Youth's stock as in our Men's—Knockabouts, School Caps, Tweed Caps, Bicycle Caps. We dump in a dozen lines that would ordinary go like hot cakes, at 25c to 50c, for..... .10 .15 .20 .25

Men's Boating Caps,

Bicycle Caps, Tennis Caps, with the prices all cut it two to clear them out. Money does not come so easy to every man nowadays that he should pay the hatters of fancy prices. Nothing newer than than what we have in stock. Starting price..... .35

Men's and Boy's Straws.

In addition to the wagon loads Straw Hats we had on hand, we secured a snapping bargain in 2 cases of American Straws the other day from a large New York house. We can sell a $1 split-straw, fine braided, fine trimmed and silk banded Straw for 60c. We have Straws for all ages—the 49c line, soft or stiff brim, with black and coloured bands, are great value at.. 30

These are only a few of the HALF-PRICE offerings, but you can take them as a fair criterion for all the other prices during our Slashing July Sale. You know, or should know, that we are always getting the best possible goods at the LOWEST prices—and that's the sort of refreshing ozone that refreshes all kinds of pocket books. Come in and blow yourself. Whether you are taking a holiday or not, remember WE ARE GIVING THE PROFITS ON HATS A HOLIDAY.

Our next Slashing Sale will be in Boy's Clothing, but if you or the boys need a Hat just you might get the bargains in Clothing, now, too, as well as in the Hats.

DOINGS AT OTTAWA.

Barely a Quorum of Ministers in the City,

THOSE UNSANCTIONED ORDERS

Said to Have Been Disposed of—The Fast Atlantic Steamship and Pacific Cable Projects to be Considered Without Delay—Favorable Action Expected.

Ottawa, July 16.—There will be barely a quorum of Ministers in town after this week. Sir Oliver Mowat has gone to Toronto, and is likely to be absent several days. The Minister of Justice has obtained a lease of Mr. Sedgwick's furnished residence on Cooper-street, and will take up house on his return to the Capital. Sir Oliver's appointment to the Senate will probably be gazetted next week. Sir Richard Cartwright will leave to-morrow for a short trip from the city but will not go to South Oxford until next Wednesday.

The unsanctioned orders-in-council, which have been under review by the Cabinet for the past week, were further considered to-day, and it is understood the work upon them is now completed. It is not probable that any new business will be undertaken until after the bye-elections.

The Cabinet has been considering the fast Atlantic steamship service and the Pacific cable project, and it is understood that some definite policy in regard to these important matters will be formulated in the course of a few days. It is believed that the Liberals, having been invested with responsibility, will announce a policy fully as progressive as that adopted by the late Government.

A despatch from Washington yesterday announced the appointment of Mr. Justice King of the Supreme Court of Canada as joint commissioner with Judge Putnam of the United States District Court, to determine the claims of Canadian sealers to compensation for illegal seizure in Behring Sea. It is just possible that the press despatch was news even at the official quarters in Ottawa, whence announcements of the policy on the subject of the fur seal controversy might be expected to emanate. The treaty agreeing to an international commission to assess the claims in question provides for the appointment of one commissioner each by Great Britain and the United States. The usual course has been to allow the Canadian Government to recommend a commissioner to Her Majesty's Government, as was done in the case of the Alaska boundary adjustment, the Imperial Government, however, making the actual appointment. It is just possible that the recommendation in this case may have been misunderstood to mean an "appointment" by the Dominion Government, which led to the presumably premature announcement from Washington. However, no real harm appears to have been done, for as far as could be ascertained from official sources yesterday there is no doubt that Judge King will be the commissioner appointed on the British behalf.

The indications are that militia camps will be held this fall, notwithstanding drawbacks referred to in yesterday's despatch. The department will stretch a point to overcome the difficulty of a tardy supply, and doubtless will succeed in making necessary arrangements to have drill performed.

Mr. Bostock, the new member for Yale-Cariboo, is here. He is also a candidate for the portfolio of the Interior. His claims are large interests in the West and services to immigration as a member of the recent convention.

PREMIER BLAIR RESIGNS.

He Hands in His Resignation to the Lieut.-Governor of New Brunswick. Goes to Quebec to be Sworn in.

Fredericton, N.B., July 16.—Hon. L. G. Blair at 5 p.m. to-day tendered his resignation as Premier and Attorney-General of New Brunswick, and recommended Governor Fraser to send for Hon. James Mitchell and entrust him with the formation of a new Administration. Mr. Mitchell was immediately summoned by His Honor and accepted the commission, but as yet has not completed his task.

It is understood, however, that he will also succeed Mr. Blair as Attorney-General, and that he has offered the Provincial Secretaryship to Hon. L. J. Tweedy, Surveyor-General in the Blair Government. The latter is consulting his friends in Northumberland, some of whom are against his leaving the Crown Lands, and he will give his decision to-morrow. Should he accept it is probable that Hon. A. T. Dunn of St. John County, who was a member of the late Government without portfolio, will be called to the Surveyor-Generalship, and that Hon. Messrs. Emmerson and White will continue respectively as Minister of Public Works and Solicitor-General, and that a representative of one of the river counties will join the Government without portfolio.

Hon. Mr. Blair left to-night en route to Quebec to be sworn in as Minister of Railways and Canals. He has not yet selected his constituency, but it is thought to be either Albert or Gloucester.

TWO KILLED BY ONE BOLT.

Senator Tillman's Daughter and Rev. R. A. Lee, Her Escort, Met an Awfully Sudden Death.

Columbia, S.C., July 16.—Miss Addie Tillman, eldest child of Senator Tillman, and her escort, the Rev. Robert A. Lee, pastor of the Episcopal Church at Yorkville, were killed by the same bolt of lightning at Brevard, N.C., yesterday afternoon. They were caught in a rain storm and sought shelter under some bushes near which was a large oak tree. Miss Tillman was 20 years old.

CUBA IS LOST TO SPAIN.

General Bradley T. Johnson Relates the Results of His Investigation in the Troubled Island.

New York, July 16.—Gen. Bradley P. Johnson, who has been investigating affairs in Cuba, returned yesterday. Gen. Johnston says: Cuba is lost to Spain. That Spain can never again subdue Cuba may be regarded as conclusive. There is no possibility of the Spaniards, with their present or with other forces, crushing the revolution. The whole island is in arms against them. The ranks of the insurgents are daily recruited by the best blood in the island. The leading social clubs in Santiago de Cuba and in Havana have been recently broken up and the members have gone to the fields.

Large numbers of students of the University of Havana have left their classes and joined the rebellion. This shows the earnestness with which the Cubans regard the struggle. It is generally understood in Cuba, among those who have daily confidential communications with the rebel army, that Gen. Maximo Gomez is preparing to strike some great and decisive blows in the near future. I do not understand, if that is so, why Gomez allowed his intentions to be disclosed, but certain it is that Gomez is moving from Puerto Principe eastward toward Maceo's troops, and this looks like a projected combination of the two forces.

Yellow fever is doing destructive work among the Spanish lines in the Trocha. It is certain to become epidemic, although the doctors are fighting it. The Spanish losses through this scourge will be frightful.

The war is not likely, in my opinion, to end soon unless the United States interferes. The Cubans will not abandon the fight until the Spaniards are driven from Cuban land and the island will be practically destroyed and the Spaniards starved out.

Gen. Johnson scouts the idea that either of the Maceo's has been killed.

THE DRIER BURST.

How a Collingwood Man Was Injured in a Laundry—A G.T.R. Employe Takes an Apoplectic Fit.

Collingwood, July 16.—This morning about 10 o'clock Mr. H. Ivey, a clerk in the drygoods establishment of Messrs. Mellville & Co., met with a serious accident. He was in the Star Laundry transacting some business, when a centrifugal drier burst, the fragments striking him a terrible blow in the abdomen and on the right leg. He was removed to his residence and Drs. Stephens and Aylesworth were summoned. He is suffering much pain, but is not thought to be in any serious danger.

Mr. James Campbell, the baggageman at the G.A.R. Station, fell in an apoplectic fit while attending to his duties this afternoon. Dr. Stephens was called and had him taken to his home, where he is lying in a precarious state.

HANSON MUST HANG.

Found Guilty of Murder by a Parry Sound Jury

FOR THE KILLING OF JAMES MULLEN

Prisoner Was Found to Have Been Wearing in Court Two Shirts Taken From the Body of His Victim—Mullen's Wife Positively Identified the Garments.

Parry Sound, Ont., July 16.—The trial of Christian Hanson, the Swede charged with the murder of James Mullen, was resumed this morning. The Crown clearly established the identity of the murdered man, as also his companionship with Hanson at the place and up to the time of the murder.

During the adjournment of the court at noon to-day the prosecution had two shirts, which were worn by the prisoner in court this morning, taken off him, and producing the garments in court this afternoon, had them positively identified by the murdered man's wife as being those worn by her husband.

The only evidence offered by the defence was that of the jailor, the jail surgeon, and from Dr. Walton, a local physician. The testimony of these witnesses was intended to prove the probability of insanity on the part of the prisoner, brought about by epilepsy, but both medical men could give no positive testimony from their short observation of the prisoner.

The argument of the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Haight, was to impress uncertainty as to the prisoner's mental responsibility on the minds of the jury, and the great improbability of one of sane mind committing a deed of such a nature without apparently greater motive.

Mr. Heyd, for the Crown, clearly reviewed the evidence and presented a strong argument for conviction.

Justice Ferguson began his address to the jury at 6.45 and exhaustively treated the subject. His address occupied one hour's time. It could not be understood otherwise than as being strongly against the prisoner and strongly against the insanity theory.

After being out an hour and a quarter, the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty."

The Crown prosecutor moved for the sentence of the Court, and the Judge, recording the motion, said it would be given some time during the sitting of the court.

The prisoner appeared quite to realise his position.

TOGETHER SANK TO DEATH.

The Tragic Fate of Twin Brothers in Toronto—One Tried to Save the Other and Both Drowned.

Toronto, July 17.

Arthur and Herbert Moody, twin sons of Mr. George B. Moody, a city letter carrier, living at 216 Sumach-street, fell down the bank of the Don, near the Winchester-street bridge, yesterday afternoon, and were both drowned.

The little fellows, who were a few months over 10 years of age, left home shortly after 1 o'clock, barefooted, and without their coats, to fish off the banks of the river at a place nearly opposite the brickyard. A boy of about his own age, living next door, accompanied them and the lines were soon cast and the three fishers sat watching their corks. The banks here are steep and crumbling. Arthur, the smaller of the twins, venturing too close to the bank, slid down the side and into the water. The current is strong at this point, and the boy was at once at his depth. His brother, seeing his distress, ran down the bank, and, without thinking of himself, plunged into the stream. He reached the sinking boy and tried to push him towards the shore, but the efforts of the brave lad were unavailing, and the brothers, now thoroughly exhausted, went down locked in each other's arms.

Their companion in the meantime had given the alarm, and a small crowd had gathered to the spot.

Mr. William Lindsay, grandfather of the victims, recovered the washed-up hats, but no trace could be found of the fishers who had worn them. The police joined the search, but not until 4 o'clock, when a young fellow named Read had repeatedly dived at the spot, did it prove successful. The force of the current has made here a number of deep holes in the bank beneath the surface, and in one of these caverns the twins were discovered, clasped in each other's arms, as they went down. The ambulance was brought to the scene and carried the victims to the undertaking establishment of A. J. Ingram, 76 Queen east, where they now rest.

The mother of the boys has been an invalid for more than a year, and refuses to be comforted.

Coroner Gregg was notified of the disaster, but decided that no inquest was necessary.

The funeral will probably be held on Saturday.

THE IRISH CONVENTION.

Hamiltonian Sons of the Emerald Isle Elect Delegates to Visit Dublin.

Hamilton, July 16.—(Special.)—At a meeting of local Irishmen in the St. Lawrence Hall to-night, Rev. Dr. Burns presiding, resolutions of sympathy and co-operation in connection with the Irish National Convention to be held in Dublin on Sept. 1 next, were passed, on motion of Father O'Reilly and Mr. James O'Brien, and Messrs. J. B. Nelligan and James Shea, both resolutions expressing a hope that Ireland would soon secure home government. The following were named as delegates to the convention, and in case none of them can attend, the resolutions will be forwarded: Bishop Dowling, Rev. Dr. Burns, Father O'Reilly, Messrs. James Shea, James O'Brien, Dr. Balfe and John Ronan.

Mrs. Parnell Goes to Ireland.

Bordentown, N.J., July 16.—Mrs. D. T. S. Parnell will sail for Ireland on the 25th inst. She will go on the American liner Waesland, which leaves Philadelphia. Mrs. Parnell's physicians consider their patient sufficiently strong to bear the voyage across the ocean. She has disposed of the famous Ironsides mansion and lands, comprising 215 acres, for $32,000, including a mortgage for $7000.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It was not an election in North Ontario—it was petty larceny.

The "rift in the loot" is what is troubling the soul of the Mail and Empire these canine days.

If Major McGillivray accepts the seat in North Ontario he will be liable to arrest as a receiver of stolen goods.

Mr. Laurier's Minister of Agriculture does not have to call in an expert to decide whether potatoes should be sown in drills or broadcast. Mr. Fisher is a practical farmer and knows the farmer's needs and will look after his interests.

"Misery loves company." This must be the reason the Mail and Empire is trying so hard—bobbing up serenely with a new yarn after the explosion of yesterday's cunard—to create a division among the Liberals such as have become chronic in the Conservative ranks.

Hon. David Mills is fortunate in being a philosopher—he can take philosophically the many expressions of sympathy from Conservative sources. They can't understand why Mr. Mills cannot be disappointed when there is an office going. Mr. Mills has none of the qualities that fit him for a corner in a "nest of traitors."

This district has now the honour of being represented in the Senate by Sir Oliver Mowat, who has been appointed in the stead of Senator Read, late representative of the Quinte District. Sir Oliver Mowat's presence will be an important element in adding the respectability of ability to the aggregation of grave and reverend seigniors.

The appointment of Lieut.-Col. Aylmer to be Adjutant-General of the militia of Canada is an accomplished fact. The force will welcome as their permanent head such a capital and popular officer. The new Adjutant-General is a son of Lord Aylmer, and is therefore the Hon. Matthew Aylmer.

Mr. Laurier is fond of floral emblems. He wears a maple leaf on the lapel of his coat and underneath this, inside, he wears "the white flower of a blameless life." He is a fitting figure to lead a clean, honest, capable government, from which the people of Canada are expecting great things.

It's a good thing that Mr. Laurier neither neither smokes nor drinks. He is called upon, in these days of political adjustment, so often to "see a man" that his equilibrium might be threatened if he were of convivial habits. But Mr. Laurier has a great head and no mean evidence of this fact is his determination to keep it cool.

The Mail and Empire is possibly not half as pessimistic as it seems to be. In spite of its diurnal blue ruin diatribes it still has faith that there is something to live for under Liberal rule. It remarks that "now is the time to invite the attention of British capitalists to the advantages of Canada as a field for investment. There is great disappointment that Mr. Laurier has not shown any inclination to pursue what his high taxation opponents regard as an iconoclastic policy as to the protective tariff. Mr. Laurier has told tariff suppliants that his Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding, would make no changes without thorough knowledge of the circumstances. It is evident that tariff reform will be conducted intelligently and with reference to the importance of the interests involved. Nobody has anything to fear, but much to hope for, in the matter of tariff reform under Liberal auspices. The combinesters are the only class that will be disappointed. Under Mr. Laurier we shall have Government for the people and not for privileged classes.

MR. LAURIER'S STRONG CABINET.

Evidences of Hearty Approval—All Sorts of Opinions Favourable.

Mr. Laurier's strong and clean Cabinet is endorsed by all except those who are disappointed at the approval his choice has elicited from all shades of political opinion.

Halifax, July 15.—(Special.)—Mr. W. A. Black, M. P. P., was asked by the Globe correspondent to-day, "What do you think of the Laurier Cabinet?" "Oh, I do not think I would care to say anything for publication," replied Mr. Black. "Are you pleased with the Nova Scotia representation?" "Yes, I am well satisfied with it. You are at liberty to say that from me."

Mr. J. A. Chipman, in response to a request for an expression of his views, said: "As an old-time Conservative, now as the Government has been defeated, I feel a certain degree of modesty in giving my views on political subjects. However, I might say that personally I look upon the advent of Mr. Laurier's Government as probably one of the best results that have occurred at any election in Canada. It will add greatly to the loyalty of the French-Canadians to the mother country. Their triumph under their great leader tends to make them realise that they are not only part of this great Dominion, but it also has a tendency to cement them to the Empire. The Cabinet with which Mr. Laurier has surrounded himself, though it may give disappointment in various places, is a strong one from the knowledge we have of the men. The Cabinet certainly could not have a stronger personnel. Nova Scotia is once more to the fore in the appointment of Mr. Fielding to possibly the most important post in the Government, viz., Finance Minister. Having a great deal to do with the I. C. R. personally, I am glad to see a Maritime Province man hold the portfolio of Railways and Canals. From what I hear of Mr. Blair we may look forward to a satisfactory administration of the Railways and Canals Department. The Cabinet shows strength from all points of view, and it is unnecessar for me to say anything further, considering what has been so well said already by others."

La Presse, Quebec, Conservative, though strongly French in its utterances as a general thing, abstains from the unfair course of La Minerve and La Monde, and says it would be childish to deny that the new Cabinet possesses elements of strength.

The French Liberal press uniformly approves of the new Cabinet. La Patrie (Liberal) says:—"We have a Cabinet, powerful, vigourous and even probably the strongest in men of ability since Confederation. We have full confidence in Laurier, Mowat, Fielding and others to strengthen the Liberal party in popular esteem and to assure it a long reign."

The London (Ont.) News (Independent) says:—Mr. Laurier has at last completed his Cabinet, and as excellent Cabinet it is. If the country does not enjoy good government and honest government now, it certainly will not be because Mr. Laurier has not honestly endeavoured to select the best men his party affords. It is a Cabinet of shrewd men and practical men, and is possibly the strongest combination that has been formed since Confederation.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Senator Sherman Says the Republicans Will Win—Comptroller Eckel's Position on the Money Question.

Mansfield, Ohio, July 14.—Senator Sherman, in an interview here on the Chicago Convention, said: "Let us be honest as we go along, and not undertake to pay 50 cents on the dollar."

"Would free coinage cause a rise in prices of farm products?"

"Undoubtedly; but what good would that do if the money so paid will only buy half what it should, or does buy? There is no use having a bushel of money if it will buy nothing."

"Is it your opinion that the Republicans will carry the country this fall?"

"It is. There is every reason why they should. The bulk of the Democrats will not vote the Democratic ticket. I am arranging to go upon the stump after Oct. 1."

Washington, D.C., July 14.—Mr. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, has made the following statement regarding the Chicago ticket: "I believe the nominees of the Chicago convention ought to be defeated, because of the principles enunciated in the platform upon which they stand, which they unqualifiedly endorse. Those principles, if established into law, would, to my mind, inevitably work irreparable loss to every class of citizens, and cause conditions of distress on every hand. They are not in accord with either the history, the teachings, or the traditions of the Democratic party, and cannot, therefore, demand the support of the Democrats. The point of interest with Democrats who reject the action of the convention ought to be how the largest and most effective majority can be secured against the ticket named. My own view is that the naming of candidates of high character, and the framing of a platform sound in every particular, would aid to this end. It would afford an opportunity, which otherwise would be wanting to discuss this question before Democratic audiences by Democratic speakers. The educational work most needed is within the Democratic party, and it can best be accomplished by those of Democratic faith. It would also give the Democratic press something tangible to advocate."

FOUND AFTER 40 YEARS.

Woman Who Sought Her Brother in All Parts of the World Locates Him at Last.

Paterson, N.J., July 16.—Forty years ago Mrs. Margaret Smith, who now resides at No. 351 Market-street, lost all trace of her brother, Robert Blackwood. She was determined to find him, however and has never ceased in her efforts to do so.

The postal authorities of countries all over the world have been communicated with and every possible resource exhausted, but all in vain until a few weeks ago, when Mrs. Smith received official notice from the Province of Victoria, Australia, to the effect that a man named Robert Blackwood was in Hopetown, in that province.

She wrote him a letter and to-day received a reply showing that he is her long-lost brother. For years he has been equally arduous in his search for her, but without avail.

Blackwood is in good circumstances and promises to follow his letter in person as soon as he can arrange his affairs. After forty years' separation a happy reunion is in prospect.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

Dear Sir,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
Morrell Mackenzie.

The Dominion Alliance Meeting in Toronto.

FURTHER ATTACK ON HON. MR. ROSS

A Motion to Bar the Minister of Education From Office in the Alliance—Mr. Ross Makes a Stirring Speech in Reply to His Opponents.

Toronto, July 17.

About 400 delegates are in attendance at the Provincial Prohibition Convention in the Horticultural Pavilion. Yesterday, the opening day, was a busy one and the proceedings throughout were carried on with vim and earnestness. It was, however, to be seen that there are both Grits and Tories among the prohibitionists, and although it is generally opined that partyism should be sacrificed to the cause, little bursts of partyism were frequent.

The hall was suitably decorated with bunting. Streamers on the gallery had such appropriate mottoes upon them as: "Our Cause is Just," "Our Cause is Right," "Vote for What You Pray For," "Shoulder to Shoulder We Will Win," "In God We Trust," and "Keep Up the Fight."

When the convention opened, Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., took the chair.

Mr. J. T. Moore read the report of the Business Committee as follows: "That Mayor Fleming be permanent president of the convention. That Senator Vidal, Mrs. May R. Thornley, Messrs. J. B. Brooks, George H. Lees, Rev. J. L. Robertson, Hon. J. C. Aikins and Major E. L. Bond be vice-presidents. That F. S. Spence, Rev. James Kines and J. H. Carson be joint secretaries. That committees be appointed on local option work, on legislation, political action, finance and resolutions."

Mayor Fleming, on taking the chair, spoke of his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and welcomed the delegates to the city.

Rev. Dr. Ross of Woodstock then submitted a series of resolutions which were referred to the Committee on Legislation. They had three objects in view, namely, Dominion prohibition, local option and radical changes to the license law of Ontario.

The resolutions, which were seconded by Rev. J. R. Gundy, contained provisions to the effect that no more shop licenses should be issued; hotel bars shall be abolished, and only bona fide guests shall be supplied with liquor; the net revenue licenses shall go to Provincial Governments; not more than two licenses shall be issued to the first 1000 of population in a town and one to each additional 1500 of population; license inspectors shall be approved by some temperance organization; a majority of ratepayers in a sub-division can prevent the renewal of a license; no racetrack licenses shall be issued; anyone may prosecute a license-holder or his bondsmen for infraction of the law; convictions against a liquor seller must be registered on the face of his license; three convictions will prevent the convicted man holding a license for two years.

The first report of the committee on political action and legislation was read by Rev. Dr. Ross. The report contained a recommendation, "That in the event of a plebiscite being taken this convention hereby pledges itself to do all in its power to secure an overwhelming majority for prohibition in the Province of Ontario, and that it be an instruction to the incoming executive to plan all the details of the campaign."

Dr. Maclaren, speaking on the first clause and seconding its adoption, said the prohibition party was now fighting under much different conditions than heretofore and that for the first time in the country's history a party had gone to the people with a policy on the temperance question, viz., to have a plebiscite taken. This would suit some, while others might deem it short of what should be demanded. The prohibition party should do all it could to show that the people favored prohibition. If the Dominion Government kept its promise and gave a plebiscite the onus would fall on the temperance people to demonstrate that they were ready to sustain their part of the work. In order to do this, good organization and a large amount of preliminary work was necessary.

The report was adopted.

At this juncture there was a cessation of business for a short time, and while the delegates were not busy a new prohibition song, entitled "The Bar Must Go," was sung by all to the air of "Sound the Battle Cry."

The Committee on Resolutions had met and elected Rev. Dr. Stone chairman and J. W. Jones secretary. It was resolved by them, "That this convention thanks Messrs. T. B. Flint and T. D. Craig, mover and seconder of the prohibition resolution in the House of Commons, and their supporters, and assures them of our sincere appreciation of their action in the matter."

At 3.15 the deputation left to wait upon the Provincial Government. The deputation was composed of Mayor R. J. Fleming, President of the Convention, J. J. Maclaren, Benjamin Allan, F. S. Spence, W. W. Buchanan, Hon. A. Vidal, Hon. J. C. Aikins, Mary R. Thornley, Miss L. Phelps, Mrs. McDonnell, J. B. Brooks, Rev. W. A. McKay, D.D., Rev. J. S. Williamson, B.D., J. T. Moore, W. H. Bewell, A. D. Werker, Rev. George Washington, George H. Lees, W. H. Orr, F. W. Watkins, H. O'Hara, Rev. Dr. Parker, T. Urquhart, Rev. A. P. McDiarmid, E. B. Cummer, Joseph Tait, Rev. T. A. Moore, Ald. Jolliffe, Rev. W. J. Kettlewell, Rev. D. L. Brethour, D.D., H. H. Shaver, A. Chamberlain, Rev. J. B. Ross, D.D., David Graham, Rev. J. Van Wyck Mrs. Wyley, Rev. J. Tovell, D.D., Mrs. Cavers, Mrs. A. O. Rutherford, Ald. J. J. Graham.

On the departure of the deputation Mr. G. M. Marter took the chair. This resolution was considered: "That it be a recommendation that in the event of a Dominion plebiscite being taken, in addition to the voters having the right of franchise, all persons of 21 years of age, of both sexes, be allowed to vote, differently colored ballots being used to distinguish between the two votes."

The discussion ended by the adoption of an amendment, providing that if a plebiscite is granted it be taken at the earliest possible moment, and that measures be adopted to procure the most complete expression of the opinion of the people of this Dominion. This was carried.

When the deputation returned at 5.15, the audience again sang, "The Bar Must Go."

Mayor Fleming, on resuming the chair, stated that the deputation had returned from the Government rejoicing. He called upon Mr. Maclaren to tell the result of the conference with the members of the Government. His recital is embodied in the report of the conference with the Government in another column. When Mr. Maclaren had concluded a delegate said "Please, point out what we have to rejoice at." The Mayor replied that never had a straightr declaration been given by any Premier.

The Delegate: "I heard all that 10 years ago."

The Mayor: "Yes, I guess you've heard a good many things, too, since then." His Worship then went on to say there was not the slightest quibbling on the part of the Government. The Government's intention was to do what it could for the temperance cause.

The Delegate: "Tell us what the Tories think of it."

His Worship then called upon Senator Vidal, who corroborated Dr. Maclaren's statement of the case.

In the evening the nomination of officers was commenced, but did not progress very far. After Mr. J. J. Maclaren had been nominated for president, the vice-presidents were nominated in a body.

Mr. George H. Lees rose and moved an amendment, that Mr. Ross' name be struck out. This brought on a lot of discussion.

Mr. J. J. Moore spoke in severe terms against the motion.

Mr. W. W. Buchanan spoke strongly in favor of the amendment. He said it was not a question as to whether Mr. Ross was a temperance man. It was whether it was right to ask Mr. Ross to stand for a platform he himself did not believe in. He thought the motion was a compliment to Mr. Ross; it was putting him in an honest position. The Alliance calls upon its friends to refuse to vote for any candidate who is not a prohibitionist, regardless of political party. If the Alliance was wise, when it adopted that platform, it ought to follow it up. It must live up to its principles.

Mr. Buchanan touched upon how he and other prohibitionists had been candidates in Hamilton, and how Mr. Ross had been with the opposite side. Concluding, the speaker said he was charged with being personal. He was not surprised that some would call him sorehead—but he never expected to be elected in Hamilton. He could have got a nomination elsewhere for one of the parties, with better chances of success, but no, he chose to run in the interests of the Alliance, and according to their instructions. And one of the officers of the Alliance had been on the platform against him.

Mr. F. S. Spence was against the motion. He felt the necessity of absolute and complete union, and to have all classes of the community bound as one to kill the liquor traffic. If the Alliance was going to stand on the lines suggested by the previous speaker, the success of the noble cause of prohibition was an impossibility. (Hisses and cries of "No.") Was it not absurd that the Alliance should try and bar out such a man as Mr. Ross, who had been the means of promoting temperance education? A man who had done more to promote temperance among all classes than any other man in the country. Mr Spence told of how Mr. Buchanan had spoken on the platform of D'Alton McCarthy, a gentleman who had always been a strong opponent of prohibition. Mr. Spence didn't want to say a word about Mr. Buchanan's action in that connection—(laughter)—and he had never suggested that Mr. Buchanan should be read out of the Alliance. Mr. Spence was continuing when he was reminded of the time limit, and he sat down.

Rev. William Kettlewell followed in support of the motion. He was glad to come face to face with a question as to whether the officers and members of the Alliance should stand by the constitution. Mr. Ross had advocated men against the platform of the Alliance. The question was whether the principles of the Alliance should be wiped out or sustained and whether or not the Alliance would elect officers who would stand by its rules. He did not think Mr. Ross should be renominated or elected.

At this juncture, His Worship the Mayor said the discussion was taking longer than had been anticipated and it was a public meeting. Both sides had spoken and he advised a vote.

Dr. Lucas wanted to say a few words and Mr. F. W. Watkins claimed the right to speak. Accordingly it was agreed that the discussion be postponed until morning, when the Mayor invited all to be present and promised something "spicy and entertaining."

Hon. G. W. Ross, who arrived after the controversy relative to his action during the elections, made a stirring speech, in which he apologised to the convention for his inability to give more time to the convention. He reviewed the history of the temperance cause in Canada and indicated the progressive steps that have been made. He himself had voted for and supported prohibition in Middlesex. He would also do so in the Provincial House and would speak for it and vote for it for the Dominion of Canada. He believed the Liberal party in the Dominion House was committed to a plebiscite. It would not be unreasonable that the House of Commons should devise a law prohibiting the sale of liquor and that they should submit that law for the opinion of the people. As a Liberal and a temperance man, Mr. Ross had no doubt that the party at Ottawa would fulfil their promises in regard to prohibition.

Mr. Ross sat down amid cheers, and the meeting closed.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

THE BOAT CAPSIZED.

Warner Freure Had an Awful Time Trying to Save His Family From Death—Baby Was Drowned.

Port Rowan, Ont., July 16.—This morning Warner Freure, electrician and proprietor of the electric works here, took his family, consisting of wife, two small children and his sister, who is visiting from New York, out for a short sail on the bay. By some accident the boat was capsized and all the occupants thrown out. Mr. Freure succeeded in placing all safely on the bottom of the boat, but on getting on himself, his added weight being too much, they were all washed into the water again. He once more managed to place them safely on the boat, himself in the water, holding on to a rope. One of the children, aged 18 months, was again washed off and drowned. After being three hours in the water they were discovered from the shore and another boat went to their rescue. The body of the child was afterwards found.

Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Signed, GEO. N. GRAHAM.

It Is Settled Now.

Final arrangements have now been made by Court Littlejohn, C. O. F., for their annual excursion to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo on Civic Holiday, August 20th, and posters announcing the particulars will be out in a few days. But then it is hardly necessary to advertise this trip. Everyone has heard of the sights that are to be seen, the places of interest that can be visited and beautiful scenery that is included. And they also know that the Foresters for several years past have managed this excursion and have never failed to make it an enjoyable, comfortable and pleasant outing. They will do so again. The tickets are good for three days at Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and the rates are the same as last year. 1d

THE LATE MRS. BARTON EARLE.

Her Unexpected Death at Sutton, on Thursday Last.

May Choate, wife of Mr. Barton Earle, formerly of Peterborough, and eldest daughter of Mr. T. G. Choate, Warsaw, died unexpectedly at Sutton on Thursday. The deceased lady had been in ill health for about a year, suffering from a complication of diseases and nervous prostration. She was united in marriage to Mr. Earle during his residence in Peterborough. She leaves behind her six children. The funeral takes place at Sutton to-morrow, Mr. Earle having removed his residence thither from Toronto for the benefit of Mrs. Earle's health. Mrs. Earle's death is the second in Mr. Choate's family. The second son, George Rufus, died two years ago. The remaining children are—Mrs. Macknight, Peterborough; Mrs. Wm. Payne, Warsaw; Mr. Thomas Choate, Warsaw, and Mr. A. P. Choate, of the Mail and Empire staff, Toronto. The sympathy of the community will go out to the bereaved relatives in their severe affliction.

DIED IN TORONTO.

Death of a Daughter of the Late Joseph Phillips.

Mrs. T. W. Duffus, of Toronto, died on Thursday, leaving behind her an infant daughter, one week old, and a husband to mourn her loss. The deceased lady, Susan S. Phillips, daughter of the late Joseph Phillips, of Ashburnham, was married in Toronto in February of 1895. The remains were brought to town on the noon train to-day. The funeral takes place from the family residence, Ashburnham, on Saturday, at 3 o'clock p.m.

THE RAILWAY BRIDGE AT AUBURN.

The Contract for the Masonry Awarded—The Work to be Pushed.

The contract for the masonry of the new Grand Trunk Railway bridge at Auburn has been awarded by the Superintendent of Railways and Canals to Larkin & Sangester, of Thorold, Ont., their tender being the lowest submitted.

The work will be completed as soon as possible, it being necessary that the present track at the crossing of the canal near the lake in Ashburnham be removed as soon as possible to permit of the prosecution of canal construction.

A GENEROUS ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

A Donation Received From the Howry Company.

This morning, His Worship Mayor Yelland received a communication from the Howry Co. thanking him for allowing the Peterborough Fire Brigade to respond so promptly to their appeal for aid last month when their mills were in danger of being consumed.

The Company begged the Mayor to accept an enclosure of fifty dollars for the benefit of the firemen. All the expenses of the brigade in going and coming from Fenelon Falls were also paid.

NAVIGATION IMPROVEMENTS AT ROSEDALE.

The Work Temporarily Suspended—Appropriations Needed.

The work of deepening the channel at Rosedale (six or seven miles from Fenelon Falls) has been suspended for the present, owing to the fact that Parliament has not yet had an opportunity of voting the necessary appropriations to continue the work, which will be resumed, the superintendent reports, as soon as the necessary funds are provided. Meantime the dredge, drilling scows, the tug Empire, and other plant will be laid up.

TENT MEETINGS.

Corner of George and McDonnel Streets, Opposite Central Park.

Last Thursday evening the first service of a series of meetings to be conducted in the new S. D. A. mission tent was held with a good attendance. Future services are to be conducted as follows,—Friday evening at 8 o'clock; on Saturday at 3 p. m., a Bible study will be held, followed by preaching in the evening. Two preaching services on Sunday at 2.30 and 8 p. m. The discourses will all be based on the Bible, chapter and verse being given.

The subjects treated will be both interesting and practical. Salvation through Christ will be a leading theme. The meetings are free to all.

The prophecies will receive due attention, as well as the second coming of Christ. Come and bring your Bibles with you.

THE NEW DIVISIONS OF THE COUNTY.

A CONFERENCE HELD ON THE MATTER YESTERDAY.

Judge Benson and Judge Dean Meet Representatives From the Townships—An Amicable Assessment Arrived at.

Judge Benson, of Port Hope, and Judge Dean, of Lindsay, the two commissioners appointed under the County Councils Act by the Ontario Government to divide the county into county council divisions, had an easy task before them yesterday, as J. E Belcher, the County Engineer, had carefully gone over the work of dividing the county into five divisions and arranging the nomenclature in a manner which won for him a great many complimentary remarks from the commissioners.

After an amicable discussion, Mr. Belcher's plans, making the following divisions, were finally accepted, both representatives and commissioners agreeing that the arrangement could not be perfected without dividing the townships, which was not considered to be to the advantage of the county:

OTONABEE, DIVISION NO. 1.

Ashburnham, assessed value		$ 377,982
Otonabee township,	"	2,054,158
Total		$2,431,990
Population, 5,169.

BRIDGENORTH, DIVISION NO. 2.

Smith, assessed value		$1,589,176
N. Monaghan,	"	567,880
Ennismore,	"	385,132
		$2,542,188
Population, 4,414.

LAKEHURST, DIVISION NO. 3.

Galway, assessed value		$ 54,034
Cavendish,	"	4,813
Anstruther,	"	18,802
Chandos,	"	52,115
Harvey,	"	191,960
Burleigh,	"	32,770
		$357,494
Population, 3,512.

NORWOOD, DIVISION NO. 4.

Norwood village, assessed value		$206 648
Methuen township,	"	11,204
Asphodel	"	234,060
Belmont,	"	285,852
Havelock village,	"	56,000
		$1,492,684
Population, 5,024.

LAKEFIELD DIVISION, NO. 5.

Lakefield village, assessed value		$214,222
Douro township,	"	913,632
Dummer	"	579,196
		$1,707,060
Population, 5,187.

As will be seen the divisions are most equally arranged according to population and area, and although some of the larger township's would have been pleased may-hap to have stood aloof and occupied a division by themselves, the impossibility of such an arrangement will be apparent on carefully examining the manner of division.

Before adjourning the commissioners made reference to the amount of work which they had been spared by Mr. Belcher's thoughtfulness in preparing plans for their assistance. Whilst the arranging of the divisions occupied several days in some counties the matter was equitably done in Peterborough inside of two hours.

The EXAMINER is indebted to Mr. Belcher for a map on which the new divisions are carefully outlined. Those interested in ascertaining the area of the different divisions can form a fair judgment by an examination of this neat little map.

In acting, the commissioners are governed by the appended section of the Act:

Section 21—In forming the County Council divisions the commission shall have regard especially to assessed value and population and extent of territory, and shall not in making such divisions divide local municipalities, unless where, in the opinion of the commission, it is plainly necessary so to do in order to arrive at a fair and reasonable division, but in no case shall polling sub-divisions be divided.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Wolfe street is in a very bad condition between Aylmer street and the C. P. R. station.

—The roadway on George street, below the bridge, is falling away, into the lake, in places.

—Two handsome canoes were shipped to the Nebraska Lakes to-day by the Canadian Canoe Company.

—Mr. R. H. Kells entertained the dressmakers of his establishment at Chemong Park yesterday afternoon.

—Fishing poles of all kinds, fishing tackle, tennis balls and tennis racquets, lacrosse and baseball goods, cheapest place in town, at Salisbury's Bookstore. d —A horse attached to Giles' grocery wagon attempted to run away at the C. P. R. station this morning. A couple of barrels dropped out of the rig but no damage was done.

—A large number of pleasure seekers enjoyed a most pleasant outing down the river yesterday on the steamer City of Peterborough. A piano being kept constantly on board make the trips on this steamer particularly enjoyable.

—The steamer North Star is engaged for to-morrow by the Ediscopians, and no doubt the day will be most pleasantly spent, and on Thursday next she has been engaged by the Sunday School in connection with St. Luke's, Ashburnham.

—St. Luke's Sunday School picnic will be held at Highland Park, a mile below Hales' Bridge, on Thursday, 23rd July. Steamer North Star, with scow, will leave Peterborough wharf at 1 p.m., sharp, returning by moonlight. Tickets 25c, children (not of Sunday School) 15c. 5d —Merchants and clerks complain that all who signed the agreement to close on Thursday afternoon are not living up to their obligations. A few half doors were observed open yesterday. A few exceptions will effectually undo the work of weeks in one afternoon, if care is not observed.

—Yesterday afternoon the fast and popular steamer North Star carried fully one hundred and fifty pleasure seekers to the various fishing grounds on the Otonabee, as far as Jubilee Point. The day was most enjoyably spent by all. There was music aboard and all those wishing to participate in a dance joined in, having a pleasant time on the return trip, arriving in port at 8 p.m.

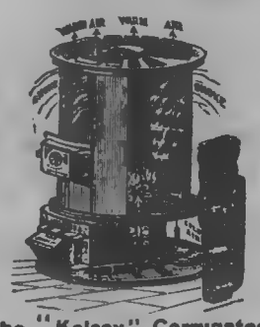
The Most Economical House Warmer



The "Kelsey" Corrugated Warm Air Generator.

Any ordinary Hot Air Furnace will produce heat if you will only supply enough fuel. The "Kelsey" has several special and valuable features but most important is that it will give more heat with less fuel and is the most durable heater made.

The "Kelsey" fire pot being constructed of several upright, tubular, corrugated, cast iron sections (see cut) around which the fire passes and up through which the cold air passes while being heated, and this entire section being wrapped with a heavy steel casing which becomes heated by the fire striking it when passing down outside of upright sections towards smoke pipe, it in turn warms the air that passes up between this steel casing and the galvanized iron casing, this explains why the "Kelsey" has three times more radiating surface and warm air capacity than an ordinary Furnace. The "Kelsey" heats every room evenly, wheresoever located, with a nice, mild, healthful warm air that will not injure your furniture.

The "Kelsey" will heat rooms 80 feet distant.

The "Kelsey" does not heat your cellar.

The "Kelsey" is absolutely gas and dust proof.

A SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL.

It Was Held Last Evening in St Joseph's Hospital Grounds.

The social held last evening in the St. Joseph's Hospital grounds under the auspices of the Catholic Literary Association was well patronized by the young people and proved a success in every respect.

The C. L. A. orchestra was present during the evening and furnished excellent music, and the ice cream booth, in charge of Mesdames Geo. Ball and J. J. Lynch and Mr. L. R. Keogh was liberally patronized during the evening.

The evening's enjoyment terminated shortly after ten o'clock. The following committee had the social in hand:—Messrs. P. Doris, J. Hanrahan, J. Carroll, J. Hickey, A. McPherson, A. J. Giroux and T. J. Bagley.

I. O. G. T. SOCIAL LAST NIGHT.

Members of City Lodge Spend a Very Pleasant Evening.

A very enjoyable time was spent last evening at the ice cream social in the I. O. G. T. lodge rooms. Although the evening was rather cool for such an occasion, yet a large number of people were present and a very pleasant evening was passed. Mayor Yelland presided during the evening and gave a very interesting address, after which a varied programme which had been prepared was rendered as appended:

Instrumental	Hudson's orchestra
Recitation	Miss Mark
Solo	Miss Nellie Hooper
Reading	Miss Thomas
Solo	Miss E Mark
Instrumental	Roberts family
Duet	Misses Hooper
Instrumental	Hudson's orchestra

Ice cream and cakes were then served by the ladies.

The success of the entertainment was due largely to the earnestness with which Miss Maud Hooper and Miss Clara Cairns applied themselves in making it a success.

A Glorious Age in Which we Live!

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achievements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

BEAUTIFUL IDYL WYLD.

Looking its Best—A Fine Gathering of Summer Visitors.

Idyl Wyld honestly ranks as the handsomest place on Rice Lake, and one of the most charming summer resorts in Ontario. Like many nations, Idyl Wyld was somewhat run down by bad management, but now the energetic and capable management of Mr. S. T. Spellman, with one man in his cabinet and one as minister of marine, has made this beautiful spot an ideal summer home for those seeking rest, recreation and enjoyment. Last season this favourite resort received liberal patronage and all who spent the heated term here were delighted beyond measure. This season opens out very encouragingly and this season promises to be the most successful in the history of the place, as shown by the following registrations:—Dr. David Little, Mrs. Dr. Little, Miss Alice Little, Dr. E. V. Stoddard, Mrs. Dr. Stoddard, Miss Caroline Stoddard, Master Vine Stoddard, Mr. Chas. N. Storer, Mr. D. C. Fealey, barrister-at-law, all of Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. James O'Neall, manager of Electric Plant, Mrs. James O'Neall and Miss O'Neall, Cleveland, Ohio; Messrs. George Bickle, Arthur Black, Chas. McCaullem, Amos Burtell, E. W. Roberts, Benjamin Mallory, Clark Mallory, Cobourg; Messrs. George Lewis, Wm. A. Moore, F. Post, Peterborough. The accommodation is first-class in every respect, the dining room being up to the higest mark and the wine cellars are excellently stocked. When you want a first rate, high class, pleasant summer resort, well managed, direct your way to Idyl Wyld. Mr. S. T. Spellman will make you welcome and make every hour of your stay a delight.

WHAT YOUNG BOOTH IS ACCOMPLISHING.

Peace With the Old Corps—More Than One Hundred Posts Established.

Ballington Booth has found room and work for his "volunteers" in the United States, and the rival organisation to the Salvation Army has evidently prospered and is there to stay.

The Volunteers came into life last winter like a rocket, when Ballington Booth and his wife took their sensational leave of the army, and for a time the sensational war between the old general in London and his son in New York was a leading feature with the newspapers. For a time it looked as if the new movement would absorb the Army in America, and its officers passed sleepless nights in an attempt to find out what had happened. Much bad blood was stirred up in the army against the new movement, for members of the rank and file deserted and went over to the young rival.

Now that the excitement is over and the army has discovered that it isn't hurt, a bond of sympathy has formed between the two bodies. They have forgiven each other in true Christian spirit, and as their marching clubs meet in the streets the soldiers salute in all friendliness.

The Volunteers left their first home in the Bible House, New York, last month, and the headquarters are now at the corner of 16th and Union Square East.

Ballington Booth has assigned Major J. W. Merrill, editor of the Volunteers' Gazette, to give out the figures concerning the strength of the new order. The Major says no statistics have been compiled as to the total strength of the Volunteers, or of any individual post. He says about 100 posts have been organized and officered throughout the country, and these are commanded by about 200 officers. At headquarters 42 persons are employed. In the New York district there are 32 posts, with three in the city. In the Chicago District there are 26 posts. The Pacific slope is well organized, and there are posts at Philadelphia, Cleveland, Minneapolis and other cities. The Major says the record everywhere of conversions is satisfactory.

Commander Booth is on the road most of the time organising new posts. Last week he was in Chicago attending a big demonstration of the Volunteers.

Mrs. Booth has been giving her attention to prison work, and has visited "our boys," as she calls them, at Sing Sing and at Charlestown, Mass. She is organising a brigade especially for this work.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

ACROSS THE SEA.

Miss B. Code's many friends will be pleased to see the following letter from her, published in Ups and Downs, the Barnardo Home official organ:—

"Cuckoo! cuckoo!" so sounds out the joyous cry of the bird on the spring or early summer air, and with what pleasure we "listen to the note of old by-gone day." As the poet says:—

"The same whom in my school boy days
I listened to that cry
Which made me look a thousand ways
In bush and tree and sky.

"To seek thee did I often rove
Through woods and on the green;
And thou wert still a hope, a love,
Still longed for, never seen,"

But where am I? Can I be dreaming? for Canada is a long, long way off from the home of the cuckoo, and it hardly seems likely our feathered friend has stretched out his wings to take such a journey across the sea! No, not likely, indeed, but we think of a certain proverb which says:—"If the mountain won't come to Mahomet, Mahomet must go to the mountain." This then is the solution of the mystery. Since last writing for Ups and Downs I have crossed the ocean and come to visit the old country, and so thought perhaps "our girls" would like a few lines from there.

We started from Montreal by the Dominion Line steamship Vancouver, an old and favoured friend now, as it is the third time we have crossed on her; we like the ship and we like the captain and we like the officials. First of all there was the sail down the St. Lawrence and we had time enough to get off at Quebec, the historical city of Canada, and see something of its objects of interest. What magnificent views there are to be sure! and how interesting up there on the "Plains of Abraham" to see the spot where the great Wolfe yielded up his life. Then we were in a most courteous manner shown over the citadel, and after thoroughly enjoying our sight-seeing returned to the boat. After that we stopped at Rimouski, where we welcomed the arrival of the mail and received a letter saying that the May number of Ups and Downs was being forwarded to that place. We never received it, however, so can only try to rejoice in thinking that perhaps some of the "Rimouskians" are being edified by our choice literature.

Then away across the waters of the deep Atlantic! Such a calm and splendid voyage as it was! We were a little detained by icebergs, but cold as it felt while in their neighborhood, these fairy-like castles were a lovely sight to gaze upon. The sea birds—"wild sea birds"—hovered around and then the spout of a whale would rise above the watery expanse. Bye and bye we neared the coasts of Ireland, the "Emerald Isle," and lovely her shore looked with the fresh, green foliage and golden covered bushes, probably the yellow gorse and an old green-covered ruin showing out as we passed.

So, at last, through the goodness of One "whose arm hath bound the restless wave," we landed at Liverpool safely without any misadventure, and yet one pitiful little story connected with our voyage has to be told. The death angel had visited our ship and taken away a little child. The little one was ailing from the time of coming on board and passed away at last and was buried in the early morning, the service being performed by a clergyman, a passenger on the ship, and the little form, enfolded in the Union Jack, was committed to its watery bed. But some day we know that even "the sea shall give up its dead."

And now for England and friends here, for many will want to hear about this.

First of all, we saw our honoured friend, Dr. Barnardo, at Stepney. What a wonderful man he is to be sure!—so busy, with such multitudinous and great things depending on him, and yet grasping withal the smallest details—ready enough to talk about his work in Canada; and it was interesting to notice on a shelf at hand, the photograph of two of his Canadian girls, but we must not mention names and then any girl can imagine it is hers, you know. "The doctor" looks well. May God spare his valuable life for years and years! Afterwards we visited Miss Stent, who does not at all forget Canada and the girls there, and then, lastly, came a visit to the village home. It was not just the best weather to see the village to advantage, for it happened to be a "rainy day," at which we must not grumble for there has been a great spell of fine weather lately. Still the village is always pretty on a summer's day and it would almost seem always improving, for we had to be shown over that most imposing building, now in process—the new school house. What a boon it will be to teachers and taught when completed. We went into the old school rooms still in use, and had a talk with Miss Fargie, who at the same time managed to keep a watchful eye on her flock; and we visited Miss Loveys, at Cairns House, and Miss Moss, at Mickleham Cottage, the latter kindly giving us a very acceptable cup of tea, and of course in each house "our girls" were the subject of conversation.

No doubt soon the "village" will be a very busy scene preparing for the annual meeting at the Albert Hall, on July 24th. We hope to be present on that occasion and of course must send over an account of it for our little magazine, and we suppose the month of July will find us wending our way back to "our girls" in Canada. Meanwhile, God bless them all.

Nursemaids in London are wearing white dresses and black bonnets; that is quite "the thing." London is rather a trying city for white, as the smuts are somewhat numerous, but there is no doubt it looks very nice.

The pink horsechestnut and white horsechestnut are in bloom now, and the lilac, wisteria and golden laburnum, as well as the pink and white may. The fields are yellow with the golden cups, and the hedges are just as pretty as ever.

A young French Canadian doctor, a fellow passenger on the Vancouver, also on the L. and N. W. R. to London, was very much struck by the fact that there did not seem to be a spot of land in England uncultivated. This same gentleman compared the carriage of an English railway train to a hencoop.

But after all our "hen coops" are not doing badly. Just wait at a station for a little time, and see how swiftly the train dashes through! With what marvellous speed it goes! This strikes one very much after being out of England for a time.

It is required now that all dogs when out in public should be muzzled. One cannot help having a feeling of pity for the poor animals going about with cages before their faces! Good, bad or indifferent dogs—all must suffer alike—the innocent as well as the guilty. "Give a dog a bad name"! One might almost write or learn a parable.

R. M. EDEN, Master. JOHN MARTIN, Manager.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot stop work every minute to bother with an irritating skin disease, or a hacking cough that insists on breaking into his bargain-making. Neither will he wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that permeates the whole body as water goes through a sponge. It is a microbe hunter and a microbe killer. It is a well-known fact that many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of living in this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering, bronchial, throat and lung diseases. Don't allow a druggist to persuade you into taking something that he says is "just as good." Maybe it's better for him—better for his profits. Take the "Golden Medical Discovery"—the greatest discovery of the age. In addition, in order to know yourself better, send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and get in return, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 pages, illustrated, and is full of common sense talk that any one who can read will understand.

And here is the testimony of Mrs. E. E. Enders, of Carey, Ohio, in regard to the "Golden Medical Discovery": "I had a troublesome skin disease. I suffered much from surface sores. Nothing helped me until I tried the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' A year or two later I had lung trouble. Again the 'Discovery' cured me."

ARTHUR S. HARDY.

Such is the honor-roll of men who have been chosen to fill the highest position in our Provincial arena since the British North America act bestowed home rule upon us in 1867.

Following the translation of Sir Oliver Mowat to Ottawa, the Commissioner of Crown Lands of yesterday is the Premier and Attorney-General to-day and the citizens of Ontario are under the Governmental guidance of their fourth Premier, the Hon. Arthur Sturgis Hardy.

It is now twenty-three years since the electors of South Brant first honored Mr. Hardy as their representative in the Local Legislature. He has, therefore, more than attained his majority as a Parliamentarian.

The new Premier is a thorough Canadian by birth and ancestry. His ancestors lived within the borders of what afterwards became and was set apart as the County of Brant for half a century before the county was formed.

The Hardy family originally belonged to that stern and resolute band of Covenanters in Scotland who withstood so much persecution for conscience sake. They were members of that section who found a refuge in the north of Ireland, and it was from the latter country that Captain John Hardy came to America and settled near Philadelphia prior to the revolution. After that eventful period he, in common with many U. E. Loyalists, came to Canada. He brought with him his youngest brother, Alexander Hardy, then a boy of tender years, who was the paternal grandfather of the subject of our sketch.

They lived on the banks of Niagara River, near Queenston Heights, where the Government had granted them large tracts of land. During the famous conflict in 1812 some of the wounded were taken into the Hardy homestead, where the women of the household watched the battle from the tower of the house. After this period Alexander Hardy moved west into Brant County and settled near Canning, in South Dumfries, where he erected mills, which being destroyed by fire, he continued farming near Blue Lake, where he died in 1819, when his youngest son, Russell Hardy, was seven years old. Russell Hardy (the father of the new Premier) was first a merchant, and then a farmer in Mount Pleasant; and at a later period a merchant in Brantford, and thereafter, and at the time of his death nine years ago, an officer at the London Asylum.

Mr. Hardy is not less a Brant County man on his mother's side than on his father's. The remains of the two branches of the family all lie in the old Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and, with Mr. Hardy and his own children, form six generations who have lived in the County of Brant.

The family on both sides represented the old pioneers of the early days of settlement in Ontario. Settlement began, practically speaking, shortly after 1784, viz., after the close of the American revolution, when so many U. E. Loyalists and other Americans sought out the fertile lands, river valleys and lake coasts of this beautiful Province, and amongst the earliest to obtain this advantage were the families to whom we have before alluded.

BIRTH AND EDUCATION.

Arthur Sturgis Hardy was born at Mount Pleasant on December 14, 1837—the day the column of Royalists, under Sir Allan Macnab, marched through Mount Pleasant to attack the forces of Eliakim Malcolm, then gathered at Scotland. He attended the Common School at Mount Pleasant and later on attended for a couple of years the academy kept by W. W. Nelles, where many of the young men of Mount Pleasant laid the foundation of their higher education. Later he was a student of the old Mount Pleasant Grammar School, and afterward was a pupil of the academy conducted by William Wethereld at Rockwood. Shortly after leaving Rockwood academy he began the study of law in the office of his uncle, H. A. Hardy, then practising in Brantford. He finished his legal studies in the office of Messrs. Paterson, Harrison & Hodgins in Toronto, and passed as a solicitor in 1861, and a few years later was called to the bar. Mr. Paterson was one of the most eminent of special pleaders at the Ontario bar, and Messrs. Harrison and Hodgins were amongst its leading and most able counsel. The former became Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench, and the latter is now Master of Chancery. Mr. Hardy in 1861 entered into partnership with his uncle and continued with him until 1867, when the partnership was dissolved and the former began business on his own account. From this time on and until he entered the Administration in 1878 Mr. Hardy was engaged in nearly every case of prominence tried in Brant County, and was very frequently engaged as counsel in the courts of the neighboring counties. Had he chosen to devote his time wholly to law and to counsel work there are but few of his contemporaries who would have occupied a more prominent place at the bar. Mr. Hardy was industrious and always took care to be thoroughly master of his case, both as to law and fact. He was noted for being promptly on time and always ready. His early experience was acquired principally in contests with that powerful advocate and strong lawyer, Hon. E. B. Wood, and although he from time to time met such men as John Hillyard Cameron, M. C. Cameron, S. B. Freeman, the two Blakes, B. B. Osler, Chief Justice Harrison, Thomas Moss, Q.C., afterwards Chief Justice, and others, few, if any, of them were more difficult to encounter at nisi prius than Mr. Wood.

MR. HARDY AS AN ADVOCATE.

As an advocate Mr. Hardy was keen and fervid, very much in earnest and instantly seized upon the salient points of weakness in his opponent's case. As a cross-examiner he was direct and to the point, and seldom wasted time, and was upon the whole a strong and effective cross-examiner. Mr. Hardy had an extensive experience in criminal practice, and between 1865 and 1877 defended no less than sixteen men charged with murder, but one of whom was convicted of the capital offence.

After he became a member of Government the duties of public life were so exacting as to withdraw him largely from active practice, although he has always remained the senior member of the firm of Hardy, Wilkes & Hardy, and yet goes into court on special cases. Mr. Hardy was made Queen's Counsel in 1877.

HIS ENTRANCE INTO POLITICS.

His first appearance in politics, other than as a mere member of committee, was in the memorable contest between Messrs. Wood and Biggar on the one hand, and Messrs. Wood and Leeming on the other, for the Dominion and Local Houses respectively, in 1867. Again, in the contest of 1871 between Messrs. Biggar and Plewes, Mr. Hardy was one of the principal speakers on the Reform side during the campaign. In 1873, when Mr. Wood resigned his seat in the Local Legislature to run for the House of Commons in West Durham, Mr. Hardy's friends submitted his name to the convention, and he received the nomination. The contest was a memorable and keenly-contested one, with Mr. J. J. Hawkins as the Conservative candidate, resulting in the election of Mr. Hardy by a majority of 189.

In the election of 1875 Mr. Hardy was returned by acclamation, and so in 1877, when he joined the Administration as Provincial Secretary. In 1879 Mr. Hugh McK. Wilson was his opponent, when Mr. Hardy's majority was increased to 444. In 1883 Mr. Paul Huffman contested the constituency, when Mr. Hardy's majority was again increased to 559. In 1886 Mr. Thomas Lloyd-Jones was his opponent. Mr. Hardy's majority this time was 657. Again in 1890 Mr. Jones entered the lists, but Mr. Hardy led by 634 votes. The last election, in 1894, was a repetition of former contests, in that the Premier of to-day was again elected by the same old majority.

IN THE CABINET.

Mr. Hardy took his seat in the Legislature in January, 1874, and at once assumed a prominent position upon the floor of the House as a speaker and debater. Three years thereafter he was called to the Government—a compliment seldom paid to so new a member. His career as Provincial Secretary for nearly twelve years, and as Commissioner of Crown Lands for seven years, is well known, and he has been no less successful as a Parliamentarian and a Cabinet Minister entrusted with the discharge of responsible duties than as a member of the bar in his earlier years.

During Mr. Hardy's active public life of nearly 23 years, nineteen of which, as has been said, have been spent as a member of the Cabinet, the mere list of the measures he has introduced into the House and carried through would fill a goodly column, and the measures themselves several volumes. No less than 150 public and private bills were introduced by him between 1874 and 1896, and nearly every one of them passed. But the subjects these dealt with are more important than mere numbers. Their wide range, scope and variety are the best evidence of the versatility and breadth of view of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, and their presence on our statute books is open testimony to his laborious public life, his industry and his valuable work as a representative and Parliamentarian.

PUBLIC BILLS.

As to public bills, there is scarcely a subject over which the Legislature has jurisdiction that Mr. Hardy has not dealt with. In his second session he introduced an important bill respecting railway traffic, which placed the relations of railways towards shippers and the public upon an entirely changed footing, by preventing a railway from setting up notice of a condition protecting itself against a suit for damages where negligence could be established. This became law in the following session. Later on he introduced several bills amending the law as to Division Courts, enlarging their jurisdiction, simplifying their practice and making remedies cheaper. An act reducing the number of Grand Jurors to 13 was also carried through by him, and is found to work admirably. The jurors act and the mode of election was entirely reconstructed by Mr. Hardy, and afterwards consolidated, with amendments. The number of jurors returned had been unnecessarily large. The act empowered the local boards, composed of the County Judge and others, to reduce the number wherever they felt it could be safely done. Many thousand dollars per annum have been saved to the various counties of the Province through this amendment.

A recent measure introduced by him also provided that in civil cases ten jurors might give a verdict. This has been found to give great relief to fur-

B.B.B.

TO THE MARK.

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, it may be the stomach; perhaps it is the bowels or the kidneys; most likely it is the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters goes straight to that spot, strengthens the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the disease, and restores health, because it acts with cleansing force and curative power upon the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

With good red blood health is assured, without it disease is certain to come and Burdock

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

Brockville, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

Dear Sir.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

PREMIER HARDY.

ors, and to work satisfactorily.

Mr. Hardy was one of a committee of Liberal members who originally settled the terms of and drafted the voters' lists act. An act to give increased stability to mutual fire insurance companies did much to strengthen solvent companies of this character, and to weed out those established on other than business principles. The act respecting interpleader lessened the cost of those proceedings materially by enabling the issues in some cases, where seizures had been made under executions, to be tried in the County Courts.

In 1882, when Provincial Secretary, Mr. Hardy carried through the act establishing the Board of Health, which has done so much to disseminate knowledge of hygiene and inspire local action on the part of the municipalities in connection with the public health. He appointed Dr. Bryce, whose vigor and energy are well known, as Secretary.

Acts relating to the administration of Justice in criminal matters, to the laws of insurance, an act under which industrial schools might be established, one relating to the performance of statute labor, one for the organization of waterworks and gas companies, measures relating to joint stock companies, to births, marriages and deaths, to amending the election act, respecting private lunatic asylums, an industrial refuge for girls and the reformatory for boys, and an act relating to religious institutions, all became law under his supervision. So also with respect to acts relating to distress for rent and taxes and exempting certain properties, as to the establishment of homes of industry and industrial farms, respecting the offices of Police Magistrate and Sheriff, damage to land by flooding, and many other acts of like character, which it is not necessary to enumerate.

While he was Provincial Secretary, a series of acts relating to the public institutions of the Province, and another series relating to the liquor license question and the enforcement of the liquor laws, occupied a great deal of his time and attention in the Legislature. Much might be said of Mr. Hardy's efforts as a temperance reformer under the license laws. The act known as the Crooks act is more largely the work of Mr. Hardy than of Mr. Crooks, if the scope of the act, when the latter handed over the charge of license matters to his successor as Provincial Secretary, be taken into account. Bills upon this subject were carried through the House by Mr. Hardy in 1878, 1881, 1884, 1887 and 1888. These acts were all in the direction of providing severer penalties for infractions of the law, for its better enforcement, and to provide for the enforcement of the Dunkin and Scott acts as well. Space does not permit giving the details of these several enactments. Suffice it to say that during Mr. Hardy's long term of the license law no attack was ever made upon his administration that did not meet with instant reply and satisfactory explanation.

Bills giving the right of representation in the Local Legislature to the Rainy River and Nipissing Districts, and of the election of their first members, wer also submitted by him.

CROWN LANDS COMMISSIONER.

In 1889, upon the retirement of the Hon. Mr. Pardee, an eminent Commissioner of Crown Lands, Mr. Hardy was named his successor, and was transferred from the office of Provincial Secretary to that of Commissioner of Crown Lands. His legislation since then has had largely to do with the Crown domain, free grants to settlers, the public timber and public parks, and the municipal assessment and drainage laws.

Bills relating to damage to lands by flooding and affording cheap and speedy remedies; to the floating of timber down streams; to timber slide companies; to the free grants and homesteads lands; to culling and measurement of sawlogs and the examination of cullers; to settlement duties by purchasers of lands and a lien for wages by woodmen, are among the number of those general or minor measures, more or less affecting the Department of Crown Lands, which have received Mr. Hardy's attention. The latter act provides that men who work in the shanties in the cutting of timber shall have a lien upon the logs cut for their wages, and an easy remedy is provided by means of the Division and District Courts. This bill has since been extended to all the new districts.

An act for the protection of Provincial fisheries, comprehensive in its character within the jurisdiction of the Province, was also passed in 1892.

Perhaps no more important measures, however, have been dealt with than those relating to mines and mining which were dealt with in 1890, 1891 and 1892. In the latter year the amendments made in 1891 and 1892 were incorporated into a general act with other amendments and the whole act consolidated. Some of these amendments are of the first importance and were in the interest of the explorer and the operator, and tended to facilitate the development of the mining interests of the Province. A Bureau of Mines was established, the minimum quantity of mining lands which may be sold by the Crown was reduced from 80 to 40 acres, and the option of taking lands or lease instead of by purchase as theretofore was given to purchasers. The duty of performing certain development work to the value of about $5 per acre within a limited time imposed upon purchasers of mining lands and the right to stake out mining claims was also granted. A royalty was imposed upon certain mines and power given to the Lieut.-Governor in Council to impose a royalty upon others. Mr. Hardy afterwards introduced a bill to postpone the royalty clauses during the present period of mining depression caused by the financial stringency in the United States and the closing down of many mines and mining industries there. Subject to this, the law is looked upon as one of the best mining laws in existence.

Bills establishing the Algonquin National Park, embracing nearly one million acres of land, lying between the Parry Sound District and the Ottawa River, and Rondeau Park, in the County of Kent, embracing nearly 5,000 acres of land, have become law. The author of these bills has shown an enlightened appreciation of public wants in thus dedicating to the public for all time these tracts of land, timber, lakes and rivers. They are to be known as health resorts and timber, fish and game preserves.

COMMITTEE WORK.

Perhaps, however, no more laborious legislative work has been done by any member of the House than that performed by Mr. Hardy as Chairman of the committee on municipal and assessment and cognate laws. Many bills, ranging from 50 to 75, are every year introduced upon these subjects. They are all referred, almost as a matter of course, to this committee, and are there discussed, threshed out and ultimately dealt with, the result being embodied in a municipal bill and an assessment bill each year. Mr. Hardy, as Chairman, has had charge of these bills and of putting them into shape and passing them through the House.

In 1892 he consolidated the entire municipal and assessment acts, and incorporated the various amendments which had been made since 1887 unto them. The labor of that session was enormous, and, coupled with the act to consolidate and amend the mining laws and other bills introduced by him during that session, formed a record of legislation during any one session not easily broken.

Another class of legislation, which is also referred to the Municipal Committee, is that relating to the Provincial drainage laws and ditches and watercourses. Mr. Hardy had charge of the consolidated acts under these heads now on the statute books and which were reported by the Commission on Drainage.

Mr. Hardy's record for legislative work during the session of 1896 was in advance of any previous one. It included his County Councils bill, which will call for the rearrangement of County Council divisions, and a material reduction in the number of County Councillors. It also included the new legislation affecting cities of over 100,000 population, the Board of Control of the Toronto City Council having already proved to be a success.

Mr. Hardy has been for nine years Chairman of the Municipal Committee, during which period hundreds of municipal and assessment bills were considered. He also presided over the Railway Committee for one session (during Hon. Mr. Fraser's absence), and has been a member of the Public Accounts Committee since his first session in 1874, and has always taken a leading part in its deliberations. He is also a member of the Private Bills Committee.

Shortly after he entered the Legislature, the celebrated Rykert Investigation Committee was elected by the House. It was composed of the Hon. J. G. Currie, Hon. M. C. Cameron, Mr. Meredith, Mr. Deroche and Mr. Hardy, when the report, which has been so much discussed, finding Mr. Rykert guilty of improper practices, was found.

EXECUTIVE ABILITY.

Mr. Hardy possesses executive force and administrative ability of a high order. He is quick to apprehend and prompt to decide. His yes or no comes with ease and promptness. He is, nevertheless, anxious before expressing an opinion to learn the last fact, and to hear all that can be said on either side. During his regime in the Crown Lands Department the practice has steadily grown of having all contentious cases thoroughly sifted by argument of counsel. Many heavy cases have been disposed of by him, and it is said in the department that none of his decisions have been reversed upon appeal. The work of the Crown Lands Commissioner is largely judicial, and questions involving large sums are from day to day determined by the head of that department.

AS COMMISSIONER.

Since becoming Commissioner of Crown Lands the revenues of the department have been unusually large from several causes, amongst others, the large bonuses obtained at the sale of timber in 1892. It was by far the best sale of timber ever held by the Crown. Prices upon the whole ranged much higher, and the highest price per square mile obtained reached the sum of $17,500, as against any former higher price of $6,300.

The Rainy River section has been practically opened up to settlement. Crown Lands agencies have been established there, and free grant lands have been practically put into the market. Settlement is going in, roads are being built and experimental drainage is under consideration.

The new district at the northwest end of Lake Temiscamingue, in the Ottawa section, has also been opened for settlement, and a considerable settlement has been established on the fertile lands in this part of the Province.

The Crown Lands agents in the mining sections have been constituted agents for the purpose of giving information, conducting correspondence and facilitating the sale of mining lands.

The Bureau of Mines, established under Mr. Hardy, is doing excellent work, and reports of a scientific character have been issued, which throw more light upon our mining territory and resources than anything which has heretofore been written.

The fire ranging laws for the protection of timber and the laws for the protection of fish have been vigorously enforced, and the expenditure of money upon colonization roads has been systematized and placed under additional control and supervision by the department.

Mr. Hardy is looked upon as one of a long list of capable men who have presided over the Crown Lands Department, and we doubt whether in the past any of them have shown more strength or vigilance in its administration.

AS A SPEAKER.

Much might be written of his capabilities as a public speaker, but of these most of our readers are no doubt personally aware. We may repeat, however, that he is recognized by friends and opponents as one of the most effective Parliamentary debaters and platform speakers in Provincial public life, and the speeches he has recently delivered in the Local Legislature—notably the one dealing with and replying to attacks upon the administration of the Crown Lands Department—show that he is rather gaining in force than falling behind. As a debater, he is positive, direct and to the point. He wastes no time in padding, but bears closely upon the edge of the question from beginning to end. If he makes a departure from an argument it is to enliven the debate with a touch of humor, but this is used generally to throw light upon the argument. He not only perceives the weak point in his opponent's armor, but seizes anything that is trivial in the case he is criticizing, and covers it with ridicule. He is radical in his views, believes strongly in the people, but not necessarily that every change means reform.

Upon this point we may well give the following quotations from The Canadian Biographical Dictionary:—

"A man so marked at the bar might be expected to take a leading place in political life, and this the Hon. Mr. Hardy has done. He is one of the strongest members in the Mowat Administration, and has no superior in the House as a ready and effective speaker. He has the gift of being able to 'think on his feet,' and is therefore at no disadvantage even against fully elaborate and careful attack. His characteristics as a debater are a facility for detecting weak points in his opponent, ready repartee, and the personal enthusiasm and earnestness with which he infuses his statements. There is, too, a spice of the daring in his methods, a quality which can only be aired with safety by a man like Mr. Hardy, who is sure of his ground, and who remains master of the situation, even though his case be a shaky one. If there is a difficult county to contest, and the fate of the Government is not sure in that quarter, thither it is always considered expedient that Mr. Hardy should go. And the more fierce the contest, the harder the blows struck, the more does it seem to be according to the humor of the man."

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! This state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examinaton." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

A THREE RINGED CIRCUS.

There's lots of cheapness stalking about in this plate glass city, and the three ringed circus houses seem to be all mixed up in a grand circus poster effort to grab a few coppers. There is such a seething vortex of competition and conglomeration of various stocks that it's a wonder we don't get lost.

Every store in the town sells cheaper Clothing, Boots and Shoes, etc., than we do—because we're not in it. We've been twenty years doing the high grade Hat trade of this district. We've made a specialty of one line, giving our whole attention to it—made it a hobby to get the right goods as to quality and style—thereby have seemed to hold the top position—don't get the idea that because we believe in quality that we are high priced. Our 25c Fedora Hats have quality as well as our $2.00 ones. When you expect to get $3.00 for $1.75, lookout—you may get an eye for an eye—especially in Hats—for instance the "Celebrated New York Enfield" Hat does not sell for $3.00 or $1.75 but $1.50 with us.

DIVORCES IN CANADA.

The last volume of the Statistical Year Book gives some interesting information relative to divorces in Canada. In Canada, under the Union Act, 1867, divorce is one of the subjects assigned to the Federal Parliament. As, however, some of the provinces had established divorce courts before Confederation, they have been permitted to continue the jurisdiction which was conferred upon their courts. These provinces are Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia. In Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and the Northwest Territories divorce can only be obtained by legislation—an act of the parliament of Canada being necessary. The rules of the Senate touching divorce require the production of such evidence in support of the application as would be deemed sufficient in a court of law; in other respects the matter is dealt with as for an ordinary private act of parliament.

The statistics show that since Confederation 211 divorces have been granted, of which 54 were by the Dominion Parliament and 157 by the several provincial courts. Prince Edward Island has not granted a single divorce in the 27 years. The general figures give an average of eight divorces a year for the whole of Canada.

The provinces which have courts of divorce have absolutely and relatively to population very many more divorces than the provinces which depend upon parliament for divorces. With respect to the Province of Quebec, the comparatively small number of divorces must be attributed to the influence of the Roman Catholic church there. The large number in the Province of Nova Scotia is probably due to the fact that the cost of fees established many years ago is so small that the poorest in the land are not prevented from seeking relief in the courts. The 211 divorces were granted in 119 cases where the husband was petitioner for relief, and in ninety-two cases where the wife was petitioner. By far the largest number of the divorces granted by the Dominion Parliament, and by the several provincial courts of divorce, were granted for adultery.

AMERICAN DOLLARS.

An esteemed contemporary gives the following timely information: "There are 371¼ grains of pure silver and 41¼ grains of copper alloy in the American standard silver dollar, and 23.22 grains of pure gold and 2.58 grains of silver and copper alloy in the gold dollar. The full weight of the gold dollar is 25.8 grains, and the silver dollar is 16 (or, to be entirely accurate, 15.98) times as heavy, or 412½ grains.

A PLUCKY CANADIENNE.

Loyal to Canada Under Great Provocation to be Otherwise.

The Island Reporter, of Sidney, Cape Breton, says:—"Miss Eva Brodlique is a Canadian by birth, training and instinct, but this fact did not keep her from being elected president of the Chicago Press League the other day. To be chosen from among so many clever women writers to be at the head of one of the strongest and best associations on the continent is indeed an honour to our countrywomen. The vote was unanimous. There was some discussion, though, at the nomination, some giving it as their opinion that so distinctly an American organization should not have an 'alien' for its president. A prominent member said:—'If Miss Brodlique would but call this country hers, in which she earns her bread, and which has afforded so wide a field for her many talents, I would support her with all the pleasure in the world.' The loyal little maid's reply was characteristic of her, and was to the effect that she always had a country she was proud to call her own, and was disturbed by no ambition to be president of the Press League. After her her election she made a neat speech, in which she said:—'I have been accused of lack of loyalty, while, in truth, I was but proving my loyalty. Canada has her place on this great continent; the Stars and Stripes are worthy of all respect and allegiance; but you will grant me the privilege of holding the Union Jack nearest my heart. Proudly I say:

"This is my own, this country, strong and grand,
God guard thee, Canada—my native land."

"Three cheers, Miss Brodlique. Labour to convince those good people that Columbus discovered something more than the United States in 1492. The Press League is famous for its literary gatherings, and is a social power. During Lady Aberdeen's stay in Chicago she was a member."

A Good Story

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Summarized Statement for the Past Month issued by the Toronto Meteorological Department.

Director R. F. Stupart, of the Meteorological Office, Toronto, has issued the monthly bulletin on crops and weather prepared by the department. The section relating to Ontario is as follows:—

Excepting, perhaps, the unusually large amount of sunshine which has forced vegetation considerably, the weather has been about normal. In some portions of the Province, more especially from the western shore of Lake Ontario, west northwest to Lake Huron, crops have been much affected by drought, and although in other districts heavy thunderstorms have been experienced the land has not benefitted much, owing to a large portion of the water flowing off quickly. In many districts the hay crop is reported as being very light, but this is doubtless owing principally to the deficiency of rain in April and May. In counties bordering on the Georgian Bay, more especially in the Indian Peninsula, much damage has been done to crops by swarms of grasshoppers. Following is a summary of reports received: Grey and Bruce—Spring crops generally look very well in the counties, excepting where damaged by grasshoppers. Hay and fall wheat for the most part light. Huron and directly eastward to Durham and including Wentworth and Lincoln—With the exception of a few places in this district, the drought has been almost continuous, and while most spring crops are looking fair, hay is generally light, so also is fall wheat in many localities. Excepting peaches, fruit looks well and the crop picked so far has been abundant. Lambton, Middlesex, Oxford and Bruce Counties, bordering on Lake Erie—Although more rain has fallen on the greater portion of this district the condition of the crop is much the same as in the district last mentioned, hay and fall wheat being slightly better. In Essex the harvesting of fall wheat and rye has commenced. Muskoka, Simcoe, Victoria, Northumberland and counties eastward—All farm crops in these counties now promise well, excepting hay, though probably not so light as in other portions of the province, will doubtless turn out a short crop. Reports of damage by grasshoppers come from North Simcoe, Peterborough, Hastings and Renfrew.

ONE HONEST MAN

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P.O. Hats are Trump

Keep Cool as a Cucumber.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturer of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They knew where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowded the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for $1.00

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

Those who have had their Boating or other Outing Suits lose all their stiffness and style because of the damp air or an unexpected wetting can throughly appreciate the value of Fibre Chamois. When the Rigby Waterproofed line is used in costumes, no amount of moisture will affect the graceful stiffness of their outline. The Sleeves and Skirts can't possibly become limp no matter what usage they receive, because this Rigby process makes the Fibre Chamois non-absorbent without changing any of its other qualities and its stiffness outlasts everything.

HARDY AND PATERSON

Little Thunder and Big Thunder Thunderously Honored.

BRANTFORD'S TRIBUTE TO HER SONS

One of the Grandest Demonstrations Ever Given in the Telephone City—Addresses From Corporation and People—Grand Display of Fireworks—Great Procession.

Brantford, July 17.—"Little Thunder Big Thunder by thunder." This was the inscription upon a transparency in to-night's demonstration. In its progressive enthusiasm it illustrates the state of mind of Brantford between 8 and 10 o'clock. The reception which awaited the new Premier of Ontario and the new Minister of Customs upon their arrival must have almost carried them off their feet. It was one of the largest and most splendid ovations which public men in any country ever received. It was not a political affair. Citizens without regard to party turned out to it. The Mayor and City Council were in the procession. Pride of town and country was aroused and for this one evening at least the divisions made by politics were forgotten. Messrs. Hardy and Paterson arrived by train at 8.30 o'clock. They had been met at Hamilton by a deputation of their friends, who went down for the purpose of accompanying them back. The party occupied a coach which was hung with bunting and decorated with flags. The train's arrival here was one of the most splendid of spectacles. The streets and spaces around the station were thronged with people. The blowing of the whistle of the yard engine was a signal that the looked-for train was in sight. At the signal the whistles on all the factories in the city seemed to give tongue and to vie with each other with their screeching. The people rushed toward the track and saw a magnificent sight approaching. The incoming train looked like a new kind of war machine. The engine was ablaze in colored fires, broadsides of flames belched from either side, while to add to the reality of the weird blockade-runner an incessant volleying was kept up by the harmless ammunition which had been placed along the track. The train came to a standstill with a great final upburst of fireworks, like the blowing up of Sebastopol or the burning of Moscow. When Messrs. Hardy and Paterson stepped from the car all other noises were drowned by the cheering of the thousands of people.

A procession was formed, which was the finest ever seen in the city. The marshals were Mr. E. L. Goold, President of the Goold Bicycle Company, and Mr. Wareham Wisner, President of the Wisner Manufacturing Company. The line was headed by the I.O.F. band with torches. After them were 400 bicyclists carrying Chinese lanterns and shooting Roman candles.

The carriages containing Messrs. Hardy and Paterson, the Mayor, City Council and officers of the Liberal Association came after the bicyclists. After them 50 horsemen. Then a great mass of citizens on foot, eight deep, carrying torches. The C.O. Band and the Oshweken Indian Band were in the line. The population of the whole city and county appeared to be upon the streets.

At the Market-square there was a perfect jam of people. The crowd numbered at least 10,000. From a wagon fireworks were set off, rockets and others which went off with reports like a cannon. The scene was an inspiring one upon which Messrs. Hardy and Paterson looked from the platform at the end of the Town Hall. As far as the eye could reach there was faces all upturned to them with the light of good-will shining upon them.

Dr. Secord, President of the South Brant Liberal Association, presided over the proceedings at the square. Mayor Elliott read the Municipal address; Mr. W. G. Raymond and Mr. C. B. Heyd reading addresses to Hon. Mr. Hardy and Mr. Paterson respectively, on behalf of the citizens. The honourable gentlemen made excellent speeches, and with the National Anthem, mere cheers and fireworks the demonstration ended.

ARE THEY THE SAME?

Was "Red" Collins, the Chicago Bandit, the Man Who Escaped From the Montreal Jail Via a Sewer?

Montreal, July 17.—The doings in Chicago of the notorious thugs and thieves known as the "Long and Short" men, still cause much talk in police circles. Investigation here lends to the belief that John Collins or O'Collins, who is called the "Long" man, and "Red" Collins, in Chicago, is identical with the man who escaped from Montreal Jail in November, 1894, in a peculiar and mysterious manner. On looking amongst the criminal records, the name "Collins" appears in several instances, but with the exception of one, Edward Collins, there is no one who corresponds with the "long" man under arrest in Chicago. The Collins referred to was arrested on Sept. 6, 1894, by Detectives Arcand and Trempe for collecting money in the name of Mrs. Beausoleil, who kept a photograph gallery on Craig-street, and was sentenced to six months in jail. This fellow was in jail two months when he suddenly disappeared and has not been seen in Montreal since. At the time of his disappearance the newspapers commented upon the way in which the prisoner had made good his escape. Collins was supposed to have left his cell by gaining an entrance to the sewer, and then making his way out by way of the river or through a manhole by the aid of an accomplice. It was thought this was impossible, but it is alleged the jail officials never denied it, and no other explanation was given.

It is thought by most of the detectives that Edward Collins is John O'Collins, the prisoner in Chicago, for while in Montreal Collins had red hair, was 5 feet 6 inches high, and his age was 19 years. Taking his youth into consideration, it is thought that Collins has grown since his disappearance from Montreal. Unfortunately no photograph of the man arrested in Chicago has been received here, so consequently the police authorities cannot say positively that it is the same man, but they think it is, as the descriptions correspond with each other.

MAN ATTACKED BY RATS.

Big Army Swarmed Over and Gnawed at Him as He Lay Faint For Lack of Food.

St. Andrew's Bay, Fla., July 17.—The schooner Jessie P. sailed from this port for Pensacola ten days ago, having Albert Jackson aboard as a passenger. Soon after leaving here the schooner was wrecked by the terrible storm which swept the Gulf. The crew deserted the vessel, forgetting Jackson, who was asleep in a cabin when the storm broke.

It was thought that the Jessie P. went down and that Jackson perished with her. The schooner, however, did not sink, and to-day her drifting hulk was sighted by a fishing boat. The fishermen boarded the hulk, and while walking the deck heard faint noises in the cabin. The hatches were battened, but were broken open, and the fishermen entered the cabin, and there they found Jackson, unconscious on the floor and an army of rats swarming over and gnawing at him.

The rats were driven away and Jackson was, after a long time, restored to consciousness. Jackson said he tried to break out of the cabin when he realized he had been deserted, but failed. He soon became faint for lack of water and food. Then the rats attacked him. He fought them off until his strength failed and he became unconscious. The rats gnawed great holes in Jackson's legs and body, but with good treatment he may recover.

WHERE GREENWAY STANDS

He Has Had No Communication With Mr. Laurier Regarding the Vacant Portfolio, So He Says.

Winnipeg, July 17.—(Special.)—Your correspondent saw Premier Greenway to-day, and drew from him this statement: "I have had no communication whatever with Mr. Laurier regarding the vacant portfolio. I am interested only in the appointment in so far as I want to see a good live and experienced man chosen, because the portfolio is most important to Manitoba and the Northwest. I do not know whether Mr. Sifton would accept it. As to my trip, I went to Chicago on business, and had no intention of going to Ottawa. I met Mr. Martin as he was passing through St. Paul. He did not tell me where he was going or what his business was."

NEW BRUNSWICK CABINET.

Hon. James Mitchell, the New Premier, Completes the List of His Colleagues and They Are Sworn In.

Fredericton, N.B., July 17.—Hon. Jas. Mitchell, the new Provincial Premier, completed his Cabinet to-night and his members were sworn in at noon before His Honor Gov. Fraser, as follows:

Hon. James Mitchell—Premier and Attorney-General.

Hon. G. H. Labillars—Without portfolio.

Hon. L. J. Tweedie—Provincial Secretary.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson—Chief Commissioner of Public Works.

Hon. A. T. Dunn—Surveyor-General.

Hon. A. S. White—Solicitor-General.

There is still one vacancy without portfolio.

The bye-election in St. John County rendered necessary by Mr. Dunn's acceptance of office, will take place Aug. 4. Nominations will take place July 29.

FIELDING RESIGNS TO-DAY.

The Nova Scotia Premier Will Hand the Reins Over to Mr. Murray.

Halifax, N.S., July 17.—Hon. Mr. Fielding, the new Finance Minister, will resign his position as Premier and Provincial Secretary of the Local Government to-morrow. It is understood that Hon. George H. Murray will be called in to reorganize the Local Government. Mr. Fielding will proceed at once to Quebec in company with Hon. Mr. Blair of New Brunswick, to be sworn into office by the Governor-General at Quebec.

SHE WAS ROASTED ALIVE.

The Awful Death of Mrs. Grimble of Lockport, N.Y., While Starting a Fire With Kerosene.

Lockport, N.Y., July 17.—Shortly before noon to-day Mrs. Oliver Grimble of 146 Erie-street was lighting the kitchen fire with kerosene, when the flames communicated to the can and flashed up into her face. In a moment the poor woman was enveloped in flames. Neighbors heard her cries and rushed to her assistance, but before the flames were extinguished she was terribly burned.

Her eyesight was destroyed, all the hair was burned from her head and her breasts burnt to a crisp. The flesh came off with her clothing in places. Mr. Grimble works at the Trevor Machine Shop and was on his way home to dinner. His grief and that of their four children was heartrending. Mrs. Grimble died at 3.30 o'clock.

HON. G. W. ROSS WON

He Holds the Fort as an Officer of the Alliance

AFTER A RIGHT HOT DISCUSSION

Four Members of the Executive, Including Rev. Wm. Kettlewell and Mr. Buchanan, Handed in Their Resignations After the Vote—Close of the Convention.

Toronto, July 18.

A large number of the delegates who attended the Prohibition Convention yesterday morning went expecting a fulfilment of the Mayor's promise, that there would be something "spicy and entertaining." They were not disappointed, for the question of Hon. G. W. Ross' fitness to occupy a seat in the Executive Committee of the Alliance was very fully discussed, and was decided in the affirmative.

This is the amendment to the nomination of officers which caused such very warm speeches on both sides: "That, while we recognize in the Hon. G. W. Ross a prominent temperance man who has done splendid service for the reform, we regret that his name has been brought forward for an office in this Alliance when it is well known that he does not endorse the line of political action adopted by this body. Therefore, resolved, that his name be omitted from the list of vice-presidents."

The main cause of objection to Mr. Ross as an officer of the Alliance was that he did not support Messrs. Buchanan and Watkins, prohibition candidates in Hamilton, at the recent Dominion election, but, on the contrary, supported their opponents.

It was hoped and intended that there should be no discussion, but Mr. Ross himself came forward and asked permission to say that he hoped that none would attempt to close off discussion on his account. He knew nothing, he said, of what had been said about him except what he saw in the papers, and he would now like to hear the criticisms of his conduct from the delegates themselves.

Mr. Lees said this was not a personal matter against Mr. Ross, but the Prohibitionists had laid down a platform regarding the bringing out of candidates, and against candidates so brought out on the Prohibition ticket Mr. Ross had spoken twice. He thought, therefore, that the Alliance would stultify itself by conferring an honor on one who had so acted.

Mr. F. W. Watkins said that he did not want to rend asunder "the ties of love" which bound together the members of the party. He admitted Hon. G. W. Ross' great service to the temperance cause. He had no feeling of hostility to him. The matter before the convention was whether Mr. Ross should or should not be a member of the Executive of the Alliance. He urged that there was a difference between prohibition and temperance and that this was a prohibition organization, and as such he could not see how it was possible to have in the Alliance councils a man who would stand for party before the cause. He objected to the "fooling" which was going on in the convention. Mr. Watkins was reminded of the time limit and subsided.

J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., regretted extremely that the question should have been thrown into the convention, thus turning their guns on themselves instead of on the enemy. The Dominion Alliance, he thought, was broad enough to include all prohibitionists. Different platforms had been laid down by the Alliance itself at different times. He was not aware of any attempt heretofore to expel a man from the Alliance because he disagreed with a resolution. The only charge against Mr. Ross was that he had not supported the independent candidates in Hamilton. If the Dominion Alliance was not broad enough to include Hon. G. W. Ross, Mr. Watkins and others it, said the doctor, "is not broad enough for me." He thought more attention should be given to getting men into the party than to reading good men out. He reminded the convention that lately there had been some illustrious examples of reading of men out of parties, and that it had been very successful. (Laughter.)

Rev. J. Van Wyck, while giving way to no one in his respect and honor for Hon. G. W. Ross, a man he was proud of, could not but feel the inconsistency of Mr. Ross' actions.

Rev. Dr. Stone said Mr. Ross, in appearing on the Hamilton platform for the Liberal candidates, was working in the temperance interests, that he was endeavoring to elect men who supported Mr. Laurier, the leader of a great party, who had pledged himself to grant a plebiscite on the prohibition question. Buchanan had come out, not as the representative of the Alliance, but as the choice of a little local coterie. The speaker was frequently interrupted by Rev. Mr. Van Wyck, Rev. B. B. Keefer and Mr. W. W. Buchanan.

Ed. Carson said Mr. Ross was one of the few great men in this country who had never been ashamed to stand up and say he was a temperance man. Mr. Ross was not only a temperance man, but one of the leaders of a great party, and he had gone to Hamilton not to fight against prohibition, but to fight against the Tories.

Rev. Dr. Ross said his namesake should have favored prohibition before party.

Rev. Mr. Kettlewell also took the same ground.

Joseph Tait, ex-M.L.A., defended Mr. Ross' position. He said he himself would have had as much right to go and speak against Mr. Buchanan as Mr. Buchanan had to write articles against him when he ran elsewhere.

Mr. Buchanan here interposed that he had not done so, but Mr. Tait said that articles had appeared in The Templar against his candidature.

At this juncture there was considerable interruption, which caused Mr. Tait to remark that when men set themselves up as models of conduct they should not be so thin-skinned. Rev. Mr. Keefer and Rev. Mr. Kettlewell were again called to order by the chairman.

When Mr. Tait sat down, a lady delegate wanted to know if the delegates to this convention had been summoned to come hundreds of miles to hear political wrangling.

Mayor Fleming said he did not think the Hamilton people understood each other's position.

MR. LAURIER'S CLEAN CAPABLE CABINET.

A GUARANTEE OF GOOD AND HONEST GOVERNMENT.

Personal Characteristics of the New Ministers — Promises of a Strong Government Fulfilled—Good Material Put to Good Use.

Mr. Laurier has surrounded himself with a body of men who constitute, beyond shadow of doubt, the ablest men in the Liberal ranks in the Dominion, and the Government as a whole is, without room for dispute, the strongest since the coalition Government that assumed power at Confederation. The promise of the Liberal party that a strong Government would be formed has been more than fulfilled. The surprise is that Mr. Laurier has found it possible to bring to his side such a galaxy of brilliant men. The new Cabinet, in fact, stands as a tribute to the new Premier's powers. Think of it! Within three weeks of election day; within three days after being called by His Excellency, Mr. Laurier presents as his Government the very flower of the Liberal forces of the Dominion—three of the principal positions filled by men who were Premier of the three great English speaking provinces, two other offices by ex-Premiers, and all the remaining ones by men of long training and proven ability in public life. The fact is an astonishing one.

It was a common remark, says the St. Thomas Daily Times, a few years ago, that the Liberals were not entitled to the confidence of the federal electorate, because they had no material for a strong Cabinet. They might run the small provincial legislatures, but their men were too light for the Dominion arena. The answer to this libel, complete and crushing, came with the announcement of the personnel of the new Liberal Administration. The most prejudiced political opponent must confess that it is a Government strong in ability, composed of men of the highest character that Canadian public life has yet produced, and capable of giving the country a most efficient administration of affairs. A feature of it that at once attracts attention is the wisdom with which Mr. Laurier has allotted the portfolios. He has evidently had a free hand in their distribution, and has almost without exception put his men in the positions they are best qualified to fill. To illustrate:

Sir Oliver Mowat, the greatest constitutional lawyer in Canada, eminent and of long experience at the bar, for several years an occupant with honour of the bench, for a quarter of a century the guide of the destinies of the great province of Ontario—than he no man in all wide Canada is better equipped for the office of Minister of Justice. It was feared that he would feel the duties too heavy, but happily for the country he has taken the portfolio which all desired to see him hold.

The second officer in importance in the Cabinet is that of the Minister of Finance. This important position Mr. Laurier has induced Mr. Fielding, the Premier of Nova Scotia, to occupy. The choice will we believe, prove to be a most happy one. Mr. Fielding is one of the ablest men Nova Scotia has produced, and his accession to the ranks of the Federal Liberals greatly strengthens Mr. Laurier's hands. He won the unstinted admiration and respect of the Ontario delegates to the Liberal Convention of 1893, and there will be but one opinion of him when his abilities become more widely known, that he is in the very front rank of Canadian statesmen.

In relinquishing his pre-eminent claims on the portfolio of Finance, Sir Richard Cartwright has again illustrated that disposition and desire to do service for his party and his country in whatever position it may be thought that he can best serve the interests of both that has ever been manifested by him. It has always been customary for his enemies to characterize Sir Richard as ambitious, but his friends have known that his ambition has never been beyond his deserts, and has never been allowed to interfere with the welfare of his party. Mr. Laurier has no more loyal lieutenant than Sir Richard Cartwright, and his acquiescence in his late apportionment of portfolios is his last and crowning evidence of loyalty. To the duties of Minister of Trade and Commerce he will bring one of the strongest minds in the Parliament, a stern regard for honesty and a vast fund of experience. We look to see a radical change in the administration of this department, active efforts made to promote all legitimate home enterprises, to cultivate our foreign trade, and what will be welcomed in every town in the Dominion, a saner, more liberal treatment of the importers, who have in the past been regarded as so many enemies of society, to be dogged, humiliated and fined.

The great spending Department of Railways and Canals is placed in charge of another provincial premier, Mr. Blair, of New Brunswick, a man whose long tenure of authority in that province is proof of his executive abilities.

Mr. L. H. Davies, for years the leader in Parliament of the Maritime Liberals, and one of the strongest men in the Commons, takes the portfolio of Marine and Fisheries, a position for which he is well equipped, being especially well versed in the important questions of international import that come within the purview of this department.

Mr. Tarte is given the important portfolio of Public Works. He deserves it. He it was who found the robbers at work in this department, and at the risk of his political life exposed them to public condemnation and obliquy. He guarded the treasury from the outside. It is fitting that he should guard it from the inside, lying on his arms day and night. Mr. Tarte we have no doubt, will prove to be one of the ablest administrators in a Cabinet of transcendent ability.

The portfolio of Agriculture, ever growing in importance, is assigned to Mr. Sydney Fisher, who has, at Knowlton, in the Eastern Townships, one of the model farms of the province of Quebec. Mr. Fisher is a farmer, and will bring to his duties an enthusiasm for the betterment of agriculture, a clear conception of the needs of the agricultural community, and a mind cultured by travel and study. We look to see the department of Agriculture, under him, become vastly more useful than it was while under the control of a brewer and a physician.

Mr. Mulock will make a capable administrator of the post office. He is zealous and talented, and his good work for the party fully entitles him to the portfolio.

Of Mr. Paterson, Sir Henry Joly, Dr. Borden, Mr. Fitzpatrick and Senator Scott, it is unnecessary to say more than that they are men of highest integrity, of fine administrative abilities, and thoroughly well known, with the exception of Mr. Fitzpatrick, to the people of Ontario.

The Cabinet is well balanced. The talk of French preponderance vanishes in the face of the actual facts, which show that the French-Canadian Roman Catholics possess but two representatives—the Premier and Mr. Tarte. The Cabinet is overwhelmingly English and Protestant, its only Roman Catholic members, we think, being Messrs. Laurier, Tarte, Scott and Fitzpatrick. From such a Cabinet, inspired by such ideals of statesmanship, by such appreciation of the duties and functions of government, as we know to animate the Premier and many of his colleagues, there is every reason to expect such an administration of the country's affairs as will be economical and at the same time progressive; patriotic, yet friendly towards other peoples; honest, courageous and loyal to Canada's highest interests from first to last.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THERE seems to be a general journalistic demand that the Laurier administration should institute a searching inquiry into the charges of corruption and malfeasance brought against the administration of several of the departments of the public service under the late Government.

GLOUCHESTER, New Brunswick, presents what the Mail and Empire calls "an incident without a parallel in history"—a Conservative resigning his seat in favour of a Liberal minister—Mr. Blanchard, the Opposition member elect for Gloucester, giving up his seat to Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals. There is every probability that Mr. Laurier's Parliamentary majority, now ample for the needs of honest government, will be increased as the days go by.

Toronto Globe: "The Mackenzie Government passed a law putting the management of elections into the hands of public officers who are under permanent obligation to give honest service to the community. This law was repealed by the Conservative Government and the public officers were replaced by partisans of the Administration. From that day to this the election machinery has been framed to do party service and the guarantees for honest election steadily weakened.

THE Toronto World, Conservative, says:—"It is only fitting for the World to admit that Mr. Laurier's Cabinet has met with general approval all over the country. In spite of its weak points, as referred to in the World yesterday, the new Cabinet is one of undoubted strength. The fact that it contains the ex-premiers of three provinces, Ontario among them, with the possibility of being still further reinforced by the Premier of Manitoba, has imparted considerable prestige and inspired general confidence in the ability and representative character of the new Liberal Ministry. There is no good reason why the new ministers should be opposed when seeking re-election. We believe most of them will be, and we think all of them ought to be returned by acclamation."

GRATITUDE FULLY EXPRESSED.

A Sufferer Says:—"Your Paine's Celery Compound has given me a new Lease of Life; without it I would have Died."

With a heart full of true gratitude, Mr. Albert Turner, of Litchfield, N. S., tells how his life was saved by Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. Turner's letter is one of the kind that should give every dyspeptic and debilitated sufferer hope and courage. This letter confirms the oft repeated statement that Paine's Celery Compound makes people well.

Mr. Turner says:

"I am truly thankful for the grand results I have obtained from the use of your Paine's Celery Compound.

"I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion and general debility for a long time, and have used many medicines, but none have done the good that your Paine's Celery Compound has accomplished. It has given me a new lease of life; indeed, without it, I would have died. I will always heartily recommend your wonderful medicine."

A New Pipe

FITTED WITH

HERR PFLUNGER'S CARTRIDGES

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
MORRELL MACKENZIE.

A WOMAN'S MESSAGE.

CONVEYING WORDS OF HOPE TO THE AFFLICTED.

Had Suffered from Heart Trouble and Liver Complaint, which Wrecked Her Nervous System—Is Now as Well as Ever.

From the Carleton Place Herald.

Truth, it is said, is sometimes stranger than fiction, and in no way has this phrase been better exemplified than in the plain, unvarnished statement of Mrs. W. H. Edwards, of Carleton Place, to a reporter of the Herald a few weeks ago. Mrs. Edwards is well known in this town, having lived her for nearly twenty-five years. The story she related we will give in her own words. She said: "In July of 1894 I was taken ill with fever, caused by blood poisoning, and laid hovering between life and death for eight weeks. After the doctor succeeded in breaking up the fever, my heart began to trouble me; jaundice and liver complaint also set in. I could not sleep and my nerves were terribly unstrung. During my illness, after the fever left me, I was attended by no less than three doctors, but their medicines seemed of no avail, as I lay for months in a terribly emaciated condition and never expected to be around again. This state of affairs lasted until about Christmas, when a friend suggested to me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My husband procured a few boxes and I then began their use, although with but little confidence in them. By the time I had used three boxes I began to get an appetite. This encouraged me to persevere in the use of the pills, and I still continued to improve. I began to sleep well, my heart ceased to bother me and my nervous system, which had received such a fierce shock was again fully restored. My liver trouble also disappeared, in fact I became almost a new creature. I now feel as well as I ever did in my life. I have used in all eight boxes, and still continue to take an occasional pill if I feel any way depressed. Yes, she said, I am thankful to think that I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because I believe no other medicine could have effected such a cure in me and have so effectually built me up. I am perfectly willing that this simple statement of mine should be published, and hope some poor suffering creature may see it and be restored to health as I was."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, thus reaching the root of disease and driving it out of the system, curing when other medicines fail. Most of the ills afflicting mankind are due to an impoverished condition of the blood, or weak or shattered nerves, and for all these Pink Pills are a specific which speedily restores the sufferer to health. These pills are never sold in any form except in the company's boxes, the wrapper round which bears the full name of "Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People." All others are counterfeits, and should always be refused. Get the genuine and be made well.

SALT KILLS HIM.

A Rome, N.Y., Farmer Discovers That the Army Worm Can't Live on Salt —His Experiments.

Rome, N.Y., July 17.—A Rome farmer discovered to-day that the army worm is killed when it comes in contact with salt. To confine the worms where they are operating he is putting a wind row of salt around the field; or, to protect a growing crop that is not infested, he will run a line of salt around that. From experiments he made, in which several worms were killed, he is confident that when the worms undertake to crawl over the row of salt enough of the salt will adhere to the worms to destroy them. The result of the experiment will be given to the public.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills:
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Signed, GEO. N. GRAHAM.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

HON. G. W. ROSS WON.

Mrs. Wright of London arose from the audience and tearfully asked if the discussion could not be brought to an end at once. It had done more harm by its dagger thrusts to the cause of temperance than all the sledge-hammer blows of its enemies. They had descended far below the plane which Christians should take.

Rev. B. B. Keefer spoke strongly against the name of Mr. Ross going upon the Executive Committee.

Hon. G. W. Ross was received amidst loud cheering. He said the proceedings reminded him of the all-night discussions in the House years ago when each member tried to give the other a black eye. He asked if he looked like a guilty culprit. He explained that he went to Wentworth not to oppose Mr. Buchanan but to elect Mr. Dickenson, who, as a Liberal, supported the Government, and was pledged to temperance; and if he could get Dickenson into the House it would be so much in favor of the temperance cause. He thought the narrowness of temperance people should be condemned. If they did not take temperance support where they could get it, the temperance party would go to the wall. If Mr. Dickenson was not a total abstainer, that was Mr. Dickenson's lookout. The question simply was, should not a man be put in Parliament who is pledged to support the Liberal party and prohibition? By electing Mr. Buchanan they would only have elected a prohibitionist whose vote would not count any more in the House than Mr. Dickenson's. It had always to be remembered that the Government was friendly to the temperance cause.

When the Alliance, continued Mr. Ross, would put a man in the field whom it was necessary in the interests of the temperance cause to support, Mr. Ross would then vote for him, but it was not the case that Mr. Buchanan had been put in the field by the Alliance. He had simply been moved and seconded by two or three persons who were friendly-disposed toward him and he was no more a temperance candidate as far as the Alliance was concerned than the man in the moon.

Mr. Ross continued that this was all his offending, as far as South Wentworth was concerned. He had broken no faith with the Alliance or with any of its declarations. As to Hamilton, he did not know how Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Watkins were put in the field by any temperance organization.

Mr. Buchanan: "By the Prohibition Association of Hamilton."

Mr. Ross replied that he did not know that association. It was not affiliated with the Alliance, and he declined to be responsible for the Toms, Dicks and Harrys put in the field by organizations with which he had no connection. Where there was a regular prohibition candidate he would vote for him. What great offence had been committed anyway? Had he sacrificed anything that prohibition could wish for or could gain? He had not. By the election of the gentleman he had gone to speak for, prohibition was two votes nearer than before. They were magnifying a molehill into a mountain. They might read him out of the Alliance, but they could not read him out of the temperance party of Canada.

The discussion over the amendment went on for over two hours, and a vote was then taken. Four hundred and one votes were polled, and of these 92 favored the amendment and 309 against it. The original motion, placing Mr. Ross on the list of vice-presidents, was then put and adopted unanimously.

The report of the Committee on Local Option was adopted. Its concluding clause was: "While standing firmly by the position that we will not be satisfied with anything short of total prohibition of the liquor traffic and earnestly urging persistent effort toward that end, we recommend our friends to take action wherever practicable to secure the enactment and enforcement of prohibition bylaws under the legislation that has just been sustained by the Imperial Privy Council."

A resolution favoring enfranchisement of women was introduced and supported by Mrs. Cathers, Miss Lillian M. Phelps and Mrs. Murdoch. Several gentlemen also spoke strongly in favor of the resolution, which was passed.

The report of the Committee on Political Action and Legislation was adopted. It recommended the formation of prohibition clubs or societies, and also the union of all church and temperance societies, in order to prepare for the prospective campaign.

Further recommendations were that organization be attended to, and that friends throughout the country look after the Voters' Lists.

Continuing, the report recommended the appointment of a deputation to wait upon the Ontario Government to urge the following amendments to the Liquor License Act:

1. That all revenue from the licenses belongs exclusively to the Provincial Government.

2. That not more than two tavern licenses be granted to the first thousand of population of any incorporated village, town or city, and not more than one tavern license for each additional 1500 of population.

3. That the law as to Sunday closing remain as at present, but that on all days bars open not earlier than 7 a.m. and close not later than 7 p.m., excepting Saturday, when the closing hour shall be 4 p.m.

4. A petition from two-thirds of the electors residing in any polling subdivision, where it is proposed to locate a tavern, shall be necessary to secure a license for any new premises, said petition, with names and addresses, to be published at the expense of the applicant, at least twice in two of the local papers, three weeks before the first meeting of the Board of License Commissioners.

5. That a majority petition from the electors residing in any polling subdivision in which a tavern is situated shall absolutely prevent the renewal of any license in any year.

6. That the present provisions for allowing the existence of saloons in towns and cities be abolished.

7. That no liquor shop or tavern in towns or cities shall be located within 300 yards of a church or public school.

8. That no license shall be granted to any person to sell liquor in a public park or on racecourses, or within 300 yards of any part of the same.

9. That provision be made where, by an infraction of the Liquor License Act, any person may proceed at his discretion either against the license holder or against his bondsmen; and that the names of all applicants for license, with the names of their bondsmen, be published by the License Inspector in the local paper two weeks before the first meeting of the board.

10. That each conviction during the year, and the number of convictions made since the license holder first received his license, shall be recorded upon the face of the license; and that a third conviction of any description under the Liquor License Act shall, without further process, thereby cancel the license, and no license to said party shall be issued within a period of two years.

11. That any license issued by the commissioners in non-compliance with the law, shall, on complaint and proof of any person, be cancelled by the County Judge.

12. That in view of the great evils arising, especially to young men, from the sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors in clubs, the provisions of section 53 of the License Act should be made applicable to clubs and societies incorporated otherwise than under the Benevolent Societies Act; and any such clubs as may now have the right to sell or distribute liquor should at least be brought under the restrictions of the License Act.

13. That the power of sale conferred under the act shall be exclusively restricted to that portion of the licensed premises known as the barroom.

14. That the law providing for the closing of bars on election days and on Saturday night and Sundays be so amended as to include all statutory and civic holidays.

15. Recommending the Local Legislature to expunge the clause in the Act which gives discretionary powers to magistrates to alter a charge of second or third offence preferred against an offender.

16. That no more shop licenses be granted, and that if they cannot be abolished they be reduced to the lowest possible limit.

17. That it be made unlawful for the License Inspector to return the applications for a tavern license to the applicant after being deposited in the Inspector's office.

18. That all nominees for license commissioners or inspectors shall, before final appointment, be published in the local papers of their riding, and that time be given for objections to their appointment to be considered.

19. That the age limit for minors in the License Act be raised so that instead of 16 years being the limit as now, the Act, sec. 76, be amended to read, "to any person of either sex under the age of 21 years."

All of the foregoing clauses were adopted, and Mr. Spence rose to move an adjournment, when the chairman's attention was called to a communication lying on the table. This is it:

"Whereas, the undersigned find themselves out of harmony with the construction that this convention has placed on the platform of the Dominion Alliance, as formulated in the city of Montreal in the year 1894; and, looking upon this interpretation as a matter of large importance, they therefore hereby resign from the Ontario Alliance Executive. (Signed) William Kettlewell, W. W. Buchanan, George H. Lees, George Wrigley."

The communication was referred to the Executive Committee on a motion by Mr. Spence, after Mr. Buchanan had entered a protest against his name being published among the Executive Committee and other delegats had expressed their opinion. The convention then adjourned.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturer of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They knew where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

Wilkinson's "Stanley."

Who has not heard of or worn this favourite English hat, of which we are the sole handlers here. The "Stanley" is made of the very purest fur felt. They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowded the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for..... $1.00

Maud Miller on a summer day,
Raked the meadows sweet with hay,
Now Maud might rake the world in vain
To find Straw Hats so low again.

English Wool Fedoras.

Our "Special" line of Fedoras, that hatters would scorn to take less than $1.50 and $2, we sell you for 75c. Its a wonderfully fine hat for the price and have been going with awhirl at $1.50 up till now. But we have other lines of our Wool Fedoras which no one else can match in value, because they start at..... .25

Boy's Caps.

As much style in our Boy's and Youth's stock as in our Men's—Knockabouts, School Caps, Tweed Caps, Bicycle Caps. We dump in a dozen lines that would ordinary go like hot cakes, at 25c to 50c, for..... .10 .15 .20 .25

Men's Boating Caps,

Bicycle Caps, Tennis Caps, with the prices all cut it two to clear them out. Money does not come so easy to every man nowadays that he should pay the hatters of fancy prices. Nothing newer than than what we have in stock. Starting price..... .35

Men's and Boy's Straws.

In addition to the wagon loads Straw Hats we had on hand, we secured a snapping bargain in 2 cases of American Straws the other day from a large New York house. We can sell a $1 split-straw, fine braided, fine trimmed and silk banded Straw for 60c. We have Straws for all ages—the 49c line, soft or stiff brim, with black and coloured bands, are great value at.. 30

These are only a few of the HALF-PRICE offerings, but you can take them as a fair criterion for all the other prices during our Slashing July Sale. You know, or should know, that we are always getting the best possible goods at the LOWEST prices—and that's the sort of refreshing ozone that refreshes all kinds of pocket books. Come in and blow yourself. Whether you are taking a holiday or not, remember WE ARE GIVING THE PROFITS ON HATS A HOLIDAY.

Our next Slashing Sale will be in Boy's Clothing, but if you or the boys need a Hat just now, you might get the bargains in Clothing, now, too, as well as in the Hats.

Shakspeare Said of Reputation:

"Reputation is an idle and false imposition, oft got without merit, and lost without deserving."

This is no doubt true in regard to the reputation which certain articles or persons obtain, by chance or by some means other than actual merit, but reputation for anything is no imposition, when it has been proven that it has been honestly obtained as a result of merit.

The Mason & Risch PIANO

for example, won a reputation during the first year of its manufacture, and that this reputation was no "imposition" has been proven by the fact that the instruments not only had merit, but their reputation as a result has been ever on the increase.

Howry & Sons' Alleged Difficulties.

A despatch from Saginaw, Mich., to the Globe says: "News has been received here of the filing of chattel mortgages by J. W. Howry & Sons, lumbermen, of this city, but whose offices and operations are at Fenelon Falls. The main mortgage is for $49,000 and is given to the Bank of Toronto, covering all their Canadian interests. Two mortgages for $18,000 on real estate in this city and county are given to H. K. Howry and S. L. Wiggins, receivers for G. B. Howry. It is said that another mortgage is prepared, covering a New Mexico ranch, to secure creditors. The disaster was probably precipitated by a $200,000 loss by fire some weeks ago, in which all the insurance money went to the Canadian bank."

People's Coal Company.

The following is a copy of a letter received by Mr. Oke in answer to an enquiry about the People's Coal Company's coal:—

Messrs. J. B. Oke & Co.

DEAR SIR,—Your post card of the 13th received and noted. In answer would say that we have been using the People's coal for the last two years and like it very much. We buy from them about 150 tons in one season. We do not use that much ourselves, but our men use it, so that we order about 150 tons, and give them instructions how to deliver it.

Your truly,
E. LEADLEY & Co.

Mr. Leadley is vice-president of the Dominion Bank and one of the foremost and most successful business men in Toronto. Prices, $5.50 per ton. Terms cash. No dust; no gas; no offmakers.

THE SEWER DOESN'T RUN UP HILL.

A Test Can be Made Now at Any Time—The Narrow Span of the George Street Bridge.

Contractor Grant was down from Toronto yesterday to observe how his men were getting on in putting the finishing touches to his contract on No. 3 section of the sewer, which included the placing of the big pipe which is to carry the sewage under the creek at the George street bridge.

All winter the pipe hung in slings directly beneath the bridge and yesterday it was lowered to its proper position in order that the beds to which it is to be bolted and which are to project from the abutments may be adjusted.

On going beneath the bridge a glance is sufficient to show that the crack in the north abutment, which caused so much comment last year, is of no moment whatever, though the matter of the falling away of the abutment at the eastern extremity of the north side is of more serious import. On probing around with an iron rod a hole is found at the base of the abutment at this point which is fully eight feet deep. At a distance of about a hundred yards out in the lake a sand bar has newly risen into sight and this explains the bridge catastrophe. The span is too narrow and the force of the water dashing through during the spring floods has, it is asserted, washed out the gravel from beneath the end of the abutment. The objections to the small span, which were taken in the Council last year, are thus shown to be well founded and the policy of the so-called economists in erecting a bridge with a span smaller than that recommended by the town engineer, for the reason that a few dollars were saved thereby, cannot but be severely criticised.

Since the adjustment of the pipe beneath the bridge the fallacy is shown of the statement that the sewer ran uphill. The flow of the water through the sewer can be observed just below the bridge, where the work is being finished off, and the steady flow of the water is ample evidence that the sewer is built in a manner to do all that is required of it.

THE POLICE COURT.

A Big Batch of Cases Before His Worship the Mayor.

The Mayor was on the bench this morning and had a lot of business to dispose of in the Police Court.

S. W. Shibley charged John W. Burley with using grossly insulting language towards him. The offender was fined $5 and $3.50 costs.

Martin Connors was charged with allowing gambling on his premises. The case was enlarged until Tuesday. It is stated that dominoes were being played for the drinks at the Hub.

John Goheen was charged with pilfering a bottle of pop from Frank Anthony. The case is enlarged until Tuesday.

William Kearns and Wesley Allen, two small boys, are in durance vile on the grave charge of highway robbery. It is alleged that a lad named Moher was sent by his mother to a grocery to make some purchases and was given twenty-five cents. The two lads, it is said, stopped Moher and took the quarter from him, appropriating it to their own use.

NOT THE MAN.

John McClurey was not Mixed up in the Smith's Falls Murder.

It will be remembered that amongst the tramps who were arrested at Burnham's Point the other day was a lad named John McClurey, who was minus one eye, and in other ways corresponded with the description of a youth who was wanted as a witness in connection with the Smith's Falls murder case.

The boy, on being cross-questioned by the chief as to where he had come from, stated that for the last two month's he had been working for a hotelkeeper in Milton. As the murder was committed within this time an alibi would be established clearing the lad if his tale was true.

This morning the chief received a communication from Milton, stating that the statement of the boy was correct, and that whilst employed in the hotel he had been a faithful worker.

SWAYNE IN THE CENTRAL.

The Man who is said to have Stolen Charlie Cavanagh's Clothes.

Last January the Chief of Police wrote to the Toronto Police Department asking for the arrest and detention of Albert Swayne on a charge of larceny.

Swayne, it will be remembered, was boarding at Mr. T. Cavanagh's, and got up early one morning, stating that he was going to begin work at the Canadian General Electric Works. After he had gone a suit of clothes and a pair of boots belonging to Charlie Cavanagh were missed. Swayne never came back.

This morning the Chief got word from Chief Grasset of Toronto that Swayne had been arrested and committed to the Central Prison for six months on a charge of stealing a bicycle.

A Good Story

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended using the razor upon painful corns, A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite well, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

AN OLD PETERBOROUGH BOY MARRIES.

Mr. Herb Kent, Formerly of Town, Joins the Benedicts.

Mr. H. W. Kent's scores of friends in town will be interested in reading the following account of his wedding, taken from the Vancouver News-Advertiser:

"At about half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Mr. H. W. Kent, manager of the New Westminster and Burrard Inlet Telephone Company, was married by Rev. E. D. McLaren, to Miss Florence Emily Findley, of Charlestown, P. E. I., and sister to Messrs. F. S. and H. W. Findley, of this city. The bride, who was for a time a resident at San Diego, Cal., is well-known and popular in Vancouver, not only by reason of her attractive personality, but as well for her rare talent as an elocutionists, her exceptional gifts in this direction being greatly appreciated by all who have enjoyed the privilege of hearing her recite. Mr. Kent, too, is well and favourably known in the city, and also throughout the several portions of the province that are included within the limits covered by his company's telephone system. Coming here after a wide telephone experience acquired in eastern cities, his services were availed of to establish the Vancouver and Westminster telephone systems, and more recently to extend this modern convenience to various portions of the lower country lying between Chilliwack and the Straits of Georgia. In the upper country, too, at Vernon and in the more populous portions of the Kootenay, Mr. Kent inaugurated the existing telephone system.

Apart from his official position Mr. Kent's association with the gun and boating clubs, in both of which he has taken a deep interest, brought him into friendly relationship with many of his fellow citizens. Under these circumstances, then, of both bride and groom having many friends, it is not surprising that notwithstanding the early hour fixed for the ceremony there were numerous interested spectators in the church to witness the marriage.

The church was very prettily decorated, conspicuous among the greenery and flowers being numbers of beautiful roses. The wedding was characterized by one or two unusual features, these being, first, that there was neither bridesmaid nor groomsman, and next that the groom's wedding gift to the bride was a marriage token in the shape of a costly diamond and ruby ring, which he placed on her finger with the wedding ring during the ceremony.

"The bride looked charming, her natural attractions, both of face and figure, being set off to greater advantage by an elegant travelling costume of fawn-colored broadcloth, trimmed with variegated braid, and a very pretty straw hat also of a fawn shade—trimmed with black feathers and pink roses. Her jewellery included a handsome locket set in diamonds, and necklace, these being a family heirloom, given to the bride by the groom's mother, and a valuable diamond bracelet, the gift of a nautical friend.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Frank S. Findley. At the close of the ceremony a wedding march was played on the organ by Mr. G. Griffith, organist of St. Andrew's. Upon leaving the church the bride and bridegroom were freely pelted with rice, and had old shoes thrown at them. They drove direct to the railway station, where a large crowd of friends attended to see them off by the Whatcom express, more wedding attentions being paid to them as the train moved off.

"Mr. and Mrs. Kent purposed going through to Tacoma yesterday, and spending their honeymoon in the cities of the Sound. Upon their return to Vancouver they will reside at the corner of Melville and Butte streets.

The bride was the gratified recipient of a large number of beautiful presents, these being given by the operators of the Vancouver Telephone office, the construction staff of the local service, the Vancouver Gun Club (of which Mr. Kent was one of the originators), the Burrard Inlet Rowing Club, Mr. Kent being the captain and a very active member, the bachelors of the Wigwam, and many private friends, including those of both Mr. and Mrs. Kent, resident in the city and other parts of the Dominion."

BROKE THE RECORD.

The Rifle Team Makes a Great Score at the Ranges.

There was some good shooting done at the rifle ranges on Thursday. Only eight men were present, but they managed to pile up a total of 691—just 35 points more than the Canadian Kolapore team of eight men made that won the cup at Bisley yesterday. Wind and weather, of course, have much to do with good shooting. Mr. T. J. Ritchie's score of 98 is a record breaker, being the highest score ever made on these ranges, and seldom beaten, even at Bisley. The following are the individual scores:

	200 yds.	500 yds.	600 yds.	T'tl.
T J Ritchie	30	34	34	98
F Bartlett	33	30	27	90

The Port Hope Guide says,—Miss Agnes Wells, Durham street, has gone to Peterborough to wile away part of her summer vacation.

Mr. Ed. Fitzgerald of Selwyn, received the sad intelligence on Tuesday last that his son Gerald, who lives in Manitoba, was dead. His many friends will sympathize with him in his sad loss.

In its beautiful Saturday supplement, the Globe prints a group picture of the graduates of the University of Toronto for 1870. Among the members of the group the well known face of Mr. E. B. Edwards appears.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendant of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

SUDDENLY DISAPPEARED.

Mrs. D. Caddigan, of Ennismore, Cannot be Found.

Inquiries are being set on foot to ascertain the whereabouts of Mrs. Daniel Caddigan, of Ennismore, who has suddenly disappeared and of whom no trace can be found.

Mrs. Caddigan left her home on Tuesday, July 14th, to come into town with some butter and eggs and since that time no tidings of her can be learned.

The missing woman is the mother of six children and with her husband has lived contentedly during her married life at the homestead, lot 3, 8th concession of Ennismore. No evidences were ever given of her brain being in any way effected and the family is a most respectable one. The entire details of the disappearance seem to be shrouded in an impenetrable mystery, and the husband's untiring exertions during the past week have not unearthed a single clue.

Despairing of finding his companion without more assistance Mr. Caddigan came in and told his story to the police to-day, and the latter will endeavour to unravel the mystery.

Foul play is strongly suspected, as if it had been possible in any way to communicate her whereabouts, Mrs Caddigan would not have remained silent so long, especially as she is the mother of a large family.

At the time of her disappearance the missing woman wore a heavy black cloth dress, trimmed with white braid and with two or three white straps over her shoulders, English straw hat with white flower in front. She was about 40 years of age, of medium size, dark complexion, large eyes and high forehead. Any information as to Mrs. Caddigan's movements in town will be thankfully received at the American House.

Rev. A. C. Reeves, of Lakefield, was at Bobcaygeon on Tuesday and moderated a call to the Rev. J. T. Hall, from the congregations of Bobcaygeon and Dunsford. The call was exceedingly hearty and unanimous, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Hall, who is a this year's graduate of Knox College, may see his way clear to accept it.

Irondale & Bancroft Railway.

Government Engineer Robert McCallum has returned from an inspection of the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway. He saw the road is now complete for some forty-five miles, as far as Baptiste lake in the township of Herschel, Hastings, and but eight miles remain to be laid before Bancroft is reached, where several mills are working and valuable water power is located.—Port Hope Guide.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends o wheat and under our personal supervision. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER, Millers.

From the World's Fair.

After waiting for three years, the medals and diplomas awarded at the World's Fair have been distributed in Canada. Those who received them in Lakefield were Mr. F. B. Kline, of the Lakefield cheese factory, Mr. Thos. Gordon, canoe builder, and the Strickland Canoe Co. The medal is a large brose one, bearing the winner's name, and the date and place of the Exposition, and is enclosed in a handsome aluminum case. The diplomas are beautifully engraved and printed on parchment paper.

A Glorious Age in Which we Live!

We ought, more frequently, to cast our thoughts upon the marvellous achivements of the age in which we live. In the department of medicine alone there has been an advance all along the line, securing to mankind ever increasing exemption from pain and suffering.

Perhaps the discovery most important to that large class of sufferers known under the general designation of "Nervous"—those people all run-down in nerve and muscular force—is embodied in the preparation known to doctors as Maltine with Coca Wine.

A builder-up of nerve and muscular tissue is this—as of buoyancy and nerve—not, indeed, by a fitful galvanizing that speedily exhausts itself, leaving the last condition even more deplorable than the first. No! Maltine with Coca Wine gives the needed impetus to the flagging power of body and mind; strengthens the digestive organs; improves the assimilative functions and sustains the vital forces until by the improved conditions it brings about, the equilibrium of functions is restored and health renewed. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

PUBLIC LIBRARY ALTERATIONS

The Interior is Being Changed About to a Considerable Extent.

There are a number of changes that are taking place in the Public Library and which it is calculated will greatly improve the lighting and ventilation of the different rooms.

The ladies' reading room, the hall leading to it and the two small library rooms directly in the rear are being opened out into one large room, which will be utilized for the books.

The gentlemen's reading room will be given to the ladies and the larger or main library room will be turned over to the gentlemen.

A HUGE FISH.

Some Monsters which are being Caught in the Back Lakes.

Mr. F. H. Stevens of Buffalo, who has been with his wife at Mrs. Allen's, "The South Beach House," took the largest maskinonge that has been taken so far this year from Clear lake.

This fish weighed 18 pounds and measured 43 inches in lenghth. Mr. Stevens caught it on a rod weighing only eight ounces, using an automatic reel. He was 30 minutes in playing him before he could be taken into the boat, and when gaffed by the guide had still plenty of fight left.

Mr. Stevens had also an experience with a bass very unusual. The bass while being played with about 20 feet of line swam under the boat and jumped into the boat from the opposite side.

Three young ladies from Toronto are reported to have landed a 'lunge weighing 19½ lbs. in Stony lake. They caught and landed the fish without assistance, and killed it with a small penknife.

MILLBROOK'S BIG DAY.

Great interest is being taken in the Millbrook summer races which take place on Friday, July 24th, and there will likely be a great number in town on that day to witness the big events. What is likely to prove one of the most exciting races ever run over an Ontario track will take place here on that date between the celebrated blood stallions Tyrone and Rampart II. Tyrone is the property of T. H. Hassard, Veterinary Surgeon, Millbrook, who purchased him from the breeder, Mr. P. Lorillard, Rancocus Stock Farm, Johnstown, N. Y. He has started in more than one hundred races on the best American race tracks. His record speaks for itself, Rampart II is the imported Irish thoroughbred that Mr. J. L. Patterson purchased from T. McMahon, of Brae House, Castle Blaney, Ireland, in October 1893. He did his racing in France and his record can be seen by referring to the "French racing calendar." Owing to the popularity of the two horses and the large demand for their services, the proprietors have arranged the race themselves and as it is for a lage sum of money, it will certainly be a race for blood. The two horses are reputed by prominent horsemen to be as fine specimens of horseflesh as stand in Canada at the present time.

In order to make the day more interesting for those who attend, the committee in charge of the track have arranged the following programme:—Open trot—purse $100, open to trotters and pacers—mile heats, best 3 in 5—moneys divided 60, 25 and 15 per cent. Five per cent. of purse must accompany nominations, and an additional five per cent. of purse required from all winners of each or any division thereof.

Bicycle Races—Team race—three men—nine miles. Open to Millbrook, Port Hope, Cobourg, Peterborough, Lindsay, Campbellford, Norwood and Hastings. Purse $15, divided 10 and 5. Open race—purse $10, to be awarded to the winner of the race.

The race track has been newly built and is second to none in Ontario of its size. Some of the best horses in this district doing work on the turf this season are expected to take part in the open trot and a good race is looked for. The arrangements are in charge of a good committee, of which Mr. Ira Nattrass is chairman and Mr. Geo. H. Small, secretary.

THE WHEEL.

The list of races and prizes for the coming bicycle meet in Kingston are:—One mile novice, one mile open; one mile, 2.30 class; two-mile club race, for Herald trophy; two-mile Gendron race, trophy put up by Gendron agents; half-mile, open; two-mile lap race; two-mile race for district championship, prize gold medal valued at $25; one mile professional race, purses $20 and $10; three-mile professional, purses $25 and $15.

Here is the definition of a "scorcher" according to a Brooklyn policeman. "The scorcher," said he, "is never older than 25 and seldom younger than 18. We have him under arrest about six times a week. He is the straight-haired, thin-jawed, wild-eyed idiot, with his back humped like a mad tom cat's tail, who tears down the path with no regard for the safety of others. He is nearly always long in the legs and thin. Somehow or other your fat man is not much on scorching. When he is very young we hope he will outlive the habit, but when he is 25 we have no pity for him."

The cry that the bicycle trade is injuring other branches of business has become so general throughout the country that an impartial review of the situation cannot fail to be refreshing at this period. The sufferers from the popularity of the pneumatic-tired vehicle are alleged to be the dealers in dry goods, fine shoes, millinery, jewellery, pianos, and even wearing apparel. The theatre managers also complain against the bicycle. The latter may have some ground for their argument, but the others enter very little into the merit of the statement. President Coleman, of the Western Wheel Works, says, in refutation of the cry against cycling, that a number of things should be considered before reaching a conclusion in the matter. "To begin with," said he, "you should reckon that the larger part of the money expended for bicycles is kept in almost constant circulation, going to remunerate the mechanics and middlemen who are the vital forces of the industry. These people have to pay for their clothes, their food, shoes and what not, just the same as other folks, and a large part of the money which you or the next person pay for a wheel eventually passes through their hands to the merchant. There is really no hook on which can be hung that hard luck tale of the dealers in general merchandise. The season has been notably dull in branches of trade that could not possibly be affected by the bicycle business. On the other hand, I am informed that the bicycle is held responsible for a thirty per cent. growth in the suburban real estate business, and some clothing men with whom I have conversed bless the silent steed for a steadier all-the-year trade than they have ever known before. Verily, this cry against the bicycle is all bosh."

THE TURF.

Among the season's trotters, Pat L., 2.10½, is the fastest stallion: Kentucky Union, 2.09¼, the fastest mare, and Cephas, 2.12, the fastest gelding. With the pacers John R. Gentry, 2.03¼, holds the honour for stallions, Lelah W., 2.08½, for mares, and Robert J., 2.05, for geldings.

ECZEMA CURE SWORN TO.

Mrs. Ann Richards, 28 Aikman avenue, Hamilton, Ont., had Eczema so badly that she was unable to do any work or sleep with any comfort. Medical attendance failed to cure her. Her system was run down and she gradually grew worse until Ryckman's "Kootenay Cure" entirely drove the disease out of her and she is now completely cured of Eczema and is strong and healthy. She makes a sworn statement to the above facts before John Harrison, Notary Public, July 3rd, 1896.

THE ONTARIO CABINET.

By the retirement of Sir Oliver Mowat from the Ontario Cabinet, Hon. Mr. Hardy becomes Premier and Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. Gibson, late Provincial Secretary, takes Mr. Hardy's old portfolio, that of Crown Lands, and Mr. W. D. Balfour, late Speaker, succeeds to Mr. Gibson's portfolio. Mr. E. J. Davis, of East York, is taken into the Cabinet as a Minister without portfolio. The other Ministers of the Cabinet retain their old positions.

What a great quantity of work a "good housekeeper" finds to do! There are so many little time-and-strength-taking chores that have no names. And it must all be done whether the housekeeper feels like it or not. This is true of men's work too, but men's manual labor is never so complicated as housekeeping. In some way or other "the world's work must be done." This iron-clad rule is harder on women than it is on men. A man can't be as sick as a woman.

As a man's organization is simpler and stronger, it follows that his ailments are less complicated. He is not subject to the changes and changes, physiologically, that come to the average woman.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world than the one who is well and busy all day long "making home" for dear ones who depend upon her. But how different when every breath is pain, every step torture! This state of health, in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examination." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Excepting in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures gradually, safely, permanently. Here is one testimonial out of thousands:

"I was ill four years with 'female weakness.' I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I do my house work now without pain or faintness." Yours truly,

(Mrs.) Lilla M. Fox

THE FAVOURITE THREE.

Known All Over Canada—Everybody has words of Praise for the Three Great South American Remedies—Absolute Specifics for Kidney, Rheumatic and Nervous Troubles — They Relieve in a Few Hours.

THE KIDNEYS.—Distressing kidney and bladder disease are relieved in six hours by South American Kidney Cure. This remedy is a great surprise and delight on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. It will cure Bright's disease and diabetes after all pills and powders have failed; as it, being a liquid and solvent, dissolves the sand like particles which always appear in the blood of persons troubled with these disorders. A dry powder or pill cannot possibly do this, as neither is a solvent. Use South American Kidney Cure if you would live and enjoy health.

RHEUMATISM.—"For the last year," writes William Marshall of Vardon, Ont., a resident of that district for forty years, "I was confined almost entirely to my bed with rheumatism. Nothing gave me relief and I had dually given up hope when South American Rheumatic Cure was recommended to me. The first dose gave me instant relief, and I was out of my bed the following day. I have used three bottles, and I must say that I am completely cured, as I suffer no pain whatever now."

THE STOMACH AND NERVES.—Mrs. Capt. Hackley of Owen Sound, was one on whom la grippe had left its mark. She seemed never to have completely recovered from an attack and nervous prostration took hold of the system. All the doctoring had only a temporary effect. She tried South American Nervine, and says the first bottle gave her hope, and continuing its use, in a short time she completly regained her strength. Use South American Nervine if you seem to be wearing out. It will rebuild the life forces with surprising rapidity.

RICHARDSON IS SAFE.

The Liberal Candidate Gained Eleven Votes in the Re-count in Lisgar.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, July 6.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then, when the medicine was less known.

SERIOUS FIGHTING.

Militia at Cleveland Used Their Bayonets.

COLD STEEL WAS DRIVEN HOME

The Trouble Occurred When Non-Union Men Were Going Off Duty—Police and Soldiery Kept in Readiness—An Officer Battered Into Insensibility.

Cleveland, July 17.—The fiercest fight since the strike of the Brown hoisting workers began occurred this evening. The militia kept the crowd back while the non-union men were taken from the shops, but the mob increased until it numbered many thousands, and extended over a territory of 15 squares. Jeers, stones and clubs drew a charge from the police and militia. Many on both sides were wounded. Just how many strikers were hurt is uncertain, but two men who were so severely stabbed with bayonets that they could not get away are lying at the St. Clair Hospital. They are Thomas McGreavy and Thomas Garety.

All day there were frequent clashes between the mob at the Brown hoisting works, the police and militia. The members of the mob were in a vicious mood, and whenever a lone soldier or policeman could be reached violence was used. The troops from 2 o'clock were constantly under arms and had great difficulty in clearing the streets. two charges being necessary, in which the bayonets were frequently used. But as soon as a charge was ended the mob, which early in the afternoon numbered 500, would fall back against the line of steel like a wave of the sea, and again begin to hoot and throw stones.

When the workmen had been taken away and the troops were returning to their quarters at the works, another vengeful rally was made upon Co. B. Again a charge was made and cold steel was driven home, so that many of the rioters had to be helped away. At this time some one sent in a general alarm to the police station and every patrol wagon was soon dashing through the streets, causing the wildest rumors among the thousands on their way home from work. There was no need of the police reinforcements and the crowd which had been swelled to 15,000 began to melt away.

It looked as if the trouble was ended, but at 7 o'clock an assault was made on a soldier, who was passing along Wilson-avenue. He fought desperately, as did also a policeman who hurried to his aid. A squad of troops came to their rescue, but not before the officer had been beaten into insensibility. Again the patrol wagons rushed to the scene and had all they could do to force a passage through the angry mob. Everything now is in readiness to repel an outbreak, which is expected during the night.

TIED A STONE AROUND HIS NECK

After Rowing Half a Mile From Shore and Jumped Into the Sea.

Halifax, July 17.—Starr White, a married fisherman, living at Upper Prospect, took a rope and a large stone, went half a mile from the shore in his boat, tied the stone to his neck and jumped into the sea. His body was found on the bottom with his feet pointing upward.

THE MARKETS.

Flour—Trade is quiet, with prices steady. Straight rollers are quoted at $3.10 to $3.20, Toronto freights.

Bran—Demand limited, with cars quoted at $8 to $8.50 west, and shorts $9.25 to $9.50.

Barley—Trade dull, there being no demand. No. 2 is quoted at 30c to 31c and No. 3 extra at 29c.

Oats—The market is firmer, with offerings fair. White quoted at 18c to 18½c outside, and mixed at 17½c west.

Peas—The market is quiet and prices are unchanged, with sales at 45c north and west.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet, with a sale at 32c on Midland.

Oatmeal—Business quiet, with prices nominal at $2.50 to $2.60 on track.

Corn—The market is dull and prices unchanged. Yellow quoted outside at 27c, and mixed at 26c.

Rye—A car sold here at 47c.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

SPAIN FEELS SORE

Because British War Materials are Being Sold to Cuban Insurgents.

London, July 17.—The Spanish Government is showing great sensitiveness at reports that English houses are secretly supplying the revolting Cubans with war materials. The Spanish Embassy, having learned that several shipments have already been made from Birmingham, Liverpool and London to Cuba via Hamburg and Bridgeau, and that further orders, given through Cuban agents in Paris and Hamburg, are now being fulfilled, has addressed an earnest protest to Lord Salisbury.

The Only Safe Infant Diet for the Hot Weather is Lactated Food.

Days of sweltering heat often make a burden for a large portion of our adult population. How about the infants who are weak, sickly, cross and irritable? They will certainly die off in thousands unless they are rescued and saved by Lactated Food, the only summer diet suitable for weak, digestive organs and delicate stomachs. This life-saving food is relished by young babies when milk and other dangerous foods cannot be tolerated. In ninety nine cases out of every hundred, Lactated Food saves babies' lives.

To make your business pay, good health is a prime factor. To secure good health, the blood should be kept pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When the vital fluid is impure and sluggish, there can be neither health, strength nor ambition.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life,' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels. Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George Street.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

TWENTY MEN DROWNED.

Another Appalling Disaster at Cleveland -- Ferry Boat Upset in the River.

Cleveland, July 16.—A most appalling disaster occurrred htre to-night at 8 o'clock. While a flat-bottomed ferry boat, loaded with between 40 and 50 laborers, was crossing the old river channel, it was capsized and all the men thrown into the channel, and between 15 and 20 drowned. The boat was very much overcrowded. Seven bodies have been taken from the water up to 10 p.m.

The men were all members of a gang of ore handlers, and were going to their homes. The life-saving crew was summoned, and within a short time seven of the unfortunates were brought to shore and taken to the Morgue for identification. Those who escaped scattered in every direction, and it is uncertain just how many lives were lost, but 20 men are reported missing, and the dragging of the channel is still in progress.

The crowding of the boat was due to the fact that the ore gangs pay just so much per trip on the ferry, and the more that get on the less cost to the passengers. The men were all Germans and Poles, and their families cannot speak English.

By 11 o'clock to-night 14 bodies have been recovered and taken to the various Morgues.

Among those who were rescued were Richard Masten, engineer of the new steamer Sir Henry Bessemer; William Benlow, a fireman; Charles Sproake, William Saunders, August Hasten, Michael Lynch, Fritz Bortels, Chris. Gerlach, — Prokup, Charles Bohermeister, Julius Erkhe, Chris. Gehren, Charles Kraus, Edward Ryan and two unknown men.

WHO KNOWS JOSEPH TIGHE?

A Man Said to be a Former Torontonian in Jail at Halifax, N.S.

Halifax, July 16.—The city police have received information from the Montreal police, together with a photo, which they think beyond a doubt identifies McBurney, arrested here for flim-flamming, as Joseph Tight, alias McBride, alias Jimmy McShane, and also known as Jimmie Joe. Jimmie Joe lives most of the time in Montreal and Toronto, is about 30 years of age, and has served five years for burglary.

THE IDEAL KITCHEN.

What Should Be Had to Give Satisfaction in This Department.

She is the wise housekeeper who appreciates the fact that the kitchen is the most important feature in the domestic menage. That more thought should be given to its furnishings than to any other part of the house. The health, comfort and happiness of a household depend largely upon kitchen conditions. It is a mistake to imagine that because humbler duties are performed therein that the demands of this room can be easily slighted. Economy may be practiced with greater impunity in any other room than in the kitchen. Everything there should be the best that the household purse can provide, and there should be no hesitancy in purchasing those things which add to the convenience of the room and tend to spare labor on the part of the genius who presides there.

If a woman does her own housekeeping she would do well to forego many little luxuries rather than attempt to perform her kitchen work with inadequate tools. If a maid does the work the mistress will always receive better service and enjoy happier domestic relations if she spares no possible effort to supply her helper with all that is necessary.

The most important feature of the kitchen is its range. A defective machine of this kind can cause more unhappiness than a scolding wife or a husband who has the club habit.

If one has the range built into the house herself the brick set range—so called because they are set into the chimney—are best.

The portable range is excellent. It is like the old-fashioned cooking stove, but has attached all the modern appliances. They have two grates, so that either coal or wood can be used. All these ranges can have the pipes of a boiler connected with them, and the larger ones have a sort of reservoir attached to use when the water supply does not fill the boiler.

Every kitchen should have at least two tables—a large one for general use and a small one, covered with zinc, which might hold hot dishes. If this small table is placed on rollers so as to be moved about at will, it will greatly add to its convenience. If the larger table is marble topped it will be excellent for pastry-making.

Writers on domestic subjects are fond of giving lists of utensils that new housekeepers are told that they must have. In many cases the lists are formidably long enough to scare a woman entirely out of the idea of kitchen furnishing. The best plan is for each housekeeper to start with the few pots and pans which her common sense will tel her are indispensible, and to add to the list piece by piece, according to the demand of the necessities of her daily work.

There is never any economy in buying cheap material; let her bear that in mind. This is specially so of kitchen knives. These should always be of wrought steel, and every housekeeper should have in her store a regular cook's knive, used by professional chefs. Wherever she can, let her use agate ware. It costs twice as much, it is true; but it is twice as durable as tin, and is delightfully light in weight and very easy to clean.

The kitchen cupboard in its appearance is a test of the neatness and efficiency of the cook. On its upper shelves are the kitchen china, which must be plain and durable, and the different jars and boxes which hold such things as coffee, tea, salt, etc.

In the closets underneath the pots and pans are generally kept, and the "dresser" which divides the upper and lower sections, is arranged according to the taste or convenience of the individual.

No kitchen should be without a rocking chair or a small lounge. A rest to the weary back of just one second at a time means a great deal to the woman whose duties require that she be on her feet from early rising until bed time. A thoughtful mistress will always supply this article. There need be no fear of abuse of privilege, for a good maid knows the value of time, and an inefficient one will not wait for an easy chair to help her shirk work.

It is well, too, to build up a small kitchen library. Literature that bears upon domestic subjects, authorities in cooking, and that priceless book of family recipes handed down from mother to daughter should be arranged on a neat set of plain shelves. Everything should be done to elevate the tone of the service given.

DEADLY HEART DISEASE.

CURED BY DR. AGNEW'S GREAT HEART REMEDY—MANY LIVES SAVED.

The Secret of Success of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

Were it not that Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will give relief within thirty minutes after the first dose has been taken we would not read of so many lives being saved by this remedy. William Cherry, of Owen Sound, Ont., says:—"I was greatly troubled with weakness of the heart and fainting spells for two years, and oft-times was unfitted for my work. Naturally much anxiety was felt by myself and friends, for no treatment seemed to do me any good. I was influenced, however, to try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and found it as proclaimed—a 'speedy cure.' I have now taken five bottles and it has brought back to my heart the proper action, and made me strong and well."

Catarrh—One secret of success in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is that it is easy and pleasant to use. As W. H. Bennett, Conservative member in the last House of Commons, said, "taken in the morning it clears the head of any cold or catarrhal trouble that is manifest." But not alone deals with the minor cases of catarrh, but even where deafness and some of the worst forms of disease have become manifest these have become eradicated by this remedy. To the names of Mr. Geo. E. Casey, Hon. David Mills, Hugo H. Ross might be added scores of other members of the late Parliament, who, over their own signatures, have borne testimony to the value of the remedy.

THE ARMY WORM PEST.

Devastation in Many States—The Loss to the Farmers Will Foot Up Into Millions.

Washington, July 16.—Reports to the Agricultural Department indicate great ravages by the army worm in all states from Maine to Wisconsin. The pests have been particularly destructive in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. There is no doubt that the losses will foot up into the millions. A report from Dover, N.H., says millions of the worms struck a farm in Dover Neck yesterday, and in a few hours destroyed several acres of grain and corn.

Mamie's Husband on Deck.

Washington, July 16.—Gen. J. S. Coxey's late lieutenant, Carl Browne, who married Coxey's daughter, "Mamie," the representative of the "Goddess of Liberty" in the Coxey labor parade in Washington on the 4th of July last year, will head the Populist delegation from the District of Columbia to the St. Louis Populist Convention.

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! This state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examination." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

conditions

In some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is rapid. For this reason we put up a 50c. size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children.

In other conditions gain must be slow, sometimes almost imperceptible, health can't be built up in a day. For this Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment, food rather than medicine, food prepared for tired and weak digestions.

A THREE RINGED CIRCUS.

There's lots of cheapness stalking about in this plate glass city, and the three ringed circus houses seem to be all mixed up in a grand circus poster effort to grab a few coppers. There is such a seething vortex of competition and conglomeration of various stocks that it's a wonder we don't get lost.

Every store in the town sells cheaper Clothing, Boots and Shoes, etc., than we do—because we're not in it. We've been twenty years doing the high grade Hat trade of this district. We've made a specialty of one line, giving our whole attention to it—made it a hobby to get the right goods as to quality and style—thereby have seemed to hold the top position—don't get the idea that because we believe in quality that we are high priced. Our 25c Fedora Hats have quality as well as our $2.00 ones. When you expect to get $3.00 for $1.75, lookout—you may get an eye for an eye—especially in Hats—for instance the "Celebrated New York Enfield" Hat does not sell for $3.00 or $1.75 but $1.50 with us.

—Boy's Tweed Caps start at 5c to 25c.
—Men's Dress Straw Hats 25c.
—A special lot of Men's Fine Dress Hats to clear for 50 and 75c.
—Boy's Straw Hats 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c.
—All our light-weight and light-coloured Stiff and Soft Hats to clear ⅓ off regular price.

Mr. Balfour's Foundations of Belief (Concluded).

The preceding articles upon the subject of Mr. Balfour's great book, a work which has been compared by a distinguished divine to Butler's Analogy, have supplied the reader with an idea of the brilliancy and cogency of Mr. Balfour's polemic against, what he calls, Naturalism. This is indeed the best part of the book. Naturalism is, speaking roughly, the latest form of Materialism, the doctrine that this world sufficiently explains itself, without the necessity of faith in God. Amongst a certain class of readers it is often supposed that materialists are very brilliant persons, and that it is only people who are behind the times or who are professional theologians, who adhere to the beliefs of a former age. Such a book as "The Foundations of Belief," written by a layman, admittedly one of the most brilliant philosophical students of Europe, and a probable Prime Minister of the Imperial Parliament of England, shows the contemptible character of such a notion.

Mr. Balfour has no difficulty in showing the illogical character of Naturalism, which professing to give solid proofs for all its positions, ignominiously fails in every department of knowledge. Even a hostile critic admits that Mr. Balfour has hewn naturalism asunder and riddled it to shreds, and overthrown it and trampled on it, and if he has not slain it outright, the one reason is that its professors are not open to philosophic convictions.

When we turn from Mr. Balfour's criticism of his opponents to his own exposition of the "Foundations of Belief," we find that the following are the salient points:

1. An eulogy of authority is a ground of belief. Throughout all the centuries there has been a sharp controversy between the adherents of authority and those of reason and during the present century whilst the principle of authority has shown no little vitality it must be admitted that the star of reason has been in the ascendant. Mr. Balfour takes up the cause of authority. He points out that for nine-nine per cent. of our actions the faith on which they rest is the product of authority, not of reason. "We must not forget," says Mr. Balfour, "that it is authority rather than reason to which in the main we owe, not religion only, but ethics and politics; that it is authority which supplies us with essential elements in the premises of science, that it is authority rather than reason which lays deep the foundations of social life; that it is authority rather than reason which cements its superstructure." The man, then, who admits that he accepts the Creed of Christendom, because his father held it before him, or upon the authority of his church has a more solid "foundation of belief" than has sometimes been supposed.

2. Mr. Balfour again brings forward, buttressing it with new arguments, the honoured argument from causation. The ordered system of phenomena by which we are surrounded requires a cause. Our knowledge of that system is inexplicable, unless we assume for it a rational author. This hypothesis, viz., the existence of God, seems to him as necessary as the theory of gravitation.

* * *

3. Mr. Balfour has a very strong sense of the greatness of human needs. The need of authority, the need of guidance, the need of forgiveness, the need of God, the study of human experience as revealed in history and literature demonstrates the reality, the depth and the permanence of the needs of the human spirit. Few could listen to Mendelssohn's beautiful expression of those needs in the "Elijah," where the agonizing cry, "O, that I knew where I might find him," is followed by the triumphant and yet appealing prophetic response, "If with all your hearts ye truly seek Me, ye shall ever surely find Me,' "thus saith our God," without feeling that they were listening to the great cry of Humanity, and the steadfast response of all inspired men.

* * *

It does not come within the sphere of Mr. Balfour's work to treat of the peculiar doctrines of Christianity, but incidentally he touches upon Inspiration, adopting what would be called the liberal view of that vexed question, the Atonement, the mystery of evil and other topics. But he is most interesting and most helpful in his remarks intended to show the necessity and reasonableness of the doctrine of the Incarnation. "In the world, looked at in the light of simple theism, the evidences of God's material power lie about us on every side, daily added to by science, universal, overwhelming. The evidences of His moral interest have to be anxiously extracted grain by grain, through the speculative analysis of our moral nature. Mankind, however, are not given to speculative analysis, and if it be desirable that they should be enabled to obtain an imaginative grasp of this great truth; if they need to have brought home to them that, in the sight of God, the stability of the heavens is of less importance than the moral growth of a human spirit, I know not how this end could be more completely attained than by the Christian doctrine of the Incarnation."

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Political Matters Have Quieted Down—The Fast Atlantic Contract—General News.

Ottawa, July 17.—(Special.)—Matters political have quieted down at the Capital. There was a short meeting of Council this afternoon, but only five Ministers were present—the Premier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Scott, Mr. Davies and Mr. Tarte. The meeting was over early, as Mr. Davies was to leave for Prince Edward Island, whither he has gone to bring up his family to Ottawa, while Sir Richard Cartwright left for Caledonia Springs to recuperate after the fatiguing work of the past week or s-

There was great rejoicing in official circles to-day. Under the Governor-General's warrant, all clerks on departmental pay-rolls received their monthly salary cheques, which were only two days behind the time.

Two thousand stand of the new magazine rifle have been received at the militia stores from England. It is probable that an extra series match with the new weapon will be included in the D.R.A. program in order that its capabilities may be thoroughly tested by trained shots of the country.

Trade returns for the fiscal year just closed show that our exports are the largest in our history with the exception of one year.

Messrs. H. A. Allan of the Allan Line and John Torrance of the Dominion Line were here to-day in connection with the fast Atlantic steamship service, which is now under consideration of a sub-committee of the Cabinet. Both gentlemen had interviews with Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright. Under the present contract the Allans divide the mail subsidy and service with the Dominion Line, but it is not known yet whether under the proposed contract for the fast service a similar arrangement will be made.

The First Minister was shown a despatch this morning stating he proposed visiting the Old Country this fall, and answered that he had to make a statement, which was that he knew simply nothing of this matter and had been himself first informed of it when he saw it in print.

The United States Government has appointed as counsel in the Behring Sea claims case Mr. Lansing of Watertown, N.Y., son-in-law, by the way, of the late Secretary Foster. The Dominion Government has not yet named its counsel.

Dr. Ells of the Geological Survey arrived home to day from a trip up the Mississippi River, along which stream he was taking a series of observations. On the trip down the river Dr. Ells was upset out of his canoe by the craft coming in contact with a sunken log. The contents of the canoe were all recovered. To-morrow Dr. Ells will leave for the Coulonge River district to continue observations.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

A Bicycle to be Fast Must Be Easy Running.

McLEOD McINTOSH

The Red Bird is the Fastest Wheel in Canada.

ALL THE CHAMPIONS

In the professional ranks, at the C. W. A. Meet, won their Laurels on a Red Bird. Last year, with only one exception, every champion in the Class B ranks rode to victory on a Red Bird. There may be an excuse for a bicycle's occasional victory, but the only reason that can be assigned for repeated victories is superiority in its running qualities. A bicycle to be swift must be easy running; to win it must better built than other wheels. We claim that the Red Bird is the most carefully constructed bicycle sold in Canada to-day.

DAVIDSON

The following are the wins made at this year's C. W. A. Meet:—

HARLEY DAVIDSON, who won the professional half-mile championship, the professional five-mile championship and the professional mile open.

ANGUS McLEOD, who won the professional mile championship, third place in the professional half-mile championship, and third place in the professional five-mile championship.

WILL McINTOSH, who won second place in the professional mile open, and third place in the professional mile championship.

E. COOPER, who won the professional one-mile 2.40 class and fourth place in the professional one-mile handicap.

R. E. AXTON, who won the one-mile open amateur, in which he made the fastest competition mile made at the meet, besides winning third place in the one-mile amateur.

SALISBURY'S SPEECH.

He Desires to Test the Temper of the People

ON THE ATTITUDE TOWARD THE U.S.

The Premier's Latest Utterances on the Venezuelan Matter Caused Some Surprise—Cautious and Conciliatory in Tone—The Coming Royal Wedding.

New York, July 19.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford in his cable to The Tribune from London says: The most surprising thing in Lord Salisbury's unexpected speech of surprises is his desire to consult English public opinion on a diplomatic question. He seldom makes any concession to the democratic spirit of his own country, and is a diplomatist of the old school, who prefers the innermost dark closet to a glass house, where everyone can see what is going on. He now abruptly declares that he wishes to know the trend of public opinion, and derive guidance from it respecting the future conduct of negotiations with the United States. His attitude is so novel that every journal is instinctively on its guard, and discusses with caution and circumspection the diplomatic correspondence printed this morning. No positive opinion is expressed by any responsible journal, and the magnitude of the interests involved and the practical difficulty of solving the complex question of a permanent arbitration scheme are generally recognised. Lord Salisbury has evidently fretted under the imputation that he was not moving with sufficient rapidity in the direction of reconciling the two branches of the Anglo-Saxon family. He now justifies himself by taking the nation into his confidence and showing plainly that arbitration is not a simple sum in arithmetic to be worked out at a moment's notice. The press, speaking for the nation, frankly admits that ample time must be allowed for reflection, and that premature judgments must be avoided.

Lord Salisbury's speech was remarkable for its moderation and conciliatory tone, and this reflects the spirit with which he has conducted the negotiations since December, as is shown by the correspondence. The aggressive tone which characterized his long reply to Secretary Olney last autumn has disappeared. He no longer evinces a disposition to score points in diplomatic polemics, but appears to great advantage as a cautious statesman, and anxious to settle all questions with America in an amicable spirit, but conscious, withal, of the momentous importance of the Imperial interests involved and the inherent difficulty of arranging a permanent arbitration scheme.

A welcome change of weather has come after a week of tropical heat and humidity. The long drought which has burned the lawns and meadows throughout England has been broken by showers, and in favored localities by a steady downpour of rain. While the temperature has not been above 87 degrees, the protracted burst of heat has caused great discomfort to man and beast. Cab horses have fallen constantly in the streets and omnibus passengers have sweltered. The fall in temperature has been 30 degrees in 24 hours. The garden party at Buckingham Palace was on one of the hottest days, but was a brilliant court function, with a splendid display of costumes and uniforms. The large tent was filled with royal personages, and the Queen's watermen were constantly occupied in giving the guests boat rides. The season is drawing to an end, but some of the most brilliant lawn parties and dances have been reserved for the closing fortnight.

Nothing short of a royal wedding can bring the Queen to London. Her first visit this year will be a short one. She will arrive at Buckingham Palace on Tuesday evening, give a big dinner party to the royal family and return to Windsor early next evening, as soon as her granddaughter is married. She will stay 24 hours, remaining for the wedding breakfast, but not witnessing the departure for Appleton, where the honeymoon will be passed. There will be two wedding breakfasts at the palace; one for the immediate relatives, the other for the remaining royal guests. As the attendance of the latter from the Continent will be small, the Queen's duties as chief entertainer will not be arduous.

The real managers of the ceremony are the Lord Chamberlain, the Lord Steward and the Master of the Horse. These four officials arrange the wedding procession, order the luncheon and direct the movement of the carriages. The Prince of Wales has little to do except give away his daughter, the Princess Maud, to Prince Charles of Denmark. The preparations for the wedding have not kept him away from the Newmarket races this week, and when the royal hurly burly is over next week, he will have two days' racing at Sandown Park.

The marriage is a popular one, and seems to interest everybody, the bridegroom being a handsome sailor prince. The papers are filled with minute accounts of Princess Maud's trousseau, lists of the wedding presents and details of the approaching ceremony. Piccadilly, St. James and other streets will be gayly decorated, and the procession of state carriages from Marlborough House to Buckingham Palace will be witnessed by thousands of spectators. The wedding march will be from the bow Drawing Room along the terrace to the chapel. Only 500 invitations have been issued for the ceremony, which will be performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by two Bishops, a sub-dean and canon.

In comparison with previous royal weddings, this one will be quiet and private, with the glass-panelled state coaches as the chief attraction for the spectators in the streets. The Crown Prince and Princess of Denmark arrived at Buckingham Palace to-day, and were preceded by the Princes from Greece and other royal guests.

Hon. James Bryce's Views.

London, July 19.—The Daily News will to-morrow publish an interview with the Right Hon. James Bryce, M.P., the well-known author of "The American Commonwealth," on the subject of Anglo-American arbitration. Mr. Bryce's views on the question are optimistic. He says that the despatches exchanged by Lord Salisbury and Secretary of State Olney show that each side is sincerely desirous of an agreement that will be satisfactory to both. Lord Salisbury, he holds, is over-cautious and has raised needless difficulties. Mr. Bryce further said that he is in favor of submitting territorial disputes to the decision of an arbitration court. He approves the proposal for the appointment of a joint commission to settle the Anglo-Venezuelan boundary dispute.

WHO KNOWS MARY BEASLEY?

The Woman Caught in New York Passing Counterfeit Money Comes From This Province.

New York, July 18.—The Secret Service Agents, after something over two weeks of hard work, have succeeded in discovering the identity of the woman who was arrested in Hoboken, N. J., on July 1 last, for passing counterfeit silver dollars, and who refused to give her name, styling herself "Jane Doe." Her real name is Mrs. Mary Knapp, and she is the wife of Arthur O Knapp, who two years ago conducted the Progressive Printing establishment in Buffalo, N.Y., but who is now in business in Boston. Mrs. Knapp's maiden name was Mary Beasley, and she was born in Ontario, Canada, 33 years ago. She was married to Knapp on May 22, 1893, in All Saints' Church, Dunalo, by the rector, Rev. M. Cleveland Hyde. About two years ago she was attended for a nervous disease by an alleged specialist, who called himself Dr. H. Clark, his office being on East Genesee street, Buffalo. He cured her, and when, on June 22, 1895, his supposed wife died, Mrs. Knapp became his housekeeper, having, for some cause not clearly known, left her husband.

In December, 1895, the "doctor" and Mrs. Knapp went to Chicago, taking up their residence in a furnished room house on one of the main streets, under the name of Dr G. H. Hall and wife. There they were joined by another man, who claimed to be Dr. Hall's brother. Between Jan. 1 and the latter part of March, 1896, these three, as has been since learned, manufactured something like $2000 in counterfeit silver dollars. They passed many of them in the west and worked their way east, arriving in Troy, N.Y., last month. It was not until they reached Hoboken that any mishap befell them, Mrs. Knapp's arrest on July 1 being followed by the arrest of Dr. "Hall," who was living under the name of A. Jackson in this city last week. While Secret Service Agent Bagg, with his assistants, was working on the case, following the woman's arrest, he from time to time sent reports of his progress to William P Hazen, chief of the secret service at Washington. Chief Hazen caused the records of the department to be carefully searched, and it was discovered that "Dr. Clark," alias "Dr Hall," is really George Sands, and that the other man is his brother William. They belong to a family of counterfeiters, living in Kansas City. George Sands has served terms for counterfeiting. He was, previous to his present capture, last arrested in Kansas City, on July 31, 1895, and was tried for and convicted of counterfeiting.

Mrs. Knapp is now in the Hoboken County Jail, awaiting transfer to Trenton before she is to be tried on the charge of having passed spurious coins, and George Sands is in the Essex County, N.J., Jail, where he is under $15,000 bail, awaiting examination on July 30 next.

It was true the information sent to him by Chief Hazen that Agent Bagg was enabled to trace Sands in this city and confirm the discovery there of his identity. Sands is the man who accompanied Mrs. Knapp in Hoboken, and who has completely baffled the police.

KILLED ON THE TROLLEY.

Contractor Prestien of Hespeler Fell Between the Motor and the Trailer and Was Horribly Mangled.

Hespeler, July 18.—A fatal accident happened on the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Electric Railway, between this place and Preston, at about 8 this evening, by which a prominent citizen of this village lost his life. The victim, Mr. August Prestien, contractor and builder, was returning by trolley from Galt, and while in the act of stepping from the motor to the trailer in some way lost his footing and fell between the cars, which were running at a good rate of speed. The wheels passed over him, almost severing both legs and mutilating the body fearfully. He lingered for nearly an hour before death relieved him of his sufferings. The body was taken back to Preston, where an undertaker took charge of the remains, after which they were brought to his home here. An inquest will be held.

Mr. Prestien was a young man, highly respected, and besides being a prominent business man had served the public as municipal councillor. He was Past Master of the A.O.U.W., who will conduct the funeral. A widow and four children mourn his untimely end.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE

Mrs. Letitia Youmans Passes Over to the Majority

AFTER A LONG PERIOD OF ILLNESS

Death Came to Her Relief on Saturday—Sketch of the Life of the Honored Canadian Lady Who Has Done Much in the Cause of Temperance.

Toronto, July 20.

Mrs. Letitia Creighton Youmans, Hon. President of the W.C.T.U., and Canada's most prominent lady temperance worker, died on Saturday, at her residence, 19 Metcalfe-street. Mrs. Youmans had almost reached the allotted span of life, having been born Jan 3, 1827, and being consequently in her 70th year.

The little village of Baltimore, some few miles north of Cobourg, in the county of Northumberland, has the honor of being her birthplace. She was of mixed parentage, her father being Irish and her mother an American of French extraction. Her father, John Creighton, was one of the early pioneers of this country. Letitia began her school life at the age of 4, being sent to an old log schoolhouse under the tuition of a Yankee schoolmaster. Here she learned those temperance principles which she had ever since advocated and signed the pledge. At great personal sacrifice her father removed her to a ladies' school opened in Cobourg by Prof. Van Norman. At the age of 20 she creditably graduated, and began teaching in her own school section. Here, as at Picton Ladies' Academy, where she afterwards taught, she strove in every way to inculcate those principles to which she devoted her long and useful life. She married in 1850 Tom Youmans, an ardent supporter in her work.

In 1874 she first became interested in concerted temperance action, assisting in the organization of the W.C.T.U. in the United States. Returning, she began her work in this country by petitioning the Picton Town Council against the issuing of shop licenses. She addressed the Council Board, but the petition was thrown out. Undismayed, she continued the work, addressing large audiences at Montreal, Cobourg, Port Hope and in Toronto, where she came to live. Here she spoke under the auspices of the Temperance Reformation Society, in churches, public halls, at the Central Prison and at the Haven. She also addressed large meetings at Cincinnati and assisted to form Unions at Hamilton, Dundas, Brantford, London and other places.

Mrs. Youmans campaigned energetically for the Dunkin Act in Port Hope, and Cobourg, and was also active in the Scott Act agitation a few years later. In 1883 she went to the Old Country as a delegate from the Canadian W.C.T.U., toured the Pacific coast in 1886, and in both places her reception was most cordial and the impressions she left very favorable.

In 1888 she was stricken with inflammatory rheumatism, and was a sufferer from that disease up till her death.

She was on intimate terms with Lady Henry Somerset and Frances Willard, and has for years been President of the W.C.T.U. of Ontario.

Referring to the deceased, Miss Willard wrote: "By her great gifts as a speaker, her remarkable energy and effective work, she did more than any other woman to make the W.C.T.U. a force in Canada. Clear and logical in her appeals, Mrs. Youmans was never so effective as on her favorite theme of 'home protection.' Her addresses, founded on the books of Esther and Nehemiah, are among the most forcible appeals ever uttered for the prohibitory law."

The remains will be taken to-day to Picton for burial on Wednesday.

To-morrow a memorial service under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. will be held in one of the churches or local halls of this city.

THE FATAL DON.

J. E. Ryan, a Popular Young Athlete, Meets Death in the Treacherous Waters.

Toronto, July 20.

J. Edward Ryan, the 19-year-old son of John J. Ryan, the Colborne-street commission merchant, was drowned in the Don near the railway bridge at 2.30 yesterday afternoon.

Ryan was an athletic young man and was a member of the Don Rowing Club. He was ambitious to become an oarsman, and when he visited the club house yesterday he donned a rowing suit and got into a single shell. He had only been in such a boat once before and he was advised not to go out without an escort. He laughingly disregarded the warnings and had not made more than about three strokes of the oars when the boat upset. He uttered a cry as he sank into the water, which at that spot is 25 feet deep.

Pat J. Woodley, 167 Ontario-street, the well-known oarsman of the Dons, was among the men at the club house who saw the boat upset. Seeing that Ryan was unable to swim, Mr. Woodley plunged in to try and save him. Frank McCurry also went in after him. Woodley reached the drowning man's side and caught hold of him, but the unfortunate young fellow struggled so fiercely that it was impossible for the would-be rescuer to keep him afloat and he sank. Woodley made heroic attempts to recover the body by diving, but the depth and dirtiness of the water rendered his efforts fruitless.

After a search of three-quarters of an hour the body was recovered by William Lone. Efforts at resuscitation were made, but Ryan had evidently been past human aid for some time.

The police had been notified and on the finding of the body the ambulance was summoned.

Deceased was taken to his father's house, 178 Duchess-street. No one there had heard of the sad occurrence until the body was brought home.

Ryan was a popular youth in the neighborhood in which he resided. He was a good bicyclist and a member of the Athenæum Club. He assisted his father in the fruit business. The remains will probably be interred in the family plot at Thornhill on Tuesday next.

SIXTEEN OF SILVER TO ONE OF GOLD.

Several of our subscribers have asked for an explanation of the phrase "sixteen to one," which is so often heard in connection with the currency agitation in the United States. Perhaps no better statement of the meaning of the phrase is current than that given not long since by the Philadelphia Ledger, thus:

"It means in practice that sixteen ounces of silver should be held as worth as much as one ounce of gold. One ounce of gold, American coin standard of fineness—that is, 900 parts of pure gold to 100 of alloy—will coin in gold dollars $18.60 Sixteen oz. of silver, American coin standard of fineness—that is 900 parts of pure silver to 100 of alloy, at the rate of 412½ grains to the dollar (the weight of the present standard silver dollar) will coin $18.60 in silver dollars. These sixteen ounces of silver can be bought in the markets of the world to day for $9.94. There would therefore be a profit of $8.66 on an investment of $9.94, being about 87 per cent., if a holder of silver could take it to the mint and coin it without charge into silver dollars. The advocates of free coinage favour a law that will allow any holder of silver bullion—or in fact silver of any kind (as the latter can be readily melted into bars)—to have the right to take the same to any mint of the United States and convert it into silver coin free of charge. It is easy to see that if this were done it would not be long, with free coinage, before the country would be flooded with silver coins, and the very large profits to the owners of silver mines would quickly induce them to start to work mines at present idle, to the immense advantage of the mine owners."

Sixty years ago, or thereabout, explains the Monetary Times, the ratio of 16 to 1 was established in the United States, it having previously been made by law 15 to 1, meaning that an ounce of gold, whether coined or uncoined, was worth as much as fifteen ounces of silver. The reason of the passing of the Act of 1834 was that when large deposits of silver were found in Mexico, early in the present century, the market was affected. It was found that gold as coin would exchange for fifteen times its weight in silver; while as bullion it would exchange for sixteen times its weight. Gold was more valuable in lumps or bars as bullion than as coin, and there was an advantage in turning the coin into bullion. Thus gold went out of circulation and silver became practically the only money in use. To remedy this, Congress passed a new coinage act in 1834, establishing the ratio of 16 to 1 for the coinage of silver. But now another condition supervened. Silver, as compared with gold, became more valuable as bullion than as coin, and disappeared from general use, just as the gold had done previously. At the current market rate a dollar in silver was by weight worth $1.04 in gold. Even the fractional coins, the dimes and the quarter-dollars, went to the melting pot for the sake of the four cents on the dollar profit the process gave. Therefore, Congress concluded that coinage enactments could not alter economic laws, and so gave up trying to keep the ratio of the two metals fixed. They accepted gold as the standard money of the country — this is the very much abused "British" mono-metallic standard —and reduced the weight of silver coins less than a dollar, so that no rise in price of silver would tempt any one to turn them into bullion. The American civil war drove both gold and silver out of common circulation, and specie payments were not resumed in the United States until 1879. In the year 1873, however, what silver men call a "crime" was resorted to. The nation adopted the gold standard, putting silver in an inferior place. The price for silver in London, the regulating market of the world, had ranged for years about 60 pence an ounce; in 1876 it fell to 46 pence an ounce; it is now 31½ pence an ounce. In other words, the market value ratio of silver as a metal as compared with gold has fallen from about 16 to 1 to nearly 32 to 1. To put it in another way, as another writer has recently stated it, whereas in 1834 it required $1.04 of gold coin to buy the weight of silver that is put into a dollar on the 15 to 1 ratio, to-day for one dollar in gold, enough silver can be bought to make very nearly two silver dollars. The effect of the adoption of such a law as the silver men ask would be as certain as anything can be. Gold would go out of circulation completely. Silver would become the one money in use, and in commercial transactions with foreign countries the United States dollar would be calculated as worth fifty cents. It is to save the United States from the evils such a law would imply that advocates of a gold standard are fighting.

THE Ottawa Free Press says: "The Peterborough EXAMINER deserves praise for services rendered the Liberal party during the past election."

THE ladies' favourites in the new Dominion Cabinet are Mr. Fielding, the financier, and Mr. Fisher, the farmer. They are, perhaps, the handsomest, as far as looks go, and the feminine preference for Mr. Fielding may be further explained by starting that he has charge of the cash.

TELEGRAMS from Fall River are to the effect that more than 1,400,000 spindles are now pledged to shut down for four weeks, either consecutively or alternately, during July and August, and it is now considered probable that every plain cotton goods and print cloth factory here will enter the agreement to curtail production by a suspension of operations.

W. W. BUCHANAN, of the Templar, the organ of the Prohibitionists, but in reality the organ of those temperance men who desire to use the organization in the interests of the Conservative party, has resigned from the executive of the Ontario Alliance because he could not run the organization to suit his own purposes and defeat Hon. G. W. Ross, who has been one of the most consistent prohibitionists in the province. The organization will doubtless go on just the same, but so long as Editor Buchanan has charge of the Templar, Liberal temperance men may not look for much fairness in weekly criticisms of public men.

INSURANCE against non-employment is an accomplished fact in Cologne. Workingmen who have resided two years in that city and are over eighteen years old can join the society. The dues are six cents per week. If no employment can be procured for a member during the dull season, 50 cents per day is paid to him if married, 25 cents if single. The city has started a guaranty fund for the society with $6,000, to which $14,500 have been added by subscriptions among employers. The society hopes to roll enough members to meet all liabilities likely to occur. This is another indication of the remarkable extent to which the co-operation of workingmen and employers is spreading in Europe, and of the widening functions of municipalities.

IN comment on the Mail's absurd cry of French domination in connection with Mr. Laurier as Premier, the Ottawa Journal, Conservative Independent, says: In the new Liberal government of Canada under a French Catholic Premier, there is in proportion to the size of the cabinet a smaller French and a smaller Catholic representation than in any previous government since Confederation, thirty years ago, and a representation far less than the Catholic people of the Dominion are entitled to in proportion to their numbers. He would be a fool or worse who would say it to condemn the cry that has been raised of French-Canadian domination. The Catholics of Canada are two millions in five—two souls out of every five among us—and they hold now three cabinet portfolios out of fourteen in Laurier's gift. Such is the outcome of this "Quebec victory;" such is the disposition made by a French-Canadian Premier; such is the self-suppression of the province which out of 65 representatives sent 49 to support the Liberal party on June 23rd. Surely this is one of the most remarkable instances on record of the truth of that old story of Esop's which Laurier used in one of his speeches in in Parliament that sunshine will conquer a man quicker than storm. In the sunshine of Laurier's victory there is hardly a growl from French Canada at a situation which if threatened by an enemy would stir the province to fury.

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! This state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examinaton." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

THE OLD FIEND JEALOUSY

Causes James French to Shoot His Wife to Death and Then to Attempt Suicide.

Rockford, Ill., July 19.—James French, a tailor, met his wife on the street in a fashionable part of the city this afternoon and fired eight shots into her body, killing her. Albert Barker, a prominent citizen, was shot in the wrist while grappling with French, who ran through the streets pursued by an angry mob of 300 people. He held the mob at bay on the river front, where he was captured, but after firing the contents of two revolvers without serious results he shot himself through the head and jumped into the river. French was dragged out, resuscitated and taken to the county jail, though the mob made strong threats of lynching. His wound is not fatal. Jealousy was the cause of the murder.

Demands Money, Strikes a Woman With an Iron Weapon, Stabs Her Son and Escapes.

Toronto, July 20.

Joseph Hughes, who works for the Copland Brewing Co., and his mother reside at 378 Front-street east. Saturday night Mrs. Hughes was awakened by a noise in the house. She thought it was her son; called out to him and received no answer. A few moments later she was startled to see a man standing over her, with a large iron hinge in his hand. He demanded her money, and she screamed. He struck her with the weapon. The noise awakened her son, who rushed in and tackled the would-be robber. In the scuffle Hughes was stabbed in the breast with the sharp end of the hinge. The wound is not serious, but a doctor was necessary to dress it. The dastardly intruder escaped.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of wonderful medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results derived from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness, or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialised pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation. Sold by all druggists.

HERR PFLUNGER'S CARTRIDGES

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
MORRELL MACKENZIE.

Sketches and Portraits of the New Liberal Ministers.

THEY ARE ABLE SONS OF CANADA.

Distinguished Names in the Cabinet Roster—Laurier, Mowat, Cartwright, Fielding, Joly de Lotbiniere, Davies, Paterson, Tarte, Blair, Fisher, Mulock, Scott, Geoffrion, Fitzpatrick, Borden.

The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, the second Liberal Premier of Canada, has completed the task entrusted to him by the Governor-General and has named his Cabinet. Its timber is strong, composed as it is of men distinguished for their administrative ability in public affairs. In addition to those who have had experience as members of the Mackenzie Administration, Mr. Laurier has called to his aid in guiding the ship of state no fewer than five ex-Premiers of Provinces of the Dominion. Seldom is political fame won with a Bryan-like rush, and it is satisfactory to the people of this country to knew that the members of the new Liberal Administration are, with scarcely an exception, well known to the electorates. Hence the confident tone of buoyant hope which has greeted the announcement of the personnel of the Ministry. This, too, furnished one of the potent reasons why the people are at this juncture so interested in the personality, the character and the attainments of those who are for the next five years to administer their affairs.

A review of the personnel of the Government follows:

Mr. Laurier entered public life in 1871. He was in that year elected to the Quebec Legislature for the District of Drummond and Arthabaska. He was then 30 years of age, having been born in 1841, on the 20th of November.

He entered the Federal Parliament in 1874. Upon the day that he delivered his first speech his reputation widened from provincial to Dominion importance. He addressed the House in English, and at once took a place amongst the few most eloquent English-speaking debaters. The enthusiasm which he evoked was unusual among that critical and usually ineffusive audience. He sat down amid a prolonged burst of applause, and was immediately hemmed in by a crowd of Ministers of the Crown and members hand-shaking and congratulating him. He was at once marked for a Cabinet place, and, a vacancy occurring in 1877, he was called upon to fill it. He became Minister of Inland Revenue in the Mackenzie Government. His office-holding was not for long. The following year he went over to the Opposition benches with Mackenzie, Blake, Cartwright, Mills and his other colleagues of the Liberal remnant which came back to Otawa in 1879.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT.
Minister of Justice.

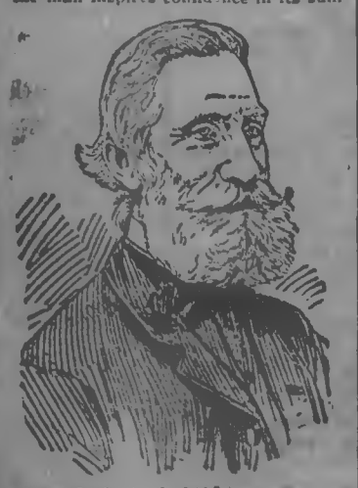
Eighteen years have passed since then—a longer time than Jacob served for Rachel—the last nine of which have been under Mr. Laurier's leadership. At last Canada has awakened to the worth of the man whom she has set in the place of Premier. His strictly official experience was embraced in the thirteen or fourteen months between September, 1877, and November, 1878, but the whole period of these eighteen years has been preparing him for the summons which Canada finally sent him on the 23rd of June. Now that he has entered upon these new and great responsibilities it is remarkable that so few people, even among his opponents, doubt his fitness or preparedness for his office. The explanation is in the fact that from whatever side you approach it the character of the man inspires confidence in its sufficiency to meet whatever test it may be put to.



HON. J. ROBERTSON.
Secretary of State.

He has fought two general elections as leader. Under the stress and noise of battle he has won the respect of his opponents. He is not viciously aggressive. He is not unwisely pugnacious. He is simply in the hour of battle what he is at all other times, a calm, strong, steadfast man, who will not be turned from his purpose while a hope of achievement remains. He fights his political battles like a man. Amidst the turmoil and excitement of an unprecedentedly bitter campaign he pursued a fair, manly, moderate course, winning ground wherever men were to be swayed by a candid, reasonable presentation of public issues. And from now onward his career will be watched with even greater interest than has been manifested in the past.

The most noteworthy man among Mr. Laurier's colleagues is the veteran Sir Oliver Mowat. In many respects Sir Oliver Mowat is Canada's most remarkable son. His record of statesmanship is second only to that of Mr. Gladstone, among living public men. Where else will you find one who has held the reins of power in a democratic State for a quarter of a century without a single break, and now left in his 76th year without a rival in the field? That is the record of the veteran who, in the cause of pure government, is crowning his life work by taking a place in the Administration which is to introduce into the Dominion sphere the principles which he has worked out so successfully in the provincial sphere. He leaves Ontario in the position of the most progressive part of Britain's colonial empire.

He began public life in the municipal field, sitting at the City Council of Toronto. Alderman Mowat was "always on top." Forty years ago he turned to politics. His first contest

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.
Minister of Trade and Commerce.

made him a member of the Parliament of the United Canadas. Before he had been a member two years he was a Minister, and up went his electoral majority on re-election. Contest followed contest, but who ever else fell out of the ranks, he remained. He took part in the framing of Confederation, and is one of the three or four fathers still living. He went upon the bench in 1864 and remained there for eight years. He returned to politics to take the Ontario Premiership. This he did in October, 1872. Six general elections have passed over his head, and he was still Premier, with every likelihood that he would be kept there as long as he should choose to remain.

Sir Richard Cartwright is an old-time figure in Canadian public life, having sat in Parliament continuously since 1863, with the exception of one year, during which time South Huron, his constituency, was gerrymandered out of existence. While member in that year for Lennox and Addington he passed over from the Conservative to the Liberal side of the House, and he has ever since given the Liberal party an unsurpassed devotion. When the Mackenzie Government took office in 1873 he became its Finance Minister, and remained until its overthrow in 1878.

HON. WM. PATERSON.
Minister of Customs.

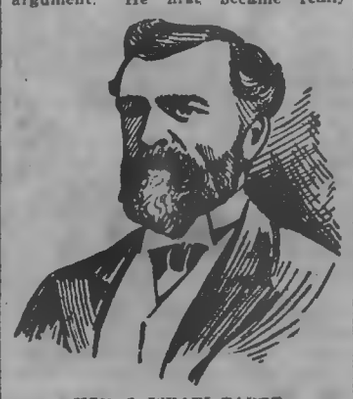
He is now in the 61st year of his age. Few other men in Canada have been at so much pains to equip themselves for public life. He is one of the very few examples in this new country of a man of means making statecraft his profession and devoting himself for 30 years entirely to politics—giving his time and means to a cause from which he cannot hope in case of success for anything more than an opportunity to serve his country.

He is one of the most notable orators whom Canada has produced. His style is a distinctive one. Parliament is the forum which suits him, and he is at home before the audience that faces him there. His language suits his strong, aggressive mentality. It might be taken as a model of strength and simplicity, polished and humorous.

Hon. William Stevens Fielding has been Premier of Nova Scotia for twelve years, and his name is now familiar to Canadians west of the Maritime Provinces as that of the man who has so long given Nova Scotia the benefits of a careful and prudent administration. But in 1884, when he was called upon to form a Ministry, few outside of Nova Scotia knew who the new Premier was, and his rise to the chief place in the political life of his native province must have seemed meteoric in its suddenness. He had been in the Assembly for but two years, having been elected in 1882 for Halifax County. He had, it is true, a very short time after his entry into the House been offered the Premiership by a convention of the Liberal party, and had declined the honor, contending himself instead with a seat in the Cabinet of the Hon. W. T. Pipes. This seat Mr. Fielding resigned in May, 1884, on the ground that he could not find time for departmental duties and the discharge of his private business. That was the political history of the new Premier of the province.

In 1882, when 34 years of age, he stood for Halifax County, and was elected by a good majority. In 1886, 1890 and 1894 he won the majority of seats in these general elections.

In debate he is remarkably telling, being quick to see and avail himself of any weak points in an opponent's argument. He first became really



HON. J. ISRAEL TARTE,
Minister of Public Works.

known to the Canadians west of the Maritime Provinces at the great Liberal convention at Ottawa in 1893; he took an exceedingly prominent part in the discussions at that great gathering, and won the highest opinions by the force and clearness of his arguments.

Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, whose name over the entire Dominion is recognized as synonymous with the highest rectitude, the purest personal honor and the most careful economy and prudence in administration, has been a conspicuous feature in the political life of Quebec for a third of a century. While a Huguenot, Sir Henri is a native of Old France, having been born in Paris on December 5, 1829; his father, it is well known, was also a native of Old France, who by marrying the heiress of the ancient seignory of Lotbiniere, acquired seignorial rights in French Canada. The future Premier of

HON. WILFRID LAURIER,
Premier and President of the Council.

Quebec received a liberal education in Paris, and while yet very young removed with his parents to Canada. He embraced the profession of the law and was called to the bar of Lower Canada in 1855. He entered political life in 1861, when he was returned to the Canadian House of Assembly for the County of Lotbiniere, with which his ancestral connection was so strong. This seat he held until Confederation; at the general election which followed that change he was elected by acclamation to both the Commons of Canada and the Assembly of Quebec. Dual representation having been abolished, he elected to remain in the Quebec Assembly, of which he was Premier from 1878 till October, 1879, when he retired. In the Dominion general election just passed he was elected in Port Neuf.

HON. R. R. DOBELL.
Minister Without Portfolio.

Hon. Richard Reid Dobell, member for Quebec West, who has been appointed a member of the Cabinet without portfolio, is an Englishman by birth, having been born in Liverpool in 1837. His father, George Dobell, was a successful tradesman in that city and highly esteemed for his integrity and independence of character. Mr. Dobell was educated at Liverpool College and came to Canada in 1857, when he was 20 years of age and settled in the City of Quebec. Ever since his arrival in this country, now nearly 40 years, Mr. Dobell has been intimately connected with the trade and prosprity of Quebec. For many years Mr. Dobell was associated in politics, but on the occasion of the by-election in Quebec West in April, 1895, he signalised his defection from that party by standing as an independent candidate against the Conservative nominee, Mr. Thomas McGreevy. This contest was very close, and Mr. Dobell, who was in England at the time, was at first reported elected by a majority of seven. The recount, however, gave a similar majority to Mr.

HON. A. G. BLAIR.
Minister of Railways and Canals.

McGreevy. At the recent election Mr. Dobell was again a candidate, and on this occasion he was successful. Mr. Dobell is a member of the Church of England. He is a son-in-law of Sir David Macpherson, having married that gentleman's eldest daughter.

Hon. Wm. Paterson entered political life when he was Mayor of Brantford and 33 years of age, by defeating in 1872 Sir Francis Hincks, the then Minister of Finance. At that time he was unknown except in a local sense, but he has grown into the knowledge of the people of the Dominion at large since then until he is now one of the best known men in the country. Mr. Paterson did not seek public honors, and has never pushed himself forward—except when hard blows were to be struck. He has always shown a deep and unselfish concern for the interests of his country. The sentiment of genuine patriotism permeates all his public utterances. He has the respect and confidence of the business interests of the country He lost his own election last month because he was giving his time in other parts of the province wherever the fight was thickest.

His ability, both upon the platform and the floor of Parliament, is of the highest order. He has a pithy, flashing style, with an earnest, honest delivery, which reaches the convictions of his hearers. A warm, sunny humor pervades many of his speeches. He has also the effective weapon of ridicule with which to dissipate an opponent's case.

In the House he is not a frequent speaker—not nearly as frequent as his friends would like. His participation in the business of the House is marked by a wide knowledge gained in the conduct of a large and successful business establishment in the city of Brantford. He is the author of that famous query, "Has the National Policy made you rich?" As a large manufacturer himself he is regarded

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills.
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Signed, GEO. N. GRAHAM.

The members of Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O. F., have just completed the arrangements for an excursion to Rochester, on August 20th, Peterborough's Civic Holiday. The trip will be taken via Port Hope and the steamer Columbian across the lake. Five hours will be consumed in making the journey and eight hours will be allowed in Rochester before the return trip. Arrangements are also being made to allow a stop over of several days.

There Will be a Protest.

The Cobourg Post says,—We are informed on good authority that the return of Mr. George Guillett would be duly protested by the Liberals of West Northumberland. It is estimated that strong evidence will be produced by which certain "heavy" workers in the late election may be shelved for the next few years. However, time will prove the correctness of this rumour. But as Mr. Laurier is anxious to secure West Northumberland, we have no doubt the protest will come.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL AND LADY ABERDEEN COMING.

Their Excellencies Will be Present at the Opening of the Fall Fair.

This morning the mayor received a communication stating the intention of the Governor General and Lady Aberdeen of being present at the opening of the Peterborough Central Exhibition. As will be seen by the appended letter their excellencies will be in town from eight o'clock in the morning until after 4 p.m.:

The Citadel, Quebec, July 10, 1896.

HIS WORSHIP, THE MAYOR, PETERBOROUGH.

DEAR SIR,—I am desired by His Excellency, the Governor-General, to say that he has now arranged the programme of his proposed tour through part of the Province of Ontario during the ensuing Autumn.

According to the arrangement that has been made, His Excellency accompanied by Her Excellency, the Countess of Aberdeen, hopes to visit your town on the 22nd September, and as he has engagements at Ottawa on the succeeding day, and at Goderich on that following the 23rd September, he will be able to remain in your town from about 8.30 o'clock until 4.25 p.m. of the same day.

His Excellency regrets extremely the shortness of his visit in your town. Owing, however, to circumstances over which he had no control, he has been compelled to confine his tour to that portion of the year during which the Autumn Agricultural Exhibitions are held, and the number of these he desires to attend leaves but a limited time at his disposal for his visits to the many interesting centre of the Province.

I am further desired to say that it will afford their Excellencies much pleasure to make the acquaintance of yourself as Chief Magistrate of the town, as well as the members of your municipal council, and of any of the representative people of the town and surrounding district who may desire to meet them.

His Excellency proposes also to visit the Agricultural Fair, which is to be held in Peterborough on the 22nd September.

I am your obedient servant,
JOHN SINCLAIR,
Governor-General's Secretary

IS THIS A CLUE?

Mrs. Caddigan was in the Habit of Crossing the River on the C. P. R. Bridge.

Great efforts are being made to trace up Mrs. Daniel Caddigan's movements after she came to town on the day of her disappearance, but nothing can be learned of her after she left her horse at the American hotel.

The family dealt with the firm of Henry Bros. and frequently disposed of their butter and eggs there, but Mrs. Caddigan was not in the store on Tuesday last, nor was she in another store upon the proprietor of which she had an order to procure goods for her sister, who lives on the next farm.

Mrs. Caddigan has relatives of the same name living in Ashburnham whom she frequently visited on coming into town. One day in the spring the daughter of the house pointed out to Mrs. Caddigan the distance which she would save by crossing the C.P.R. railroad bridge instead of the Hunter street bridge in going to the house. Since that time the missing woman has constantly used the railway bridge and it is now feared that she may have been struck by a passing train whilst in the act of crossing over the bridge.

It is understood that a search will be instituted down the river as soon as a party can be organized for the purpose. The difficulty of locating a body after a week's disappearance in a river so infested with marshes as the Otonabee, would be almost insurmountable.

DEATH OF DUNCAN McDONALD.

After a Residence in Peterborough of Fifty-four Years.

After a lingering illness, during which he suffered intensely at times, one of the oldest residents of Peterborough, in the person of Duncan McDonald, Esq., passed away on Sunday afternoon, in the 78th year of his age.

The deceased gentleman was one of the earliest settlers in Peterborough, having taken up his residence here in June, 1842, and having been a continuous resident almost ever since, and having voted at every election which took place during the past fifty-four years.

He was for many years a representative in the town council and on the Board of Education and in his capacity as a councillor and a member of the Board rendered the town good service in the early history of the corporation. In his demise the town has lost the last member of its first municipal council.

For many years the deceased carried on a very large carriage and wagon manufactory and was very successful in this line of business.

Mr. McDonald was one of the first members of the Peterborough Baptist church after its establishment in town and always took an active interest in the affairs of that church, being intimately associated with its early history. He remained a member of this denomination until the time of his demise.

In politics the deceased was a staunch Liberal, and was always anxious for the success of those principles which he believed to be for the best interests of his adopted country.

Mr. McDonald was born in Aberfeldy, Perthshire, Scotland, Sept. 1, 1818, and with his wife Janet Robertson came to Canada in June, 1842, and almost immediately came to Peterborough and took up his residence.

The deceased was left a widower just 24 years ago this month. The family consists of five daughters and three sons, viz., Mrs. J. Donnelly, Peterborough, Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Bobcaygeon; Alexander McDonald, Ashcroft, British Columbia; Wm. R. McDonald, Detroit, Mich.; Maggie McDonald, Toronto; Duncan McDonald, Winnipeg; Lizzie McDonald, Los Angles, Cal., Grace McDonald, Peterborough. The latter has resided at home and has ever been a most devoted and affectionate daughter in her care of her father.

Mr. Duncan McDonald established and maintained during his lifetime an enviable reputation for strict integrity and honourable dealing, and as the possessor of such characteristics his demise will be generally regretted throughout the community.

The funeral will take place at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the family homestead, "Sunnyside," No. 61 Argyle street.

THE SILENT MESSENGER.

STEPHEN HUPPIE.

The death of Mr. Stephen Hupple at the age of 45 years occurred at his late residence, Water street, last evening. The deceased had resided in Peterborough for the last twenty-five years and in his capacity as a carter was well and favourably known to nearly every citizen. Internal rheumatism has incapacitated him since last September and as his heart became effected he gradually declined and finally passed away at 6.30 o'clock last evening, leaving a widow and two children to mourn his death. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock under the auspices of the E. B. A. and the C. O. F., in both of which orders the deceased was a prominent member.

S. J. SKUCE.

After a lingering illness, Mr. Samuel J. Skuce, of Water street, passed away Saturday, a victim of that fell destroyer, consumption. The deceased was a retired farmer, and together with his wife and children had recently moved into town. He was 35 years of age. The funeral took place this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Richard Skuce, near Omemee to the Mt. Horeb cemetery.

PERSONAL.

Mr. J. Molyneux Brown, of "Cycling," is in town in the interests of his paper.

The Misses Lundy, who have been abroad for the past several months, have returned home.

Mrs. G. G. Gage, of Port Hope, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. N. Graham, of the Oriental.

Mr. J. Lunsbury, Colonization Road overseer for the Ontario Government, is in town to-day.

The Cobourg Post says,—Mrs. F. J. Jameson, of Peterborough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. Diamond.

Mrs. R. E. Wood and Miss Vair returned this morning from a pleasant trip to England and the Continent.

The Misses Clara and Jessie McNaughton, of Norwood, are spending their holidays with their aunt, Mrs. G. Gearmouth.

Mr. D. Burritt accidentally slipped on the steps of the verandah of his cottage at Chemong last night and severely strained his ankle.

Mr. Wm. Dale, the genial advertising agent of the great Wallace show, is in town to-day. This show has the finest advertising car on the road.

Rev. Mr. Parsons, wife and family, of Toronto, arrived in town this morning, and left by the noon train for Lakefield, en route to the back lakes for their summer outing.

Mr. Fred Skitch of the Canadian Express office, is spending his vacation with his father, Mr. Wm. Skitch, Lindsay. He hopes to enjoy a camp at Stony Lake before returning to his duties.

Miss Lizzie Waddell, of Port Hope, who has been spending the past two weeks at Stony Lake, the guest of Mrs. D. Breeze, spent Sunday in town on her way home, having had a pleasant time.

Mr. A. Sherin, of Butler, South Dakota, County Judge of Marshall county, and editor of the Marshall Sentinel, is in town for a visit, the guest of his father, Mr. Henry Sherin, sr., town. He returns west on Saturday. His part of Uncle Sam's domain is solid for silver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner and daughter returned from a trip to Old England yesterday. The return journey was made on the Dominion Line steamer Labrador, which was delayed 24 hours in the ice just off the coast. The weather was bitterly cold on account of the great number of ice bergs which encompassed the vessel. Otherwise the trip was a most enjoyable one.

Mr. W. J. Drope left town to-day to take up his residence permanently in Grimsby, where, as previously stated, he will establish a boarding school for boys. Mr. Drope leaves town followed by the good wishes of all classes of citizens. Previous to his departure he was the recipient of handsome gifts from his pupils, the teachers on the Collegiate Institute staff and the Masons.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., editor of the Peterborough EXAMINER, passed through town this morning on his way home from a trip through Galway township, where he has been inspecting the condition of the leading roads. Mr. Stratton gives his personal attention to the wants of even the most remote sections of his riding, and it is but little wonder his majority grows each time he offers himself for re-election.

DIED.

McDONALD—At "Sunnyside," Peterborough, on Sunday, July 19th, 1896, Duncan McDonald, Esq., aged 78 years.

The funeral will leave the family residence, 61 Argyle street, on Tuesday at 3 p.m.

HUPPIE—At Peterborough, on Sunday, July 19th, 1896, Stephen Huppie, aged 47 years.

Funeral on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, from the family residence, 749 Water street.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

Items of Interest from the Otonabee and Rice Lake.

The Thursday and Saturday half holiday trips down the river are becoming most popular.

The steamer North Star left port with the Edison boys and their friends Saturday afternoon for Jubilee Point. Music was supplied for dancing and all aboard had a most delightful outing, returning home at 10 p.m., after spending two hours at the Point in fishing, sailing and other sports, such as baseball, quoits, etc. Many good catches were made and their outing was a most enjoyable one, all being highly delighted with their day's pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wesley are camped at Jubilee Point and are having a glorious time of it. They report having immense luck from the front of their tent in bass fishing. Fred says, in fact, he catches more than he can consume. Miss Ida Wesley is at present staying with them.

Commodore H. Calcutt's cottage at Jubilee Point is rapidly nearing completion, and will be in readiness for occupation by Aug. 1st. Other lots have been picked out by the sporting fraternity of Rochester, N. Y., and it is expected that others will follow, making Jubilee the sportsman's paradise.

The Point is becoming a favourite rendesvous for pleasure seekers, there being five picnics held there last week from the front—Port Hope, Cobourg and other lakeport towns.

A LINDSAY BOY POISONED.

The Three-year-old Son of Mr. William Fegan Drinks Laudanum from a Bottle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fegan, who reside in Lindsay, have been in great trouble since last night in consequence of their three-year-old son having obtained possession of a bottle containing laudanum, which had been about the house for some time and had been almost forgotten. Shortly after the parents retired they heard the little fellow groaning in bed in another room and on going in too see what was the matter the boy said he was very sick and showed them the bottle from which he had drank. He became rapidly worse and sank into insensibility before Dr. Jeffers, the family physician, arrived, who succeeded in partly restoring him. Since then it has been a constant struggle to keep the boy awake, every known means being used towards that end, and Dr. Jeffers has hopes of the boy's recovery. The sad affair supplies one more warning for careless people who persist in leaving dangerous compounds within reach of children.

Struck out by Kennedy, 2; base on balls by Kennedy, 1; base on balls by Hickson, 2.

Connors pitched a great game only 3 safe hits being made off his delivery. The Park's all batted well. Mahony, Ennismore's catcher, made some difficult catches of foul flys.

THE WHEEL.

This is a picture of the giant cycle that is being constructed by a New York manufacturer.

It is a quindecuplet—a wheel to accommodate fifteen riders. And there are no passengers. Every one has to work his way.

The quindecuplet, when completed, will be the most remarkable thing ever turned out of a bicycle shop. The sextuplet, which some people think can be propelled faster than the Empire State express, has become an old story, and an English firm has already turned out a machine with twelve saddles. This fifteen-man wheel is a far greater undertaking than the duodecuplet, for the strain and the consequent necessity for strength and nicety of construction multiply in increased proportion as the number of riders is increased.

It is for a lot of Brooklyn riders that the new wheel is being built. C. H. Jones, the captain of the prospective crew of fifteen, visited the manufacturers to learn if such a machine could be made so as to be practicable. One or two makers told him it would be only a curiosity, and even if it lasted would become a white elephant. And beside it would cost much more than it would be worth.

The next wheelman told a different story. He would make it, and make it to wear, and so it would travel like the wind—if the requisite amount of leg action were put into it—and he would consider himself paid if he had $500.

"All right," said Wheelman Jones, "Make up your plans and specifications and go ahead with the building." Then he laid down on a deposit and the work was begun.

The big wheel is not a bicycle. It travels upon three wheels and abaft the front saddle occupied by the steersman, it is practically two seven-men bicycles joined up side by side.

The forward, or steersman's wheel, will be twenty-six inches in diameter, the two rear wheels thirty inches. The tubing of the bracket forward, into which the frames are inserted, will, owing to the enormous weight and strain, have to be double the ordinary thickness, which one-sixteenth of an inch.

The frame tubing will be almost solid, one and a quarter inches in thickness. It will be doubly re-enforced all around. The finest of steel tubing will be used.

The gear will be 168, more than twice that of the ordinary tandem, and each revolution, with a force of those fifteen pair of legs back of it, will drive this centipede of cycles about 168 feet.

The chains will not be different from those in general use. The tires will be three inches in diameter, with rubber one-fourth of an inch thick, and double re-inforcement where they come in contact with the ground.

The tangent spokes will be one-eighth of an inch thick, which is double the thickness of those used in everyday bikes. There will be one bracket to each saddle and all will be made doubly strong.

Then this establishment whirls down a country road, old Jabez will lean on his hoe and watch, with his eyes bulging out like horse-chestnuts.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John, N.B., July 20.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely. Dodd's Kidney Pills are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which since been chronicled had caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

A BUFFALO HUNT.

The Boyd Herd Gets Loose and Causes Trouble.

Since the opening of the season the young half breed buffaloes of M. M. Boyd & Co.'s Big Island stock farm have been running on the Big Island with a herd of Hereford cattle. Last week the Herefords were brought over from the Island, and about twenty of the buffalo yearlings were left on the island, although at the time they evinced their dislike to be separated by swimming around the scow the cattle were on and trying to get on board. Saturday evening ten of these remnants of the wild west determined that they were not to be cribbed, catined and confined on any blooming island, and taking to the water struck out for Freeman's quarry, a swim of a mile and a quarter. Landing safely they made their way to the Beck settlement, and word was sent to the village that the removal of the genetal buffs would oblige, for they had a profound indifference to fences, no matter what height, and were throwing on airs as if they owned the country. With some difficulty they were brought to the village and crossed the first bridge. The noise and swing of the bridge, however, frightened them, and they baulked at the second one by taking the river and swimming to Mr. Junkin's. Going to the point of the Island they again swam to Mr. Garlick's, and then went off full gallop to the Beehive and around to Brandeston. Monday morning the herd of Herefords were sent out to the Red Rock, and when the young buffalo met them their delight was plainly manifested. They were then driven home without any mishap, going along with the cattle in the most well behaved and exemplary manner.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Are You Aware—

That that beautiful singing quality of tone which is inherent to the Mason & Risch Piano, and which is spoken of by connoisseurs as the "Mason & Risch tone" has been attained only by many years of labor and costly experiment?

Do you know that if has taken many years to gather together the skilled artizans who are employed by this firm? Nearly every country in Europe is represented in their staff in the different departments—men who have been "imported" by them owing to their more than ordinary ability in some particular department of piano construction.

The Mason & Risch catalogue which is mailed free on application, gives a good idea of the different processes a high grade piano goes through before it is completed—an artist's instrument.

The big, hearty, healthy man is a continual irritation to his dyspeptic friend. One man in a hundred is perfectly healthy. The other 99 have some digestive trouble, and perhaps more than 50 per cent. of these could trace their trouble to that most prevalent evil—constipation. It's a simple thing of itself, but like many simple things, it may grow and become complicated. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of the sickness of men, and of a large proportion of the sickness of women. It can be cured. It can be cured easily, naturally and quickly. There is no reason save that of carelessness why it should cause the trouble that it does. Nature is continually working as hard as she can to throw off impurities, and to force out poisonous refuse matter. Nature is not a dray-horse and should not be overworked. Nature is systematic. Some little thing may interfere with the system, and cause serious derangement. The removal of this little impediment sets the wheels working again without any trouble.

This is exactly what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do. They assist nature in a gentle, healthful, efficient way. There is nothing violent about their action, and yet it is just as certain as if it were twice as violent. The use of the "Pellets" doesn't derange the system in any way, and once it is in order, you can stop taking them. There are unscrupulous druggists, who will tell you that something else is "just as good." They are mistaken—or worse. Whether they are ignorant or untruthful matters little to you if you do not get the "Pellets." Insist on getting what you ask for.

MR. VANDERBILT'S CONDITION.

The New York Millionaire Passed a Good Day Yesterday—An Insight Into His Busy Life.

New York, July 19.—The condition of Cornelius Vanderbilt to-day is encouraging. Mr. Vanderbilt passed a comfortable night and had a good sleep this afternoon. The weather is very much in favor of the patient.

The following bulletin was issued at 10 o'clock: "Mr. Vanderbilt has passed a very comfortable day and his condition is better this evening than at any time since his attack on Tuesday."

A Busy Man is Vanderbilt.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's capacity and fondness for work are shown by the list of positions he occupies in railroad companies, benevolent and educational institutions and the like. To the duties of each of these positions he gives the most conscientious attention.

He is President of the Canada Southern and of the New York and Harlem Railroads; Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York Central and of the Michigan Central Railroads; Director of the New York Central, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Nickel Plate, "Big Four," Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha; West Shore, New York & Putnam, Beech Creek, Delaware & Hudson Canal Company and forty-six leased railway lines and subsidiary companies.

He is also a director in the New York Mutual Gas Company.

He is trustee of the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Sloane Maternity Hospital, Society of St. Johnland, New York Christian Home for Intemperate Men and of St. Luke's Hospital, and is chairman of the Executive Committee of that hospital.

He is trustee of Columbia University, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, of the General Theological Seminary and St. Stephen's College. He is manager of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and Secretary of the Committee on Trust Funds, having been instrumental in raising $1,000,000 for the fund, to which he gave a large personal contribution.

He is a member of the Standing Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York, member of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association and Vice-President of the New York branch of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Vanderbilt is also trustee of the Missionary Seamen's Society, Metropolitan Museum of Art, and chairman of the Executive Committee, trustee of the American Museum of Natural History, College of Physicians and Surgeons, St. Paul's School at Concord, N.H.; vestryman in St. Bartholomew's Church and manager of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association.

He also belongs to about twenty clubs, but takes the greatest interest in the Metropolitan Club, of which he is a director. Mr. Vanderbilt is President of the Botanical Garden Society at Bronx Park. He steadfastly refuses to allow his name to be officially used in connection with any bank or insurance company; although frequently asked to accept office by many such inalitutions.

Revival of Trade.

Reports from the United States support the view that trade interests have vastly improved recently and that the business outlook for the future is encouraging. This will be welcome news to the people of Canada, since our own trade interest will be stimulated and improved. In nothing has this improvement been shown in a more marked way than in the increased sales of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Times being dull everything not absolut ly needed became a luxury and its sale became stationery. Now it is different. Sales have increased vastly, doubtless as it has proven the only safe, sure and painless remedy for corns, and wise people will use no other.

THE POPE OBJECTED

To the Passage of the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

LETTER FROM CARDINAL VAUGHAN

His Holiness Instructed the Cardinal to Use Every Influence to Induce the Catholic Members to Vote Against the Bill and Uphold Canon Law.

New York, July 19.—The Sun's London correspondent says: Widespread comment has been excited by the interference of Cardinal Vaughan, on behalf of the Pope, to prevent the passage of the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill. The Cardinal wrote a letter to the members of the House of Lords before the third reading, in which he said: "The bill purports to abolish as part of the civil law the matrimonial impediment of the first degree of affinity in the collateral line. This is to propose a law in direct opposition to a canon law of the church. No Catholic, therefore, can vote for it. The Holy Father directs me to use every influence to induce the Catholic members in both Houses of Parliament to take up the defence of a canon law of the church and to vote against this bill, which attempts to violate it. "It is well known that some members have voted for the bill year by year on the ground that it would give civil recognition to the dispensation which the Holy Father occasionally grants for very grave and special reasons. The intention was laudable, but the Holy See regards it as no sufficient ground for changing the marriage law. As the guardian of the sacrament of marriage, the Holy See attaches the greatest importance to the maintenance of perfect conformity between the civil and ecclesiastical law in respect of matrimonial impediments."

This statement of the position of the Roman Catholic Church, in spite of its specific terms, is being sharply challenged by Catholics and others. A member of the Civil Marriage Law Reform Association writes: "Some years ago, impressed by the strange absurdity of the position in which Catholics were placed in respect of these marriages, by the personal attitude toward them of Cardinal Manning, I visited Rome for the purpose of obtaining an audience of the Pope. The object of my visit being fully explained to His Holiness, I was referred to Cardinal Simeoni. His Eminence was entirely frank in assuring me that Cardinal Manning's views on this matter had no influence at Rome, the Italian cardinals being unanimously of another opinion, and accustomed, as Cardinal Wiseman had formerly known and asserted, to daily dispensations in favor of such marriages in Rome itself and throughout the Catholic world."

It seems from this and other evidence that the attitude of the Holy See upon this question has changed.

At the suggestion of the Prince of Wales, strenuous efforts will be made to pass the bill in the House of Commons. The Prince seems to nurse the hope that if the supporters and opponents of the measure can be brought together in conference a modus vivendi may be found. After the Prince's success in getting the bill through the Lords, which House had repeatedly rejected it in past sessions, nobody would be surprised if he should succeed in passing it into law this year. But the odds are certainly against him, seeing the awful muddle into which this Government has got the public business.

The rumor is very persistent that a marriage in the royal family is dependent upon the bill becoming law, which, of course, would explain the Prince of Wales' eagerness. But nobody, apparently, is in a position to say positively who the royal parties are and, as far as the Almanac de Gotha goes, there is nobody in the whole of the Queen's big family here or on the continent of Europe who has a deceased wife's sister unmarried or of marriageable age.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

SWINDLED THE RAILROAD.

Charles A. Edwards Worked the Company With Rogus Tickets and Stood in With the Conductors.

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—Charles A. Edwards, son of C. A. Edwards, United States Commissioner in Alaska, and well known in journalistic circles as the former editor of The Spokane Sunday Sun, has been arrested on the charge of complicity in a swindle by which the Great Northern Railway has been defrauded of a large sum of money. Edwards' plan was to sell tickets at greatly reduced rates and in collusion with the train crews smuggle his passengers through in baggage cars. A number of conductors also habitually neglected to punch tickets which they turned over to Edwards and his associates to be resold at cheap rates. A bunch of counterfeit tickets was found among Edwards' effects and it is believed that he operated a printing office from which hundreds of bogus tickets were turned out.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

MEN WHO WILL RULE.

by the business community as one of the safe elements in the new Administration.

Hon. Louis H. Davies began his career 26 years ago—in 1870—at the early age of 25 years. He was then made Solicitor-General for Prince Edward Island. Four years later he became Premier of that province. Then his eyes turned toward Ottawa, and in 1893 he took his seat in that larger sphere. From the outset there his talents gained him a prominent place. His parliamentary career has shown him to be a student of many subjects Since 1883 he has been a close observer of the course of legislation. During the past five years he has taken upon himself a large share of the work which belongs to an Opposition. He is fair in his criticisms and takes no unfair advantage of his opponents. At the same time he is sharp to see a point and persistent in pressing it when it tells for his contention. Some little time ago he was elected leader of the Maritime wing of the Liberal party. It was a foregone conclusion that he would be in any Cabinet which Mr. Laurier should form. He enjoys in very large measure the respect and confidence of the people of the island His voice is one of the richest of his oratorical gifts. It is strong, clear and sympathetic. A frank, manly earnestness is his distinguishing characteristic.

HON. SYDNEY A. FISHER.
Minister of Agriculture.

Another ex-Premier of a province is called to the Cabinet in Hon. A. G. Blair, who for thirteen years has been Premier of New Brunswick. He is now in his 53rd year, and he has been in public life for eighteen ears. He is credited with a high reputation for skill and prudence as an administrator in his own province, and brings to the Federal arena the qualities which have secured these results in that narrower sphere. He is of Scotch descent, and was born in Fredericton, N.B., on March 7, 1844. After being educated at the Collegiate School at Fredericton, Mr. Blair entered the profession of the law, and was called to the bar in 1866. After twelve years of successful practice, in 1878 Mr. Blair entered political life, being returned to represent York County, in the New Brunswick House of Assembly at the general election of 1878. In the general elections of 1882 he was re-elected for York. In the following session, in March, 1883, he defeated the Harrington Ministry, and was called upon to form a new Administration. He accepted the task, and in one day had his Cabinet completed. His Government has since then been sustained in three general elections, in 1886, 1890 and 1894. His reputation as a lawyer stands extremely high, his frequent appearances in important cases before the Supreme Court having brought him prominently before the legal world.

Hon. William Mulock, the new Postmaster-General, is a native of the County of Simcoe, having been born at Bond Head in 1843. He was called to the bar twenty five years later and was for some time one of the lecturers for the Law Society of Ontario. Mr. Mulock did not take any active part in public affairs until 1882, when he was induced to accept the Liberal nomination for North York, with the result that he redeemed that constituency for his party, and has represented it continuously ever since.

HON. L. H. DAVIES.
Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. Mulock is himself a practical farmer as well as a lawyer, and it is as the firm friend of the agricultural community that he has figured in a very practical manner for a number of years. Mr. Mulock is a graduate of Toronto University, and in 1873 he was elected a member of the Senate. Since then he has become more and more closely identified with that institution. He has been Vice-Chancellor for many years, and, owing to the absence in England of the Chancellor, Hon. Edward Blake, the duties and responsibilities of that office have of late years mainly devolved upon him. A good business man, an astute politician, and an exceptionally able debater, Mr. Mulock may be relied upon to devote his talents effectively for the country's welfare as Postmaster-General of Canada.

As a general rule the Minister of Agriculture has been selected for political reasons instead of for his fitness for the position, and has been familiar with everything except the details of his department. But Mr. Laurier is surrounding himself with practical men, and in making Mr. Fisher head of this important department he has put the right man in the right place. Mr. Sydney Arthur Fisher is a son of Dr. Arthur Fisher of Montreal, whose grandfather came to Canada from Dunkeld, Scotland. He was born in Montreal June 12, 1850, and educated at the High School and McGill University. He afterwards went to Trinity College, Cambridge, where he obtained the degree of B.A. In his first attempt at Parliamentary honors in 1880 he was defeated, but he was a successful candidate for his present seat in the general elections of 1882, and was re-elected in 1887. In the general elections of 1891 he was defeated, but the electors of Bromo found they had made a mistake, for they returned him again with a sweeping majority at the recent election. Mr. Fisher is a practical farmer, owning and working Elva Farm, Knowlton.

SIR HENRI JOLY DE LOTBINIERE.
Minister of Inland Revenue.

Although well known in Quebec politics for a long time, it was only when Mr. Tarte, as editor of Le Cultivateur, unearthed the McGreevy-Langevin scandals that he came into Dominion notoriety. Prior to this time, he had been a Conservative and a member of the Quebec Legislature, but in 1891 he was returned to Ottawa as an Independent Conservative, and on the assembling of Parliament he began in the House the crusade against McGreevy et al, that he had already instituted in his paper. He fought the fight to the finish, and then joined hands with

HON. WILLIAM MULOCK.
Postmaster-General.

Mr. Laurier. Mr. Tarte is one of the best organizers in the country and his knowledge of the situation is marvellous. It is said that he foreshadowed the result of the recent elections in Quebec to a dot.

HON. CHARLES FITZPATRICK.
Solicitor-General, Without Cabinet Seat.

Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick is a prominent advocate of Quebec, a well-known figure in the politics of the sister province and one of the foremost representatives of the Irish Catholic population of Canada. He is of Irish parentage, his grandfather, James Fitzpatrick, having been a prominent supporter of Daniel O'Connell during the repeal agitation. Charles Fitzpatrick was born in Quebec, December 18th, 1853, and was educated at the Quebec Seminary and Laval University. In 1876 he graduated in the law faculty

HON. F. W. BORDEN.
Minister of Militia and Defence.

of Laval, carrying off the Dufferin medal, and upon being admitted to practice law he rapidly pushed to the front, acquiring a large practice. He has figured in a number of important cases, and his name became well-known as the counsel for the defence in the Queen v. Louis Riel. In June, 1890, he entered the Provincial Legislature of Quebec, being elected for the County of Quebec; in 1892 he was re-elected for the same constituency. He is a brother-in-law of Sir Adolphe Caron, having married in 1879 Miss Corinne Caron, daughter of the late Hon. R. E. Caron, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

Lieut.-Col. F. W. Borden, M.D., is one of the leading members of the Maritime contingent. He was born in 1847 at Canard, in King's County, N.S., where his father practised medicine for thirty years. He graduated in arts at the University of King's College, Windsor, N.S., and in medicine at Harvard University. He was a member of the King's County University Rifle Corps, and afterwards in 1869 he was appointed assistant surgeon of the 68th Battalion, active militia. In September, 1887, he was principal medical officer of the brigade camp at Aldershot.

He was first elected to Parliament in 1874, for King's. He was re-elected in 1878. In 1882 he was unsuccessful, and was out of the House until 1887. He was re-elected in the elections of that year and again in 1891. He has been a public-spirited representative, a clear-headed, high-minded man.

Hon. C. A. Geoffrion was born at Varennes in 1843, and was educated at St. Hyacinthe, and afterwards at McGill University, where he received the degree of B.C.L. in 1866. He was called to the bar in the same year. In 1887 he was made a Q.C., and in 1891 he received the degree of D.C.L. from McGill, where he has been for many years professor of civil law. In 1870 he married a daughter of the late Chief Justice Sir. A. A. Dorion. His brother, the late Hon. Felix Geoffrion, for many years member for Vercheres, was in the Mackenzie Government, and was one of the ablest men in the province. Mr. C. A. Geoffrion was frequently urged to enter politics. He declined, preferring to continue the practice of his profession, which is now one of the best in Montreal. On the death of his brother he was offered the nomination in Vercheres, and was disposed again to refuse, but finally yielded to the request of Mr. Laurier, and was elcted in April, 1895. In the recent election the County of Vercheres was united to Chambly, and Mr. Geoffrion had for opponent Hon. L. O. Taillon, the late Premier of the province and the local member for Chambly, but was re-elected by a largely increased majority.

Hon. R. W. Scott, who was Secretary of State in Mr. Mackenzie's Administration, who for many years has been leader of the Liberal party in the Senate, who introduced the Separate Schools Act of Ontario into the Canadian Assembly in 1863, and who, in 1875, introduced the Canada Temperance Act, which is called after him, was born in Prescott, Ontario, on February 24, 1825. He is of Irish parentage of his father's side, while by his mother he is connected with the well-known U.E. Loyalist family of the McDonnells. After being educated by a private tutor, he entered upon the study of law, reading in the office of Messrs. Crooks & Smith of Toronto, and being called to the bar when 23 years of age. He settled in Ottawa, then a small town, and in 1852, after three or four years of practice, was elected Mayor of Ottawa. In 1857 he wes elected to the Canadian

HON. C. A. GEOFFRION.
Minister Without Portfolio.

Legislature, but was, however, defeated on seeking re-election in 1863. He was elected a member of the first Legislative Assembly of Ontario after the consummation of Confederation. In 1871 he was elected Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, but after two weeks resigned that office to accept the portfolio of Crown Lands in the Blake Administration, which was then being formed. After administering his department with ability for two years he was, in 1873, called to join Mr. Mackenzie's Administration as Secretary of State and Registrar-General, and co-leader with Hon. Mr. Pelletier of the Senate, being elevated to that body in March, 1874.

CANADIAN FARMERS NEED NOT FEAR.

Prices for Grain Higher in the United States Than Canada.

(Lindsay Post.)

Mr. C. N. Keeney, of LeRoy, N. Y., the well-known dealer in fancy peas, was in town for a few days this week, and drove over considerable of the surrounding country with Mr. N. H. Cowdry, grain dealer, who distributed this season over 1,000 bushels of the firm's seed to local farmers ; they will reap a handsome profit on their crop, as the yield will be large and they will be paid an average of $1.25 per bushel for their crop. In conversation with Mr. Keeney concerning the prices paid here and in LeRoy, his figures varied greatly from those given in Conservative campaign literature during the recent election. When he left oats were 25c per bushel—here they are 18c ; wheat, 70c—here 58 to 60c ; barley, 35c to 40c—here 30c ; buckwheat, 50c—here 30c, and so on through his list. The town of LeRoy is situated about half-way between Buffalo and New York, in the midst of rich agricultural district. Mr. Keeney does not think Canadian farmers need fear that their home market will be destroyed in case the two countries happen to agree on reciprocal tariff.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

MINING IN CANADA.

The Rothschilds' Famous Expert Goes Into Rossland, B.C., Where Millions are in Sight at Present.

Montreal, July 19.—(Special.)—Mr. McDonough of Trail, B. C., an American citizen, is the manager of the Arlington Hotel Company of Trail, B.C., and makes the following statement regarding the mining outlook in that district: "I have visited every camp of importance in America, and although not a Britisher, I am bound to say that there is nothing in all America to equal the richness of the Rossland camp. In fact, so important has this district become that Hamilton J. Smith, the famous expert employed by the Rothschilds, and who purchased a $30,000,000 interest in the great Anaconda copper mine of Montana, has now turned his back upon that country and is coming to Rossland, so you may imagine what this means to Southern British Columbia."

Mr. McDonough was down the Le Roy mine 450 feet before he left and states that they have 900,000 tons, if not more, of ore in the dump which will average over $30 to the ton.

New York capitalists have furnished $500,000 for the purpose of building a railway to North Port, just over the Washington line, a distance of 18 miles from Rossland, and no doubt a smelter will be erected there.

Mr. McDonough also told The World that the handling capacity of the Trail smelter had been doubled previous to his departure for the east.

CANADA'S LIVE STOCK EXPORTS

Have Assumed Enormous Proportions and the Trade is Holding Its Own.

Montreal, July 19.—(Special.)—The live stock shipments from this port continue active, the following being the exports for the week ending July 19, 1896:

	Cattle	Sheep	Horses
Gerona, London	120	117	123
Oremeston, London ...	456	680	18
Pomeranian, Glasgow..	417	91	07
Lake Ontario, Liverp'l.	337	...	10
Parkmore, Liverpool ..	669	...	...
Megantic, London	504	1188	...
Concordia, Glasgow ...	424	393	6
Esculons, Newcastle ..	229	178	...
Loango, London	102	145	...
Ottoman, Liverpool ...	781	...	37
Sarula, Havre	300	...	...
Totals	5353	2706	261

The total exports for the season up to July 1 reach 28,780 cattle, 9066 sheep and 4715 horses, against 29,830 cattle, 18,720 sheep and 4440 horses for the same period last year. The World was told yesterday by Mr. Robt. Ironside, President of the Executive of the Canadian Live Stock Association, that the appointment of Mr. Nelson Bickerdike as hay inspector had given every satisfaction. Before this a great deal of inferior hay was brought down to the ships in the evening and shipped on board without proper inspection, so the recent action of the trade here in appointing an inspector has already borne fruit.

THIS IN FREE AMERICA.

Rev. D. H. Christiansen of Irvington, N.J., Out of a Job Because He and His Wife Ride Bicycles.

New York, July 19.—Rev. Mr. Christiansen, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church at Irvington, New Jersey, has been ousted from his position because he and his comely young wife ride bicycles. The pastor has occupied his charge two years, and is 33 years of age. When he first went to Irvington he wore a pepper-and-salt tweed suit, which caused the old fogies of his congregation to wag their heads and predict some bad end for the young pastor. Then he took to riding a bicycle, and that made matters worse. Finally his wife took to the wheel, and this was the last straw. The resignation of Mr. Christiansen was demanded, and he is now out of a position. He says he will not accept a care of souls where there is any objection to his favorite pastime.

BIG BLAZE IN CHICAGO.

About 300 Cars and 50 Horses Consumed in the Chicago City Railway Company's Barns.

Chicago, July 18.—The car barns of the Chicago City Railway Company in Cottage Grove-avenue, between 38th and 39th-streets, were completely destroyed by fire to-night. One hundred open cars, 180 closed cars and about 50 grip cars were burned, besides 50 horses, a large amount of feed and other supplies. It is estimated the loss will reach nearly $350,000. The insurance is about $310,000. A fire engine was demolished by a falling wall and Engineer Sullivan badly hurt.

WAS M'GRATH MURDERED?

A Rumor That a Pittsburg Sport Has Been Stabbed to Death at Sparrow Lake, Ont.

Pittsburg, July 18.—There is a general, but as yet unconfirmed report, current to-day that "Paddy" McGrath, a well-known local pugilist, was stabbed and killed at the camp of the Washington Club, Sparrow Lake, Ont., by James Grampton, a colored camp roustabout. It is also reported that the members of the club, which is composed of prominent young men of Allegheny City, are all locked up in Severn, pending an enquiry by the Canadian police. Grampton, it is reported, was arrested in Buffalo today, and will be turned over to the Canadian police. The club left Allegheny on July 4, with the intention of remaining several weeks. It is definitely known from members who have returned that there has been much quarrelling and disorder in the camp.

A WIFE HANGS HERSELF.

The Sad Sight Which Greeted Mr. Spencer of Cherrywood on His Return From Toronto.

Pickering, Ont., July 19.—On Friday afternoon Mrs. Spencer of Cherrywood, aged 48 years, ended her life. Her husband, who keeps a market garden, started early in the morning for Toronto. On his return home in the evening he was horrified to find his wife hanging dead in a shed, adjoining the stable. The deceased had been in ill-health for some time. Two years ago her only two daughters died rather suddenly, which seemed to seriously affect her mind. Coroner Bateman was called, but did not deem an inquest necessary. The couple were in comfortable circumstances. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband.

WILL HANG OCT. 16.

Christian Hanson, the Murderer of James Mullen, Receives His Death Sentence at Parry Sound.

Parry Sound, July 18.—Justice Ferguson this morning sentenced Christian Hanson, the murderer of James Mullen, to be hanged in the jail here on Friday, the 16th October. The prisoner, through an interpreter, said he was not guilty and that he was pleased he was given three months longer to live.

Great Forest Fires.

Spokane, Wash., July 19.—Forest fires are raging throughout the country north of this city in Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. Millions of feet of timber have already been destroyed and throughout numerous mining camps situated in the path of the fires great damage is being done in the destruction of property.

THEY BURNED THE TOWN.

Two Firebrands Play Havoc at Malvern, Ark.—Both in Jail.

Malvern, Ark., July 19.—This place was almost entirely wiped out by fire yesterday. The total loss is estimated at $250,000; only a small portion of which is covered by insurance. The burned buildings include the railroad depots, two hotels, the bank and all of the principal business houses of the place. The town had no fire apparatus and the fire burned itself out. Case Williams (colored), E. A. Miller and Eugene Ingraham (white) have been arrested on suspicion of having set the town on fire. The men were taken to Little Rock Penitentiary, in order to prevent lynching.

BAD BLOOD.

Bad blood courses through the veins and arteries just the same as good blood does, but good blood carries with it health, while bad blood distributes diseases throughout the whole body.

Good blood means vigor. Bad blood sows the seed of scrofula, ulcers, abscesses, boils, blotches, skin diseases, and almost all the ills that flesh is heir to. To get health we must cure the bad blood, and is Burdock Blood Bitters, which removes all impurities from the blood by its action on the stomach, liver and bowels, thus carrying off all morbid and effete matter, and purifying, cleansing and healing every organ of the body.

Rich Red Blood

Hats are Trump

Keep Cool as a Cucumber.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturer of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They knew where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

Wilkinson's "Stanley."

Who has not heard of or worn this favourite English hat, of which we are the sole handlers here. The "Stanley" is made of the very purest fur felt. They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowded the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces ; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for..... $1.00

Maud Miller on a summer day,
Raked the meadows sweet with hay,
Now Maud might rake the world in vain
To find Straw Hats so low again.

English Wool Fedoras.

Our "Special" line of Fedoras, that hatters would scorn to take less than $1.50 and $2, we sell you for 75c. Its a wonderfully fine hat for the price and have been going with a whirl at $1.00 up till now. But we have other lines of our Wool Fedoras which no one else can match in value, because they start at..... .25

Boy's Caps.

As much style in our Boy's and Youth's stock as in our Men's—Knockabouts, School Caps, Tweed Caps, Bicycle Caps. We dump in a dozen lines that would ordinary go like hot cakes, at 25c to 50c, for..... .10 .15 .20 .25

Men's Boating Caps,

Bicycle Caps, Tennis Caps, with the prices all cut it two to clear them out. Money does not come so easy to every man nowadays that he should pay the hatters of fancy prices. Nothing newer than than what we have in stock. Starting price..... .35

Men's and Boy's Straws.

In addition to the wagon loads Straw Hats we had on hand, we secured a snapping bargain in 2 cases of American Straws the other day from a large New York house. We can sell a $1 split-straw, fine braided, fine trimmed and silk banded Straw for 60c. We have Straws for all ages—the 49c line, soft or stiff brim, with black and coloured bands, are great value at.. 30

These are only a few of the HALF-PRICE offerings, but you can take them as a fair criterion for all the other prices during our Slashing July Sale. You know, or should know, that we are always getting the best possible goods at the LOWEST prices—and that's the sort of refreshing ozone that refreshes all kinds of pocket books. Come in and blow yourself. Whether you are taking a holiday or not, remember WE ARE GIVING THE PROFITS ON HATS A HOLIDAY.

Our next Slashing Sale will be in Boy's Clothing, but if you or the boys need a Hat just now, you might get the bargains in Clothing, now, too, as well as in the Hats.

FIRES IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Chasing the Miners Down Into the Valleys—Rain the Only Hope of Extinguishing These Conflagrations.

Spokane, Wash., July 20.—The sun is hidden from view here by the smoke of fierce forest fires that are raging in the mountains. Miners and prospectors are flocking down into the valleys by hundreds, many of them having lost all their possessions.

W. F. Kolhauff and Frank Childs, who have just returned from the north fork of the Salmon River in B.C., say the fires have gained great headway there. The fire has not yet penetrated the thick underbrush of the valleys, being so far confined to the mountains. Reports from all mining camps to the north are similar. In the vicinity of Kaslo, Slocan and Sando cities, B.C., the miners have been compelled to flee for their lives. Around Rossland, B.C., the fire is still high on the mountains, but is sweeping rapidly downward. Attempts to stop the flames are fruitless. The heavy timber around Rossland and Trail Creek has been cut away, and there is little danger of these towns suffering, but the large mining plants near the former place and the smelter at the latter are in danger. Large crowds of men are fighting the fire night and day. The railway company is having great trouble in running its trains on account of the large number of trees which constantly fall across the track. The Calispel Mountains, a short distance from Spokane, are on fire, and the flames are fast creeping down the valley and causing great alarm among the ranchers. On the Colville Indian reservation, serious damage has been done and the worst is yet to come. Prospectors coming in from that section say the damage to the timber will amount to millions of dollars. Rain is the only hope.

Not That End.

EARLY AT HIS WORK

Hon. Mr. Tarte is Busy Mastering Details.

THE STAFF REQUIRES OVERHAULING

No Dismissals Have Yet Taken Place—D.R.A. Program—The Bank Statement for June is a Good Showing—General News From the Capital.

Ottawa July 20.—Hon. Mr. Tarte was in his department at 8 o'clock again this morning, and is apparently determined to master all the details. The Minister of Public Works denies that dismissals have actually taken place in the department, but says the staff requires overhauling. He says there are over 100 clerks in the offices, among them some who have been there over 35 years, and yet their names are not on the permanent list. Hon. Mr. Tarte wore an amused smile when he told your correspondent that many of these temporary clerks, who are counted as good Tories, have been stirring themselves to get good Liberals put in a word for them.

Practically all the work on the canal extension is now at a standstill, owing to the fact that there are no appropriations available. About the only contract on which anything is being done is on Mr. Onderdonk's section of the Trent Canal.

The program of the annual prize meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association has just been issued. The matches commence on Monday, Aug. 31, the cash prizes amounting to about $7000, exclusive of a large number of challenge cups and prizes in kind. It is probable that this will be the last time that these matches will take place on the Rideau Ranges. The Governor-General has intimated his intention of being present during the meeting. As in past years, the Canadian Military Rifle League will offer prizes in connection with this gathering.

Three years ago there was not a pound of butter produced in a creamery in the Territories. Through the labors of the Dairy Committee quite a change has been wrought in the establishment of creameries. There are three now in active operation at Indian Head, Moose Jaw and at Prince Albert. A monthly advance of 10c per pound is allowed by the department on butter produced at these creameries, final settlement being made with the patrons of the creameries at the end of the season, when all the returns are in. Last month advances were made to the patrons of the three creameries as follows: Indian Head $697, Moose Jaw $1370, and Prince Albert $355, making the respectable total of $2722.

The June bank statement issued today indicates what a disturbing effect the general election had on business throughout the country. However, towards the close of the month, after it was decided into whose hands had fallen the control and guidance of affairs, matters settled down again and a fairly good showing for June is recorded. Bank notes in circulation increased $941,400, balance due to Dominion Government increased $303,127, balances due to Provincial Government increased $3520. Deposits by the public on the whole show little change, those on demand increased $1,053,191, while those payable after notice have been reduced $1,099,260. Total liabilities show an increase of $1,042,275; specie was reduced $176,879; Dominion notes increased $536,201; deposits with Dominion Government for security of note circulation show an increase of $24,427, owing to some of the banks having added accrued interest to the amount standing to their credit for the past year. Notes and cheques between banks increased $564,822. Loans to other banks show a reduction of $25,000. Balances due from banks and agencies in foreign countries show a shrinkage of $79,621, and those of the United Kingdom a reduction of $1,032,500; municipal securities and railway securities show little change; call loans underwent a shrinkage of $412,846. Current loans were augmented to the extent of $1,044,082; overdue debts, of which the greater portion may be attributed to La Banque du Peuple, are now $3,468,517. Total assets increased $910,357, directors' liabilities decreased $158,010.

The Dominion cruiser Dolphin is doing splendid work in Georgian Bay. Repeated seizures have been made this season of trap nets and seines which were being illegally fished. Captain Peirson just reports an extensive seizure of traps and nets.

Reports received at the Fisheries Department indicate that the season's work at different hatcheries this year has been far above the average. At Restigouche hatchery double the number of parent salmon were impounded and a million and a quarter salmon fry secured for distribution in adjacent waters. Two and a half million fry were secured at Tadoussac hatchery and a quarter million at Cape Breton hatchery. Reports to the department also indicate a good measure of success at Godbout River hatchery on the North Shore.

Mr. Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, was asked today as to the truth of the report that a number of employes on the Intercolonial Railway had been discharged for taking part in elections against Dr. Guay. Mr. Schreiber said no knowledge of such action had reached the department, although it was likely that a number of men engaged on repairs had been laid off, as changes of such a character were continually taking place.

Some changes have been made in the arrangement of the seats on the Liberal side in the House as a result of a consultation between Mr. Sutherland, Liberal whip, and the Premier. In the original plan many new members were given front position, while old-timers were assigned seats among the back benches. This has been rectified. Messrs. Charlton and Scriver, who wanted to retain their old seats on the Opposition side of the House, have been brought into line. Messrs. Sutherland and Casey, who were entirely forgotten in the first arrangement, have been provided for well down in the front rows.

Mr. J. J. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, went to Quebec yesterday, bearing with him the oathbook and Bible for the purpose of making two more Privy Councillors. He will administer the oath in the presence of His Excellency, as required by law, to Mr. C. A. Geoffrion, Minister without portfolio, and to Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, Controller of Inland Revenue. The latter had already subscribed to the formula that calls upon him to faithfully discharge the duties of his department. This leaves the two Provincial ex-Premiers, Messrs. Blair and Fielding, to be sworn in, and afterwards the Minister of the Interior, whoever he may be, when the Liberal Ministry will be complete.

Messrs. Chrysler & Lewis, the new legal agents of the Government in this city, have been instructed by the Solicitor-General to enter an appeal against the recent decision of Mr. Justice Burbidge, awarding George Goodwin $70,000 for extras on the Soulanges Canal contract. The case will be heard by the Supreme Court in October.

The Government also decided to appeal from the portion of the judgment in favor of O'Neil & Campbell, contractors on the Oxford & New Glasgow Railway.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier will, says The Free Press, announce his policy this week. During the June campaign he laid down the general principles upon which he would rule, and now that the administration of public affairs is in his hands the new Premier is prepared to go more explicitly into his plans. The announcement will be made in the opening of the bye-election campaign, when Mr. Laurier is to speak on behalf of Hon. J. I. Tarte. One of the Ministers was asked if there would be any outlining of policy in the bye-elections and his answer was in the affirmative.

BISHOP COXE IS DEAD.

The Death of the Great Episcopal Prelate Came Suddenly From Heart Disease at Clifton Springs, N.Y.

Rochester N.Y., July 20.—Right Rev. Arthur Cleveland Coxe, second Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Western New York, died of heart disease at the Sanitarium in Clifton Springs at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon. Bishop Coxe had been suffering from nervous prostration for several weeks and went to the Sanitarium for rest and recuperation. It was not generally known that he was absent from his home in Buffalo, although his more recent appointments had been privately arranged and subject to a recall.

The news of his sudden death was quite unexpected by the clergy and members of the Episcopal Church in this city, where he had made frequent visitations during his episcopate, and his demise, is looked upon as a heavy loss to Rochester, as well as to Buffalo, and the many parishes of the diocese.

Bishop Coxe had been gaining in health and strength during his three weeks' stay in the sanitarium and today had made all his arrangements to go to Buffalo on important business. He came to the dining room at noon in excellent spirits and engaged in earnest conversation with friends at the table regarding the Resurrection. Upon returning to his room, he proceeded to complete his preparations for his journey, but about 3 o'clock he was seized with sudden pains. Remedies were promptly used and he seemed to rally, when, almost without a moment's warning, he passed away. He was conscious to the last. The funeral will be held at Geneva on Wednesday.

Bishop Coxe was consecrated in January, 1865, and through his wise counsel and untiring labor had rendered valuable assistance to the rectors of several churches in the enlargement of their membership and the erection of commodious edifices.

Premier George C. Murray Announces His Ministers—Mr. Longley is Again Attorney-General.

Halifax, N.S., July 20.—The composition of the new Provincial Government was announced to-night. George C. Murray is Premier and Provincial Secretary, J. W. Longley returns to the office of Attorney-General, which he resigned to contest Annapolis for the House of Commons, and Charles E. Church continues as Commissioner of Works and Mines. The members of the Government without office are William Roche, Thomas Johnson, A. H. Comeau, Angus McGillivray and Thomas R. Black. Premier Murray will run his election in Victoria County, Cape Breton, and J. W. Longley will run in Annapolis.

A PRESENT TO HER EXCELLENCY.

Sequel to Her Narrow Escape From Drowning in the Gatineau.

Ottawa, July 20.—(Special.)—Lady Aberdeen's narrow escape from drowning in the Gatineau last spring will be long remembered as one of the incidents of that notable flood. A sequel to the occurrence is the presentation which has just reached Her Excellency from a Dublin friend of a pair of highbred horses to replace the team which was drowned in the Gatineau. The pair was brought over by steamer and landed in Quebec, and so pleased was Lady Aberdeen that she has sent the groom who brought them on a trip to Niagara Falls in charge of one of the grooms of the Vice-Regal stable.

IT WAS SIMPLY A FAKE.

Story That There Had Been a Murder at Sparrow Lake Was False.

Severn Bridge, Ont., July 20.—All reports as to a murder at Sparrow Lake are false. Clark S. Davis, who is captain of the Washington Fishing Club, handed me the following message to have it made public:

"Severn Bridge, July 20.—To. H. Mutch, Supt. Police, Allegheny City, Pa.: All reports false; no trouble in camp. Please correct in papers. (Sgd.) Clark S. Davis."

Mr. Davis stated that the club brought a cook with them whom they discharged for inefficiency, and the fellow manufactured the murder story out of revenge to injure the club.

After 23 Years in Prison.

Auburn, N.Y., July 20.—John McMannus, who was sentenced from New York, Sept. 20, 1873, to imprisonment for life in Sing Sing, for murder in the second degree, for killing a man in a fight, and was transferred to Auburn, July 14, 1874, left the prison today a free man, by reason of a reduction of sentence granted by Governor Morton.

THE CROPS.

A travelling correspondent of the Toronto Globe has been sending in a number of reports lately concerning the crops in Western Ontario.

To judge by the reports no single description can fit the crops in the various districts he has visited, unless, indeed, it be the hay crop, which appears to be unsatisfatory everywhere. It is not such a complete failure as last year, but, following such a season, another season of scarcity of feed is somewhat serious. Although the fact is often lost sight of, yet it is a fact that the hay crop is one of the most valuable crops which the farmers of the Dominion gather in, and when it is short it takes a great deal of excellence in other directions to make up for it. That there are compensations for the shortage in the hay crop appears from most of the reports. The scarcity of last year appears, for example, to have suggested a more general sowing of corn for feeding purposes, and this will to some extent make up for the deficiency in hay.

Oats, peas and barley are described as a good crop in all sections, although the acreage of the latter is, of course, much less than that sowed a few years ago. There is an almost equal unanimity that fall wheat will only be a half crop, but that in the main the sample is good. Even this, however, must be qualified in cases where the berry has been affected by rust or the Hessian fly. These evils are by no means widely spread, and the damage done, though to be deplored in individual cases, will not amount to much in the aggregate. The fruit crops in almost all lines are satisfactory, but in apples that would be too weak a description. From almost everywhere good reports come in regard to the king of northern fruits. Not only is the crop abundant, but the quality is perhaps superior in some districts to anything ever seen there. This is due to a great extent to the adoption of the practice of spraying the trees which has been so insistently urged by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The result is a crop of apples which was never so free from parasitic and insect destroyers and disfigures as this year. It is said, for example, that in the Goderich district almost every orchard will be able to give a good account of itself in barrels of No. 1 apples, which will be in demand as the best specimens producible of the Canadian apple, so popular abroad. In the matter of sowing corn for fodder and in spraying fruit trees the husbandman and the country at large is under obligation to the munitions of the officials of the experimental farms.

The reports of the root crops are, on the whole encouraging, although in some cases midsummer drouth and other reasons oblired a re-sowing. Timely rains from now till the end of harvest would make a wonderful difference.

The reports from the Northwest, though discouraging in sections, are better when taken in the aggregate. For instance, from the great Brandon district nothing but good words come, while from Baldur the news is that dry hot weather has seriously injured the crops. A comparison of the reports with the districts that they cover, however, would indicate that altogether there is not much to complain of so far. If all goes well, the yield will be quite as good as last year, although the acreage, owing to the late spring, will not be so great. An important point is that the progress made since sowing has almost, if not quite, made up for the delay in the spring. There has been a tremendous hay crop, and the farmers are at present busy gathering it in. As for wheat, its progress from now till harvest will be watched with the usual hopes and fears. The area sown, though somewhat less in every particular than in 1895, is, nevertheless, greater than in 1894, except in flax, potatoes and roots. The acreage of the chief crops is as follows:—Wheat, 1,081,960; roots, 442,445; barley, 127,995.

Miss CANADA is in luck just now, says the Montreal Herald. Within a month she has secured an honest Government, she has wrested a valued yachting trophy from the Americans, and she has won the Kolapore cup. Things seem to be coming Canada's way this year.

PETERBOROUGH contractors will hardly appreciate the last act of the Tupper administration in awarding the contract for the new bridge at Auburn to the St. Catharine's firm of Larkin & Co. This is a matter that should have been dealt with by the new administration.

THE Dundas Banner remarks: "Nicholas Flood Davin is member for West Assiniboia by the casting vote of the returning officer. This is a close shave, the closest yet. Nicholas is baldheaded and he had a hair-breadth escape, that is, if a baldheaded man can be said to have had a hair-breadth escape.

AN Ottawa correspondent writes: "The condition of the departments as left by the outgoing Ministers illustrates their utter inability to manage the affairs of the country. They were simply neglected shamefully. Matters that should have been attended to years ago are still unsettled. No wonder that business men lost all confidence in the late Administration and its predecessor. One man tendered for a contract amounting to a large sum and deposited as security $6,000. The work was not let. There was no appropriation for it, and yet the man could not get his money back. It lay in the Minister's office month after month. Last week the new Government returned him his money. the locking up of which had needlessly embarrassed his business. The work of paving the walks on Parliament hill was given out without tender, and when the new Ministry came in they found about $5,000 worth of work done. The contractor proceeded to tear up the main work, intending to go on, though there was no authority or appropriation for it. He has been stopped, and it is well for more reasons than one.

Convincing Evidence That Lactated Food is the Best.

The manufacturers of Lactated Food have the strongest letters from medical men, hospital authorities and managers of Infants' Homes, recommending the use of Lactated Food. The present demand for this popular food is wonderfully large, showing that mothers and physicians everywhere have confidence in it.

Lactated Food has saved thousands of little lives after failures with medicines and other foods. The standing boast of Lactated Food is: "It saves babies, lives."

Fertilizers in Floriculture.

Pansies were treated with muriate of potash and made 806 blooms, and with sulphate of potash made 1,363 blooms. On carnations, sulphate of potash with sulphate of ammonia gave the best results, being closely followed by the same form of potash combined with bone black, while the poorest results were from sulphate and nitrate of potash, sulphate of potash and dried blood and muriate of potash in excess. Observations on carnations for 31 weeks gave the best results for nitrate of potash, sulphate of potash second and dissolved bone black the poorest results. In five experiments made in this line, three have been in favor of bone black, one of sulphate or ammonia and one of nitrate of potash. Sulphate of soda has stood second in each one. The nitrate of soda and muriate of potash in every case where the crop has a tendency to mildew have given poor results, owing, probably, to their power of holding moisture near the surface of the soil. In the growth of the rose, lettuce and carnation a moist atmosphere, or a very moist soil in contact with the plants, especially at night, must be avoided if success is expected, and therefore such fertilizers as nitrate of soda and muriate of potash would aggravate any such condition.—Farm and Home.

Saving Girdled Trees.

In reply to the inquiry of D. L. G. of Pierce, Ohio, relative to saving his girdled apple trees, if the season is not too far advanced I think nine-tenths of them can be saved if there is not too much of the bark gnawed from the tree. The time consumed in the operation might more than equal the value of the tree. Would advise D. L. G. to proceed as follows:

Partially or wholly encircle the tree at the extreme portions of the injured bark, then peel off all the bark in the space intervening between the upper and lower encircled bark. Measure the length of the space to be covered. Now go to your orchard of older trees that you wish to trim; cut off a limb an inch or more in diameter; measure a portion of this limb so that it will equal the length of space to be covered on the tree. Encircle the limb so as to obtain the length of bark; slit it and peel off. If not sufficient to cover space, take another section, etc. Tie with string and cover with grafting wax so as to exclude air and water. If D. L. G had proceeded as above twenty days ago I think he could have saved a large percentage of his trees.—D. E. D., in Ohio Farmer.

Housekeeping.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step is torture! This state of health in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examinaton." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Except in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.

A Boon to Smokers!

NO MORE NICOTINE.

A New Pipe

FITTED WITH

HERR PFLUNGER'S CARTRIDGES

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accumulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
MORRELL MACKENZIE.

These Pipes are for sale only in Peterborough at Charley LeGros' Tobacco Store, George street.

OUR MAIL.

B.B.B. CURES

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN,—During the winter of 1895 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.

J. GILLAN, B.A., 39 Gould St., Toronto.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

Astronomers Flocking to Japan, Which Offers Peculiar Advantages for Taking Observations and Photographs.

San Francisco, Cal., July 20.—Advices received from Japan say the expeditions to take observations of solar eclipses are flocking to Japan. The steamer Coronet, with a party of United States scientists, reached Yokohama on June 22. The eclipse will begin near Shetland Islands, off the coast of Scotland. Thence its track curves upward across the north coast of Norway, through Lapland, bisecting the south-rnmost island of the Nova Zembla group; then crosses Siberia to the Gulf of Tartary and south to the Island of Yezo. The central line of the eclipse nearly touches Cape Soya, the extreme northern point of the island, from which it runs southeast, leaving the coast at Akeshi. A number of mountain peaks, some reaching to the height of 7000 feet, rise along the central line, and meteorological observations have determined that these points offer superior advantages to astronomers. On the Island of Yezo the eclipse will begin at 3.05 on Aug. 9 and will last two minutes and 40 seconds.

It is proposed to establish a large equatorial mount, which will have 25 instruments pointed at the sun, and which will be operated automatically by electricity. The instruments will take between 500 and 600 negatives.

Prof. Schaeberle of the Lick Observatory, California, had arrived a week before the Coronet. The French scientist came about the same time and the party of English astronomers was expected in three days.

THIS GIRL WAS A FIEND.

Etta Robbins Attempted to Kill a Whole Family—Several of Them are Dead.

Cincinnati, July 20.—A special to The Post from Huntington, W. Va., says: Six miles above here, at the mouth of Three Mile Creek, one of the most horrible murders ever known in the upper Ohio waters was committed last night. The scene was on a shanty boat and the killed are: A. J. Call, 45; Nettie Call, his daughter, 24; Lottie Call, another daughter, fatally injured, and those in a critical condition are: Grace Call, 11, and Otis Call, 13. Last night Call and his family retired. Etta Robbins, 24, was at their house and retired with one of the daughters. A coroner's jury was empanelled. The verdict was that Etta Robbins committed the murders. The boat was cut loose and brought here, and the woman placed in a jail. The feeling is very strong, and thousands of excited persons line the river bank and many threats are heard.

MAD CONFEDERATE BILLS.

Was This the Man Who Fooled the Farmers Down in Quebec?

New York, July 20.—George Batchelder, who said he lived in Montreal, was held in $1000 bail yesterday in the Jefferson Market Police Court on a charge of stealing $8 from the till of A. Dun of No. 427 West-street. It is believed he is a noted crook from Canada.

He had several Confederate bills in his possession, and it is believed by the police since his arrival here that he has swindled several immigrants. He was caught taking the money from Dun's store, and returned it.

Her Majesty's Thanks.

London, July 20.—The Queen, through United States Ambassador Bayard, will send an expression of her thanks to the citizens of Ocala, Fla., for the kindly sentiments contained in an address accompanying some leaves from a magnolia tree which the people of Ocala recently planted and dedicated to Her Majesty.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of wonderful medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results derived from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness, or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation. Sold by all druggists.

THE QUEEN'S PRIZE.

Opening of the Great Match at Bisley.

SCORES MADE BY THE CANADIANS

In the Preliminary Stages of the Great Competition—Money Prizes Won in the Prince of Wales and Other Matches—Good Shooting All Round.

Bisley Common, July 20.—The competition for the Queen's Prize began to-day with the weather bright and clear. Last year Private Hayhurst of Hamilton won the coveted £250, being the first colonial marksman to win it. The match is shot in three stages, the first being three ranges—200, 500 and 600 yards—seven shots at each. The second stage is ten shots at 500 and 15 shots at 600 yards, and the third is ten shots each at 800 and 900 yards.

There are 500 prizes, worth £2420, including the £250, which goes with the gold medal and gold badge given to the maker of the highest score.

The scores of the Canadian team at the 200 yards range to-day, seven shots, are as follows:

Pte. Campbell, 45th Batt., 31; Sergt. Crowe, 1st B.F.A., 31; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th Batt., 31; Lieut. Munro, 44th Batt., 31; Capt. Spearing, 53rd Batt., 31; Lieut. Weller, 59th Batt., 31; Pte. Hayhurst, 13th Batt., 30; Pte. Langstroth, 74th Batt., 29; Major Macdonald, 48th Batt., 29; Sergt. Mitchell, 13th Batt., 29; Lieut. Bent, 93rd Batt., 28; Staff-Sergt. Harp, 48th Batt., 28; Lieut. Ogg, 1st B.F.A., 28; Pte. Armstrong, 10th Batt., 27; Pte. Neill, 71st Batt., 27. Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., 27; Sergt. Lavers, 6th Batt., 26; Sergt.-Major Huggins, 13th Batt., 24; Lieut. King, 45th Batt., 24; Lieut. Runlons, 59th Batt., 24.

At 500 yards the Canadians scored as follows:

Pte. Campbell, 45th Batt., 31; Sergt. Crowe, 1st B.F.A., 32; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th Batt., 30; Lieut. Munro, 44th Batt., 28; Capt. Spearing, 53rd Batt., 27; Lieut. Weller, 59th Batt., 28; Pte. Hayhurst, 13th Batt., 32; Pte. Langstroth, 74th Batt., 26; Major Macdonald, 48th Batt., 25; Sergt. Mitchell, 13th Batt., 33; Lieut. Bent, 93rd Batt., 29; Staff-Sergt. Harp, 48th Batt., 28; Lieut. Ogg, 1st B.F.A., 31; Pte. Armstrong, 10th Batt., 27; Pte. Neill, 71st Batt., 32; Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., 30; Sergt. Lavers, 6th Batt., 23; Sergt.-Major Huggins, 13th Batt., 22; Lieut. King, 45th Batt., 29; Lieut. Runlons, 59th Batt., 29.

The firing in the second stage will take place to-morrow and in the third stage on Saturday.

In the Cooper-Cooper contest on Saturday, seven shots at 600 yards, Pte. Campbell of the 45th Batt. scored 33 out of a possible 35.

The Elcho Shield was won by the English team with a score of 1659, the Scottish team securing second place with 1658 points.

Quartermaster-Sergt. Sheldon, Royal Engineers (Imperial army), won the first prize—the cup and £50—in the Imperial Challenge Cup match.

In the competition for the Prince of Wales' Prize on Saturday, Lieut. Mitchell, Sergt. Lavers and Pte. Hayhurst each made 89 points—just one behind the aggregate of the winners. Sergt Lavers took third prize, £15; Lieut. Mitchell fourth prize, £10; Pte. Hayhurst sixth prize, £5; Lieut. Weller 26th prize, £3; Pte. Campbell 54th prize, £2. Sergt.-Major Huggins and Sergt Crowe each made 81; Lieut. King and Pte. Armstrong 80 each.

In the Steward competition, open, Martini-Henry, seven shots at 200 yards, kneeling, Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., made 32.

In the "Scu.." competition to-day, open to all, five shots at 200 yards, £25 in money prizes, Pte. Armstrong of the 10th Batt. put in two bulls. Capt. Spearing made 24, Sergt.-Major Huggins 22, and Lieut. King 20.

Capt. Spearing and Pte. Armstrong are a tie for first place and will divide £5. Sergt.-Major Huggins stands 20th, and takes £1.

In the second series Scurry, five shots at 500 yards, for similar money prizes, Lieut. King's target registered four bulls and a magpie.

For the Thorburn prizes, seven shots at 800 yards, Lieut. Weller, 59th Batt., planted seven bullseyes and will probably win the first prize, £15. Sergt. Crowe scored 34.

In the contest for the oil painting and £10, presented by Col. Burt, and £30 added, seven shots at 200 yards, Lieut. Munro, 44th Bat., made five bulls and two inners.

Macdonald, Spearing and Munro visited Col. Cotton and other Canadian officers at Aldershot yesterday.

Col. Starke dined with the Council of the Rifle Association and Major Bruce went to Southsea.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, but got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

DR. JAMESON'S TRIAL.

Does the Case of the Transvaal Raiders Come Under the Foreign Enlistment Act?

London, July 20.—The trial of Dr. Lionel Jameson and his fellow officers in the Transvaal raid—Hon. Henry Coventry, Major R. White, Col. H. F. White, Major Sir John Willoughby and Col. R. Grey—who were indicted by the grand jury for violation of the Foreign Enlistment Act, began in the Queen's Bench division of the High Court of Justice this morning before three judges: Lord Russell of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England (presiding), Sir Henry Hawkins and Baron Pollock.

The courtroom was crowded with friends of the accused men, and there were also present a large number of members of the bar. The counsel engaged in the case were numerous. When the case was opened it was understood that the taking of testimony would be preceded by a long series of legal arguments.

Sir Edward Clarke, senior counsel for the defence, began by moving that the indictment be quashed upon the ground that the case did not come under the operation of the Foreign Enlistment Act, under which the defendants were charged.

Sir R. E. Webster, Attorney-General, replied on behalf of the prosecution to Sir Edward Clarke, and the court adjourned.

Unconscious for 24 Hours.

London, Ont., July 20.—Mr. John Beaumont of 354 Dundas-street and two friends were driving in from the country on Dundas-street east, and in turning the corner of Ontario-street, at too rapid a pace, Mr. Beaumont, who was driving, was thrown out violently, his head striking on the pavement. He remained unconscious for nearly 24 hours, not recovering his senses until to-day. His head was badly cut, but with proper care he will recover.

ONE HONEST MAN

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P O. Box 389, London, Ont.

Couldn't Please Everybody.

"My friend," said the philanthropist, "you ought to change your methods. Do you expect to put in your life stopping people and asking them for money?"

"Dere it is agin," replied Meandering Mike, in an aggrieved tone. "Dere ain't no use 'er tryin' ter satisfy everybody. If I stops people and asks 'em fur money, you say I ought'er to be ashamed, an' ef I stops 'em on' takes deir money without askin', de p'lice runs me in."—Washington Star.

None to Be Had.

A bright little girl, returning from school, was asked by her father what she had been learning that morning.

"All of us been learning to spell," said she."

"What did you learn to spell?"

"Learned to spell rat."

"Well, how do you spell rat?"

"R-A T—rat."

"Now, how do you spell mouse?"

"Just the same, only in little smaller letters," said the little maid.

THURSDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

Take the North Star for Highland Park, with St. Luke's Church Picnic, next Thursday. Leaves Peterborough 1 p. m. Ashburnham wharf 1.15 p. m. Tickets only 25 cents. 2d17

St. Andrew's Teachers.

At a meeting of the teachers and officers of St. Andrew's Sunday school last night it was decided that a picnic be held on Monday next in the Jackson Park, when the teachers and officers will assemble at the church at 2 p.m. Babies, it is understood, are excluded. Mr. T. Fitzgerald has very kindly offered to furnish busses for the conveyance of the picnicers to and from the grounds.

That Settled It.

A householder who was awakened at midnight to find a burglar in his room, cried out in anger, "Why on earth do you come here to disturb me? I have nothing of value." "Are you a merchant?" queried the burglar. "To be sure, but I have never advertised my business." "Oh—ah—I see," observed burglar as he climbed out of the widow with a "got left" expression of countenance. Moral—No burglar of sense will disturb a non-advertiser.

Jubilee, Harwood and Idyl Wyld.

The steamer North Star will run a trip to Harwood, Jubilee and Idyl Wyld, on Wednesday, 22nd July, to enable parties wishing to meet their Cobourg friends at Idyl Wyld, who attend the Methodist picnic to be held there. The steamer will leave Peterborough wharf at 6 a.m. Returning will leave Harwood at 5 p.m., giving a whole day for fishing at Rice Lake. Return tickets to Jubilee and Harwood, 50c, to Idyl Wyld, 60c. C. H. CALCUTT, Master.

A Fine Building.

Mr. J. J. Hartley has just completed the brickwork of the new livery stables on Water street. The building is 33x106 feet in size, is two stories in height and contains 100,000 brick. It will be occupied by Westlake & Nesbitt and is owned by Mr. Robert Fife. Mr. H. C. Stabler had the contract for the carpenter work. Mr. Hartley is now pushing forward with his contract on the Y. M. C. A. building. The foundations are well under way.

Circus Without Gamblers.

No gamblers or swindlers of any class whatever are tolerated by the Great Wallace Shows. Second class and inferior aggregations make the swindling operations the principal part of their business, and some of them have a show only as a blind for unscrupulous followers. They make the performance a secondary consideration. Such shows are to be given a wide berth. The Wallace Show, not being of this character, has its performance of the best and gives value for money received for admission. At Peterborough, August 10th.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. W. L. Sharpe left to-day to visit her aunt, Mrs. John Allen, Bowmanville.

Mrs. Geo. Cluxton is out of town on a summer trip of several weeks' duration.

Miss Maggie Hart, of Richmond, N. Y., is at present the guest of Mrs. J. J. Lynch.

Miss Goodfellow of New York, is the guest of Miss Lucille McClelland, Reid street.

Mr. Chas. Lyle and daughter left yesterday to visit friends in Lindsay, Port Perry and Bowmanville.

Mr. Walter Phelan left town to-day to visit his brother, Rev. Father Joseph Phelan, North Bay.

Mr. Thos. Bradburn has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness as to be able to be out again.

Mrs. P. Bennett and her sister and children are visiting Mrs. J. Bogue, her sister, 220 Dublin street.

Miss B. Code of the Barnardo Home, has returned to town after enjoying a pleasant trip to England.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Jackson went back to the lakes to-day. They will be guests at Mr. Richard Hall's cottage.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox was in town last evening on his way to Toronto from the Lakes. He will return to the lakes to-morrow evening.

Mr. Henderson Nesbitt is confined to his home with an illness which it is feared will be serious. He has just suffered a relapse.

Miss Sherwood has returned to town after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Rufus Stevenson, Massassaga Park, Bay of Quinte.

Mr. D. W. Dumble returned this morning from his Stony Lake cottage, where he has been spending the last week or so. He will be in town until the end of the week.

Mr. H. J. King left town yesterday to spend the summer in Chicago. It is doubtful if Chicago will allow the possessor of so pure and sympathetic a tenor voice to return to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kirpatrick and son, of St. Louis, who have been the guests of Miss Kirpatrick's uncle, Father Lynch, of Port Hope, passed through to-day on their way to the back lakes.

Rev. D. P. Knox, who has been visiting Rev. W. C. Beer, occupied the pulpit of the Mark street Baptist church last Sabbath morning and also preached at Bethel in the evening to the delight of the congregation. He went east yesterday on a two month's visit to his parents in Hastings county.

FIRE IN HAVELOCK.

Mr. Jas. Graham's Hotel Nearly Destroyed.

Through the lodging of a spark in the roof of his hotel in Havelock, Mr. James Graham, formerly of town, was nearly burnt out last week. The roof and a portion of the upper story of the house were badly damaged. The furniture and other contents, as well as the whole of the interior of the house, were soaked with water, so that the loss will be considerable. The Havelock Standard speaks as follows concerning the affair:—At 11.30 on Tuesday forenoon fire was discovered in the roof of the Graham House, on the north side. The fire bell immediately sounded the alarm and in a few minutes a large number of active workers were on the scene. Buckets of water were in constant play on the fire, but of no avail, and had it not been for the timely arrival of the hose from the station, it would have been utterably impossible to save the building. Several holes were chopped in the roof and the hose played a heavy stream of water on the fire, which was soon extinguished. Considerable damage was done by water, as it came down through the bottom flats in torrents. The building and contents were insured.

HORRIBLE DETAILS OF A TRIPLE MURDER.

Three Bodies Were Found on Board Ship.

THE CAPTAIN, HIS WIFE AND THE MATE BRUTALLY BUTCHERED.

The Crew Arrested on Suspicion of Being the Perpetrators of the Sickening Crime — The Brains of the Victims Beaten Out With an Axe.

(Special to the Examiner.)

HALIFAX, N.S., July 21.—The American ship Herbert Fuller, from Boston for Buenos Ayers, arrived this morning. On board her were found the bodies of Capt. Nash, his wife and second mate, who had evidently been murdered by the crew.

The whole crew have been arrested and are now in Halifax gaol, guarded by half a dozen policemen. The horrible triple murder occurred on the night of the 13th inst. and the affair so far is wrapped in complete mystery.

A passenger named Monck, speaking to a United Press reporter, said that during the night he heard a scream which he supposed was uttered by Captain Nash's wife, but heard no further sound and paid no attention to what he thought might have been fancy.

In the morning the first mate informed him of the triple murder and asked him if he had not been alarmed during the night. He told him that all he heard was the one scream and had not paid particular attention to that.

Monck must have slumbered very deeply or been strangely deaf to his surroundings not to have heard something of what was going on on the other side of the thin partition, as his berth joined that of the captain. The murders were not committed without noise and violence, for the fiendish killing was accomplished with an axe, the victims being butchered in a most sickening manner. The motive of the murder is a complete mystery. Officially enquiry is being held.

MRS. CADDIGAN FOUND.

She Left Home Voluntarily and was at the Huffman.

Mrs. Caddigan, of Ennismore, concerning whose mysterious disappearance last Tuesday excitement was caused, has been restored to the bosom of her family after just a week's absence.

It seems that before leaving home on Tuesday morning Mrs. Caddigan and her husband had a slight disagreement and on coming to town Mrs. Caddigan made up her mind not to go back. After disposing of her market produce she applied for a position at the Huffman House and was given a place in the kitchen. Upon ascertaining that her disappearance was causing great anxiety she made the statement that she was the missing woman. The news was soon communicated to her friends and a little persuasion soon induced her to return to her family.

The theory in last evening's EXAMINER to the effect that probably Mrs. Caddigan had fallen from the C.P.R. railroad bridge into the river completely unnerved the woman and moved her to a confession.

Revival of Trade.

Reports from the United States support the view that trade interests have vastly improved recently and that the business outlook for the future is encouraging. This will be welcome news to the people of Canada, since our own trade interest will be stimulated and improved. In nothing has this improvement been shown in a more marked way than in the increased sales of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Times being dull everything not absolutely needed became a luxury and its sale became stationery. Now it is different. Sales have increased vastly, doubtless as it has proven the only safe, sure and painless remedy for corns, and wise people will use no other.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. Sad Death.

The death of Miss Ida Buck, aged 17, occurred yesterday at the residence of her father, Mr. Wm. Buck, No. 384 Sherbrooke street. The deceased contracted a heavy cold about three months ago, which settled on her lungs and developing into consumption, eventually cut off the bright young life in the flower of its girlhood. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock from the family residence.

Lacrosse on Thursday Afternoon.

The Orillia lacrosse team is to be here on Thursday afternoon, July 23rd. This is the first attraction to be held on the public half holiday and it is hoped by the management of the team that a large crowd of both ladies and gentlemen will be present. The Orillia team is running a special train down, which is expected to bring a couple of hundred excursionists. It is probable that the band will be present. This will be the best game so far this season as the very name of Orillia in lacrosse circles is a guarantee that an exceedingly fast, clean and gentlemanly game will be played. Stay in town this Thursday afternoon and see the most exciting match of the year.

Showmen who are Courteous.

The Great Wallace Show is noted for nothing more than it is for its courteous treatment of patrons. Once they have paid their money and passed inside the mammoth stretch of canvas, they are regarded as guests and treated as such. All questions are politely answered, and parents can make the menagerie a good schooling for the children. Well informed tenants are constantly present to discuss the habits and natures of the many wild creatures which have been collected from all lands and seas of the globe. Everything possible is done to make the show both instructive and entertaining. At Peterborough, Aug. 10th.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

THE WHEEL.

Bicycle gymkhanas, which are brand new, promise to be popular in the way of entertainments these cycle-mad days. An ordinary, every day kind of a gymkhana, to say nothing of a bicycle gymkhana, is new enough to the ordinary every day, unsophisticated Canadian. People who have travelled over in India inform their friends that the gymkhana was originally a military institution intended to test the skill at arms of the native troops. In time it came to be an athletic meeting, with a few military features thrown in—such as tilting at the ring, tent pegging, and the like.

But the bicycle gymkhana is different from either of those forms. In its application to bicycles, the gymkhana has degenerated into the comic side of sport, and is little more or less than a series of absurd events in which fun and not real exertion or tests of strength and skill, is the chief object. The bicycle gymkhana brings such things as bill-posting races, "egg and spoon," "cup of tea," and "parasol races," slow races, musical rides and other nonsensical things of the sort. But even if such things are nonsensical, they are not necessarily unentertaining. On the contrary they are said to be highly enjoyable to both participants and spectators.

In a bicycle gymkhana party recently given ladies were contestants in half the events. The events were tilting at the ring, handkerchief race, tortoise race, cigar and umbrella race, dressing race, nine pin race, and a leading the bicycle race. In the tilting the ring contest the contestants rode with lances at separate rings, the same as cavalrymen do in the military games, except that their mounts were silent instead of galloping steeds. The conditions in the handkerchief race were that the competitors should mount and then ride with a separate lance at a handkerchief on the ground, the one first arriving at the winning post with the handkerchief on the lance being the winner. In the first heat one lady had rather a nasty spill, and broke her pedal, but fortunately sustained no personal injuries. Some of the other competitors also experienced hard luck in raising the handkerchief from the ground, and then having it blown off the lance, by the wind. The contest was interesting, however, and developed some excellent riding.

The tortoise race was, of course, the slow race. A slow race on bicycles calls into play a great deal of skill in balancing, but one of them is enough on any single day's programme. The conditions for the cigar and umbrella race were that each competitor should be provided with cigar, matches and umbrella, and the first to arrive at the winning post with the cigar lighted in his mouth and umbrella open should be the winner. The race developed several amusing features, mostly tumbles by the contestants, who could not do two things at once, especially when one of the things was the balancing of the bicycle.

The dressing race was decidedly novel and amusing. The competitors had to ride to a table where they found packages containing costumes, and having donned these, they had to return to the starting point, the first back being declared winner. Four entered. As all the garbs of the donned were of the female order and not in quite the latest fashion; the gentlemen experienced some little difficulty in discovering the ways and means of adjusting them. The men rode back in all sorts of ridiculous ways, and some of them tangled their skirts in the bicycle chains and came to grief.

In the ninepin race the contestants were compelled to ride through rows of ninepins, the first to arrive receiving fifty points, the next forty, the next thirty and the fourth twenty, five points being deducted from each rider's score for every pin knocked down. In the leading bicycle race each contestant had to ride one machine and lead another, which is a serious matter when one attempts to do it at a great rate of speed.

The bicycle gymkhana will probably prove an interesting bit of summer folly. There seems to be no reason why people who want to give entertainment out of the ordinary should not take it up.

LACROSSE.

A full attendance of lacrosse players is urged for practice to-morrow night. The team to play against Orillia will be picked after practice, and it is most important that every member be out.

The steps leading to the ladies' grand stand in the P.A.A.A. grounds are in a very bad condition, and the management of the field should see that they are repaired immediately.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.
The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.
Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

SERVICES AT THE TENT.

Prophecies From the Second Chapter of the Book of Daniel.

Saturday evening there was delivered in the tent the first sermon on the prophecies from the second chapter of the book of Daniel.

It was clearly shown that four universal empires would rule the world, symbolized by the different metals of the great image of Nebuchadnezzar's dream. These were, as acknowledged by leading historians Babylon, Medo-Persia, Grecia and Rome. The last named monarchy became weakened in the fourth century of the Christian era, by the inflowing tide of barbarians from the north, denoted in the prophecy by the mixture of iron and clay, and was finally divided into ten kingdoms, which according to prophecy will never again be consolidated in a universal monarchy. In the days of these kings the God of heaven shall set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed.

In a discourse Sunday afternoon the same ground was covered by making different symbols, recorded in the 7th chap. of Dan., treating in addition to the 4 universal kingdoms, the rise of the papacy in 538, A. D., and which was to continue, according to the text of the prophecy, 1260 prophetic days or as many years in our reckoning. Commencing in 538, A. D., this period would extend to 1778, when Berthier, the French General, took the Pope prisoner who died while in exile in France. Thus we see the plain fulfillment of predictions in God's Word, exactly recorded in history.

Sunday evening the longest prophetic period in the Bible was noticed, the remarks being based on Dan. 8:14, "Unto two thousand and three hundred days, then shall the sanctuary be cleansed." It was clearly shown that this period of days should be reckoned from the going forth of the decree to restore and build Jerusalem, which was issued in the year 457, B. C. Commencing the 2300 days at this period or date, they would extend to the fall of 1844, which marks the time of the great advent movement when Mr. Miller and his workers expected the Saviour to return the second time to this earth.

The mistakes of Mr. Miller and his associates were not in computing the prophetic periods, as is commonly supposed, but in the event that was to take place at the expiration of this period. The earth is not the sanctuary, as was supposed in the Advent movement. Since the passing of the time in 1844 several attempts have been made to readjust the time of the prophecy, and as a result many exact dates have been fixed for the second coming of Christ. But these dates have all passed without revealing the Son of Man in the clouds of heaven, thus showing the truthfulness of our Saviour's words: "But of that day and that hour knoweth no man; no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father," in comparison with man's folly in their repeated attempts at time setting.—CEM.

STONY LAKE ITEMS.

A Meeting of the Cottagers Association Called for Monday.

A meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association is called to assemble on Monday next at five o'clock in the afternoon at the Juniper Island store.

A number of questions of importance affecting the Islanders will come up for discussion. It is the intention to raise every effort to make the proposed regatta a success and the ways and means will come up for consideration at the meeting. Another question to be decided is the arrangement for the holding of regular religious services at which ministers of all denominations can be invited to speak and where the control will be vested in a committee.

Two young ladies from Toronto took their trolling lines in their hands, as well as their lives, last week and as they paddled along the young lady holding the lines felt that the hook had caught in some obstruction, presumably a log, but in another moment that peculiar tug so well known to fishermen, suggested the thought that there was something alive at the end of the line. Presently a monster fish leaped into the air to the young lady's great surprise, but pluck and muscle combined with great skill conquered the monster and he was soon drawn into the canoe. His captor thereupon threw herself upon him and killed him. How it was done no one can tell but her companion and she is dumb as to the manner of procedure. When weighed the fish tipped the scales at 19 pounds.

That that beautiful singing quality of tone which is inherent to the Mason & Risch Piano, and which is spoken of by connoisseurs as the "Mason & Risch tone" has been attained only by many years of labor and costly experiment?
Do you know that it has taken many years to gather together the skilled artizans who are employed by this firm? Nearly every country in Europe is represented in their staff in the different departments—men who have been "imported" by them owing to their more than ordinary ability in some particular department of piano construction.

IT has been held that consumption is hereditary, and the fact that one person of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop. There is no reason why the lungs should remain weak. Weak lungs predispose a child to consumption. They provide a place for germs to settle. That is all that is necessary. Once let the germs of disease gain a foot-hold, and they increase with a deadly rapidity. Pretty soon the blood is full of them, and so loses its healthfulness and its strength-giving qualities. If the weakness is in some other organ, the disease will show itself in that organ. The germs will get into the blood, just the same, and the body will begin to lose strength. We speak particularly of consumption because it is most common—because it causes more than one-fifth of all deaths in the world.

If there is a weak and crumbly spot in the foundation of a house, the owner clears out the decaying material, supplants it with new, strong stuff. That's all there is to do. That's all that's necessary.

That is exactly the thing to do with the lungs. Keep them full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be thrown off, and new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body. It exterminates them completely and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. It supplies the needed nutriment to all the tissues and makes sound, healthy flesh.

There are some interesting facts about it told in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This book of 1008 pages will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. A MONETARY PANIC.

Flurry in Commercial Catle and Postal Telegraph.

ALL THE STOCK MARKETS UPSET

Railway Issues Also Felt the Depression—Many Small Dealers Forced to the Wall—Millions of Gold Withdrawn From New York—Banks Refuse to Pay Gold.

Toronto, July 21.

There was a panic in Commercial Cable yesterday. On the sale of a few hundred shares of stock, the price broke from 142, the closing of last week, to 132, a clean 10 per cent. Postal Telegraph, its sister stock, got some support, the lowest prices being 72 3-4 in Montreal and 71 here. The latter is a decline of 3 1-4 per cent. from the closing of last week. The other speculative stocks that suffered are Montreal Gas, which is off 4, and Street Railway, which closed 1 1-2 per cent. lower.

Soon after the opening of the New York Stock Exchange it was apparent that holders of securities had taken alarm, and in spite of strenuous efforts to sustain values prices dropped quickly, so that by noon there was a decline of 3 to 5 per cent. in the leading railway issues.

The market, both here and in Montreal, lacked buying orders when the Exchange opened, and the depression and gloom arising from the panicky market on Wall-street resulted in the serious decline of 10 per cent. in Cable and smaller losses in other stocks named.

Brokers were dazed on getting the Montreal market, and the telephone and telegraph were freely used for getting in margins and orders. A great deal of money had been put up last week on these American issues (Cable and Postal), and some even had to sacrifice Canadian stocks so as to be able to respond to the calls for margins.

A great many of the small dealers, it is needless to say, have been sold out. Bankers are getting alarmed at the great decline in prices and are insisting on big margins, the more cautious of whom refuse to take Cable as collateral.

Many of the stocks dealt in on Wall-street yesterday sold lower than they did on the Venezuelan trouble in December, and some sold at the lowest prices on record. The London market for Americans was depressed, and a good deal of selling is coming from that quarter. There is a further advance in Sterling Exchange, which indicates large exports of gold to Europe this week. The United States Treasury reserve is now down to about $93,500,000, and unless this export of gold is stopped serious trouble may come in the near future.

Henry Clews says: "The humiliating political exhibition made at Chicago has no doubt in some measure checked that recovery of confidence for the time being. Not so much, perhaps, because it is regarded as threatening the success of the sound money cause in the coming election, as because the speech-making and the platforms (Chicago convention), appeared to disclose a state of popular discontent and a violence of party attitude which might be of the utmost importance did it truly represent the real sentiment of the masses of the West and South. On this account there has been a cessation of the London buying of American securities since the conclusion of the Chicago convention; and the foreign attitude is likely to remain that of reserve until the course of the election canvass affords fuller means of estimating the significance of the outbreak of socialistic demagogism which has so taken the country by surprise.

At the present moment the feeling excited by these Chicago performances is much less that of concern for the fate of the gold standard than one of alarm at the seeming spread of hostile sectionalism, of socialistic sentiment, of deliberate repudiation and of populism in an exaggerated form. Not a few people have drawn from these revolutionary planks of the platform the most pessimistic conclusions as to the future state of the country; and that sort of alarmism has found its sympathisers, and is used by the professional "bears" for disturbing confidence. These, however, are mainly the conclusions of shallow observers or hasty judges of events, who have not fairly weighed the question whether the millions of loyal citizens of the South and West have degenerated to the type of reckless revolutionists pictured in the lurid resolutions of the Chicago platform.

"Our politics and our politicians, however, are less pure than our people. There are few things which they allow to stand between them and power or spoils. If they have lost the confidence of the people, they know how to raise false issues by false representations in order to win the support of the masses most liable to be misled and most susceptible of being excited by inflaming issues. Pre-eminently that was the game played in the Chicago convention. The leaders of that gathering had no case on which they could appeal to the sober judgment of the country; they, therefore, created a fictitious one, expressly constructed to appeal to the masses of our least educated population. They boldly resorted to the desperate expedient of raising a campaign of passion and revolution; and the Chicago platform is the outcome of that daring scheme. Probably few will be more surprised at that outcome than the very people whom these delegates were chosen to represent No doubt, many of the farmers and planters will be captured by a program appealing so flatteringly to their cupidity; but it may surely be safely assumed that there is a much larger proportion who will resent the gross imputation upon their loyalty and good citizenship which this platform casts in their faces For one, I am far from being able to admit that this Union is made up of men who thus suddenly can be tempted into traitorship to its sacred bonds. I have too much confidence in the morals of Americans and in their faithfulness to their flag to believe that they can be thus misled, until their own votes have openly convicted them of lack of fealty."

Gold Going Out.

New York, July 20.—The sum of $3,380,000 gold was withdrawn from the sub-treasury to-day. Of this amount $3,030,000, consisting of $1,480,000 in coin and $1,550,000 in bars, is for export to Europe on to-morrow's steamer. The remaining $350,000, taken by Canadian banks, was for use here and not for export to Canada, as was reported earlier in the day.

Banks Refuse to Pay Gold.

Kansas City, July 20.—All Kansas City banks to-day ceased issuing gold, either in exchange for bills as payment of cheques or withdrawals of deposits. The reason given by the bankers here for this move is that it was the evident intention of many depositors to withdraw their deposits in gold and hoard the yellow metal, in the belief that it will go to a premium.

EXONERATING CECIL RHODES.

The Attorney-General of Cape Colony Issues a Report Relieving Him of Blame for the Raid.

London, July 20.—The Times' correspondent at Capt Town telegraphs that Sir Thomas Upington, Attorney-General of Cape Colony, in addition to signing the report of the Select Committees on the Jameson raid, has issued a minority report exonerating the London office of the British South Africa Company from any culpable knowledge of the raid, and declaring that the evidence is not sufficient to involve Cecil Rhodes in actual acquiescence in the invasion of the Transvaal, but that it does show that when Rhodes became aware of it he did everything he possibly could to prevent a further inroad into the territory of the Boers.

It is evident that Sir Thomas Upington's report is intended to clear Rhodes in his capacity as Premier of Cape Colony from any responsibility for the raid.

HIS PAST A BLANK.

Herbert C. Spencer of Lawrence, Kan., Has a Disease Known as Mental Blindness His Identity Discovered.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 20.—A curious case of loss of memory was made public yesterday by the identity of the victim being discovered. A well-dressed young man accosted a policeman on the street on March 6 last and told him that he was lost and had no recollection of who he was or where he came from. The man was sober, perfectly rational, and, aside from his loss of memory, well balanced mentally. The man's entire past life was completely erased from his mind and he had no recollection of anything prior to the time he spoke to the policeman.

He was sent to Philadelphia Hospital, and as he was well educated and remembered what he had learned he was made clerk to the chief physician of the institution. He was given the name of "George Brant," and until yesterday was known by that name. Yesterday Dr. Robinson of Lawrence, Kan., a young resident physician at the hospital, happened into the chief physician's office and recognised "George" as a fellow townsman and college chum of his own, named Herbert C. Spencer.

Spencer is the son of Selden P. Spencer of Lawrence, Kan., and the last his family heard from him was in Washington, D.C., on Jan. 27 last. Mr. Spencer was telegraphed for and is now on his way here to take his son home. Spencer's disease is known as amnesia, or mind blindness. Spencer had no recollection of Robinson, and could recall nothing of his past life when it was repeated to him. Dr. Easterlay, another townsman of Spencer's, also identified him.

Science's Explanation of Moonlight

"The moon is a mirror which reflects the sunlight to us," writes Alden W. Quimby in Ladies' Home Journal. "An examination of moonlight with the spectroscope shows, of course, the same spectrum as that of sunlight. This quality of the reflection is indicated in the announcement that it would take no fewer than 618,000 full moons to supply to us an amount of light equal to that which we get from the sun, and there is only sky room for, say, 75,000 of them. Some heat comes from the moon, but ordinary methods will not measure it. However, it is estimated that it is about 1-80,000 of the amount which the sun supplies to us. The inclination of the moon's orbit to the horizon accounts for the 'Harvest' and the 'Hunter's' moon, which occur when the tipping is slightest, thus permitting the moon to rise about the same time for several successive evenings. The moon often appears much enlarged when on the horizon, but this is caused by the refractive feature of the air about the horizon and the natural tendency to compare it with terrestrial objects."

Effectual.

Charles J. Booth, Olivewood, Cal., says: "I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for several years, and have always found them most effectual in the relief of ailments arising from a disordered stomach, torpid liver and constipated bowels.

HOW THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

"Going to Insure."

THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." On application to either of the undermentioned gentlemen, full particulars will be furnished in regard to the Unconditional Accumulative Policy issued by the

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A Wife's Duty.

All my fair correspondents seem to dread in marriage the demand for obedience. Gentle readers, you need not be in the least alarmed, or, rather, you may recognize at once, for your comfort, that there are many things in which a husband must have his own way and as many in which you must have yours. Consider, if you please, that the man is out and at work all day long; in the evening he wants a calm, well-regulated home or a little society. Remember, also, that the most ideal of all men will still retain the masculine love of a dinner daintily served and well prepared—I never yet knew a man worth his salt who was indifferent to his dinner—and remember that the most ideal husband in the world will still retain masculine desire that his wife shall be always well dressed and looking her best and brightest. If he is successful, it is his wife who receives the harvest of his labors. Remember what he does for you—it is his obedience to you that makes him work so hard, and then, I think, you will not grudge that little study of a few things, mostly trifles, which he asks of you.—Walter Besant.

Winter Cress a Common Weed.

Since the first of May, dots of yellow bloom have been frequent in the grass lands both high and low, and along the highways and railroads. A large portion of these clusters are of winter cress, one of our weedy mustards. It is a biennial plant, and dies upon fruiting. It is quite apparent that this weed is on the increase and is much too frequent; a description of it, with illustrations, is offered with the desire to reduce the numbers of the pest.

Winter cress, Barbera vulgaris, shows its clusters of dark green leaves in the fall and winter; with spring the shoots, bearing branches with numerous flower clusters, soon grow up. The character of these parts is shown in the cut. Short, narrow pods filled with seeds follow the yellow, four-petaled, cross-shaped flowers. The seeds find their way with grain or among grass and clover seeds and may germinate soon, or under unfavorable conditions may remain a long while dormant and plague the cultivator who undertakes to clear the land of them. Only the most thorough cultivation can usually free the infested land from these mustard enemies, so that methods of extermination are the same for all.

When a weed requires a portion of each of two seasons for its maturity, the chances to destroy it are increased. In all plants which are spread or propagated exclusively by seeds, as this one is, the remedy should be applied to prevent maturity of seeds.—A. D. Selby, botanist Ohio Experiment Station, in Ohio Farmer.

What you want when you are ailing is a medicine that will cure you. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla and be convinced of its merit.

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and and lung troubles.

THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD

METEORITE MYSTERY.

Journey That Would Take Seven Million Years to Cover.

When a meteorite strikes the earth it ends a journey of 7,000,000 years, begun centuries before the Christian era. This is on the basis that it came from a star, for it would, according to astronomical calculation, require the full time given to make the trip from star to earth.

Just what these meteorites are and from whence they come are things that even those who have spent their lives in studying the stars can yet do barely more than conjecture.

An article on this subject from the pen of Camille Flammarion, the great French astronomer, has just appeared in Paris, and is of especial interest, as it gives hitherto unpublished details regarding the great aerolite that burst over Spain the month before last.

"The sun was shining brightly in the blue sky, when at 9.26:32 o'clock in the forenoon of Monday, February 10, the people of Madrid suddenly saw a flash of blindingly brilliant light in the sky above them, which seemed to set the whole heavens aflame. It appeared to emanate from a white cloud, which hung like a puff of smoke high up toward the zenith, having the form of a semicircle, with its convex side toward the east and tipped with a crimson hue at its outer edge."

M. Flammarion says that a projectile sent from the earth with a speed of 11,000 meters (nearly 37,000 feet) per second—allowance being made for the resistance of the air—would never fall back to the earth.

A projectile sent with a speed of 10,000 to 11,000 meters, (a meter is about 3.28 feet) would fall only after hundreds of thousands of years. A projectile launched with an initial velocity of from 9,000 to 10,000 meters per second would fall after thousands of years.

"Therefore, it seems," says M. Flammarion, "that a certain number of meteorites must come from these different sources. Without doubt some of them may be the dust of defunct worlds wandering in space. But their analogy with the interior rocks of the terrestrial globe would seem to indicate that many of them come from our own planet. Those which arrive with a small velocity may have the moon for their origin, but the great speed with which some of them strike the earth indicates that they come from some star. From the nearest start to the earth is a journey which it would take a meteorite no less than 7,000,000 of years to make."

Stars and Planets.

Some people find a curious difficulty in mentally distinguishing between stars and planets. Again and again they hear that stars are suns and planets are worlds; that a sun is not a world, and that a planet is not a star, and their confusion of mind on the subjectremains untouched. Yet the distinction is not really difficult to grasp, and to see it clearly is quite essential to any understanding of the heavens. Our sun is a star, brother to all those twinkling points which lie scattered over the night sky. Our world is not a star, but a planet, sister to the few shining but non-twinkling bodies that appear to wander slowly among the stars. The planets belong to our solar system—all of them, without exception, that we are able to see. Other planets belonging to other suns may and doubtless do exist in countless millions through the universe, but we have no power to detect their presence. They, like the planets which belong to our sun, shine by the reflected brightness of their particular star, not by their own intrinsic radiance, and so they cannot be seen at a very great distance. Any watcher with eyesight and telescopes such as ours, gazing from the region of any star in the sky, outside our solar system, would see nothing whatever of the planets or the moons of our system. He might make out the sun, as a more or less dim star; he would not be able to detect Jupiter or Saturn, still less our little earth.

And it must be remembered that every single star in the whole universe lies outside our solar system, with only one exception. That exception is our sun. So by the solar system we mean the little family or kingdom of one star, known to us as the sun, and that star is one of tens of millions of stars, which altogether make up the enormous stellar system, and that stellar system is doubtless one of very many—perhaps millions—of stellar systems, all of which together make up the created universe, using that word in its older and not in its more modern sense. —Chambers' Journal.

HOT WEATHER BLUES

And Paine's Celery Compound.

The hot, fiery weather of midsummer is extremely trying to those who are weak, nervous, sleepless and used up. Just at this time, half-well people suffer from what is termed "hot weather blues." This means tired, weary feelings, and an oppression that makes daily life a burden. When the "hot weather blues" overcome a person, there is always a great lack of nerve force and power, and bodily strength is at a low ebb.

Many will ask, "what can we do that we may be enabled to attend to business and enjoy life like others around us? Why, do just as thousands of others have done, banish the cause of the "blues" by using Paine's Celery Compound for a few weeks. This marvellous tonic medicine will restore your vitality; it will cleanse the blood and give you new feelings and aspirations.

Thousands have found Paine's Celery Compound to be an invaluable agent in the hot weather for keeping up activity, appetite, perfect digestion, and for promoting sweet and refreshing sleep. Paine's Celery Compound will banish the "blues," and put every weary and used up man and woman in such a condition, that work will be a pleasure, and life will be worth living.

"Have tried others, but like Ayer's best" is the statement made over and over again by those who testify to the benefit derived from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Disease never had a greater enemy than this powerful blood-purifier. It makes the weak strong.

A UNIQUE AFFAIR

Was the Bicycle Fete Given in Turin by Princess Letitia Bonaparte to Her Friends.

New York, July 19.—The Sun's London special says: The fashionable folk of Turin are lost in admiration of the daringly original fete given by Princess Letitia Bonaparte, daughter of Prince Bonaparte and cousin of King Humbert. The Princess is passionately devoted to cycling, and the fete was characteristic of her favorite pastime. It took place at night in the park attached to the royal castle. The entire park was beautifully illuminated with colored lanterns, and here and there throughout the grounds were concealed orchestras of mandolin and guitar players. The invited guests comprised fifty-eight couples, all belonging to the highest Turin aristocracy, and each brought a bicycle by royal request. The ladies wore white dresses and the men orthodox cycling costumes.

The earlier part of the night was devoted to racing, always in couples, and just before supper a charming minuet was wheeled by the full strength of the noble company. Supper was served at midnight al fresco, after which there was more racing and minuetting until sunrise, when a grand parade before the Princess concluded the remarkable revels. The affair was such a pronounced success that it will be repeated.

Three Lives Were Lost.

Chicago, July 19.—It was learned early this morning that three persons lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the Chicago City Railway Company's barns last night. The dead are: Frank Crosby, tow boy; W. L. Elwell, driver; Patrick Martin, conductor. The bodies were identified by articles found on them.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

St. John, N.B., July 20.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which since been chronicled had caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

scrofula

Any doctor will tell you that Professor Hare, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, is one of the highest authorities in the world on the action of drugs. In his last work, speaking of the treatment of scrofula, he says:

"It is hardly necessary to state that cod-liver oil is the best remedy of all. The oil should be given in emulsion, so prepared as to be palatable."

He also says that the hypophosphites should be combined with the oil.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is precisely such a preparation.

THE HOUSE WILL SIT LATE.

Mr. Balfour Moves the Suspension of the 12 o'Clock Rule.

London, July 20.—In the House of Commons to-day Right Hon. Arthur Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, and the Government leader in the House, moved to suspend the 12 o'clock rule, under which the House rises at midnight, until the close of the session. Mr. Balfour maintained that the lengthening of the sittings was necessary to facilitate the discussion of the Irish Land Bill. Sir William Harcourt, the Opposition leader, opposed the motion, charging the Government with bringing the House into the contempt of the country. The motion was carried by a vote of 293 to 106.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.

A Dastardly Attempt to Derail an Excursion Train Fails.

Boonville, Mo., July 20.—An attempt was made yesterday to wreck an excursion train on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, a mile north of Pleasant Green, Cooper County. Ties were piled on the track and were not seen by the engineer. The speed was slow and the train was not derailed. There were 350 excursionists on board, returning to St. Louis. An attempt was made to wreck the north-bound mail train on the same road near Boonville this morning, but the attempt was also unsuccessful.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof :—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

THE WASHINGTON Y. P. CONVENTION.

REPORT OF DR. CLARKE'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

The Chief Planks of the History of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour.

Mr. T. H. Martin, the Peterborough delegate to the great Endeavour convention at Washington, contributes another letter on the work as follows :—

We will this week endeavour to give a condensed report of Dr. Clarke's annual address, also that of Secretary Baer.

Dr. Clarke says :—"Our Christian Endeavour platform was built for us at the beginning by Providence. Its strength has been revealed by our history and I only need write in words what God has written in deeds. If I read our history aright these are its chief planks :—

1. Our covenant prayer meeting pledge—the magna charta of Christian Endeavour.

2. Our consecration meeting—guaranteeing the spiritual character of the Society.

3. Our committees—giving to each active member some specific and definite work "For Christ and the Church."

4. Our interdenominational and international fellowship, based upon our denominational and national loyalty.

5. Our individual independence and self-government, free from control of united society, state or local union, convention or committee, all of which exist for fellowship and inspiration, not for legislation.

6. Our individual subordination as societies to our own churches of which we claim to be an integral, organic, inseparable part.

7. Our Christian citizenship plank—our country for Christ, but as a society no entangling political alliances. Our missionary plank—Christ for the world.

8. Our ultimate purpose—to deepen the spiritual life and raise the religious standards of young people the world over.

THE HISTORY BRIEFLY SUMMARIZED.

During the past fifteen years forty-six thousand societies have been formed. Five millions of Endeavourers have been enrolled, of whom 2,700,000 are to-day members. Two millions of others, Endeavourers in all but name, have been enrolled in purely denominational societies. Ten million meetings have been held. Five million copies of the constitution have been printed in forty different languages and fifteen million copies of the pledge. Over one million associate members have come into the evangelical churches. Two million dollars have been given in benevolence through denominational and church channels." The past is secure, you say. Not so, unless we

SECURE THE FUTURE

by learning the lessons of the past. Christian Endeavour is a practical paradox. It has married oppositions—a reconciler of irreconcilables. First, it has married the ideas of denominational national fidelity and fellowship between denominations. Christian Endeavour has created a new idea which has required a new word, "interdenominationalism," a denominationalism which has not sectarianism on one side and carenothingism on the other. Christian Endeavourers, mind your prefixes, not "un," nor "non," but "inter." Look at these entwined flags. "Old Glory" if we live in the United States, the Union Jack if we live in England and Canada, interlinked they tell of a world-wide brotherhood, "Loyalty and Brotherhood—one and inseparable." Secondly, our

OBEDIENCE AND INDEPENCE.

Christian Endeavour stands for self-government—yet wholly governed by its own church; no united society, convention or union, and no committee of evangelism, good citizenship or mission, shall legislate for or seek to control any society. "Obedience and independence—one and inseparable." Thirdly our patriotism and humanity. Good citizenship and missions have gone hand and hand. "Our country for Christ—Christ for the world." It means good rules and good laws. It means the abolition of the saloon. It means inflexible opposition to all unrighteousness, not simply on our own land but all over the world, and above all that His kingdom may come and His will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Fourth, our C. E. platform stands for organization.

IT STANDS FOR SPIRITUAL POWER.

Organization without spiritual power is a dumb, dead, impotent thing. But spirituality and organization may move the world. The organization is practically complete, the future conquest is a question of power. Christian Endeavourers, "Ask and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find." Spiritual power is as free as the sunlight, and as abundant as electricity. "Saved to serve" is the motto.

The watchword for the ensuing year is, "Be conductors, willing wires, the live wires along which may run the power of God to every part of our organization." This is the only true secret of true success. Not by might, nor by power, nor by organization, nor by committees, "but by my faith saith the Lord," working through these mediums. Oh that by some word of burning eloquence I might lay this thought on the heart of every Endeavourer throughout the world! This word is not mine to speak. It is not any man's to utter. Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Comforter speak Thou the word that makes our organization live. Each convention has been signalled by some advance step or some great thought. "Citizenship," "Missions," and "Fellowship," have been our watchwords at conventions in the past, and are our watchwords still. A step once gained we will not lose. Here is the greatest and best: "Spiritual Power, Washington, '96." May it live in history as the convention of God's power, 1896 96, the year of God's energizing might in Christian Endeavour.

The following is Secretary Willis Baer's report :

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR.

"It is like a grain of mustard seed which a man took and cast into his garden and it grew and waxed a great tree, and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it. In presenting his report Mr. Baer says these few lines give a brief and most accurate account of the beginning and the progress of Christian Endeavour.

THE EXTENT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR.

Of the States that have over one thousand societies, Pennsylvania still leads with 3,273 societies, New York, 2,971, Ohio, 2,311, Ontario taking fourth place with 1,817. The figures do not include the numerous other branches of Christian Endeavour, the juniors, the intermediate, the mothers and the senior societies. The juniors will claim our first attention. There are 10,084 junior societies, 115 intermediate, 80 mother societies, 20 senior societies. We cannot pass by the growth of the Canadian and foreign branches. All Canada has 2,293 societies. In foreign and missionary lands 6,399 societies are enrolled. The United Kingdom has 3,000, Australia 2,000, France 65, West Indies 65, India 138, Mexico 62, Turkey 41, Africa 33, China 40, Germany 18, Japan 66, Madagascar 98 and so on until every country in the world save three is represented, making a grand total 46,125 branches.

THE WORK DONE.

Some of the points—systematic Bible study; circulation of good literature; denominational loyalty intensified; reunions encouraged; Sunday schools enlarged; open air gospel meetings; evangelistic services held in asylums, prisons, reformatories, volunteers for mission fields, more money for missions and in many other ways Christ's Kingdom enlarged. 8,000 societies gave $150,000.00 for missions and these same societies have given $200,000.00 "for Christ and the Church." One society gave $1100, another $1000, for missions alone. This represents only 8,000 societies who have taken the trouble to enroll. These figures would have been greatly swelled if the 40,000 other societies had reported. There is other good fruit such as open hostility to Sabbath desecration, race track, gambling and aggressive warfare against the saloon. Then another fruit, the growth of the interdenominational fellowship. The standing of the respective denominations are as follows: In the United States the Presbyterians lead with 5,458 Young People's and 2,599 junior societies; Congregationalists, 4,109 Young People's and 2,077 junior societies; Disciples of Christ and Christians, 2,941 young people's and 1,087 juniors; Baptists, 2,709 young people's and 927 junior societies; Methodist, Protestants, 975 young people's and 302 junior societies; Lutherans, 854 young people's and 298 junior societies. In Canada the Methodists lead with 1,041 young people's and 150 junior societies; Presbyterians, 1,024 young people's and 134 junior societies; Baptists, 173 young people's and 34 junior societies; Congregationalists, 103 young people's and 40 junior societies. In the United Kingdom the Baptists lead with 900, Congregationalists a close second, the Methodists following 700 societies. In Australia the Methodists lead. The total number of societies in the world is 46,125, with a membership of 2,750,000, and, the best of all, 21,500 juniors have joined the church during the past year, and from the Young People's Societies 210,400, or in all 231,900 have from the Christian Endeavour taken place in the Church of the living God.

THE PRESENTATION OF BANNERS.

Scotland won the banner for the greatest proportionate increase in number of societies. England receives the banner for the greatest absolute increase in number of societies. Pennsylvania retains the banner for the greates absolute increase in junior societies, while Mexico takes the banner for the greatest proportionate increase in junior societies.

NOTES.

The report of committee conferences and other plans of work will be presented by the delegats at the different rallies.

Dr. and Mrs. Clarke leave this week for an extended tour over the eastern continent. They intend visiting England, France, Germany, Spain, India, South Africa, China and many other places before they return. The societies extend greetings to these foreign lands through their president, Dr. Clarke.

Hats are Trump

Keep Cool as a Cucumber.

We Can Settle The Hat Question.

"It's a Dead Sure Thing." The next seven days will make a big hole in our Hat stock, and settle the hat question. There's bustle to this business. The crowds come pouring into our "Two Big Stores" to our Slashing July Sale look like as if we were GIVING GOODS AWAY. We are not exactly doing that but we are coming pretty close to it. Not because we want to but because we must clear out our Summer Stocks. We make less on Men's Hats than on anything else, and there's nothing else appeals so directly to a man's head. We are making prices of Hats so low that anybody can raise the wind, and have a change of Hat for week days and Sundays.

The "New York" Hat.

This is our newest, nobby novelty, direct from Messrs. Eichhold & Miller, the Hat manufacturer of New York, makers of the celebrated Enfield Hats. They knew where they would have the biggest outlet for their leading Hat in Peterborough and sold them to us only. They come in Stiffs, Softs and Fedoras, in all shades and sizes. High-toned Hatters get $3 for the "New York" Hat, but we don't have to, for the makers have put us in a position to sell them to high-toned gentlemen for..... $1.75

Wilkinson's "Stanley."

Who has not heard of or worn this favourite English hat, of which we are the sole handlers here. The "Stanley" is made of the very purest fur felt. They sell easily at $2.50 and $3, by hatters who have to pay $19.50 and $24 per dozen for them. We have re-marked these hats for our July Sale and crowd the price down to..... $1.50

Belgium $1.00 Hats.

These are the showiest Hats we've ever sold for a dollar. They have pure silk bands, summer shades and crown and rim forms to suit oval, round or squarish faces; made of beautiful soft fur and in taking light weights. Best shapes and colours and recognized as a popular Tourist Hat. We don't say what they are worth, but others ask double the money for the Belgium Hat, we sell for..... $1.00

Maud Miller on a summer day,
Raked the meadows sweet with hay,
Now Maud might rake the world in vain
To find Straw Hats so low again.

English Wool Fedoras.

Our "Special" line of Fedoras, that hatters would scorn to take less than $1.50 and $2, we sell you for 75c. Its a wonderfully fine hat for the price and have been going with a whirl at $1.50 up till now. But we have other lines of our Wool Fedoras which no one else can match in value, because they start at..... .25

Boy's Caps.

As much style in our Boy's and Youth's stock as in our Men's—Knockabouts, School Caps, Tweed Caps, Bicycle Caps. We dump in a dozen lines that would ordinary go like hot cakes, at 25c to 50c, for..... .10 .15 .20 .25

Men's Boating Caps,

Bicycle Caps, Tennis Caps, with the prices all cut it two to clear them out. Money does not come so easy to every man nowadays that he should pay the hatters of fancy prices. Nothing newer than than what we have in stock. Starting price..... .35

Men's and Boy's Straws.

In addition to the wagon loads Straw Hats we had on hand, we secured a snapping bargain in 2 cases of American Straws the other day from a large New York house. We can sell a $1 split-straw, fine braided, fine trimmed and silk banded Straw for 60c. We have Straws for all ages—the 49c line, soft or stiff brim, with black and coloured bands, are great value at.. 30

These are only a few of the HALF-PRICE offerings, but you can take them as a fair criterion for all the other prices during our Slashing July Sale. You know, or should know, that we are always getting the best possible goods at the LOWEST prices—and that's the sort of refreshing ozone that refreshes all kinds of pocket books. Come in and blow yourself. Whether you are taking a holiday or not, remember WE ARE GIVING THE PROFITS ON HATS A HOLIDAY.

Our next Slashing Sale will be in Boy's Clothing, but if you or the boys need a Hat just now, you might get the bargains in Clothing, now, too, as well as in the Hats.

HE LEFT HIS WIFE.

A Brantford Woman Did Not Relish Getting Left.

SHE MOUNTED HER SILENT STEED

And Ran Her Recreant Hubby to Earth—Went to Buffalo Mrs. D. D. Cole and Came Away Miss Martha Campbell, Having Secured a Divorce.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 21.—David D. Cole is missing. Behind the fact of Cole's disappearance is the story of an elopement, which was recited this morning before Judge Titus in the Supreme Court Chambers. Cole, who is but 24 years of age, came to Buffalo from Brantford, Ont., last December, with a young woman whom he introduced as his wife. Being a skilled bicycle operator, he quickly obtained employment and settled down at No. 444 Rhode Island-street, where he appeared to live happily until a couple of weeks ago, when another Mrs. David D. Cole put in an appearance. Then the excitement began, which culminated this morning in the judicial chambers.

It appears that Cole was married in Brantford to Miss Martha Campbell a year ago last May. Last December he eloped one fair night from Brantford with Miss Nellie Sanford; this was the woman with whom he arrived in Buffalo and introduced as his wife. For a long time his wife did not know where he was, but finally located him in Buffalo and she arrived in this city two weeks ago.

Here is where the interesting part of the case comes in. Mrs. Martha Cole is a strong limbed young woman, good looking, and an expert bicycle rider. As soon as the roads were in good condition she set out to hunt up her husband on her bike, which is a machine that was made by her husband. She rode from Brantford to Galt; thence to London; then, turning east again, she rode to Hamilton and then to Toronto. As she went along she canvassed every bicycle factory for her husband, knowing that was his trade, and that he would undoubtedly go to a bike factory to look for employment as soon as he had determined upon a place to settle down.

From Toronto she rode back to Hamilton, and thence to St. Catharines. At a bicycle shop in that city she heard of her husband from an employe of a machine shop there, who said that Cole was working some place in Buffalo. Then she wheeled on to Buffalo, and arrived here two weeks ago. She searched through the bicycle shops of the city and located her husband at the shops on Massachusetts-street.

Then she retained Attorney George Riley, and in a most businesslike manner began an action against her husband for a bill of divorce. The motion was returnable this morning before Judge Titus in Chambers, when the young woman appeared in a neat cycling costume, with two witnesses, who swore that David D. Cole lived in Buffalo with Nellie Sanford as his wife. Cole did not appear and his place at the bike factory was vacant Monday morning. He had taken Nellie Sanford and had returned to Canada. Judge Titus granted Mrs. Martha Cole a bill of absolute divorce. Mrs. Cole has permission to resume her maiden name and will ride back to Brantford, Ont., as Miss Martha Campbell.

JAMESON'S TRIAL PROCEEDS.

Sir Edward Clarke's Motion to Quash the Indictment Rejected.

London, July 21.—The trial of Dr. Jameson and his fellow-officers was resumed this morning. The court rejected the motion made by Sir Edward Clarke, senior counsel of the defence, yesterday, that the indictment be quashed upon the ground that the case did not come under the operation of the Foreign Enlistment Act, under which the defendants were charged. Sir R. E. Webster, Attorney-General, opened the case for the Government.

DEADLY WORK IN CRETE.

The Turks Lost 200 Killed and 600 Wounded to 25 Dead Cretans.

New York, July 21.—A special to The Herald from Athens says: There has been continuous fighting in Crete during the last few days. The Turks have been trying to capture heights on the Kissamo-road. If they could capture this position they would cut off a portion of Crete from the rest of the islands. The Turks lost 200 killed and 600 wounded. The Cretan loss was 25 killed and 60 wounded.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA

Prof. Prince Opposes the Planting of Carp.

THEY CROWD OUT THE BETTER FISH

An Explanation From Mr. Thomas Murray—Col. Aylmer Appointed Adjutant-General of Militia—The Printing Bureau Again—New Rifles to be Issued at Once.

Ottawa, July 21.—Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, is strongly opposed to the planting of carp in Canadian waters. Speaking to your correspondent to-day, he said that many people in Ontario controlling lake or other streams had secured supplies of carp from the United States and planted them in our waters, although this fish is of very inferior quality and of little value. They breed fast and crowd the better class of fish out, devouring the food which the native fish requires. Some years ago carp were planted in Lake Erie and our fishermen often find good-sized carp in their nets, ranging all the way from 5 to 10 pounds, in place of white fish and salmon trout, which are more marketable fishes. Prof. Prince points out that carp are greatly subject to parasitical pests, consequently should not be cultivated as food fish.

It appears that an injustice was done Mr. Thomas Murray, ex-M. P., in the recent reference made to him in connection with the portfolio held by the English-speaking Catholics, Mr. Murray, in a letter which appears in The Free Press to-day, says his former letter was not intended for publication. He goes on to say: "I suppose it was an oversight on my part not to have said so, but I thought from the wording of the letter it would be so understood. Whilst my convictions are strong as to the propriety of Hon. R. W. Scott being made one of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier's Ministers, I do not wish to appear so conspicuous in the matter. Besides, I would not have made the reference to myself other than in a private communication. I am pleased, however, that you have so fairly and favorably endorsed my views in connection with the name of the Hon. R. W. Scott, and I sincerely trust that the publication of my letter will not at least prejudicially affect the recognition that I might say, in one sense of the word, is due that gentleman. As you have published my former letter I wish you to publish this in the way of explanation."

A special general order promulgated to-day conveys the following information: His Excellency the Governor-General in Council was, on the 17th day of July, 1896, pleased to appoint Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Matthew Aylmer, assistant adjutant general at headquarters, to be Adjutant-General of militia, dating from the 1st of January, 1896.

Lieut.-Col. Aylmer is granted the rank of colonel in the militia.

The Free Press again seriously discusses the proposal to abolish the Government Printing Bureau and says it is true that under certain conditions the building might be available for the purposes of the geological museum, but generally it is unsuited for the purpose. It would make a better storehouse for the Militia Department, which is also needed. "But we are of the opinion," says The Free Press, "that a new building will be necessary for the geological museum. When the finances of the country permit, the money will certainly not be grudged, but at present we cannot afford it. The existing structure is certainly inadequate and to some extent unsafe, but we fear it will have to do duty for a little longer. When the new house is built it may also embrace accommodation for the national gallery, fishery exhibit, etc.

Of the 2000 stand of Lee-Enfield rifles which arrived from England a few days ago, enough will be issued immediately to arm the permanent infantry corps, about 400. The Lee Metfords, with which they have been armed, will be called in. This course is adopted that the permanent corps men may be fully up to date in instructing the militia with the newest rifle.

In a few days one battery of the new 12 pounder field guns is expected to arrive from England, with ammunition enough to correspond with the consignment. These guns have a pole attachment for the horse, instead of the shafts to which Canadian artillery horses have been accustomed.

Le Temps says Mr. Tarte has received scores of letters from the Province of Quebec asking for immediate dismissal of Mr. E. Roy, secretary of the Public Works Department, for taking part against the Liberals in the recent elections. Yesterday Mr. Tarte visited Mr. Roy's office in the course of a departmental round with the deputy minister, and showed Mr. Roy some of these letters, who emphatically denied having made a single speech during the recent struggle. "Well," said Mr. Tarte, "I accept your word of honor, but if it be true that you have taken part in the contest I will dismiss you immediately."

Hon. Mr. Paterson returned to the city to-day.

Mr. Tarte went to Montreal this afternoon.

Sir Richard Cartwright returns to Ottawa to-morrow.

Six hundred visitors from Ogdensburg were in the city to-day.

Mr. Bostock, M.P. for Yale, Cariboo, left for Toronto this morning. He has been here some days, where he created a very favorable impression. Mr. Bostock is a young Englishman who has large interests in British Columbia. He is a Cambridge University man.

The Police Commissioners met to-day to consider the appointment of a chief of police. No conclusion was reached, each commissioner seemingly having his own nominee.

But He's Still a Butcher.

London, July 21.—A despatch to the Central News from Havana says that on the recent occasion of the anniversary of the birth of the Queen Regent of Spain, Captain-General Weyler caused 112 political prisoners to be released in honor of the day.

Another of Many Bloody Fights.

Constantinople, July 21.—Serious disturbances recently occurred at Niksar, in the Vilayet of Sivas, between Mussulmans and Armenian Christians. Sixty of the former and 240 of the latter were killed.

FIRST STAGE OVER

And Five Canadians Will Get Into the Final.

SHOOTING FOR THE QUEEN'S PRIZE

Hayhurst Two Points Behind His Record of Last Year at the Same Stage—Many Ties in the Competition—Winners in the Graphic Match at Bisley.

Bisley Camp, July 21.—The shooting at the 600 yards range in the first stage of the match for the Queen's Prize took place to-day in bright weather, but with a strong wind. The possible was 35, and the Canadians scored as follows:

Pte. Hayhurst, 13th Batt., 32; Lieut. King, 45th Batt., 28; Pte. Campbell, 45th Batt., 28; Sergt. Lavers, 6th Batt., 28; Pte. Langstroth, 74th Batt., 26; Major Macdonald, 48th Batt., 25; Sgt. Crowe, 1st B. F. A., 25; Sergt. Mitchell, 13th Batt., 25; Pte. Neill, 71st Batt., 24; Lieut. Munro, 44th Batt., 23; Lieut. Runions, 59th Batt., 23; Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., 22; Pte. Armstrong, 10th Batt., 22; Lieut. Weller, 59th Batt., 21; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th Batt., 20; Lieut. Ogg, 1st B. F. A., 20; Lieut. Bent, 93rd Batt., 19; Capt. Spearing, 53rd Batt., 18; Sergt.-Major Huggins, 13th Batt., 17; Staff-Sergt. Harp, 48th Batt., 16.

The aggregates made by the Canadians in the three ranges—200, 500 and 600 yards—comprising the first stage, were:

Hayhurst 98, Campbell 90, Crowe 89, Sergt. Mitchell 87, Lieut. Mitchell 84, Neill 83, Munro 82, Lavers 82, Langstroth 81, King 81, Weller 80, Ogg 79, Ross 79, Macdonald 79, Spearing 76, Armstrong 76, Runions 75, Bent 71, Harp 70, Huggins 63.

Last year Hayhurst's total at the same stage was 95.

The winner of the first stage was Pte. Wilson of the London Scottish, whose aggregate of 96 wins the bronze medal.

Hayhurst, Campbell, Crowe, Sergt. Mitchell and Neill of Canada are among the 300 marksmen who will shoot in the second stage for the Queen's Prize on Thursday.

Lavers, Munro and 75 others, whose aggregate scores were 82, will shoot off their tie to-morrow for 51 places in the 300.

The possible score in the Queen's Prize is 330. Last year Hayhurst of Canada and Boyd of the 3rd Lanarks tied at 279, Hayhurst winning in the shoot-off.

In the third series of the Scurry competition, five shots at 600 yards, Sergt. Crowe took a prize with a score of 23. Lieuts. Bent and Ross also win £1 prizes in the same competition.

The silver cup donated by the proprietors of The Daily Graphic is valued at £52 10s. The proprietors also donate framed sketches valued at ten guineas each, to which the National Rifle Association adds £340, making 126 prizes to be shot for. It is a squadded competition, open to all, seven shots at 200 yards, any position. The Canadians made the following scores:

Major Macdonald, 48th Batt., 34; Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., 32; Staff-Sergt. Harp, 48th Batt., 31; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th Batt., 31; Lieut. Ogg, 1st B. F. A., 31; Pte. Langstroth, 74th Batt., 31; Lieut. Munro, 44th Batt., 30; Sergt. Mitchell, 13th Batt., 30; Pte. Hayhurst, 13th Batt., 30; Sergt. Crowe, 1st B. F. A., 30; Lieut. King, 45th Batt., 29; Pte Armstrong, 10th Batt., 29; Sergt.-Major Huggins, 13th Batt., 29; Lieut. Runions, 59th Batt., 29; Lieut. Weller, 59th Batt., 28; Pte. Neill, 71st Batt., 28; Sergt. Lavers, 6th Batt., 28; Capt. Spearing, 53rd Batt., 27; Pte. Campbell, 45th Batt., 27; Lieut. Bent, 93rd Batt., 28.

The highest score in the above match is 35, and there are several 34s. Major Macdonald will probably be fifth, in which case he will secure three sketches valued at 10 guineas each and a money prize of £5. Lieut. King and Pte. Langstroth will each win £2.

In the shooting for the Martini Cup at the 200-yard range, these scores were made by the Canadians: Lieut. Mitchell 29, King and Weller 28 each, Munro 27, Ross 26. Lavers, Harp, McDonald and Ogg each 25, Spearing and Langstroth each 24, Sergeant Mitchell, Campbell and Huggins each 22, Bent and Armstrong each 21, Crowe 20, Hayhurst and Runions each 18, Neill 16.

King, Langstroth, Lieut. Mitchell and Weller won small money prizes in the shooting for the Queen's Prize.

Small money prizes were taken by Weller and Ross in the Stewards' Cup contest. In the shooting for the Cooper prize the Canadians' scores were: Campbell 32, McDonald 31 and Lieut. Mitchell and Neill 30 each.

WINNIPEG IS FULL.

Strangers are Sleeping in Billiard Rooms—It is a Reminder of the Boom—All on Account of the Fair.

Winnipeg, July 21.—(Special.)—Winnipeg was never so full of visitors as at present, a great number coming from the west, and not a few from Eastern Canada, the railroads having granted cheap rates for the Winnipeg Exposition, which is now on. The hotels are putting cots in the billiard rooms and hallways to accommodate the overflow. The scene recalls to old-timers the palmy days of the real estate boom. Toronto and Montreal artists are the principal exhibitors at the exhibition art exhibit.

BURGLARS AT BOTHWELL.

The Postoffice Entered and the Safe and Front of the Building Wrecked.

Bothwell, July 21.—Last night burglars entered the postoffice here and blew the safe up, utterly destroying it. The thieves, however, must have been frightened away, as they left without securing anything for their trouble.

There was about $50 in the safe, besides a large amount of stamps.

So severe was the explosion that the whole front was blown out of the building.

The burglars made their entrance by a side window. No clue.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1896.

A WESTERN EULOGY.

The Vancouver, B.C., Daily News-Advertiser (Conservative), takes occasion to rebuke the attacks of its Conservative contempories on Sir Oliver Mowat in the following manner:

"The English language is copious enough to afford any writer or speaker ample opportunity for the severest criticism without descending to such depths of abuse and blackguardism and those who do so rather show their own inability to use the resources it affords than any skill in attacking the weak points in their opponent's armour.

These remarks have been called forth by some very severe criticisms on the late Premier of Ontario—Sir Oliver Mowat. While we differ very widely from that veteran statesman in regard to some of his policy; yet we cannot deny to Sir Oliver the possession of some admirable traits of character and qualities of head which will for long years keep him a place in the memories of the people as one of the foremost of Canadian statesmen. He is for one thing, a thorough Canadian; an uncompromising supporter of British connection. He is also entirely practical; with a clear foresight of the goal at which he aims and a mind resourceful as to the most direct course by which to reach it. Unquestionably, his entrance into Mr. Laurier's Cabinet has added to it a strength which no other man could give it, not only in Ontario but throughout Canada. Although he belongs to a party which is generally supposed to be imbued with the Free Trade heresy, Sir Oliver Mowat is by instinct and conviction a Protectionist. In his own province he did not hesitate to go the Dominion Government one better and add a bonus to that given by the Federal authorities on iron manufactured in Ontario. While he may find it difficult to oppose successfully the free trade proclivities of Messrs. Cartwright, Fielding and others, he will sturdily struggle against any reckless tampering with the fiscal policy which may ruin half the country's industries and transfer capital, enterprise and labour from our own to foreign lands. The drawback to Sir Oliver's usefulness and strength lies, as we said yesterday, in his great age and increasing infirmities. But he will have behind him the strength of a great province which is still, in Dominion politics, distinctively Conservative, and that fact is one which Mr. Laurier will scarcely rashly ignore.

In closing a Provincial Premiership of twenty-four years, Sir Oliver leaves a record behind him unique in British annals of constitutional administrations in any part of the Empire. That Sir Oliver himself, or his warmest well-wishers, can anticipate any great achievements or successes for him in the future, it is not reasonable to suppose. We scarcely think that the atmosphere, either of Federal affairs or of the Upper House, will be congenial to a man who has passed a quarter-century in practically undisputed authority in the Legislative Hall at Toronto. All will regard Sir Oliver's translation as merely the first step to his disappearance from the active political field and the most ambitious and capable statesman could scarcely map out for himself one more uniformly successful than that of the fine old man to whose qualities we have always aimed to do full justice."

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., July 13.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

IN MEMORIAM MRS. YOUMANS.

Impressive Funeral Service in Sherbourne-Street Methodist Church Last Night.

Toronto, July 22.

The funeral service of Mrs. Letitia Youmans, held in Sherbourne-street Methodist Church last night, was most impressive, and was largely attended by ladies of the W. C. T. U. and the friends of the deceased. Rev. Mr. Emory of Parliament-street Methodist Church, of which deceased was a member, conducted the service. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. Dewart, Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. R. T. Bowles, Rev. William Patterson, Rev. Dr. Barrass and Mrs. Rutherford, President of the Dominion W. C. T. U.

The remains were encased in a casket covered with black cloth and ornamented with oxydised silver trimmings. The casket was covered with floral tributes. Among them were a pillow from the Dominion W. C. T. U., with the inscription, "Our Pioneer;" a pillow from the District W. C. T. U., inscribed "Our Promoted Comrade;" a sheaf of wheat from the Manitoba W. C. T. U.; anchor from W. C. T. U., Western Union, Toronto; wreath from Youmans W C. T. U., Toronto; also handsome floral designs from West Mount W. C. T. U., Montreal, Northern Union, Toronto; Parkdale Union, Central Y's and Bathurst Union.

At the foot of the casket was a wreath of evergreen tied with a white ribbon, emblematic of the Union.

In the two front rows of the church were the chief mourners, who were Mr. W. E. Youmans, St. Thomas; J. Creighton, Miss Creighton, Mrs. Tabitha Youmans, Miss M. E. Youmans, J. E. Youmans, W. C. Youmans, Miss Rasburn, Miss Jane Creighton, Mrs. Ham, Miss McLean and J. S. Louden. Rev. Mr. Patterson, Rev. Dr. Parker, and Mrs. Rutherford paid glowing tributes to the deceased, reviewing her life of usefulness and her great work for the temperance cause. Mrs. Rutherford read telegrams of condolence from many places. Among them was a cablegram from Reigate, England, sent by Miss Frances E. Willard, Lady Henry Somerset and Hannah A. Gordon.

Miss Dewart sang a favorite hymn of Mrs. Youmans' entitled "The Home of My Soul."

At the conclusion of the service the audience took a last look at the face of their dead friend, while the organ pealed forth the solemn tones of the "Dead March" in Saul. Miss Miller of Parliament-street Methodist Church presided at the organ.

TORONTO MAN KILLED.

Run Over by an Express Train Near Poughkeepsie—Mangled Almost Beyond Recognition.

Poughkeepsie, July 21.—Edward Lumley of Toronto, Canada, was run over and killed by the Chicago limited express train just below Rhinecliff about 4 o'clock this afternoon. His remains were brought to this city and are in charge of Coroner Frost, who will make an investigation. The body was mangled almost beyond recognition. Papers found in his possession show that he was a member of the International Bricklayers' Association, that he has a wife in Toronto and a son in Buffalo. Something over $25 was found in his pockets.

Killed at Cleveland, O.

Cleveland, O., July 21.—The horribly mutilated remains of a man supposed to live near Erin, Ont., were found near Westminster station, on the Chicago and Erie Line, last night. From letters found in the man's clothes, signed by Toronto business firms, it is supposed that the man's name is Hector McLean.

Horseshoeing is an Art

A horse without sound feet is useless. The utility of thousands of horses is impaired or destroyed by bad shoeing. The knife should be used very sparingly, if at all, on the sole and frog of a healthy hoof. The frog should be left, if possible, so as to touch the ground with the shoe on. The bars and heels should not be weakened and opened with the knife. Shoes for light horses should be light and open at the heel, and the inner heel of the shoe should generally be thicker than the outer heel, as the former is the weaker and usually a little further off the ground.—Rural World.

A Live Willow Fence.

A willow stake pused into the soil in early spring, while it is yet moist from the effects of winter freezing and thawing, will almost certainly grow, and after two or three years it will become enough of a tree to serve as a post for attaching wire to it for a fence. We have known many farmers who construct their roadside fences in this way, often planting the trees close enough together so that a 14 or 16-foot board may be nailed to the living posts after they have attained sufficient size. By cutting off the top every two or three years the fence may be kept from shading the road or field too much.

A Boon to Smokers!

NO MORE NICOTINE.

A New Pipe

FITTED WITH

HERR PFLUNGER'S CARTRIDGES

which absorbs the hurtful acrid matter that accmulates in the ordinary tobacco pipe, and prevents the nicotine poison which produces most of the ill effects arising from smoking.

Sir Morrell Mackenzie,

the late celebrated English Throat Specialist, wrote the following opinion of Herr Pflunger's invention:—

DEAR SIR,—I think that Herr Pflunger's invention is a very good one. I have tried it and find that it answers well. The only suggestion that I can make is that it should have an additional mouthpiece which could be screwed into the proximate extremity of the pipe so as to make the stem twice the length it now is. This would lower the temperature of the smoke as it comes into the mouth. That the smoke should be cool is almost as important as that it should be free from acrid matters. You are at liberty to make whatever use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours Truly,
MORRELL MACKENZIE.

SLOCUM FOOLED HIM.

A Detective From the United States Tried to Get Him Across the Line, But He Gave Him the Slip.

Hamilton, July 21.—(Special.)—Detective J. H. Mowatt, who runs a detective agency in Cincinnati, with a posse of sleuths, arrived here on Saturday night from Toronto, where they were spotting on street cars and railway trains. The detectives are engaged at the same work here, and have engaged some local people to assist them. While here they were shadowing Sidney Slocum, formerly correspondent of The Chicago World, against whom there are several indictments in the States, and for whose arrest a reward of $1500 is offered. Slocum is now a commercial traveler, whose territory is in the Maritime Provinces, and says while in Toronto last week one of Mowatt's men drove him in a hack to the Chippewa instead of the Macassa, endeavoring to get him across to Lewiston. The detective was passing as a traveler and Slocum got on the Chippewa, but just as it was about to start slipped out and boarded the Macassa, fooling the detective. The indictments against Slocum are principally for criminal libel, not an extraditable offence, and it was Mr. Mowatt's intention to have him inveigled across the border.

A. T., H. and B. engine ran off the track at Welland last night, and Engineer George A. White was killed. The engine fell over and he was crushed to death. Fireman Bristol was hurt and brought to St. Joseph's Hospital this morning. An inquest was held at Welland to-day.

Charles Martin, Emerald-street north, was robbed of $25 and a silver watch last night while returning home.

Richard Bowker, the insurance detective, charged George D. Greer with making insurance contracts without the necessary license, but the judge reserved his decision. The charge against S. R. McIlroy was dismissed. Alex Swackhammer of Barton Township was charged with stealing Fred Dickenson's bicycle on May 20. The defendant says he can prove he purchased it for $19.

Edward Armstrong, who had his leg broken at Welland last Friday, died at the City Hospital this morning from the shock of the accident. The funeral will be on Thursday from his father's residence, 283 John-street north.

Eugene R. Foley, master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was presented with an address and carving set last evening. He was married this morning to Miss Bella Connolly.

George Holthy of Chicago was married this morning to Miss Magan, daughter of C. Magan, Main-street east.

L. A. NO. 300 STEPS OUT.

The Knights of Labor Lose About 6000 Members, Mostly Glass Blowers—A Fight for the Funds.

Pittsburg, July 21.—The announcement that Local Assembly No. 300 had withdrawn from the Knights of Labor, taking upwards of 6000 members from that organization, was a fruitful topic of discussion in labor circles today. This assembly, composed of glassworkers, has for years numerically and financially been the strongest trades union connected with the Knights of Labor. Their withdrawal will, it is believed, prove a death blow to the old organization. A cheque for over $2000, the amount of the delinquent per capita tax, together with charter, insignia, and paraphernalia has been surrendered. The decision was reached last night by the glass workers' convention, which is in session in Pittsburg. To-day the convention is discussing the advisability of joining with the new Knights of Labor. The choice lies between the American Federation of Labor and the Independent Order Knights of Labor, with the sentiment apparently favorable to the latter, since its declaration of principles is identical with those of the old organization, and with which many glass workers are enamored.

Master Workman Sovereign and Secretary-Treasurer Hayes will be here to-morrow and will demand admission to the convention, which will be refused. They will then make a fight for the funds of the order, which exceeds $100,000 in cash, as well as several important loans and investments.

Coca and its Uses.

We are wont to associate this new drug of wonderful medicinal properties with the grateful beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficent gift to the sick and suffering, as is attested by its rapid rise in estimation and the reliance now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.

Maltine with Coca Wine is the most reliable form in which the full medicinal value of coca may be obtained and the striking results derived from its use in nervous exhaustion, debility, weakness, or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure disease in the only way disease can be cured viz., by helping nature. This it does by aiding digestion and assimilation. Sold by all druggists.

A SPICY LIFE.

Some Things the Housekeeper May Do to This End.

Variety is the spice of life, and the woman who is a good housekeeper, a good wife, and a good mother does not neglect to provide a variety in every department of the household.

Easy? Of course it isn't easy. Nothing in this world that is worth doing at all is easily done. Even the course of true love doesn't run smooth. But let me tell you. It's a great deal easier to introduce a little variety into the home life than it is to go on in the old humdrum way, with the same endless round day after day. A variety—and the effort to get it—will awaken in you a live interest in your household cares and make them, instead of a drudge, an accomplishment, and you'll find yourself suddenly ten years younger and converted to the theory that life, after all, is worth living.

Begin in the kitchen in the morning. Now I have a next door neighbor who has served her husband every morning for ten years oatmeal, coffee, bread and butter, beefsteak and a boiled egg. Winter and summer, spring and fall the same breakfast is prepared. She doesn't approve of griddle cakes or warm bread, and doesn't have the time or patience to bake bread herself, so all these weary years her patient husband has put up with that dry stuff bakers call bread, and with the rest of the breakfast menu that every atom in his body knows by heart.

Of course one wants bread and butter on the table, but there are breads and breads, and we would all be a great deal better off if we would use more graham, whole wheat or rye bread. Most people like these wholesome foods, at least "for a change."

As to oatmeal, many people regard it as an indispensable article of the breakfast table, and I would agree with them had we not so many excellent breakfast prepayations to take its place. These prepared foods, rolled oats, cracked wheat and proprietary foods, are, to my mind, superior to the oatmeal, and they certainly serve an excellent purpose in giving variety to the breakfast porridge.

And then there are so many excellent breakfast dishes, so dainty and appetizing, so easily prepared and so economical withal, that a good housekeeper who uses her brains about her work need hardly repeat herself in a month. Every breakfast, especially at this season of the year, should begin with fruit. There is nothing more wholesome in the world, and while I do not expect to see mankind converted to the vegetarian's theory for several generations yet. I am sure we would all find our digestions and our tempers better if fruit entered more largely into our diet. Let us by all means have it for breakfast, uncooked if possible, but fruit by all means.

Potato balls made from cold mashed potatoes, dipped into beaten eggs and cracker crumbs and fried in a basket in a kettle of hot lard or drippings, make an excellent breakfast dish, as do potato croquettes. For the latter, take two cupfuls of warm mashed potatoes, one-quarter cupful of hot milk and beat together until light; add a tablespoonful of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of nutmeg or mace and enough beaten egg to handle easily. Roll into balls and dip into beaten egg and sifted cracker crumbs. Fry in hot lard until nicely browned. Garnish with parsley, and you have a dish attractive to eye and palate alike.

It isn't by any manner of means necessary to confine your efforts for variety to the kitchen and the preparation of food.

I saw a mother the other day making simple little gingham slips for her two little girls. They toddle about the yard, play in a big pile of sand that has been put in one corner for them and have a good time generally, with no thought of soiling clothes. That is all well and good, but that mother was making every blessed one of those dozen slips in exactly the same way and off the same bolt of gingham. It seemed to me that both she and the little girls would tire of the same dress from one week's end to another.

And then in our pleasures, for the children and for ourselves, we can constantly devise something new. New books and new papers are so cheap now that every home can have an abundance, and these things do much toward introducing into the home glimpses of the outside world, and that variety which is indeed the spice of life.—Marion Martyn, in Womankind.

An English Bread Pudding

An English bread pudding is made thus: Take a pudding dish and line the sides and bottom with pieces of bread half an inch thick and trimmed to fit the dish. Stone a generous pound of tart cherries and cover them thickly with sugar. Stew slowly to keep them from breaking. Fill the lined dish with the fruit, place a slice of bread over the top, cover with a plate, and place a weight on the plate. Stand the dish on the ice over night. When ready to serve it should turn out the shape of the dish.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mrs. Lincumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Lincumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

BOTANY FOR THE HORTICULTURIST.

Its Value Explained by Prof. C. F. Wheeler of the Michigan Station.

To be a successful horticulturist one should know how plants grow, breathe, propagate and protect themselves against their enemies. As plants germinate, the little rootlets develop root hairs near their tips, which take up nearly all of the plant food. They are only found on the new growth during the growing season, and live but a short time. Botany teaches us this fact, and if it were understood by farmers, they would not make the mistake of piling the manure about the trunks of trees, instead of spreading it where the feeding-roots can most readily obtain it.

All fruits have various fungous diseases that feed upon them. The botanist studies the life histories of these plants, and finds the methods by which they can bet be combated. Botany is perhaps of even greater value in telling us how plants are propagated and improved. He illustrated this point by relating the experience of Stephen Cook of Benton Hrabor, in crossing the Yellow Spanish and Black Tartarian cherries, and, from the seedlings produced, obtaining several that seem well adapted to cultivation. The strawberries of to-day have been derived from the wild forms of Europe and America, by continued crossing and selection. The first American variety of marked value was the Hovey, grown by Mr. Hovey of Boston more than sixty years ago. He procured all of the most promising kinds grown in Europe and planted them in his garden in 1832. The next year he made six crosses, and from these grew several hundred seedlings, of which twenty-five excelled the old sorts and one was exceedingly good. In 1834 this variety produced a berry five inches in circumference, and in 1837 two boxes of the berries exhibited at the meeting of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society took the first prize. By selection alone marked improvement can be made. Thus in three years, by planting seed of a variety of garden bean, nearest like what was desired, and pulling out all that differed greatly from it, a marked improvement was secured, and in the third crop the type had been fixed.

Plant growth cannot take place unless there is abundance of water in the soil to dissolve the plant food. In dry seasons the supply is often deficient, as not only are the plants throwing off into the air large quantities from their leaves, but there is a great and constant loss, from the surface of the soil itself. An elm with a leaf surface of 200,000 square feet will give off 7 3-4 tons of water in twelve hours in dry weather. After a rain the water passes downward into the soil until it meets the moist soil below. As soon as the rain is over, evaporation from the surface commences and capillary action begins, thus carrying the water upward. Botany tells us that plants take in their food in solution, and that we must conserve the water by cultivation if we would grow good crops.—Country Gentleman.

Tomato Jelly

The following recipe for tomato jelly is very good. Stew one quart of tomatoes until soft enough to put through a colander; dissolve half a box of gelatine in enough cold water to cover it; when dissolved add hot water to thin it a little, then put in the tomatoes; stir in salt and pepper to taste, pour in individual moulds and set on ice to harden. When ready to serve, turn out on lettuce leaves and pour mayonnaise dressing over all.

Do You Want White Teeth?

Use Ivorine. Are signs of decay present? Ivorine retards decay and renders it impossible if used regularly. Is the breath heavy? Ivorine purifies and sweetens. Ivorine preserves and whitens the teeth and gives them a dazzling brilliancy. Ivorine is absolutely free from any enamel wearing substances. Use Ivorine for the teeth; it is delightful and fragrant.

Noisy Street Cars.

A great complaint is made on the streets concerning the noise made by the flat wheel which is being run on one of the George street cars. The noise is most unpleasant to the ear, and jars on the nerves of sensitive people to such an extent as to create a positive nuisance. The remedying of the objectionable cause of the noise is a matter of small moment, and will doubtless be attended to without further delay.

Mr. Thomas Thompson, Dominion inspector of steamboat boilers and machinery, and Captain Donnelly, inspector of hulls, have concluded their work here and gone on to Lindsay. Salt Kills Him.

A Rome farmer has discovered that the army worm is killed when it comes in contact with salt. To confine the worms where they are operating he is putting a wide row of salt around the field; or to protect a growing crop that is not infested he will run a line of salt all around that. From experiments he made in which several worms were killed, he is confident that when the worms undertake to crawl over the row of salt enough of the salt will adhere to the worms to destroy them. The result of the experiment will be given to the public.

This is an exceptionally large number, as the ordinary cluster is of two or three blossoms. Four is considered large, but as nigh as five and six have been known, but seven, the sacred number, is very rare indeed. Mr. Edwards is a brother of Mr. R. B. Edwards, of this town, who obtained a quantity of the prolific seed.

DEATH OF PATRICK HICKEY.

He Settled in Emily Seventy-one Years Ago.

A pioneer settler of the Midland counties died yesterday in the person of Patrick Hickey, of Emily. The deceased was 86 years of age, and came to Canada in 1825 from the County of Cork, Ireland, being 15 years old at the time. He almost immediately settled in Emily.

Mr. Hickey was known all over the country, and many will remember the stories he would relate of the early settlers of the country. When he first visited Peterborough the town boasted of only one house, and that was merely a shanty. He retained his faculties to the last and possessed a retentive memory seldom excelled for a man of his age.

He leaves a wife who is 84 years of age, and a family of nine children, seven boys and two girls, as follows: Mrs. Thos. Franks, John Hickey, Michael Hickey, Thos. Hickey and Edward Hickey, of Emily; Wm. Hickey, of Fifield, Wis.; Patrick Hickey, of Geneva, N.Y., Mrs. C. Flynn, Stewart street, Peterborough; Jas. Hickey, of Vancouver, B.C.; and Mrs. Martin Kearns and Mrs. Wm. Sullivan, of Emily, both of whom died a few years ago.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Emily, on Thursday morning at 8.30 o'clock, to the Ennismore Roman Catholic cemetery.

OBITUARY.

On Friday, 10th inst., Mr. John Pettigrew, one of the pioneer residents of this section, passed away at the age of 84 years. He was born at Londonderry, Ireland, and came to this country when only 15 years of age. After working for a while as a mason on the old Welland canal he came to Peterborough, where he was employed in erecting several buildings, including the old county gaol. He came to Asphodel in 1837 and settled on lot 11, in the 9th con. (Hastings road), on which farm he resided for 44 years, when he gave up farming and came to live in Norwood with his son, Dr. G. A. Pettigrew. We might here mention that Mr. Pettigrew, in company with Mr. Robert Metcalfe built the English church and the old Grammar School in this village. He was married at Cobourg in 1845 to Ester Kempt, daughter of the late Kenneth Kempt, of Dummer, who still survives him. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to the Norwood cemetery when a very large number of people turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to their old and highly esteemed friend and neighbour. The Rev. J. F. Somerville officiated. The pall bearers were Messrs. Robt. Metcalfe, A. R. Anderson, Walter Scott, Thos. Rork, Wm. Eaton and W. E. Roxburgh.—Norwood Register.

A DOG'S ADVENTURE.

Caught by a Binder and Turned off a Living Sheaf.

A farmer who is volubly eloquent on many subjects beside the weather, yesterday related to the agricultural editor the story of an adventure that befel his dog. The canine had a nose for game, and had accompanied his master to the field where he was engaged in cutting wheat. The dog was following behind the binder when by some unaccountable procedure a field mouse became located on the frame work of the binder. When snapped at by the dog the mouse ran onto the rapidly travelling canvas elevator. The dog followed suit. There was more than the sound of the reaper heard throughout the land during the next few seconds. There were audible evidences of a dog in distress. Before the farmer could stop his team the dog had been carried up the elevator, transferred to the binding attachment and thrown out on the ground with a stout manilla cord bound tightly around his body. Part of a sheaf of grain was also enclosed in the struggling bundle.

"What about the mouse?" asked the news sifter.

"Well, it didn't get away. It went down to the ground with the dog, and as soon as poor Collie could stop howling there was a dead mouse. He couldn't eat it, though, until I had cut the band. Thought he hadn't room for it, I guess."

PERSONAL.

Miss Belle Mercer is in Lindsay, the guest of Miss Neill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nugent are enjoying an outing at Sturgeon Point.

Mrs. John Stanger will spend the next week or so visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss May Macfarlane, of Homewood avenue, left this morning for a week's visit to Toronto.

The Hastings Star says: Miss Temple, of Peterborough, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. Parks.

Miss Katie Leonard is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. P. A. Kearney, Young's Point.

Mr. A. Rutherford, Ashburnham, left to-day for Toronto where he will spend a couple of weeks.

Mrs. C. E. Hubbs is spending a few days in Deseronto, as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alva Solmes.

Mr. Arthur Laing left yesterday for North Dakota, where he will spend the next month or so visiting relatives.

Miss Maggie Hart, of Richmond, N.Y., is spending a few weeks in town, a guest at the residence of Mr. J. J. Lundy.

Mr. J. J. Hickey, accompanied by his sister, Miss M. Hickey, left yesterday morning for Orillia for a month's visit at relatives.

Rev. Mr. Jones, who is occupying Rev. Dr. Torrance's pulpit during the latter's absence, hooked three fine 'lunge at Chemong yesterday.

The Toronto Globe says,—Mr. W. A. Sherwood is busily engaged at present in painting a portrait of the Ven. Archdeacon Allen, of Millbrook, one of the handsomest clergymen in the Church of England.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton was accompanied to the lakes this morning by Mrs. T. Menzies, of Oklahoma, and Rev. J. C. Calnan, also of the latter place. Mrs. Stratton has opened her cottage for the season.

Mr. James McGannon, mayor of Seneca, Missouri and brother-in-law of Mr. B. Morrow, registrar, is in town. Mr. McGannon, who is a leading hardware merchant of Seneca, was a delegate to the great Chicago Democratic Convention. He is delighted with the appearance of Peterborough and has just left his old home at Prescott, where he has also been visiting.

LOST A THUMB.

William Robinson Meets With a Painful Accident.

William Robinson, an employee at Arnott's Cheese Box Factory, met with an accident whilst operating a circular saw, whereby he lost one of his thumbs and had his hand badly torn this morning. The wounds were dressed by Dr. Clarke.

Think it Over.

Have you heard of a medicine with such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla? Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, has proved, over and over again, that it has power to cure, even after all other remedies fail? If you have impure blood you may take Hood's Sarsaparilla with the utmost confidence that it will do you good.

LACROSSE.

To-morrow's game with Orillia will have to be started at 2.30 p.m. sharp, as the Orillia players have to leave for home at five o'clock.

The following team will represent Peterborough to-morrow in the game against Orillia:—Dobbin, Lynch, Brown, Glover, Meis, Borlas, McDonough, Galley, Rubidge, Lipsett, McCabe, King, Wasson (field captain.)

Every preparation is being made for the convenience of the large crowd expected to be present.

Clean gentlemanly play is assured.

The Park Nine Baseball Club kindly let the lacrosse players have a practice last evening. The Lacrosse Club will reciprocate on some future occasion.

Walter Phelan's absence is to be regretted, but in replacing him by King no mistake has been made and that player will doubtless give a good account of himself on Thursday. Lynch has also been given a place on the team and though he was not in shape the early part of the season, yet his work has improved so much lately that he will without doubt greatly strengthen the defense.

Peterborough knows of old what a fast team Orillia puts on the field every year and as the local team is exclusively composed of town boys the game is deserving of a very large patronage. The practises of the Peterboroughs have been well attended by the players of late and every man on the team is in shape to play his best. If the Orillias win they will have to play hard and keep at it, as the Peterboroughs can play their fastest from start to finish. Two hours will not fag the boys, and they will be ready at any moment to take advantage of any opening to push the game hard. No one should miss a match of such glorious possibilities.

The Port Hope Guide says:—The next league match between the Peterboroughs and Ontarios will be played in Port Hope on Thursday, August 6th, instead of Wednesday, the 5th, the afternoon of the former day being Peterborough's half holiday, and they are to bring an attendance of 300 to see the game, as well as a band.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. Andrew Mercer and Mr. Robt. Neill claim to have ridden out to Chemong last evening in 25 minutes. Messrs. R. H. Kells and W. L. Allen state they went out on the tandem in 20 minutes. The time made is good (almost too good to be true). If the tandem covered the six miles and a half in 20 minutes, Messrs. Kells and Allen were travelling at the rate of a mile in 3.04. This would be fast work on the track, and when the Chemong hills are taken into account, it is phenomenal.

AT THE TRAPS.

The Gun club will hold its shoot on Friday evening at 7 o'clock in Riverside Park. A full attendance of members is requested.

THE NEED OF A CHANGE.

The Number of Young People Arrested for Crime.

The police court of this town has been flooded this summer with young children—boys of tender age who have been brought within the arm of the law by crime. One little lad, just turned eight, was actually convicted of highway robbery, "holding up" another child on its way to the corner grocery. Burglary and housebreaking is quite fashionable amongst a certain type, whilst others carry out more deeply laid schemes of getting hold of the "almighty dollar." The Magistrate advocates better discipline at home. Parents are too lenient, which is another name for careless. The present condition of our young boys, and, for that matter, our young girls, is a good deal worse than bad. Our columns are open for suggestions.

WITH SOCIETY HONOURS.

The Late Stephen Huppie's Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Stephen Huppie was very largely attended yesterday morning. It was conducted under the auspices of St. Peter's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, and the Emerald Beneficial Association. The pall bearers for the Foresters were Messrs. Reseau, M. O'Donnell and J. Dwyer, and for the Emerald's Messrs. J. Drain, J. Primeau and H. Carveth. The Foresters' marshall was Mr. Chas. McGinty, and Mr. R. J. Begley performed the same office as the representative of the E.B.A. The latter society presented a beautiful floral tribute in the shape of a harp. Rev. Father Scanlan officiated at high mass and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, the Chaplain of the E. B. A., conducted the services at the grave.

IT SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

Peterborough, July 16, 1896.

The People's Coal Co., Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—You will please deliver to my house four (4) tons of stove coal. I Used your coal for two years in my house in Toronto, before I moved to Peterborough, and it gave me satisfaction.

Yours truly,
W. G. OUTHWAITE.

Mr. Outhwaite is engineer at the Canadian General Electric Co.'s works, and should be authority on the quality of coal.

Our coal is delivered in bags, burns to white ash, no clinkers, no gas, does not dirty the mica in your stoves. Is the most economical coal mined for furnaces, base-burners and ranges. Weighed on the town scales. Only $5.50 per ton cash. Give it a trial. 2d

MARTIN CONNORS' CASE.

The Town Bylaw not Upheld by the Statute.

Mr. Martin Connors, of the Hab Restaurant, was summoned to appear, charged with allowing dominoes to be played for drinks on his premises the other day, in violation of the provisions of a town by-law.

The case was dismissed by Magistrate Dumble on the ground that the town by-law was not sustained by any statute in this respect.

THE PARK NINE.

A Fine Team of Ball Tossers Worthy of Support.

The Peterborough public does not appreciate the work which is being done by that splendid little team of baseballists known as the Park Nine.

Not once this year have the Parks been defeated and the way in which they do their work is highly creditable.

No outside baseball teams have been brought to town this year and the Park Nine now propose to feel the pulse of the Peterborough public on this question and have accordingly challenged the teams of Port Hope and Lindsay.

The players on the local team are all young and their pluck in challenging such teams as these mentioned is deserving of a good patronage. The games will take place some time in the near future on the P. A. A. A. grounds and due notice will be given of the dates.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Mercer's

A TRIBUTE TO BURNS.

AN IMPROMPTU ON THE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS DEATH.

One hundred years ago to-day, in ancient Dumfriestown,
The poet Burns, old Scotland's pride, laid all his sorrow down.
For years he fared in vain had tried his sufferings to relieve,
But dread consumption held him fast, till heaven sent reprieve.
Dame Nature, by some hidden means, perhaps to test his worth,
Had heaped severe impartial blows upon him since his birth.
No poet ever had career as chequered or as sad
As this poor humble Scottish Bard, whom misery had clad.

Yet music never had such depths of feeling in their strain,
As did his days of rural life, when tinged with personal pain;
When poverty's distressing forms he pictured true as life,
No painter's canvass could depict the endless toil and strife.
Of marvyred plans, of hopes deferred (with the same vivid hue)
As Burns, when in his pity for the poor, gave rich their due.

We know that he had passions—licentious, unrestrained,
And that his very soul within was not itself unstained;
And how, when he was influenced by intoxicating drink,
His sensual nature gained control—he did not stop to think.
Until he had, without intent, brought misery and shame
Upon his Jean—his truest friend, and on his own bright name.
Alas! he saw that he had been with sacred love too intimate,
When he was forced to face the world with children illegitimate.

But let us judge not, that we be not judged, is God's own law,
For this mistake in Burn's life was nothing but a flaw
Placed there by the hand of God, who in His His wisdom higher
Tested his quality, as is gold when purified by fire.
So let us turn from his mistakes unto his nobler deeds,
Where by his heaven-inspired scenes he scattered golden seeds
Of thought, which have sprung up all through the century that is past
And proved man's inhumanity to man a vice that cannot last.

The world to-day appreciates the lesson he has taught
Of true social equality, whereby all men are brought
To feel the inbred truth, that they their brother's keepers are,
And that the bonds of brotherhood are more than wealth by far.
So let us sanctify the day in memory of his death,
And pray that God will waken us by His immortal breath
To conquer self, and use victory over things material
As stepping stones to higher zones of that true life the spiritual.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Katie Leonard, of Peterborough, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. A. Kearney.

Mr. W. J. Young, Arthur Smith, and Misses Ellie Young, Emma Scollard, Maggie Young, Minnie Weir and Mrs. R. Young have been spending a vacation at "Hazelwood Lodge" in Stony Lake.

We are very sorry to chronicle the death of Mr. Gerald Fitzgerald, of Smith, who died in Manitoba on the 15th inst., with appendicitis. Deceased was twenty-nine years old and a general favourite with all his acquaintances. His parents, sisters and brothers have the sympathy of the entire community.

The steamboats are doing a rushing business now, as there are a great many going up to Stony Lake.

The steamer Golden City will run a moonlight excursion on Thursday night, July 23rd, from Lakefield to Stony Lake and return. The boat will leave Lakefield at 7.30 p.m. and stop at Young's Point going up and returning. A good time is expected.

Mr. Jas. Stewart, of Peterborough, is at the Point for a few days.

The guests at the Lakeview are:—Messrs. G. W. Herr, W. R. Southard, Geo. Jenny, R Bennett, Chas. H. Chase, Mr. Graves, of Rochester, N.Y.; Dr. C. J. Messler, of Kansas City.

The fishing is excellent at Young's Point now and it is no trouble to go out for the day and bring in plenty of bass and maskinonge.

The guests registered at the South Beach hotel are:—Messrs. L. A. Eddy, C. L. Stone, Wm. H. Warner, Col. J. W. Yale, Chester C. Bradley, of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Perry, Mr. Benedict, Mr. Lawson, of Syracuse, N.Y.

The big, hearty, healthy man is a continual irritation to his dyspeptic friend. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of the sickness of men, and of a large proportion of the sickness of women. It can be cured easily, naturally and quickly. Nature is continually working as hard as she can to throw off impurities, and to force out poisonous refuse matter. When there is an impediment, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets set the wheels working again without any trouble. They assist nature in a gentle, healthful, efficient way. There is nothing violent about their action, and yet it is just as certain as if it were twice as violent. "You do not become a slave to their use." They are different and better than any other pill for the cure of constipation, headache and kindred derangements. Almost all druggists understand this, and are conscientious enough to tell you so. The druggist who tries to sell you a substitute is not a safe man from whom to buy medicine. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Dr. Ryerson Coming.

Dr. Ryerson of Toronto, may be consulted at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, July 25th, on eye, ear and throat cases.

HOW TO WASH A SWEATER.

Quite a Knack in Doing it Correctly.

As the majority of the boys in town sport sweaters a word of advice as to how to cleanse them may be appreciated by the mothers.

To wash a sweater properly, fill a pail two-thirds or three-quarters full of cold water. In extremely cold weather the water may be tempered a little, but let it be cold and not warm. Take a cake of good laundry soap—any good soap that hasn't an excess of alkali will answer the purpose—and rub between the hands in the water for a moment. Put in a teaspoonful of ammonia and stir well. Soak the garment in this liquid for fifteen minutes or half an hour, and then souse and knead with the hands so as to squeeze out the dirt, but not vigorously enough to impair the garment's shape. Turn inside out and repeat the process. Pour off the water, which now contains all the dirt that was in the garment, and rinse very thoroughly in several waters—cold water, of course—using the same motions as before. Lift the garment from the rinsing water and lay it over a line or wooden frame to drip dry. When dry turn right side out and the job is done. Observe the following cautions: If the garment is one you care anything about, wash it yourself. It will take but a few moments and you will be amply repaid for the trouble. Put the soap in the water, not in the garment. Use good soap and not a very good deal of it. Use cold water. Don't wring or squeeze or pull. Dry wrong side out. Don't dry in the sun or wind or by the fire. (A shed or basement, with a tub to catch the water, is usually better than outdoors.) Don't leave where it is cold enough to freeze. Don't iron. In case the garment is extremely dirty, use more ammonia and soak longer. If there are grease spots after soaking, remove the spots with ammonia, benzine or some kind of cleansing compound and then proceed as before described. I have an all wool, close-fitting jersey shirt that has been washed in this manner by myself just forty times, by actual count.

To Tired Ladies.

When you are exhausted and feel played out take a glass of Calcutt's Porter; it will freshen you up and make work a pleasure. Should be used by everybody during house cleaning. tf

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We had a visit from Mr. J. R. Stratton, our popular member last Friday. He was looking after his constituency in connection with the colonization roads. It would be well for the country if there were more Strattons in it.

The grasshopper pest has been very destructive in this section. The insects have devoured whole fields of wheat as well as destroying the hay crop. Several farmers with Armstrong mowers have gone to the marshes to cut hay to supplement the fodder for their cattle.

A valuable young mare belonging to Mr. John Clark died suddenly with inflammation a few days ago.

Mr. Thomas Humphrey had the misfortune of being thrown from his horse last week. It is said that the injuries he received may prove fatal.

Two patrons of the Kinmount cheese factory were summoned to appear before Col. Deacon, police magistrate for Victoria. They were charged by the manufacturers with having sent deteriorated milk to the factory on more than one occasion. They pleaded guilty and were consequently dealt with very leniently—each being fined $7 and costs. Although the penalty was light, we trust it will have the effect of teaching a lesson to people who will stoop to the act of skimming their milk before sending it to the factory.

Mr. C. Dunbar sent a carload, consisting of three team of horses, a couple of cows, hogs and farm implements to Dakota last Monday, to be placed upon his farm. Mr. George Cottingham went with the chattels and will be manager for Mr. Dunbar on his new farm.

Are You Aware—

That that beautiful singing quality of tone which is inherent to the Mason & Risch Piano, and which is spoken of by connoisseurs as the "Mason & Risch tone" has been attained only by many years of labor and costly experiment?

Do you know that it has taken many years to gather together the skilled artizans who are employed by this firm? Nearly every country in Europe is represented in their staff in the different departments—men who have been "imported" by them owing to their more than ordinary ability in some particular department of piano construction.

The Mason & Risch catalogue which is mailed free on application, gives a good idea of the different processes a high grade piano goes through before it is completed—an artist's instrument.

Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A man is hardly himself until he has the development that responsibility brings. After the child comes, the father and mother both plan and promise what shall be done with it. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after.

On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children—as well expect figs from thistles. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child.

The following letter is only one of thousands of similar ones:

Mrs. FLORENCE WHITE, of Victor, W. Va., writes: "I commenced using the 'Favorite Prescription' when half through my period of pregnancy. I used four bottles and felt like another woman. My time of labor was easy and rapid. I have a dear, strong, healthy little boy baby."

Reseeding Clover Meadows.

The Ohio Experiment station is now planning some experiments in attempting to get a stand of clover on fields sown last spring, but which failed to make a perfect stand, owing to the drought. The bare spots in these fields will first be gone over with a sharp spike harrow, or with a disk harrow; crimson clover and common clover will then be sown side by side, and lightly covered in with a smoothing harrow. A light seeding of oats as a nurse crop may be added on part of the land, for comparison. but we expect the best results from seeding the clover alone. Last season's experience demonstrated that the nurse crop may prove a robber instead of a nurse, by taking all the water from the soil and leaving none for the clover.

Wash for Fences and Barns.

A wash for fences or barns is thus made and will last for five years: Half a bushel of fresh lime is slacked and strained and three pecks of hydraulic cement are added, with water sufficient to reduce it to a proper liquid condition. Ten pounds of burnt umber and one pound of Venetian red are well mixed dry; four ounces of lampblack killed with sufficient vinegar are then mixed with water and added to the other materials. The whole is diluted to make a barrel of 30 gallons. It must stand a few days and be frequently stirred before being used. A wash for inside work that will not rub off is made of one pailful of common lime wash, to which is added a thin paste made of half a pint of flour and boiling water.—Rural World.

An Electric Bicycle.

Word comes from New York that an electric bicycle has been completed in that city, and has shown, upon trial, a speed of nearly fifty miles per hour The inventor claims that this tremendous rate is by no means its utmost limit, but no one has yet dared to try it up to the extreme. To a wheel weighing twenty-seven pounds a battery, motor and switchboard have been added, which together bring the weight up to sixty pounds. The battery, which is known as the dry chloride, is the main part of the invention. Its weight is about fifteen pounds, which is considerably less than anything used in previous experiments. With this battery a force can be maintained, it is claimed, which will carry the bicycle over ordinary country roads for a period of forty-eight hours. The electric attachments occupy comparatively little space. They can be easily detached, and the machine can be used in the ordinary way. Should the battery or any part fail, it is not necessary to remove these parts, but a small switch will turn off the current, and the rider can use the pedals The inventor is an electrical engineer of experince and has patented numerous inventions, among which are a machine for preventing collisions at sea, scintillating signs, automatic boxes, and nickel-in-the-slot machines. He considers the battery which operates the electric bicycle his greatest achievement.

Threshing Machine Engines.

Steam engines intended to run threshing machines, hoist logs onto cars, and do much other work while stationary, are often so constructed that they can propel themselves from place to place. In traveling from place to place, however, traction engines are often compelled to run over somewhat rough roads or lands, and as they are heavier than ordinary vehicles, the difficulties presented are sometimes hard to surmount, it being customary to apply the driving power only to the rear wheels. It is now proposed to make the forward wheels also draw, in which case, it is claimed, the engine would be more nearly in the condition of a horse having calks on all fours shoes instead of on his hind feet merely, and could therefore get along better. Furthermore, it is expected to divide the wear and strain and make the macine last longer, another desirable result being increased safety and convenience in crossing bridges. This matter has been made a subject of prolonged study and experiment by J. Mosiman of Falls City, Neb., who claims to have devised a way of transmitting power from the rear to the front wheels.
